Some practical joker baited the passengers on the Majestic in royal style this morning, through circulating the rumour that the timetable of the morning train from Lakefield was to be so changed that the train would not leave the village until an hour later than at present. As this would be a very great inconvenience to business men, the commotion that was caused can be easily imagined. It was quickly arranged that deputations from the Cottagers' Association and from the business men would wait on the Grand Trunk authorities in reference to the matter. Fortunately no decisive steps were taken before inquiry was made at the station about the statement. The answer received to a query about the matter was that there was no danger of such a thing happening, but on the contrary an arrangement would probably be made whereby the business men of Peterborough would get into Peterborough fifteen minutes earlier than at present.. And now everyone wants to know who started the rumour.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says: The large maskinonge that was so much spoken of, and heralded over the continent through the papers as the "Daddy of them all," was certainly a monster. It was last Tuesday, that Mr. Sam C. Young, who is spending the summer along with his wife and relatives at Springbank cottage, Pigeon lake, had such an experience, Mr. Young with guide Claes Arnberg, had just finished lunch, when they rowed quietly round Bigelow's bay, when all of a sudden the line tightened, boat stopped, and Mr. Young said he was caught on a log. However a few moments later it was very different, and then came the fight and struggle. Claes sang his old song "give and take" which was accordingly done. They saw that it was a large fish, and so Claes rowed out into the middle of the lake, and kept going around. All sorts of schemes were suggested by Mr. Young and Claes as to how to land the monster. Mr. Young said he was quite willing to do this "give and take" for a week, if it would result in capturing the fish. So they tugged away and it was over an hour before the fish was lifted into the boat, and you could almost see the water in the lake go down. They rowed to Springbank where it was on exhibition that evening. All the fishermen, tourists, friends, from Bobcaygeon sailed down to see this large fish. It weighed 30 lbs. when first caught, the girth 24 inches; spread of tail 14 inches, around the head over the eyes 22 inches. The "bird" as Mr. Young calls it, was sent to Mr. Elcome, Peterborough to be mounted, and will hang in his den at home, Edgworth, Pa., as a trophy of the Kawartha Lakes.

RIVER IS HIGH.

Great Danger of Small Boats Being Drawn Over the Slide.

The water in the Otonabee River is at present the highest it has been this season. The canoeists of the town are warned of the great danger there is of being swept over the boom sticks at the locks. The water is just now flowing over the crib work in great quantities, and it is exceedingly difficult to engineer a canoe down the slide. This morning an employee of the Canadian General Electric Works came very near losing his life in an attempt to navigate his canoe over the slide in the usual fashion. However, the exceptionally strong current drew the boat over the boom, and smashed it into atoms. The occupant snatched hold of a guy wire that supports a derrick for the construction work at the new dam, and thereby prevented himself from going into the angry waters below. His experience was a thrilling one.

Too much care cannot be exercised by canoeists at this point at this particular season of the year, when the water is high.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

BASEBALL.

The Oshawa Baseball Team visited Peterborough on Saturday and played a Midland League game with the Auburn nine. The locals were defeated by a score of 12 to 5. The Auburns having failed to make any thing like a favourable showing in the Midland League, have decided to hand over their franchise to the old Peterboroughs, and Danny McCabe is getting together a team for some day this week, when they will play Cobourg.

The Peterborough Baseball Team will compete in a baseball tournament at Havelock on July 20th.

CRICKET.

The Toronto Cricket Club arrived in town to-day and are playing the locals on the Oval this afternoon.

LACROSSE.

A full practice of the first and second teams of St. Peter's T.A.S. is called for to-night on the Murray street grounds.

Although baseball is more widely played than lacrosse throughout the Dominion, the latter has a claim to its title of our national game stronger than any which the former can produce. Baseball was never played till the last half of the past century, while long before Columbus set sail the Indians fought out many a fierce battle on the lacrosse-field. What they called the game I do not know. Whole tribes were sometimes matched against one another, and every man able to handle a stick would take part. Naturally, there was no chance for scientific play. If there had been a referee he would have been busy ruling off "sluggers," for the game, as they played it, was so rough that the worst match now would look "tame" beside it.

When the French-Canadians became acquainted with the game they gave it a name of their own. From the resemblance of the stick to a Bishop's crozier or crosse they called it la crosse. In time the two words became united to form the present name, lacrosse.

The white men refined the game and continued to play it. In 1867 the National Lacrosse Association of Canada was formed. This body drew up a code of rules and regulations, which was accepted by clubs throughout Canada. In the same year an Indian team introduced the game into England, and in the next year the English Lacrosse Association issued their their rules, which differ very little from the Canadian. The game has never acquired the popularity in the mother country that it has here. It is scarcely played at all in Scotland, and, though it has obtained a foothold in England and Ireland, it is regarded as greatly inferior to cricket and football. It is probable that the game will be played more this summer than it has been before. The tour of the Toronto team, both by bringing lacrosse into public notice and by exhibiting the weak points in their play, has done much to add to its popularity.

During the last few years there has been a great change in the method of playing. According to the old tactics, when a defence man got the ball, he threw it as far as he could down the field. There was a scramble for it, and the opposing team had an excellent chance of getting possession of it. When a home man got it he rushed down the field, dodging all the men he could, at the risk of being badly hurt, and, when checked, passing the ball to one of his own team. An individual rush is very exciting to watch, and when a goal results the hero is widly cheered, but a few runs will tire a player so that he is of little use for the rest of the game. Of late years long throwing and individual or "grand stand" playing have been almost entirely abandoned. Team play and quick short passing have taken their place. The new tactics met the old when the Torontos played in England. The result was a complete triumph for the new. The slow, heavy English defence could do little with the light, active Toronto home.

Lacrosse is a game especially for young men. Men over thirty have not the wind and speed that a good lacrosse player should have. The oldest Toronto player, I think, was 27. But the game is an exciting and healthy one, and well suited to be the national game of a young and vigourous country like Canada. — Geo. B. Coutts, Thamesville, Ont.

HOME AGAIN.

The Peterborough Members on the Coronation Contingent Returned Yesterday.

The representatives of the 3rd Dragoons, the 14th Durham Field Battery, the 46th and 57th Regiment, who accompanied the Coronation Contingent to England, arrived home at 5 o'clock yesterday morning per G.P.R.

The local delegation was made up as follows:

46th Regiment — Sgt. Nimo, South Monaghan.

Sgt.-Major Brittain, of the 57th, has not yet returned.

Sgt.-Major Goldy, of the 3rd Dragoons, remained in England, having received two weeks furlough.

The boys all speak enthusiastically of the treatment they received while away. They say that there is not the slightest truth in the reports from the Old Country to the effect that they were ill-treated. They have many amusing stories to tell of incidents that transpired whilst on their trip, and they claim to have seen the uniform of every soldier fighting under the Union Jack. The review before the Queen was, they say, perhaps the most brilliant affair of the entire expedition.

OUR GAME LAWS.

Every Canadian a Committee of One on Game Protection.

In no country are the game laws so well observed as they are in Canada. The sportsmen of the United States are a law-abiding class and as a rule show great respect for the game laws, even though their observance works a personal hardship. But we have in this country a species of the hog. Fortunately for the sportsmen genus homo commonly known as the gamehog. Fortunately for the sportsmen of Canada and their game, this species is rare with them.

Every sportsman in Canada appears to be a committee of one on game protection. Individually and collectively these disciples of the gun urge protection and preservation of game for the common good. Those who never go afield themselves are in sympathy with those who do, and they stand for the strict observance of the law. Men who shoot occasionally are just as earnest about game protection as those who spend much of their time afield during the hunting season.

There is a great deal of good sportsmanship in Canada and it is small wonder that the people generally should uphold the law. The "best" citizens are sportsmen and the sportsman's neighbors know that to be in touch with sportsmanship is good.

As a result of good game laws, well observed, Canada holds an abundance of game of great variety. Large game may be killed in season in comparatively well-settled localities. Even the wary moose walks boldly to a hilltop from which he can view a thriving town. Prairie chickens are everywhere on the prairies in fair numbers, and in favored localities, they are exceedingly numerous. The open season is short and the number of birds one man may kill is restricted. In time, of course, the ploughman will drive the prairie chicken from the country and force the big game back into the hills and waste places, but in the meantime the Canadian sportsmen will see to it that good laws shall be observed for their preservation.—American Field.

PLASTERS FAILED.

Liniments, Oils and Many Other Medicines did no Good.

Lower Windsor, N. B., July 13th.—Special—Mr. T. H. Belyea, postmaster of this place, has made a very interesting statement of his experience in his efforts to be cured of Kidney Trouble which has bothered him for many years.

At times he would have very bad spells, and when these came on he was almost laid up.

He tried several doctors and used many medicines, but nothing seemed to help him in the least.

Plasters, oils, liniments on the outside and doses of all kinds and descriptions taken internally seem to have but one result. He was no better.

Finally through reading an advertisement he was led to the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He says:

"Dodd's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended for Kidney Trouble that after reading some testimonials, I concluded to try them according to directions.

"I had tried so many things that I was very skeptical and had but little faith that Dodd's Kidney Pills could or would help me. However, I did not use them long before I found that they were all and more than was claimed for them.

"I have received more benefit from them than from any other medicine I have ever used for they seem to have made a complete cure of my case.

"I feel as well as ever I did and have not the slightest trace of the Kidney Trouble that bothered me ever so long.

"I want to say that I believe that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the right medicine for Kidney Trouble."

Mr. Belyea is very well known to everybody in this neighbourhood and and there are but few who have not been aware of his serious illness.

Everyone is delighted at his improved health and his published statement has done much to make Dodd's Kidney Pills even more popular in this neighbourhood than they have been.

After the Crop Is Off.

Plowing after the hay crop is off and sowing millet or Hungarian grass is a favorite plan with many, but they need rather strong land, and we think even then they are uncertain crops and difficult to cure properly if the crop is heavy and weather not very favorable at the time they should be cut. We prefer to drill in an early variety of corn even as late as July, and, while it may not be fully mature in October every year, it makes good green fodder if the pastures suffer from fall drought or it can be cured for winter fodder. It will grow on land where there would be small chance of a good millet crop and is not as exhaustive to the soil, advises a Massachusetts authority.

CARE OF HORSES' FEET.

Every Owner of a Horse Should Read, Mark and Learn This Article.

We all recognize the importance of good feet in a horse. There is a great deal of truth in the old adage, "No feet, no horse." While some horses have congenitally weak feet and require very careful usage to prevent disease, many go wrong in their feet from careless or ignorant treatment. The foot of the horse is a complex organ and subject to many diseases, the causes and symptoms of which we will not discuss in this article, but rather discuss the means of preventing disease. The main point to be observed is to keep the feet in as natural a shape and condition as possible. There is, under normal conditions, a constant growth of all the horny or insensitive parts of the foot, and we can readily understand that if there be not an equally constant waste, the organ will assume abnormal size, and, as a consequence, become ill-shaped. Of course, during youth, while the animal is growing, the growth of the feet, like that of other organs, exceeds the waste, hence they increase in size. In the state of nature, the natural wear and tear on the unshod foot equals the ordinary growth and keeps it in proper shape, but owing to the artificial manner in which horses are of necessity reared in cold climates, their feet require more attention than they frequently receive. Interference is seldom necessary until the first winter, as during the summer months, when the colts are at large, the natural wear will suffice, but when the weather becomes cold and they are kept in the stable the greater part of the time, often in stalls that are not regularly cleaned (which state favors the growth of horn), the wear will be infinitesimal, and unless attention be given, the feet will become abnormally large, deep in the heels, long in the toes, and abnormal in shape to such an extent as to render it impossible for the animal to stand and move naturally. This condition abnormally increases the tension on some of the tendons and ligaments and correspondingly decreases that of others. If this be allowed to continue, the future usefulness of the animal will be affected. In order to prevent this, the feet should be pared or rasped down to the natural shape every few weeks during the season of stabling. The heels should be kept well pared down, the wall rasped off on the bearing surface all the way around and the toes not allowed to become too long. It is not often necessary to pare either the frog or the bars. In order to prevent thrush or other disease of the frog from an accumulation of filth, it is wise to clean out the sole every day with a foot hook. In the spring we often notice colts with long toes, deep heels, and with the lower margin of the wall turning inwards. In such cases the owner probably thinks it wise to have the feet trimmed before turning them out to grass. When a foot is lifted and the sole cleaned out preparatory to trimming, it will be noticed that the frog is very narrow and shallow, and often there is a foul-smelling discharge from its cleft. This is due to neglect of regular attention, and, as the frog should be large and strong and so deep that it presses on the ground when the foot is planted, in order to sustain its proper share of the animal's weight and tend to prevent contraction of the heels, it can readily be seen that anything that tends to a decrease in size or prevention of development of this important part of the foot is a serious matter. Regular attention should be paid to the feet until the time arrives when shoes are required, after which the shoeing smith will cut, and rasp away at each shoeing a sufficient amount of horn to keep the foot in proper shape. The intelligent horseshoer will be careful to not cut the bars down nor pare any off the frog or sole except what becomes partially detached. Horse owners should see that there is not too much cutting and rasping done in the shoeing forge. Horses should have their shoes removed every month or at the most every five weeks. During cold or damp weather no particular attention is required other than having the shoes removed regularly and cleaning the feet out daily; but in dry, hot weather, horses that are kept in the stable should have artificial moisture supplied to their feet. During this season the roads and fields are hot and dry and the stable floors in a like condition, and unless some means be taken to supply moisture, the feet also become hot, dry and hard, which condition predisposes to disease. Moisture can be supplied by the soaking tub or soaking boots, or by standing in wet clay. Thick felt swabs, to fit around the wall and buckled around the pastern, are very convenient and satisfactory. These, allowed to remain in a tub of water until they become saturated and then buckled on, will keep the feet moist for hours. There are a great many "hoof ointments" advertised and highly recommended, and while some of them may be of some value (at least for improving the appearance of the feet), there is nothing quite as valuable as water for supplying the necessary moisture. Horses at pasture do not require the same attention, as the dew and rain on the grass will have the same action. If more attention were paid to some of these matters we would see fewer lame and groggy horses on the streets and roads.—"Whip," in London Farmers' Advocate.

WAKEFUL, THE BEST RACEHORSE IN AUSTRALIA.

Shipbuilding Possibilities.

Very soon Capr Breton will be importing from Newfoundland, 1,000,000 tons of iron ore each year. Nova Scotia transports to St. Lawrence ports 1,000,000 tons of coal annually; to Boston 1,000,000 tons; to various ports in the Maritime Provinces 500,000 tons, and in five years it will be sending annually, 1,000,000 tons of coal, and 400,000 tons of steels across the Atlantic. The ocean carrying trade will give employment to 180 steamers of 5,000 tons capacity each, and those steamers, it is expected, will be built in Nova Scotia and manned in Nova Scotia. Then there is the great grain carrying trade and the various coast lines, to say nothing of the steamers which will be required for the projected fast Atlantic line. It is a rosy picture, indeed, which these Nova Scotians have painted should the Government meet their views by granting substantial aid to the shipbuilding enterprise in Canada. — Buffalo Express.

ment concrete with proper slope for flushing. The walls are 17 feet high, and the roof, which has heavy, overhanging eaves, is covered with galvanized-iron shingles. To the right and left of the south entrance there is ample space for exhibits of dairy apparatus, and to the rear space for the exhibits of cheese, with ample accommodation and refrigeration for the displays of butter. The right wing will be fitted up especially for the popular buttermaking competitions and demonstrations which constitute such an instructive and interesting feature of the exhibition.

Thackeray's Reply.

Thackeray was not a humorist in the sense that Dickens was nor a wit in the sense that Jerrold was, but he now and then said a good thing in a quiet way. He was pestered on one occasion while in America by a young gentleman of an inquiring mind as to what was thought of this person and that person in England. "Mr. Thackeray," he asked, "what do they think of Tupper?" "They don't think of Tupper," was the reply.

USED BY THE BEST PEOPLE.

Never Derived so Much Benefit From Any Medicine as From

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

"I had a severe attack of la grippe, which left me in a nervous and run-down condition, and of course I did not rest well. I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can truthfully say that I never derived so much benefit from any medicine before. It seemed to build me up, and in fact I have not been so well for years. I can heartily recommend this treatment for weakness and nervousness."

The leading physicians endorse Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and advise their patients to use it, because they know it to be the most effective restorative and system builder which modern science has discovered. You can be certain that it will benefit you; 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 4

JOE'S EARLY CAREER

FORTY-THREE YEARS AGO HE MADE HIS FIRST APPEARANCE.

He Was Then a Young Man of Twenty-Three Years of Age and Opposed the "Peace at Any Price" Idea of John Bright—A Much-Abused Man—His Great Municipal Career.

It is now a little more than forty-three years since Mr. Chamberlain made his first appearance on a political platform. He was then a very young man, in his twenty-third year, and the fact that he was on the platform caused no remark or comment of any kind. He was one among scores of other young men at the same gathering, young men interested in politics possibly, but with equal possibility many of them young men who had no special political views one way or the other, but attached themselves to the Whig, Reform or Radical party because their fathers before them had been of the same political stripe.

The occasion referred to was that of the Birmingham, Eng., election in the British general elections of 1857, brought on by the defeat of the Derby Ministry on their Reform policy.

The Radical candidates for the vacant seats were William Scholefield and no less a person than the late John Bright. The "Moderate Liberal" candidate was a man whose name is very familiar in Ontario, Sir Thomas Dyke Acland. The latter had the support of the entire Conservative party in Birmingham—it must be admitted a very small section of the electorate of the borough at that period—and also of what was an important factor in the contest, the vote of the Palmerstonian Liberals.

This appearance of Mr. Chamberlain's might be passed over without any notice whatever but for the fact that the opposition was aimed, not at William Scholefield, but at John Bright, the advocate of "peace at any price," during the then but recently concluded Russian war.

The policy of Mr. Bright advocated in 1854-56 was closely analogous to the policy of the British pro-Boers of to-day, so heartily and successfully combatted by Mr. Chamberlain. It is gratifying to find that the line of conduct Mr. Chamberlain has pursued is not new, not of impulse nor of hasty conclusions, but is the outcome of settled thought, of life-long convictions.

Nine years elapsed, the British general elections of 1865 had passed away, there being no contest in Birmingham, and still very little was known in the Hardware City of Joseph Chamberlain, except in business circles and in connection with some two or three literary societies, and where he was noted for the fluency and frequency of his speeches.

The year 1868, though, brought Mr. Chamberlain to the front, locally at any rate, and it was soon very evident to the somewhat fossilized Whigs, Liberals and Radicals of Birmingham, that he "had come to stay." In the year previous, on the decease of William Scholefield, Mr. Chamberlain had taken a somewhat prominent part in supporting the candidature of Mr. George Dixon, as an advanced Liberal, against the pretension to the vacant seat of Mr. Sampson S. Lloyd, Conservative. Mr. Dixon triumphed and Mr. Chamberlain rejoiced. In 1868 the National Education League was founded in England, and Mr. Chamberlain, then only 32 years of age, was chairman of the executive. The platform of the league was "free, compulsory and unsectarian" schools, while its main object really was to abolish in toto, as quickly and as speedily as possible, the denominational schools, which were under the control, for the most part of them, of the Anglican Church.

The League sprang into existence early in 1868, and before the end of the year the name of Joseph Chamberlain as its champion was known from one end of England to the other.

In Birmingham he was the special aversion of the Conservative and Clerical party, and of their local organ, while the abuse, slander and misrepresentation showered upon him exceeded in violence anything he has since experienced, and that is saying a great deal.

No one need think, though, that "Young Joe," as he was generally spoken of, was silent under this storm of obloquy. He hit back, and his hits told. Accused of infidelity, he at once pointed to the fact of his record as a Sunday school teacher. A foolhardy opponent taunted him with being a monopolist, and of driving small men out of his own special line of manufacturing, that of wood screws. He retorted that his firm "had always paid its way and the rent of its premises, something no one had ever known his accuser to do, except under compulsion." The retort was crushing, all the more so as it was absolutely true. Platform orators declaimed, clergymen preached against him, all to no purpose, for in November, 1868, he was elected by a large majority over his opponent to the Birmingham City Council. Two years later, in November, 1870, he was elected on the first Birmingham School Board as one of the "Liberal Six," his colleagues being George Dixon, M.P., the Rev. Charles Vince, R. W. Dale, M.A., D.C.L., the famous theologian and Congregationalist preacher; Geo. Dawson, M.A., preacher and lecturer, who was of European reputation, and John Skerrow Wright, who was afterwards M.P. for Nottingham.

Honors still poured in upon Mr. Chamberlain, for in 1873 he was elected Mayor of Birmingham, was re-elected in 1874, again in 1875 and only resigned in June, 1876, when he was elected member of Parliament for that city. His colleagues then in the representation were John Bright and Philip Henry Muntz.

If Mr. Chamberlain had never done anything else since, his career in the City Council and School Board of the great Midland metropolis would entitle him to the gratitude of his fellow townsmen especially and of English workingmen generally.

It was the decided stand taken by Joseph Chamberlain backed by such famous educationalists as Dawson, Dale, McCarthy, Jesse Collings and others of equal note which secured free education for the children of all Englishmen. It was Joseph Chamberlain's zeal and untiring energy which made Birmingham what she is to-day. What Haussman was to Paris Chamberlain was to Birmingham. He demolished her rookeries, he swept away miles upon miles of tenements but little better than slums, while he constructed broad open streets and gave light and air to masses of the people who had previously to his improvements, but partially enjoyed both these blessings. He did more, he obtained for the people municipal control of both the gas and water supplies and yet he did more, for instead of increasing the taxation of the city his policy has reduced it, while the first cost of both the gas and water concerns has now all been redeemed.

Such were the early days of Joseph Chamberlain as a public man. What his career has been since he entered Parliament is to all Canadians a story "as familiar as household words."

TWO IRISH STORIES.

A Blind Man in a Fight and a Queer Bottle of Wine.

The late Lord Morris was full of legal stories, but the following did not belong to his budget: A case of assault came before a Kerry court. In the course of it the counsel for the defence when examining a witness for the prosecution asked, "And you say the man who assaulted you is blind, or as good as blind?" "Yes, sir." "Then how came he to get into the scrimmage?" "Well, counselor, it wor this way: Wherever he heard the blows goin' he slipped in, feelin' for a vacancy, and when he found it he let fly like a good man."

"But you said just now that there was a storm of thunder and lightning going on at the time." "There was so, yer honor." "Then I suppose it got darker and darker." "Thrue for you, counselor!" "And you say this man was nearly blind. Surely the darkness would have made him quite so?" "Not at all sir. Contrariwise, every time a flash of lightnin' come he shthruck out and hit me in the eye." "It was raining, too, I suppose." "It was so, sir." "Perhaps, then, as you are so exact, you'll tell the gentlemen of the jury the size of the drops of rain." "I will thin. To the best of me recollection, they varied in size from a shillin' to 18 pence!"

This hazy view of the size of drops of rain is somewhat suggestive of a drop too much of another sort and reminds me of another whose absurdity is due to the provision of a drop too little, or rather a drop of the wrong sort. A priest who is a total abstainer, was expecting his cousin, a Dublin solicitor, on a visit and, knowing that he did not hold the same views as himself on the drink question, went to the village grocery store and ordered a bottle of port. This was delivered and decanted by his reverence.

At dinner time, he hospitably poured out a glass and said, "There, Cousin Tom, that's the best vintage Ballyporeen affords." The solicitor sipped it critically and then said "Well, Cousin Cornelius, to my mind it tastes a wee bit too much of the musheruins" (mushrooms). It proved to be catchup.—A Kerry Man in London Spectator.

Two Glimpses of Eugenie.

I can still hear the strains of "Partant Pour la Syrie," which the bands played in honor as she embarked in the imperial yacht Aigle on leaving the ball at Cairo, and the salutes by which her departure was proclaimed. The ball took place in November, 1869. I did not see the empress again till a few months after. It so chanced that one hot, dull afternoon in London, in the mid September in 1870, I was waiting for some friends at the Charing Cross railway station, when I saw a one horse fly, driven by a coachman whose shabby oiled hat and dirty white Berlin gloves proclaimed him as belonging to some second rate livery stable, stop at the station. Its sole occupant was a lady attired in very dusty black, looking weary and travel worn, and all alone. The lady was the Empress Eugenie. — "The Story of the Khedive."

The Prisoner's Retort.

The chaplain of the house of correction, South Boston, frequently has amusing experiences with the prisoners who come under his care. He is required by law to have an interview with every man whose time has expired and who is about to leave the house. It is the chaplain's duty to give the departing prisoner good advice and to exhort him to be a decent and honorable man in the future.

In the course of one of these interviews the chaplain said, "Now, my friend, I hope you'll never have to come back to a place like this."

The prisoner looked at him thoughtfully and then asked, "I say, chaplain, you draw a salary here, don't you?" When the chaplain replied in the affirmative, the prisoner remarked, "Well, say, if me and the other fellows didn't keep coming back you'd be out of a job."—Boston Herald.

Health for Women.

"Few things are more important to a community than the health of its women. If strong is the frame of a mother," says a proverb, "the sons will give laws to the people." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is especially woman's medicine. By its action on the blood and nerves it gives strength and vigour to the delicate feminine organs and ensures their regular and healthful functions. It gives colour to the pale, strength to the weak, and a rounded form to the thin and angular.

A Giant Marguerite.

A Gananoque correspondnet of The Globe sends word of what he thinks is perhaps the largest marguerite known and which is owned in his town. The plant is seven feet five inches tall, width is six feet two inches, stem four inches in diameter, one large root. This plant will drink two gallons of water each day and has been in flower for two years and ten months continuously and has had as many as 1,100 flowers on at one time. The plant is now six years old and is the admiration of many people.

Some Results of Impure Blood.

A blotched, pimply, disfigured face, feeling of exhaustion, wrecked nerves, headache and a dull brain. The proper cure is one Ferrozone Tablet after each meal. Ferrozone clears and beautifies the complexion by making rich, pure blood. It restores the enfeebled brain and unstrung nerves to a healthy vigorous condition. It invigorates all the physical and mental powers, and brings strength and ambition to the depressed. Refuse a substitute for Ferrozone—it's the best tonic, rebuilder and invigorator known. Price 50c., at Ormond & Walsh's.

Music and Animals.

An eminent violinist, Herr Baker, tested the sensitiveness to music of each of the animals in the zoological gardens in Germany. The influence of the violin was the greatest on the puma whose moods changed rapidly as the nature of the music changed, becoming very much excited and nervous when quicksteps were played. Wolves showed an appreciative interest, lions and hyenas were terrified, leopards were unconcerned and monkeys curious.

THE BOYS' CAMP.

It Will Commence August 6th at Clear Lake—Facts About it.

The annual boys' camp in connection with the local Y.M.C.A., will be held at Sandy Point, Clear Lake, commencing Aug. 6th. A neat little circular has been issued setting forth the objects of the camp, and amongst other things it says:

This years camp promises to beat the records of the four that have preceded it. It will be held in the same spot with its many attractions to please boys. Every boy whether at school or in the shop needs just such an outing each year as we provide. The benefits cannot be measured in money. All parents should let their boys go, if at all possible.

The time of the camp has been arranged so that the three officers can attend. They are Messrs. G. H. Williamson, Secretary; H. E. Ayers, Physical Director; E. A. Frowde, Boys' Secretary.

These will have charge, assisted by a group of capable senior leaders. The utmost care will be taken for the safety and welfare of the boys.

The entire cost will be $4.00 including 'buss, board, boats, and all privileges of the camp. It is payable in advance. The camp will be limited to all Y.M.C.A. members who are 16 or under.

A two busbel bag to hold outfit, two blankets, two heavy quilts, a pillow, two suits, stockings, cap, straw hat, boots, gym shoes, sweater, tooth brush, towels, soap, enamel tin cup and plate, knife, fork and spoon, kerchiefs, needle and thread. Do not forget your Bible.

Camera, musical instruments, games, story books, fishing tackle, base ball supplies, good strong fish horn. These last are optional.

The party will leave the Y.M.C.A. building on Wednesday Aug. 6th, at 7 a.m. in 'busses. The baggage will leave earlier and must be at the building on Monday evening. All will take a lunch with them as the camp will not be reached until after dinner time.

The Bible study for a quarter of an hour each morning will be to come in touch with the Master so that each day may be lived as it ought to be. "Lake side scenes in Jesus life" will be taken up.

Clear Lake is an ideal spot for water sports. Lots of boats and fishing tackle, and a raft for swimming and diving. We will have a baseball league among the boys, and a field day on Friday Aug. 15th, prizes to be awarded.

There will be skiff, swimming, sack biscuit, obstacle, three-legged and boot races on this day. An experienced cook will accompany the party. The camp leaders will arrange the sections. Rules will be few, but must be obeyed. Get an application card at the office where further particulars can be had. Don't miss the fifth annual outing.

THE MANUFACTURERS' LIFE.

To the Public:

Mr. B. P. Lindsay, who has represented the Temperance and General Life at Peterborough for some years and the Manufacturers' Life since the amalgamation of the two companies, has retired from the agency and we have appointed Mr. G. F. Blackwell as general agent for the Peterborough district.

Until a suitable office can be arranged for, Mr. Blackwell will have his office in Room 44, National Hotel, Peterborough. At an early date organization work will be effected both in town and all parts of the county. Mr. Blackwell will be pleased to meet every policy holder and the public in general. Any information or assistance given along this line by a policy holder or any person desiring a local contract will be much appreciated by the management of this company and will receive Mr. Blackwell's prompt attention.

The company desire to thank the public of Peterborough town and county for the manner in which they have contributed to the success of the Manufacturer's Life in the past and hope that through Mr. Blackwell you will continue your liberal patronage.

Yours truly,
J. F. JUNKIN,
Managing Director.

"KING'S OAK" DECAYING.

An Amusing Story From New York and the Victim of Race Prejudice.

The New York Press in a recent issue, gives the following account of the alleged "decaying" of the "King's Oak," in Central Park, of that city. Superstitious persons who read the story of the strange decay of the King's oak in Central Park, realized the coincidence between that condition and King Edward's illness, will be disappointed to learn that the cause of the tree's suffering is of a far more commonplace nature.

That oak simply is a victim of race prejudice, of the old feud between Celt and Saxon. A close inspection of the trunk shows ridges and furrows, the result, it is said, of surreptitious wallops from shovels and spades wielded by the brawny arms of men who have no love for the "Sassenach oak."

Acting Capt. Dillon, of the Tenderloin precinct, was reading a newspaper the other morning when he came across the pathetic story of the tree, which it was said had begun to show signs of decay, when the illness of England's King was announced. Dillon read the story through; then he laughed long. He was asked the reason for this mirth. Between chuckles he told the secret.

"You know I was stationed in the Park for a long time," said he. "I used to have an early morning tour. The King's oak was known to all the men, but there weren't many other people who knew the history of the tree until some paper printed a long story about it being planted by the Prince of Wales.

"Well," and here Dillon chuckled again, "one morning as I was walking up one of the paths I met a bunch of Irishmen with their banjoes under their arms, going to work." He paused to explain that by "banjoes" he meant shovels.

"I saw as they passed me, and gave me the top o' the mornin' that they were nosing around as if they were looking for something. One old fellow stepped up to me when the rest had passed,

"'Sergeant,' said he, 'will you kindly show me where that tree they call the King's oak is?' I saw some fun ahead, so I pointed out the tree to him.

"He stared at it pretty hard for a minute. Then he rubbed his chin and looked at me.

"'What might yer name be sergeant,?' said he.

"'It might be Flanagan,' said I, with the accent on the might.

"'That a good old Irish name,' he said; then he edged up closer and whispered, "You're a fine man. D'ye mind taking a bit of a walk up the road?"

"Why?" said I.

"Then he gripped his shovel hard, looked around and whispered, 'I want just one crack of the shovel against that Sassenach oak!'

"I laughed so I thought the old fellow was going to land on me with the shovel. He was disappointed terribly disappointed when I told him I couldn't stand for his punching holes in that oak, and I'd have to lock him up if he persisted in carrying out his ideas.

"I heard afterwards, however, that he told the rest of the gang just where that King's oak was. What they did not do to that tree afterwards isn't worth mentioning. Every time any them went by he just said, 'Erin forever!' and smashed that tree with the sharp edge of his spade.

"Decaying! Well I should say that's no wonder," and Dillon began to read a fresh account of the sympathetic illness of the oak.

IT IS TIME TO TAKE A HOLIDAY.

A Trade Journal's Advice to Business Men.

Now is the time for the retail merchants to break away from business.

The weather has not yet been propitious for the full enjoyment of a holiday, but conditions at present presage the arrival of warmer weather. Oftentimes merchants allow themselves to believe that their business will suffer if they do not give it their entire attention, and, with their nose on the grindstone, plod along month after month, with no thought of the benefit they may derive physically and mentally from a short sojourn away from home and the cares of business.

There are many of them who have never taken a consistent holiday since they embarked in their mercantile career. A man is never too old to change from the ways that he has always followed, and there will never be a better year than 1902 for the merchant to inaugurate the idea of taking a vacation for the benefit of himself and family.

If there are any readers of this article who have not as yet thought seriously of enjoying the benefits to be derived from a vacation this summer, let them take this matter to heart. It is not necessary to take a trip abroad. A little fishing trip, a camping party or a trip to one of the resorts which are so plentiful in all parts of the country, can be taken at almost a nominal expense and the investment so made, will prove one of the best investments which a retailer can make.

A Sin Against Nature.

When you neglect a cough you must pay the penalty nature inflicts, viz., congestion and pneumonia, and perhaps consumption. Anyway, coughing weakens lungs and makes the voice husky. Better spend 25 cents for a bottle of Four T's, the great guaranteed cough cure and avoid the consequences. Sold at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

STOCK MARKETS.

A Lesson From Sugar.

New York, July 12th.—Thursday afternoon in a period of 30 minutes witnessed the undoing of a bear pool in sugar, upsetting the work of two weeks in which their efforts had been directed against that stock, with the view to profit-making. It simply illustrates the tenacity with which stocks are held and the extreme danger under such conditions of making very heavy commitments upon the bear side of the account. Bearish dealings cannot be successfully engineered save when the public are heavily loaded with the stocks attacked and when many shares are carried upon slim margins. What does it accomplish to sell stocks down by phantom sales that have to be purchased unless sellers having the real goods to dispose can be induced or frightened into sending selling orders into the market where the public heavily long for sugar; consequently demoralized by the decline that was engineered in the shares. It would have been almost an impossibility to have bid them up, in price some six dollars per share in 30 minuted. In that short time the work of the bear side of two weeks had been undone and their losses were correspondingly frightful.

The current market is in anything but a proper condition to join in a speculation for a decline. Once over sold the bears are at the merey of the bull cliques and pools. Owing to the small outside speculative holdings of stocks, and the extreme unwillingness of holders to close out, there is nothing for them to place their money in to better advantage. Continuous reports of expanding earnings have a tendency to reduce the floating supply of securities. Seldom do we have markets in which it is safer to be carrying stocks than the markets now existing. There is very little chance if any of making a loss if adequately margined while there is every possibility of making handsome profits. Those who will purchase stocks now will stand an excellent chance of making money. The higher priced issues are the best in our opinion, but it is a timewhen most any American security may be safely purchased and held. There are other stocks on the list whose present condition is equally dangerous for bear operators. A semi-holiday market strengthening after the bank statement was the story of the day's dealings. Decreased loans and increased reserve acted as a stimulant to trading. Copper after preliminary weakness, took on strength. Sugar did likewise. A buying movement developed in Atchison carrying the stock up about a point and one half. The stock is a good purchase. Illinoise Central rose over a point, St. Paul equalled its previous high figure, while M.O.P. rose on splendid buying to within a fraction of 114. Good buying appeared for New York Central and Penna. The market will be higher the coming week. Money closed three per cent. Sales $193,400.

GALWAY.

The week's mission at the Catholic church closed on Sunday and the mission will be an event in the history of the township. Although the weather was wet and stormy the church was packed every evening, and many drove ten miles and did not miss a meeting. The Redemptorist Fathers Riese and Olert made a lasting impression for good by their clear, forcible and admirably delivered sermons and instructions. Father Olert, who is a musician of merit, also assisted the choir, which was under the guidance of Mrs. Maguire. The mission was a great success in every way, and will exert a beneficial influence on the lives of the congregation, both religiously and practically. The good pastor, Rev. Father O'Lear, is to be congratulated upon obtaining the services of the eminent missionary Fathers.

ORANGE RIOTS IN EDINBURGH.

Protestants and Catholics Come Together in the Canongate.

London, July 14.—A tumult occurred in Edinburgh Saturday afternoon as the result of the celebration by Orangemen, which was more serious than reported from Ireland, where belligerency was generally held in check. Ten thousand Orangemen who were returning home after attending exercises at Holyrood Park, while passing through Canongate, a thoroughfare occupied chiefly by Catholics, clashed with the inhabitants and many personal encounters took place. The foot police were unable to quell the disturbance, and more than an hour had elapsed before all the disputants were separated by charges of mounted police. A number of persons were hurt and a few arrests were made.

Barber's Majority Reduced.

Toronto, July 14.—John R. Barber, the Liberal member-elect for Halton, has had his majority reduced to 16, as a result of the appeal and cross appeal heard on Saturday at Osgoode Hall by Mr. Justice Osler. Five of the ballots are undecided. Thirteen ballots were submitted by Dr. Nixon and of these six were allowed. Mr. Barber submitted 12 ballots and was allowed none. On five ballots claimed by Dr. Nixon judgment was reserved.

At Osgoode Hall on Saturday a motion was made by Edmund Bristol acting for Hugh Clarke, the successful Conservative candidate in Centre Bruce, to set aside the service of a protest, filed by John H. Stewart, the defeated Liberal candidate, on the ground that the copy sent to the respondent's solicitor was defective. The case was adjourned until Monday.

A. B. Aylesworth, who was acting for Mr. Stewart, held that the defect was merely a diagonal line drawn through some matter. The line did not obliterate or render illegible a letter or word. He also said that the line was not in the original petition, and as that was not on hand the case was adjourned to allow it being produced.

THE TRADE RETURNS.

THE AGRICULTURAL EXPORTS.

Returns For Eleven Months Show a Considerable Increase in Our Aggregate Foreign Trade—Refrigerator Cars For Cheese Shipments Arranged For—Terms Made With the Grand Trunk and C.P.R.

Ottawa, July 14.—The trade returns of Canada for the fiscal year ending June 30 have not yet been compiled, but when the compilation is completed our aggregate foreign trade will probably be found to have reached $400,000,000, and perhaps an even larger amount. For the eleven months ending May 31 our total foreign trade reached $374,870,650, or only some $12,000,000 behind the twelve months of 1901. For the month of May itself the aggregate was $35,121,375. Assuming that for June the volume of imports and exports will be equally as large as in the former month, the total for the fiscal year just closed would be $409,992,025, as compared with $386,903,157 for the previous twelve months, and $247,638,620 for 1893, which latter was the best year under the Conservative regime. The details of the past year's trade are not yet obtainable, but the statistics for the eleven months compare most favorably with the figures for the preceding year.

Agricultural Exports.

The following statement gives some of the leading agricultural products exported during the eleven months ending June 30th, as compared with the same period in 1901:—

Refrigerator Cars Arranged For.

The Department of Agriculture has arranged with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the Grand Trunk Railway System to provide a number of refrigerator cars for the carriage of cheese on through bills of lading and on local shipment to Montreal for export. For the limited number of cars available the Dominion Department of Agriculture has agreed to pay the icing charge to permit this service to be started. Shippers using these cars will be charged only the usual carload rates. Applications for these refrigerator cars should be made through the usual channels of the local railway agent, or the district freight agent, as the case may be. The Department of Agriculture does not undertake to furnish cars, but only to pay the icing charges up to 100 cars per week for two hot months, from the middle of July to the middle of September. The Grand Trunk System and the Canadian Pacific Railway, will have some specially improved ventilator cars ready this month for the carriage of cheese. These are being fitted with special ventilating contrivances, devised by Prof. Robertson. There will not be any extra charge for them.

MR. BALFOUR BLUSHED

SIR M. HICKS-BEACH RESIGNS.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Withdraws From Cabinet Although Wishing the New Chief Every Success—Mr. Balfour Assures His Followers That There Will Be No Change of Policy.

London, July 15.—A. J. Balfour was yesterday formally greeted as Great Britain's Premier, and the new regime began its work. The momentous change was marked by only one really dramatic incident, namely, the resignation of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach from his post of Chancellor of the Exchequer. Yet this lack of outward show and public prelude to a new chapter in English history is by no means representative of the disturbance which the sudden transition created among the under currents of political life. It is safe to say that Sir Michael Hicks-Beach is only the first of several whose names have figured largely before the public in the last half century who now will disappear from the political arena. Nothing absolutely definite is yet settled, but the Unionist party expects shortly to hear of the resignations of Earl Halsbury, Lord High Chancellor; Lord James of Hereford, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, and Earl Cadogan, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

Some Speculations.

For Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's place Right Hon. R. W. Hanbury, now president of the Board of Agriculture, is the favorite. In the pending reconstruction, which may not be completed for some time to come, Mr. Balfour, much to the delight of the Unionists, will remain the leader in the House of Commons and First Lord of the Treasury, with Mr. Chamberlain, still in command of the colonies as his First Lieutenant. If Earl Halsbury, on account of his great age, fulfills predictions by retiring, Baron Alverstone will succeed to the Woolsack, Sir Richard Henn Collins becoming Lord Chief Justice, Sir R. B. Finlay succeeding him as Master of the Rolls; Sir E. H. Carson, now Solicitor-General, becoming Attorney-General, and probably Charles Alfred Cripps, Attorney-General to the Prince of Wales, succeeding to the Solicitor-Generalship.

On one point the members of the House of Commons, who throughout the day animatedly discussed the new state of affairs, seemed practically unanimous, and that was that Austin Chamberlain, Financial Secretary to the Treasury, would be promoted, a majority mentioning him as likely to succeed Mr. Hanbury, the latter take the Chancellorship of the Exchequer.

There is apparently no serious anticipation of a general election.

Premier in the House.

Mr. Balfour's first appearance in the House of Commons as premier was characteristic of the man and of the assembly. From the party meeting at the Foreign Office the members trooped over en bloc and shortly after 2 o'clock the House was packed. When he reached his seat, Mr. Balfour was blushing like a schoolgirl.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman the Liberal leader, stopped further business by making such a feeling personal reference to Mr. Balfour as is seldom heard in legislative bodies, and which was delivered with an emotion which quite unnerved the Premier.

When Mr. Balfour rose to reply, the ovation was renewed, but his voice faltered and he was only just able hesitatingly to explain that he was too overcome to find words of thanks.

After Mr. Balfour's tribute to Lord Salisbury, which was universally commended for its tactful reserve, the House was emptied.

Colonial Secretary's Move.

Late last night the talk in the parliamentary lobbies revolved about the highly interesting and apparently well-founded statement that Mr. Chamberlain desires to exchange the office of Colonial Secretary for the Chancellorship of the Exchequer. If that be so, it cannot be doubted that Mr. Chamberlain will carry his point.

Among the Liberals strong fears are expressed that the departure of Sir Michael-Hicks Beach will be the signal for the furtherance of the Zollverein movement. Mr. Balfour being powerless to resist the Chamberlainite tendencies.

Mr. Balfour's Remarks.

The new Premier when he entered the conference room of the Foreign Office, accompanied by the Duke of Devonshire, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Lord Londonderry and others, received quite an ovation from his followers, all present standing and loudly cheering him. When Mr. Balfour rose to address the meeting, all again stood up and cheered the new chief. So soon as quiet was restored Mr. Balfour referred to the loss of the services of the chief who for nearly fifty years had been engaged in active political life. No one, he said, would grudge him his well-earned repose, though his loss was irreparable.

"I do not flatter myself," proceeded the Premier, "that the gap he has left can be filled. But the place he has left must be occupied, and it is because the King has desired me to do my best to take that position that I have asked you to meet me to-day. I have accepted a great task and a heavy responsibility, certainly from no overweening belief in my own capacity, but because I am sure, or, at least, have every reason to believe, that in attempting to carry on this work I will have the most important qualification a leader can have, namely, regard for and confidence in those with whom he works. I cannot now promise myself that I shall have the continued assistance of all my colleagues. One of the most important of them, with whom I have been associated all my political life, and who has occupied and deserves to occupy the highest post in the House of Commons and State, has told me that I cannot count on his further assistance. I mean the Chancellor of the Exchequer. But though I grieve to say I cannot count with any assurance on his further assistance, I can count with absolute confidence on his good wishes in the labors that are before us."

"For myself," continued Mr. Balfour, "I have nothing to say. To all the members, or at all events to the members of the House of Commons who are listening to me, I have no secrets and no surprises. You have known me so well and so long that even were I disposed to dwell on this thing there is nothing I could say which could or ought to alter the judgment already long ago formed. But if I have nothing of a personal nature to say at the present time neither have I any pronouncement to make. Changes there must be, consequent on the great change which we have met here to deplore. But this is not the occasion on which either to discuss them or even think of them.

"As for the question of policy I need hardly tell you that the policy of the Unionist party remains now what it has always been. We have lost the services of a brilliant advocate of our cause. We have lost a man around whom the sentiments and emotions of the party have for many years crystallized. Nevertheless, I feel we would do wrong to despair, do wrong to have even the faintest misgiving in regard to the future of the cause he has so long and so well upheld. If we preserve the unity in the future which has never been wanting in our ranks in the past, the inherent vitality of our cause will make up for any weakness in the arms which have to sustain it."

KILLED BY A LIGHTNING BOLT

T. Hickson, of Ennismore Meets an Awfully Sudden Death.

Took Refuge From Rain Under a Tree in Port Hope and met His Fate in a Moment.

The whole community of Ennismore is sympathetically excited over the awfully sudden death of a well known and highly respected resident, Mr. Thomas Hickson, son of Mr. James Hickson, lot 7, in the 16th concession of Ennismore.

On July 1st Thomas Hickson and a neighbour, Mr. Wm. Crough, son of Mr. Philip Crough, former proprietor of the American Hotel, Hunter street, went with their teams to Port Hope to work on the double tracking of the Grand Trunk Railway. All went well till yesterday at four o'clock. One of the numerous thunder storms that prevailed, came up. It was not a bad storm, there was comparatively little rain and only one flash of lightning and one peal of thunder. The young man, Hickson, who was 26 years of age, took refuge with his team under a neighbouring apple tree, beside which he stood close to the trunk. His chum, Wm. Crough, who was not so well sheltered, was standing near and Hickson invited him to come under the tree as the rain would soon be over. Almost with the words came the only flash of lightning which Crough says he remembers having seen during the storm, but its fatal work was done with a suddenness as complete as awful. The bolt tore down the tree, ploughing a furrow in its trunk, striking the unfortunate young man and prostrating him. Mr. Crough though severely shocked himself, ran to his friend, and found him senseless but with the heart still beating, which it continued to do till five o'clock when it stilled forever. Assistance was on hand at once and the head and wrists showered with cold water, but all efforts to restore animation failed, and as stated, death succeeded the complete insensibility that followed the stroke of the fatal bolt.

Singular to say there was not a mark found on the body except that the hair on the chest was singed. The electricity followed the watch chain to the pocket, and drilled a tiny hole in the rim on the face which holds the crystal. The watch, however, was not injured apparently, as it continued running.

Mr. Crough, who was standing only twenty feet distant, was rather severely shocked, and did not realize how severely until afterwards. The necessity of looking after his friend caused him to use all his exertions. He, however, feels very sore to-day in the limbs and about the waist. When the lightning came and prostrated the young man, the reins which he was holding in his hands, fell, and the horses ran away, but were caught before injury of any account was done.

The sad news of the young man's awful death was at once telephoned to Peterborough, and a message sent to the family of deceased at Ennismore, who came to town to meet the remains, which came on this morning's train, and convey them home. The funeral will take place to-morrow.

The deceased young man was unusually robust and strong, was steady and industrious, and held in high esteem in the township, which sympathizes very deeply with the afflicted family in their bereavement.

ST. PETER'S T. A. S.

A special meeting of St. Peter's T. A.S. is called for this evening at nine o'clock, in their rooms, for the purpose of making arrangements regarding the funeral of the late Jas. Sullivan, who was a member of the society. A full attendance is requested.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien has been appointed delegate from St. Peter's T.A.S. to the C.T.A.U. of America convention at Dubuque, Iowa, in August.

The trustees of St. Peter's T.A.S. are having hot water connected with the society's shower baths.

An expenditure of $300 will be made on new books for the library, which will be placed on the shelves in the course of a month or so.

A STUPENDOUS UNDERTAKING.

The importance of a transportation outlet by water for the Canadian Northwest is a matter of such vast importance that inventive genius and enterprise are being stimulated to the utmost. We have as an exposition of enterprise in this direction the notice for incorporation of the "Lake Superior and Rocky Mountains Navigation Company." It is a far cry from Lake Superior to the Rocky Mountains, by any route, but especially by water. But the promoters of the company above named incline to "find a way or make it." They propose to make a navigable waterway from Lake Superior to the Rocky Mountains. According to notices published in the Canada Gazette the company proposes to start at some point on Lake Superior at or near Thunder Bay and follow the chain of lakes and rivers across the height of land to Rainy Lake, Rainy River and the Lake of the Woods. Thence through the River Roseau to Red River in Manitoba; thence through Assiniboine River, Lake Manitoba, to Cedar Lake on the Saskatchewan River; thence by the southern branch of this river and Bow River to Calgary and along its northern branch to Edmondton, which is very close to the Rocky Mountains. We are not advised as to the practicability of this proposed route either from a financial or engineering point of view, but if this route could be opened we should have shiploads of sheep and prairie steers from Alberta, grain from points in the Northwest, and Manitoba, enroute coming down by way of Lake Superior, Georgian Bay and the Trent Valley Canal through Peterborough. It is the intention to make the proposed canal a navigable channel six feet in depth, a depth modelled on our own Trent Canal. We shall hear more of the proposed scheme, when the application of the company comes up for consideration at the next Session of Parliament. Though no details are furnished as to the expected cost it will doubtless represent a mint of money, but such a route, if within a reasonable expenditure, proportionate to its value, would be a boon and simplify the problem of making Canada the "granary of Britain."

If sheriffs over in the States would quit chasing criminals with brass bands, and adopt the quiet methods of the Northwest Mounted Police, the Toronto Star thinks fewer people would get shot. When an escaped convict finds himself pursued by a twelfth of July procession it is easy to shoot a few pursuers and get away.

THE "J. ISRAEL TARTE."

New Dredge is Doing Good Work in the Channel.

Montreal Witness.

The new hydraulic dredge, "J. Israel Tarte," which commenced work in deepening the channel in Lake St. Peter a short time ago, is now getting into working order, and the indications are that she will break all records for capacity. It is reported that on July 8th, the dredge deepened 412 lineal feet of the channel in 20 hours, making a cut 300 feet wide, and from four to six feet in thickness. Taking the average thickness of the cut to be five feet, itis equal to 22,800 cubic yards, which makes a new record, and it is a larger amount than has ever before been done by a dredge in this class of material. The daily output of the present large elevator dredges in similar material is about 4,000 cubic yards, so that the great increase in capacity is manifest. The success of this dredge is now said to be assured, and although to some extent it was experimental in its application to the conditions as they exist on the St. Lawrence River, the result seems to be such as to vindicate the enterprise and foresight of the Minister of Public Works, who not only was determined to have the best and largest dredge that could be built, but was willing to allow his name to be placed upon it as an evidence of his good faith.

There are not other dredges in the world which are quite equal to this one in its capacity and method of working. The nearest approach to it are the great dredges of the Mississippi River. These machines, however, can only work in sand, to a depth of 20 feet by 40 feet wide, whereas this dredge is capable of working in clay to a depth of forty feet, by 300 feet wide, being the present width of the channel. The Mississippi dredges loosen the sand by means of water jets, while the Tarte dredge is fitted with a giant rotary cutter which has a lateral feed of 300 ft., thus covering the whole width of the channel.

This dredge was designed by Mr. A. W. Robinson, of this city, who also designed and built several of th Mississippi dredges. Few persons have any conception of what such a quantity of material as 22,800 cubic yards means. As a cubic yard of clay is equal to about a ton and a half, it will be seen that the dredge excavated and transported about 34,000 tons of solid material in a day. This amount of material is sufficient to cover St. Catharine street from curb to curb to a depth of one foot for a length of two and a half miles.

As the dredge gets into better working order and the crew more experienced, it is expected that even better results will be obtained. Some delays occur from passing vessels and from wind, and Mr. Robinson is now making some improvements that will reduce the time lost from these causes.

The enormous increase during the last few years in the size of ocean steamships is the natural result of the greater economy of large vessels as compared with small; in fact, the only limit now to the size of ocean vessels is the depth and capacity of harbours and channels. In order to provide for increase in size of modern vessels there is being made all over the world a great effort to improve and deepen harbours and channels. These works are being planned on a scale of greater magnitude than ever before, and their accomplishment is largely made possible by the use of high powered modern dredges which can deal with enormous quantities of material at a very low cost.

THE MAILED FIST.

While England by her magnanimity in South Africa is transforming sturdy foes into genuine and loyal friends, and while the United States is endeavouring to deal generously with the Philipines, another great empire, after more than a century's trial of a contrary policy, is finding its results more and more disastrous. Since the partition of Poland between Prussia, Austria and Russia in 1795 'Woe to the Vanquished' has been the motto of the conquerors, and the land has been ruled with a rod of iron. The estates of her people have been confiscated, their religion placed under disabilities, her men forced into alien armies, she has been despoiled of her choicest literary and artistic treasures and the most determined efforts have been made to stamp out every spark of Polish national feeling, however innocent. Consanguinity has tended more or less to mitigate the hard lot of the Poles under the rule of Russia and Austria, but the ancient quarrel between Slav and Teuton has found fierce vent in that part of Poland which fell to Prussia. To 'Germanize' Poland has been the ambition of a succession of Prussian statesmen and about fifty million dollars have been spent during the last sixteen years in a vain attempt to found German settlements in the country. The Prussian Diet a few weeks ago passed another bill authorizing the expenditure of 250,000,000 marks, or some fifty-eight million dollars more, in land purchase. Means have been taken to hamper the religious education of Polish children in their national tongue and the Emperor William and Count von Bulow have denounced the steady growth of Slavic sentiment as 'Polish arrogance,' to be resisted by every true German. The chief result of these measures so far has been the intensifying of the hatred of the Poles for their Prussian rulers. Anti-German riots have occurred in several places, difference in rank, politics and religion have been forgotten by the Poles in a new outburst of national fervour. The continued drain upon the resources of the empire, with no appreciable result, has kindled the wrath of the Socialists and others, and promises serious trouble. The final consequences are are difficult to forecast. The presence of a storm centre in East Central Europe is, however, increasingly evident, and except Germany modifies her mediaeval 'mailed fist' policy the effects which follow it may prove unusually grave and may offer a severe check to the progress of the empire and the continent at large.—Witness.

WHEN YOUR COSTLY WATCH

is out of order you have it regulated, you don't at once throw it aside. Why, then, when your bowels are out of order, do you treat them as useless?

That is precisely what it means to take violent cathartics. They do not regulate the bowels, but take their work away from them, debilitate them, and make you more constipated than ever.

You had far better throw away your good watch than treat your bowels roughly. You can get another watch, but you cannot renew your intestines.

FIRE INQUEST AT TORONTO.

Chief Thompson Says He Ordered No Men Into the Lane of Death.

Toronto, July 15.—The investigation of last week's fatal fire is becoming rather sensational.

The coroner announced last night that he had asked Inspector Stark to assign members of the detective force to the task of supplying evidence to the jury that can be secured.

The jurors demanded that subpoenas be issued for the proprietors of the McIntosh building, and those responsible for the heavy weights placed in the structure to the end that the person or persons responsible for the original construction of the building and its use after it was known to be dangerous may be indicated.

Fire Chief Thompson testified that he did not order the firemen into positions around the building in which they were caught by falling walls. The chief denied bitterly the inference that he had forced men to go into positions during the fire that were plainly dangerous to life and limb.

A large number of firemen are to testify concerning the orders received about fighting the flames on that fatal morning last week when five of their number were killed.

The investigation will be pursued again Thursday evening.

DEATH STRUGGLE IN THE GORGE.

Drunken Indian Stabbed John Merethew Several Times.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 15.— A drunken half-crazed Tuscarora Indian named Jameson, about five o'clock Saturday afternoon attacked a man named John Merethew, who resides at Suspension Bridge, N.Y., down near the Devil's Hole on the American side of the lower river. The Indian claimed Merethew was following him for some purpose, although Merethew told him he was going down fishing. The Indian drew a large knife and thrust it into Merethew's hip. The two men clinched and fought it out. Merethew, who fought like a demon for his life, was stabbed three times in the abdomen, and was bleeding almost to death, but managed to pound his red-skinned assailant into submission and dragged him prisoner to Devil's Hole House, where he was taken to the Niagara Falls lock-up. Merethew was taken to the Emergency Hospital, where he is lying in a precarious condition.

LOU SCHOLES SMASHED HIS BOAT

Lost the Senior Sculls at Kingston-on-the-Thames—Canadian Ministers Entertained at Blenheim Palace—Premier Ross in Norway—Most Rev. Dr. R. Machray, Primate of All Canada, Seriously Ill.

Bisley Camp, July 15.—Riflemen from far and near are here for the National Riflemen's Association annual meeting, which opened yesterday and will continue until the 23th. The Canadian team is on hand as usual, and two of the members came well to the front in the Golden Penny match. The shooting was at 500 yards, with eight shots and the competition does not end until the 24th. Sergt.-Major Carruthers, of Prescott, got within the centre mark of the target on each shot, making a score of 40. Capt. Rennie, of the Queen's Own, Toronto, scored 39 points.

The entires in the chief events number as follows: King's Prize, 1,568; Saint George's, 1,494; Prince of Wales, 407; Daily Telegraph, 1,264; Alexandra, 1,183; All Comers' Aggregate, 957; Volunteer Aggregate, 859; Grand Aggregate, 822; Coronation Prizes, 1,416.

It is likely that eight teams will compete for the Kolapore Cup.

SMASHED HIS BOAT.

Scholes Lost the Race—The Winner Fouled the Canadian.

London, July 15.— At the Kingston-on-the-Thames regatta on Saturday, Lou Scholes, the Toronto sculler, was one of the contestants in the senior sculls.

In his first heat with Good as his opponent, he won easily by two lengths.

Scholes in the final heat met Beresford, who was a competitor last week at Henley for the Diamond Sculls. The Toronto boy got away sharply and had a comfortable lead when the Englishman spurted and fouled Scholes and again later repeated the foul. Scholes practically ceased rowing. Beresford winning by three lenghts.

Scholes did not make any claim on account of the foul and the race was awarded to Beresford, who was clearly to blame. Many think Beresford should have stopped after fouling his opponent.

Scholes accidentally let his new Clasper boat drop on the platform, when removing the boat from the water. The fall completely smashed it.

MINISTERS ENTERTAINED.

The Garden Party at Blenheim Palace—Mr. Ross in Norway.

London, July 15.—Hon. Mr. Fielding and Sir William Mulock were at a garden party given by the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough at Blenheim Palace yesterday. Premier Ross of Ontario has gone to Norway.

It is now positive that four and perhaps six more Rhodes scholarships will go to Canada.

A report started by a London newspaper that another Canadian contingent would be sent over for the King's coronation is altogether without foundation.

The British Government is likely to give one-half, instead of one-third of what Canada gives towards subsidizing a fast Atlantic line.

The report that James Hill has projected a fast Atlantic service between Labrador and Liverpool cannot be confirmed here.

The Most Rev. Dr. R. Machray, Archbishop of Rupert's Land and Primate of All Canada, is seriously ill in London. Sir Thomas Barlow, the eminent physician has been called in consultation.

ANCIENT TOWER IN RUINS.

Collapse of the Bell Tower of St. Mark's Venice.

Venice, Italy, July 15.—The campanile (detached bell tower) of St. Mark's Church, 98 metres (321¼ feet) high, collapsed at 10.40 yesterday morning and fell with a great crash into the piazzi. The campanile, which was entirely detached from the cathedral, collapsed where it stood, and is now a heap of ruins. The cathedral and Palace of the Doges are quite safe, but a corner of the Royal Palace was damaged.

It is feared that there was some loss of life. The ruins are surrounded by a cordon of troops.

The ruins are piled up to a height of 100 feet, and the Piazza di San Marco and the adjoining squares are covered with debris and dust.

The campanile stood opposite the Church or Cathedral of St. Mark's. It was founded in 888, restored in 1329, provided with a marble top in 1417, and 1517 was crowned with the figure of an angel nearly sixteen feet high.

The Apprentice Question.

Toronto, July 15.—During the sessions of the Iron Moulders' Association to-day managers of several of the biggest stove manufacturing concerns in the world will address the delegates on the question of permitting an increase in the number of apprentices throughout the country. For this purpose a delegation arrived from the States last evening. It is composed of two of the officers and executive board of the Stove Founders' National Defence Association of North America.

Losses by the Gale.

St. John's, Nfld., July 15. — The loss by last week's gale was not as great as was at first expected, as much of the shipping and fishing gear have since been recovered, and only require slight repairs. Fishing all round is not up to the average, but the squid bait period is yet to come.

VOTE-BUYING CHARGED

Startling Disclosures in the North York Election.

MEN FROM BUFFALO IMPORTED.

Sweeping Charges Against the Conservative Association, and T. H. Lennox, the Conservative Candidate, Personally Implicated by the Liberal Election Cross-Petition Filed on Monday.

Toronto, July 15.—The cross-petition filed against T. Herbert Lennox, the unsuccessful Conservative candidate in North York, by Thomas H. Lloyd, of Newmarket, yesterday, discloses some startling information. This latest petition asks for the personal disqualification of the respondent, and recites after the usual statement that the respondent was guilty of treating, bribing and the use of money to induce people to refrain from voting, that he was "by himself and his agents guilty of voting and inducing others to vote who had no right to vote, and that he was personally guilty of corrupt practices."

The petition then sets forth that the Ontario Conservative Association did enter into a corrupt and illegal bargain with certain persons resident in the City of Buffalo and other places in the United States, being persons skilled in American political methods and in the conduct of American elections, to procure or endeavor to procure in various corrupt and illegal ways, the election of the candidate of the Conservative party, including the election at which the respondent was a candidate. Two such persons whose expenses and remuneration were paid by the association with which Mr. Lennox was connected were brought into the riding to distribute money for the purpose of committing other corrupt practices, acting apparently independently of the organization or association, but in reality in conjunction with them and with the respondent, and a large number of corrupt practices were committed by them pursuant to arrangement with the actual knowledge of the respondent.

Centre Bruce Petition Was Valid.

At Osgoode Hall yesterday the motion by the Conservatives to have the petition against the election of Hugh Clarke in Centre Bruce struck out and further proceedings stopped was heard by Mr. Justice Osler. The principal ground taken by the motion was that the copy of the petition served on Mr. Clarke had the whole prayer crossed by a diagonal line. It was argued that this embarrassed the respondent who was not supposed to know, apart from the petition, what his opponent was after. Edmund Bristol and Mr. Bayley represented the Conservative candidate, and A. B. Aylesworth the Liberal.

After hearing the argument Justice Osler said there had been a slip, but the objection was of a most technical character. No one had been misled by the error, and he dismissed the application the costs above the petition to be paid by the side making the slip.

Mr. Barber's Majority.

Mr. Justice Osler delivered judgment upon six protested ballots in the Halton election. In all six he upheld the decision of the County Judge, and the majority of Mr. J. R. Barker remains at sixteen. The first ballot had two circles, one opposite each name. Over the one opposite Dr. Nixon's name appeared a form of cross, but the ballot was disallowed. Two ballots with a cross opposite Mr. Barker's name were accepted, and two in which these marks were exactly reversed were also upheld, and one ballot with a cross opposite Dr. Nixon's name and a circle with a slight tail opposite Mr. Barber's name was also accepted.

A Consultation Held.

Drs. McDade, Rush and Sims, three of the most eminent American doctors, in a series of articles outlined a tonic treatment calculated to cure a vast number of diseases. Their suggestions were embodied in a formula which is dispensed by a Brantford druggist and called Merrill's System Tonic. It is a reliable and pleasant remedy for stomach, bowel and kidney disease. Sold at 50c. per bottle at Ormond & Walsh's.

Bonus Bylaw Carried.

Brockville, July 15.— A vote was taken for the second time on a bylaw to grant a bonus of $20,000 to Saulnier and Company, to establish a hat factory here. The result is favorable to the bylaw.

A Right to Judge.

Persons who have used Dr. Chase's Ointment have the best right to judge of its merits and there is no preparation on the market to-day which is backed by such a mass of unsolicited testimony. It cures eczema, salt rheum and piles so promptly and thoroughly that people feel it a pleasure to recommend it to other sufferers. See testimonials in the newspapers.

LORD PAUNCEFOTE'S REMAINS.

Received Full Naval Honors on Their Arrival in England.

Southampton, Eng., July 15.—The United States armored cruiser Brooklyn (from Annapolis July 1), having on board the remains of Lord Pauncefote, late Ambassador of Great Britain, at Washington, arrived here yesterday morning. The body was landed soon after 11 o'clock. Full naval honors were paid to the remains of Lord Pauncefote. His widow followed the coffin from the warship to the train, which started for Newark-upon-Trent (near Nottingham), where the funeral will take place to-day.

BREAD AND SALT.

Russian Hospitality Extended to King Victor Emmanuel.

St. Petersburg, July 15.— King Victor Emmanuel of Italy made his official entry into this city yesterday, and was welcomed by the civil and military Authorities. The burgomaster handed the King the traditional silver plate with bread and salt. After inspecting the troops the King proceeded to the Cathedral and laid a massive silver wreath on the tomb of Alexander III.

The Stranded Monteagle.

The steamer Gaspesian is now alongside removing cargo, and the steamers Hilda and Lord Strathcona are now steaming to the stranded steamer's assistance.

Three Bottles of

Paine's Celery Compound

Wrought a Glorious and Happy Cure That Astonished a Whole Community.

In the ranks of sick and diseased sufferers, many men and women have become hopeless because of the failures of physicians and their medicines.

We would have all such dejected and despairing mortals take comfort this very day. We would impress upon them the blessed truth that Paine's Celery Compound is abundantly able to save and cure them. A multitude of people saved from disease and death have given strong and incontrovertible testimony that Paine's Celery Compound can save even at the eleventh hour. Mr. F. Finter, Ottawa, Ont., tells of his terrible condition, his failures with physicians, and of his wonderful cure by Paine's Celery Compound. He writes thus;

"For four years I endured terrible agony and misery, owing to pains in my head and chest. Life was a burden to me and no mortal could describe my sufferings. I was treated by doctors and used many patent medicines, but nothing gave me relief until I used your Paine's Celery Compound. I thank God for the day it was brought to my notice in the Ottawa papers. I have taken three bottles of the emdicine and to-day I can truly say that I feel like a new man. I will recommend the remedy wherever I have the opportunity as it is the best ever given to sufferers.

THAT DOUBLE-TRACK

Which is Going to Bring so Much Trade From the Northwest to Peterborough.

Hon. J. I. Tarte was in Toronto on Monday, and in speaking of the Grand Trunk policy to a Star reporter, answered the following query as appended;

"They may abandon Portland?"

"Well, yes, perhaps, they may. Mr. Hays understands the question thoroughly and has taken it in at a glance, and the Great Northern may soon have a fleet. It means that Midland will become a great port if the Grand Trunk doubles its track from Midland to Peterborough, where the two roads centre, and what we are trying to do in our department is to work with the railways and waterways in harmony. Some people seem to have got a wrong opinion of the Canadian Pacific and treat it as an enemy to the country. This great company is no enemy to Canada, and that idea is nonsense, and we are trying to work with the railways in building up the public highways of the country."

NEWS NUGGETS.

—The City of Peterborough had an excursion every day last week and has a like programme for this week.

—A citizen called into the Examiner yesterday to make a complaint concerning the condition of a crossing on Smith street, west.

—A special meeting of the Ashburnham School Board will be held on Friday evening, July 18th, to discuss Manual Training and Domestic Science.

—Harriet Kimball, who resides at the corner of Cambridge and Walnut streets, came very nearly losing her life by taking a dose of Paris green on Sunday.

—Officers of the 57th Regiment will notice by a regimental order elsewhere in this issue that a meeting of the officers will be held in the mess rooms to-morrow night.

—When the weather was cold and wet, people were complaining, and when it grows hot they do not like it. The poet has well said;

As a rule man's a fool.
When it's hot he wants it cool,
When it's cool he wants it hot.
Always wanting what is not.
Never liking what he's got;
I maintain as a rule
Man's a fool.

RUNAWAY LOGS.

A Dickson Company Boom Broke Yesterday Evening.

Yesterday evening a boom above London street bridge, belonging to the Dickson Company, broke and about 3 or 4 thousand logs went float into Little Lake, where they have become mixed with a drive of logs belonging to Mr. A. McDonald. The logs came against the Rogers dam with great force and for a while it looked as if the dam would be swept away. It will be a difficult task to separate the logs in Little Lake.

THE NEW ELEVATOR.

The Work is Being Rapidly Pushed Forward.

The work on the Cereal Company's elevator is being rapidly pushed forward. It seems rather hard to realize that 75 thousand feet of lumber is consumed daily in the construction of the elevator and that over 5 feet is each day added to the height of the structure. About 150 men are engaged on the elevator which will be completed in the course of a month's time, it is expected.

LAID AT REST.

Funeral of the Late Mr. Thomas Morrow Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of the late Mr. Thomas Morrow took place yesterday afternoon, from his late residence, No. 170 Edinburgh street, to the George street Methodist church, where an impressive funeral service was conducted, and thence to the Little Lake Cemetery, where interment took place.

The funeral service at the church was conducted by Rev. J. P. Wilson, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. C. L. Thompson and Rev. Jos. Kilgour. The pall bearers were as follows; Messrs. B. F. Ackerman, A. E. Dixon, D. W. Dumble, Thos. McFadden, William Yelland and H. C. Stabler.

Mr. Dumble, on behalf of the Trustee Board of the church, made a few remarks.

Mr. Dumble spoke in the following terms;

"Impartial Death has once again knocked at the door of our neighbour and taken away one of our company. Thomas Morrow is not, for God has taken him. Our hearts are sad, for we journeyed together with joy. The breaking of the bonds is ever painful, but the hope of reunion underlies our faith, and is the glad hope that robs death of its sting, the grave of its victory. We hear the words, "God is love," and so through our tears we acclaim, "Thanks be to God who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

"Thomas Morrow was an honest man—God's noblest work. Born in 1838 in the Township of Cavan, he was reared in a home where God was reverad, and the law of the household was the law of the Lord. His parents were north of Ireland Protestants, aye, north of Ireland Methodists, than which there are none better.

"Out of this house came three good men—the Rev. Edward Morrow, B.A., who died in 1882, William the gentle, who lived here, and whose memory is yet green, and held in much respect, and Thomas, whose remains lie before us. Such men build up a church, are an honour to the home and health to the nation.

"Thomas Morrow was long a trustee of this church, and a member of the Quarterly Board. He was treasurer of the church and almoner of the behevolent fund; he was wise and prudent in counsel, careful of church interests, and exceedingly correct and scrupulous in matters financial. Unostentatious, diffident and of few words, yet kind, courteous and genial —no one ever heard him show a censorious spirit or utter an unkind word. He was gentle with that "gentleness that maketh great," and so he won and held our love. He served the church in duty and for the pleasure of his Master's service, and was in his work, as in his religion, faithful unto death.

"Often honoured by his brethren, he frequently represented his church in the District Meeting and at Conference, and no one more enjoyed the society of good men and the doing of his share of the Master's work.

"He giveth his beloved sleep." Mason, Fife, Morrow, are added to the noble men who have lived with us, and been to us a benediction—and who have heard the glad cry, "Well and faithfully done, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." Surely the memory of the just is blessed. May this church never lack men like these, who exemplify their religion and witness for Christ in their lives—as the Master best loves to be manifested.

"On behalf of the Officials of this church we tender to his family our sympathy, and remind them that as with the alabaster box, so the aroma of this broken life shall be with them and with us, a solace and a joy forever."

Rev. Mr. Wilson and Rev. Mr. Kilgour, spoke much along the same lines as Mr. Dumble, and expressed their sincere sympathy in the loss they had sustained by the death of Mr. Morrow.

THE LATE EDWARD HARRIS.

His Death Occurred at Nicholls Hospital This Morning.

The death occurred at Nicholls Hospital this morning of Mr. Edward Harris, after a severe illness. Death was due to apoplexy. The deceased was 53 years of age and was the fourth son of the late Mr. James Harris, coal merchant, of Bicester, Oxfordshire, England. He married about 22 years ago, the eldest daughter of Mr. George Harris, Cambridge, England. Previous to coming to Canada he engaged successfully in the butcher business in London. About the year 1884 he moved to Canada and has since resided here. Since coming to Canada he has lost four children by death. There still survive him a widow, two sons and two daughters. The sons are Messrs. Gilbert and Wallace, and the daughters are Misses Beatrice and Lillian.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, Albert street, to Little Lake Cemetery on Thursday afternoon.

WITH THE T.A.S. ATHLETIC SECTION.

W. Crowley Winner of the "Stratton" Gold Medal.

The Medals Presented at an Entertainment in the T.A.S. Rooms Last Evening—The Addresses.

The lecture room of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society was filled to the doors last evening with the friends and members of the Athletic Section of St. Peter's T.A.S., the occasion being the presentation of the medals won at the field day of sports on July 1st.

Mr. John O'Brien, President of the Society, acted as chairman, and a short musical programme was introduced. It consisted of an excellently rendered instrumental duet by Misses M. Doherty and McCabe, vocal solos given in splendid voice by Miss Annie Simons and Mr. J. Gillogly, and a clever step dance by Mr. J. Henry.

Rev. Father McColl had the pleasant duty to perform of presenting the medals to the winners. He stated that he had watched the progress of the Athletic Section of the T.A.S. with considerable interest, because it had solved, to a certain extent, the vexed problem, "what is to be done for the young men?" A great deal of attention was being paid the young ladies, (laughter) and he would suggest to those interested that that attention be brief and to the point, (laughter.) Athletics had a tendency to develop the young men, to bring out particular characteristics, and to make them of sound mind and sound body. He congratulated the lacrosse club on the name it had achieved, and assured the boys that Rev. Dr. O'Brien, their Spiritual Advisor, would exert every influence in their behalf, and would assist and encourage them in all lines of legitimate sport. The reverend gentleman next presented the medals to the winners of the following events, who were loudly applauded as they stepped forward:

Running hop, step and jump—Wm. Crowley.
Vaulting with pole—Wm. Perdue.
Running broad jump—E. McNichol.
One hundred yards race—F. McGrath.
220 yards race—F. McGrath.
Standing high jump—Wm. Perdue.
100 yards race (Junior T.A.S.)—J. Callaghan.
220 yards race, (Junior T.A.S.)—J. Callaghan.
High Jump—W. Crowley.
Hurdle race—W. Crowley.
Putting the shot—J. McDonough.
Throwing the hammer—J. McDonough.
Winner of highest number of points in different events—W. Crowley.

The winner of the "Stratton" gold medal, Mr. Wm. Crowley, in a brief speech, stated that in order to encourage athletics he would donate a trophy to be competed for by the juniors. This announcement was greeted with applause. At this juncture the club cry was given with a vim.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien was next called upon, and in the course of his remarks he reviewed the history of the Athletic Section since its organization, and congratulated the young men who had carried off the medals. They were all total abstainers, which was the strongest proof that total abstinence must be practised in order to make a successful athlete. He was proud of the lacrosse club. It was a credit to the T.A.S., and their record was a proud one. Certain parties, he declared, were anxious for its defeat in order to humiliate their Spiritual Advisor, but he assured them that humiliation would not be in evidence, and that victory would crown the efforts of the boys. Now as regards the Society in general it is the intention to organize a Dramatic Section as soon as the warm spell is over, to replenish the library with $300 worth of books, and in other ways to place the Society in a better position to meet the requirements of its members. The reverend gentleman closed by again congratulating the boys on their success.

Rev. Father J. O'Brien and Rev. T. J. Crowley also briefly addressed the gathering, congratulating the prize winners as well as the Athletic Section in general.

Mr. J. H. McClellan, who had been called to the platform during the evening was invited to say a few words. He congratulated St. Peter's T.A.S. on the name it had had achieved throughout the province, and referred to the grand work it was doing on the lines of total abstinence. He wished the Society every success, and congratulated all those who were identified with it.

The proceedings terminated with the National Anthem.

LIGHTNING'S WORK IN SOUTH MONAGHAN.

Mr. Joseph Byers' Residence Struck and Wm. Martin Injured.

During the thunderstorm of Tuesday, the residence of Mr. Jos. Byers, "Lakeview," South Monaghan, was struck by lightning, and at the same moment a man who was entering the house, was also stricken and severely, but not permanently, injured.

The lightning struck the house and tore through several rooms, shattering the plaster, and passed up or down one of the pillars of the verandah, next the entrance door, shivering it. At the time of the stroke, William Martin, a peddler well known throughout the township, where he has plied his calling for the past thirty years, was entering the house to escape the storm. He was very severely shocked and prostrated, but not rendered insensible. He had strength enough left to crawl on hands and knees into the house, where he was found shortly afterwards by Mrs. Byers, who was the only one in the house at the time. When she came to the dining room from another part of the house she heard a moaning, and looking around saw Martin in a heap on the floor. Mrs. Byers promptly acted; she removed the man's boots and immersed his feet in hot water and he was soon much improved. Lightning had so scorched the hair on the back of his neck, that the house was permeated with the smell of the singed hair, and the man complained of a sharp burning pain whenever any portion of his body was touched.. After a night's rest Martin seemed to be all right, though rather sore and weak.

It is said that several places near Centreville suffered also by the same storm, though no particulars are at hand.

DOWN THE RIVER.

The Business Men's Outing was a Great Success.

The rain in no way dampened the enthusiasm of those who took in the business men's excursion to Jubilee Point yesterday afternoon. However, it prevented them from going to Idyl Wild as was intended, although a very pleasant time was spent at Jubilee Point.

The steamer City of Peterborough left the town wharf having on board about one hundred of Peterborough's most prominent business and professional men. Shortly after starting the rain came down, but it interfared but little with the pleasure of the passengers. Mr. Joe Halpany, who accompanied the excursion, made the time pass pleasantly with his humourous songs and recitations.

Mr. Chas. Stanley very kindly loaned the party a piano for the occasion, and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Stanley for the use of the same.

A disinterested tea expert, a man whose whole life and experience has been devoted to the handling and study of teas of different countries in speaking of the "Salada" Natural Leaf Green Teas of Ceylon, says: "I cannot but feel convinced that once the genuine worth and purity of Ceylon Green Teas become generally known, the green teas of Japan will be entirely discarded, and this opinion is expressed without my having the slightest interest in the "Salada" Company's enterprise, outside of the fact of a desire to see the best tea growths of any country come into general use."

CLOVER CURING.

In reply to the enquiry re curing clover hay in the green state, I will give you the plan that we followed last season, by which we saved from 75 to 80 tons of hay. I prefer to cut clover when it is in full bloom; at that time it contains the greatest amount of digestible nutrients, and especially the honey, which adds so much to the palatability of the hay. If any person wants evidence of this fact, I would ask them to chew a head of clover in the winter season that has been cut at the proper time. Stock relish sweets as well as mankind. But, as we cannot cut all of our clover at the proper time when there is a large acreage, I prefer to start early, say before the blossoms are all fully out, so that all may be cut before the blossoms start to turn brown and the stalks woody. In matters of this kind we have to deal with averages. Cut in the morning, after the dew has dried off the grass. That which was cut in the forenoon may be raked up and put into cocks after dinner. Do not run the mower later than four o'clock in the afternoon. All that is cut must be put into cocks before the dew falls. This should be hauled to the barns the next day and tramped into the mows tight, without using any preservative such as salt or lime. This plan may be continued from day to day until all is saved in the barns.

Three things should be borne in mind in curing hay by this method.

First—Do not cut the grass until dry in the morning.

Second—Do not allow fresh cut hay to lie on the ground over night, exposed to the dew or rain.

Third—If any hay should get wet with rain, let it stand in the cocks until thoroughly dry before taking to the barn.

By this plan all of the leaves and blossoms, which are the most valuable portion of the plant, will be saved, and the hay will come out of the mow as green as the day it was put in the barn and almost as palatable to the stock as the day it was cut.

There was no evidence of spontaneous combustion, as the blossoms on the alsike clover were all pink and the red-clover blossoms were from purple to a light amber color. I did not detect any heat in the mows. If there had been much heat I am of the opinion that the blossoms would have been a dark-brown color. There was no mould and the hay was the freest from dust we ever had.

A great advantage is gained owing to the short time required between cutting and storing in the barn. If there is an appearance of rain, do not cut that day. It gives the farmer a great chance to get his hay saved between showers.

I have not put any hay in stacks or overhead lofts with open floors. The mows were large, with double-inch boards for floors in two cases. In another mow the bottom went to the ground. There were cracks in the siding of the barns, between the boards, averaging about ¼ of an inch each. The hay was open in all of the mows on the driving-floor side, and it came out from all parts of the mows alike, which was pronounced by all who saw it the best they ever saw.—Hy. Glendinning, Ontario Co., Ont., in London Farmers' Advocate.

(Note.—We would like to hear briefly as to the results of any other trials in storing green clover, and also exactly what were the conditions under which it was done. Farmers will deem it prudent to have full information before generally adopting the plan.—By Editor of Farmers' Advocate.

It Doesn't Do.

"It doesn't do to get at the root of things sometimes," said the little brown-eyed woman who was sympathizing with the professor over the discomfiture a strong-minded woman had occasioned him. "Noticed that, haven't you? You've heard of the teacher who made up her mind to have her scholars repeat an appropriate text as they put their collection in the mission box. Mary tip-toed up and dropped her penny, with, 'She hath done what she could' and the effect on the whole school was good. Janie came next with "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver," and the effect deepened, but along came Johnnie, who hadn't been coached, with a stride and a swagger, and a voice that made itself heard from one end of the room to the other, with, 'A fool and his money are soon parted.' Imagine the poor teacher's dismay."

The professor laughed, and said he could well imagine it.—Jean Blewett in The Globe.

Few Finer Instances.

In a report concerning the recent action at Brakspruit, Lord Kitchener praises highly the gallant stand made in this engagement by a handful of Canadians in an isolated position. Referring to this matter, Lord Kitchener remarks: "There have been few finer instances of heroism in the whole course of the campaign."

The Coronation Contingent Home.

Toronto, July 14.—Looking splendidly and feeling the same, the Toronto and Western Ontario members of the Coronation contingent arrived here at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. There was an animated scene at the station when the train steamed in. The soldiers had their heads out of the car windows and shouted greetings to the friends who were awaiting them. At least two score of ladies were among the waiting ones on the platform, and when the train stopped there was a rush and a crush culminating in kisses galore, no matter who was looking. They all report that there was no cause for the reports of alleged dissatisfaction of the corps with the British authorities.

Dead Italian Was Rich.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 15.— The funeral of Antonio Florino, the Italian who was killed by premature explosion by dynamite on Friday last, took place yesterday at Niagara Falls, N.Y., and was largely attended, every Italian on either side of the river was present. When the body was being prepared for burial about four thousand dollars was found tied about the man's waist.

Chicago, July 15. — The second week of the freight handlers strike began yesterday with 20,000 men idle and shipping at a standstill.

TO BE NO NATIONAL STRIKE.

Other Strike Leaders Than Mine President Mitchell Give Their Opinions.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., July 14.—President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers boarded a train for Chicago yesterday afternoon. He will arrive at Indianapolis on Tuesday to prepare for the convention on July 17. He expects that the convention will end next Saturday and he will return here the following Monday.

Whether or not it is Mr. Mitchell's opinion he will not say, but it certainly is the opinion of other strike leaders that no national strike will be ordered, and that instead, a resolution providing for the collection of a fund for supporting the anthracite strikers and the striking soft coal men of West Virginia and Michigan will be passed.

If this occurs, it is believed here that the operators will, without delay, make an effort to resume work and try to break the strike.

Expired During Ball Game.

St. Catharines, July 14.— Thomas Friend, a blacksmith by trade, who accompanied the Fensom excursion from Toronto to this city Saturday morning, expired suddenly of heart failure while playing baseball in the city park about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. His wife and family were in the park at the time. Thomas Friend for 10 or 11 years was employed in the blacksmith shop of the Fensom Elevator Works.

Applying for Extradition.

Washington, D.C., July 14.—Steps have been taken by the State Department for the extradition to the United States of Col. John F. Gaynor and Capt. Benj. F. Greene, now under arrest at Quebec, Canada.

Two Manitoba Drownings.

Winnipeg, July 14.—James McMichael, a young farmer, was drowned while bathing at Murillo yesterday. Herbert Bruce, a boy, aged 16, was drowned while bathing in the Red River here.

A Cough Leads to a Coffin.

There's a striking similarity in these two words. Both are to be dreaded. Coffins cost many dollars, whereas 25 cents buys a bottle of Four T's and cures the cough in 24 hours, making the coffin unnecessary. Four T's is acknowledged by all to be the best lung remedy in existence. Large bottles, 25 cents, at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

Why She Forget.

"Bridget I want a pound of steak, a bag of salt, two ounces of pepper, a loaf of bread and a pound of butter. Do you think you can remember them all, or shall I write them down?"

"Sure, ma'am, I can remember one by the other. When I have bread, I know I want butter, and when I have steak I know I want pepper and salt."

"All right. Go and don't be long."

Bridget was not long. She was back in a very short time, but with an empty basket.

"Why, where is the dinner, Bridget?"

"I couldn't remember one of them, ma'am."

"Why, I thought you could remember each article by the one before it?"

"Faith, ma'am, I had nothing to remember the first one by!"—London Tit-Bits.

A Blinded Eye.

A story is told of a Ceylon planter who wanted to go away for a day's shooting. Approaching his men, he said, "Although I myself will be absent, yet I shall leave one of my eyes to see that you do your work." And, to the surprise of the natives, he took out his glass eye, placed it on the stump of a tree and left. For some time the natives worked like elephants, but at last one of them, seizing his tin in which he carried his food, approached the tree and placed it over the eye. As soon as they saw that they were not being watched they all lay down and slept peacefully until sunset.

USED BY THE BEST PEOPLE.

Never Derived so Much Benefit From Any Medicine as From

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

"I had a severe attack of la grippe, which left me in a nervous and run-down condition, and of course I did not rest well. I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can truthfully say that I never derived so much benefit from any medicine before. It seemed to build me up, and in fact I have not been so well for years. I can heartily recommend this treatment for weakness and nervousness."

The leading physicians endorse Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and advise their patients to use it, because they know it to be the most effective restorative and system builder which modern science has discovered. You can be certain that it will benefit you; 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 4

HIS INHERITANCE

Clinton Dangerfield

Copyright, 1902, by the S. S. McClure Company

The tones of the elder man's voice ceased, and to John Ringwood, standing before him, it seemed that the whole world was suddenly enveloped in a mist of red shame. When Ringwood spoke, his accents were curiously quiet and constrained, for was he not addressing Molly's father?

"And so," he said, wondering vaguely if he were the same John Ringwood who ten minutes ago had asked so hopefully for the girl's hand—"and so, sir, this is your objection to me—because my father was a—a—coward"—the word came out with a gasping sound—"you think I must be one also!"

"Blood tells," returned Henry Morris hoarsely. "But remember, lad, I would never have forced this painful knowledge of mine on you if you had not compelled me to say why I could not trust my girl to you. Your father's shame, known only to you and me, would have slept with him in his grave but—you would know!"

"That will do," said Ringwood thickly. "I am my father's son, as you say. There is no chance here, or I might prove to you that God does not always make us mere copies of those who go before. But that is idle. There is one thing—when I am gone tell Molly that I loved her, that I asked for her hand, but that there was a—a barrier between us. She shall not think I was making summer love to her. She shall not hate me for that."

"Very well," said the elder man grimly. "But if I had known the girl would interest herself in the first good looking stranger thrown at my gates by a broken ankle I would have taken preventive measures long ago."

"I will take the stage tomorrow," pursued Ringwood. "Until then I must trespass on your hospitality."

"And welcome," said Morris heartily. "You've met what I said like a man Here's my hand."

"Is that necessary," returned the other briefly. "You may as well avoid contamination when you have condemned another into hereditary leprosy."

Morris left the taunt unanswered, and just then the library door swung open, and a curly haired boy of sixteen pushed in with spoiled freedom.

"Everything's gone to sleep on the ranch," he said pettishly. "When's Markham and Molly coming home?"

"Your brother said he would bring your sister home by 8 o'clock," returned Morris.

"Gracious! I hope he will," said the boy. "But she said they might cut across to Denham's. She wanted to see old Aunt Hannah or some such nonsense. I told her she was going after one of Hannah's love charms, and she turned as red as you please."

"Try to talk sense," said his father irritably, and Ringwood crossed to the west window and stood watching the sunset fires die to an ashen gray.

"So rose the fire of my hopes," he thought. "Like this, it died in bitter ashes—flung to my father's level! The son, O God, of—a coward!"

Eight o'clock came, but neither the elder son nor Molly Morris had returned. At 9 a negro groom brought a note saying they would sleep that night at the Denhams', some fifteen miles away. A thrill half anguish, half relief, shot through Ringwood. Best, indeed, that they should never meet again. He would take the stage early next morning.

Then on the heels of the negro stumbled in Lee Hung, the cook, who had been granted an afternoon off. Blanched to the palest of yellows, he stammered out a tale in his almost incomprehensible lingo which, translated, ran as follows:

Coming home on foot, he was aware of a tiny fire at the foot of Sevier's canyon. Inspired by ancestral deities, he had crept up to overhear the strangers converse. Developed they had learned of Markham Morris' deposit that day with the express agent at Ravenshood; that they resolved that this money would circulate better at home and had shot the unfortunate express agent through his window, dead men being proverbially close mouthed; had seized the packet, which waited the midnight express, and now only tarried the rising of the moon.

Young Morris went white with rage and despair. That package stood between his family and financial ruin. His eyes flashed.

"Of course we'll get it back, dad, at once."

"Yes, lad. Lee Hung, how many men were there?"

"Allee samee fingers one hand—no thumb."

"Four. I'm sorry your brother isn't here, Stanley. You are a bit young for such work. The foot of Sevier canyon. Let's see; we can be on them in half an hour."

"Take the short cut through the canyon, dad, and we can be at 'em in twenty-five minutes."

"No," said his father decisively. "To ride through that canyon trail at full speed means almost certain death. Quick, Lee Hung, and you, boy," to the negro, "saddle Prince and Firebrand. Stanley, help me get the pistols and a rifle for each."

Only two horses! Young Morris flashed an astounded look on their guest. Was that dogged indifference real? Of course nothing was expected from Lee or the negro, but this handsome Saxon with frank, gray eyes—could he fail them in such need?

But Morris understood. This was Ringwood's bitter revenge for the stinging brand put on him. The former checked Stanley when he would have addressed Ringwood, and presently father and son swung into their saddles and galloped down the road.

As they vanished in the faint light Ringwood rushed for the barn, loosening his pistols in his belt as he ran. The two servants watched him scornfully as he saddled his gray with incredible swiftness.

"Marse Ringwood scared de fight run down dis way," muttered Sam. "He des nuttin' but trash, fo' all he so good lookin'. Gord A'mighty, I wish all de boys wasn't gone! Whar ebberybody, Lee?"

"Allee samee time off 'cept hunt hills," was the brief return, which meant that some of the men had an afternoon and the rest were after some refractory cattle in the hills.

"Marse Ringwood gone like de debbie after him," growled Sam. And indeed the gray was flying at terrible speed.

The far, dim starlight sifted reluctantly down, and the horse's feet reached the ground more by instinct than sight. Ringwood bent over his neck, jockey fashion. For a scant two miles they kept to a badly marked road, then before them yawned the mouth of Sevier canyon, the broken trail merely a gray pencil mark among jagged bowlders and treacherous wave washed stones, rounded by old world floods.

A second the gray hesitated, and in that second Ringwood distinctly heard again Morris' voice:

"To ride through that trail at speed means almost certain death!" And he exulted that the words flowed in his soul like wine. Then he drove the rowels in his horse's flanks, and the gray in generous anger plunged down the canyon way at top speed, every beat of his steel shod hoofs striking fire from the rocks. Now they crossed a bed of clay worn slimily smooth by the soft lapping of the low stream, and here a goat might have fallen and taken no shame to himself, but the gray had that superb and rare quality which carries through everything; he believed in himself. Presently nine-tenths of the canyon were behind them, though the frowning walls yet hung above. Once a panther hissed like an infuriated cat in their way, but the oncoming might of the two daunted her, and she fled ignominiously to the recesses of the cliff sides and mouthed resentfully after them, dragging behind her a tail twice its natural size.

But now open woods, the canyon was in the rear, and before Ringwood a tiny fire, with a crude half tent hugging it, and in its shelter four men. Thanks to the half mile of soft earth between them and the canyon, thanks to a quarrel already bred among them, they did not hear Ringwood until he was bearing down upon them, not fifty yards away.

Then they acted in unison. Four rifles were cocked, a challenge rang out:

"Stop or"—

It might be a harmless passing stranger, and they did not care for the noise of a fusillade just now.

The answer came clearly on the wind: "D——n you! Throw up your hands!" a command they thought unnecessary, as their hands were up and their rifles in them. They answered with a fourfold volley of shots. In the next instant the gray was on them, and in the chaos that ensued Ringwood was only conscious that he got in several shots, that the butt of his pistol had proved quite useful, that two forms had clung to his knees and had gone down, that the badly scattered fire was catching the edge of the tent, and then he and the gray went down in their turn together, Ringwood oddly thankful, in spite of the fact that sparks (perhaps from the tent fire) swam before his eyes, that the nearest robber made a soft cushion. Then fire and sparks went out blackly.

• • • • • • • •

When light came again, the moon was pouring down her full splendor. Over him bent two anxious faces, while his own reeked of the whisky used to bathe his forehead and temples. A sigh of relief hailed his open eyes.

"Thank God!" sobbed Stanley. "I thought he was gone! And after settling the four of them!"

"No, only stunned," returned their patient, rising obstinately to his feet, but glad to cling to the nearest saddle to steady himself, the earth whirled round so strangely. "I am all right, Mr. Morris. Don't trouble yourself any further by coddling—the son of a coward."

Stanley stared, then said nervously:

"By Jove, he's off his head!" But his father answered by taking the tall figure in his arms.

"Lad," he said brokenly, "I've learned my lesson. A man is just himself, after all—not his father or his grandfather—and I'm hoping my boys may be cowards some day like you."

The Black Death.

It is recorded that the "black death," which devastated many countries in the middle of the fourteenth century, was preceded by "stinking mists," and earthquakes were frequent just before the outbreak, and volcanoes assumed unwonted activity. The air over the sea was infected as well as that over the land. It was a putrid typhus, styled "black death" because the bodies turned black with rapid putrefaction. In 1348-49 at least half the population of England died, or 2,500,000 out of 5,000,000. Between 1847 and 1850 one-fourth of all the population of the world was carried off by this pestilence. Not less than 25,000,000 perished in Europe alone. The deaths in Venice were 100,000, in Florence 60,000, in Paris 50,000, in London 100,000, in Avignon a "number wholly beyond calculation." This form of pestilence has not occurred a second time. It may be that its second time is come with the belching of nauseous gases by the volcanoes of the tropics.

THE 12TH AT LINDSAY.

An Enormous Crowd Assembled—Twenty-four Bands Were Present.

Lindsay, July 12th.—An enormous throng of visitors gathered in Lindsay to-day to celebrate the 12th of July. The weather being perfect and the well known resources of Lindsay's hospitality inclined the people of this district to the idea of a holiday, the outcome of which brought together an immense concourse of people seldom equalled. All things conspired pleasantly to make the celebration an overwhelming success, it being estimated that fully ten thousand visitors entered the town. Some idea of the crowd may be gained from the fact that the Grand Trunk Railway Company ran special trains from Midland, Lakefield, Port Hope, Fraserville, and Omemee, several of which had to be run as double-headers, while the regular trains all had special coaches attached. In all, 70 coaches were pressed into service, and all were needed. The town was beautifully decorated and the procession huge. Twenty-four bands were distributed along the line. Addresses were delivered by prominent Orangemen before an audience that packed the spacious town park.

1 The Lindsay Post makes the following comment of local interest:

George H. Hall, of Peterborough, County Director of Ceremonies, looked like King William when he mounted his beautiful grey horse.

Kent street looked pretty with its wealth of flags and banners. The decorating was done by Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, Peterborough.

Rev. A. H. Strike, Rev. Mr. Hughson, Mr. S.J. Fox, M.P.P., town, Mr. J.B. McWilliams, Mr. Robt. Weir, Peterborough; Mr. T. B. Collins, Millbrook; Mr. W. Fitzgerald, Toronto, and Mr. N. Ingram, of Port Perry, all made short and appropriate speeches.

About 18 members of the 57th Regimental Band, Peterborough, under the leadership of Prof. Glidden, were by far the most musical combination on parade. Their music was always appreciated by the spectators. They came with Peterborough, No. 80.

The following resolution was unanimously carried by a standing vote of the Peterborough Orangemen on their return from Lindsay:—

"That the thanks of the Orangemen of the County of West Peterborough are due, and hereby tendered to Mr. F. W. Miller and the members of his band for the excellent music provided on the 12th of July. We thank Mr. Miller for his great kindness and for the trouble he went to to procure music for the Orangemen and also congratulate Mr. Miller on his success in organizing a band for the 12th of July, notwithstanding the contemptible means resorted to by some members of the other band to prevent members playing with him. We would request Mr. Miller to organize an independent band and pledge ourselves to give him every assistance and support possible, so that in future the citizens of Peterborough will not be held up by any combination.

"That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to every Lodge in the County so that the members will know that Mr. Miller has been a true friend to the Orange Association."

INJURIES PROVED FATAL.

Mr. James Sullivan met With an Accident Two Weeks Ago.

Mr. James Sullivan, No. 93 Weller street, yesterday evening died from injuries received while working on the Crystal Block Building, George street, about two weeks ago. Mr. Sullivan was working on a scaffolding about ten feet in height, when in some manner he fell, causing an injury to his back. He was conveyed to his home at the time, but his condition was not then deemed serious. However he died from the effects of the accident last night, and the sad termination of his injuries came as a great shock to his family and friends.

Mr. Sullivan was about 50 years of age, and was a much respected citizen. He was identified with St. Peter's T.A.S., the members of which are asked to meet in their hall this this evening to make arrangements with regard to the funeral.

FAREWELL PRESENTATION.

A Handsome Ring Given to Miss Sara Hamilton at Mark St. Church.

Miss Sara Hamilton, the popular and efficient teacher of the Young Men's Bible Class, in Mark street Sabbath School, is leaving for Winnipeg, for an extended holiday for the benefit of her health, hence on Monday evening, July 14th, a large number of the members and friends of the school gathered at her home to bid her farewell and to spend a social hour together before her departure.

During the evening, an address was read by the Secretary of the school, Miss Lillie Kindred, and Miss A. Dawson, on behalf of the school, presented Miss Hamilton with a handsome ring. Rev. C. L. Thompson also made a few remarks expressive of the high esteem in which Miss Hamilton is held by all connected with Mark street Sabbath School.

After Miss Hamilton had appropriately replied, refreshments were served and a pleasant social hour was spent, after which the company departed, each wishing Miss Hamilton a safe and pleasant trip.

The address was as follows:

Ashburnham, July 14th, 1902.

To Miss Sara Hamilton, Mark street Sabbath School, Ashburnham;

Dear Miss Hamilton,—A few of your many friends and fellow workers have met this evening to bid you farewell on the eve of your departure to the west, to wish you a safe and pleasant journey, and to express the hope that before long you may return to us, fully restored to health and strength.

We cannot allow you to depart, however, without expressing our appreciation of your services as teacher of the young men's Bible class in our Sabbath school, and we ask you to accept this slight token of the esteem in which you are held by us all.

Our prayer is that God may still bless you, and that he may still continue to use you in furthering the interests of His kingdom, wherever you may be.

Signed on behalf of the school—

REV. C. L. THOMPSON,
M. W. MATCHETT,
S. TAYLOR,
LILLIE KINDRED,
A. DAWSON.

REGIMENTAL ORDERS.

Headquarters, Peterborough
July 14, 1902.

Orders by Lieut.-Colonel E. B. Edwards, Commandant 57th Regiment, P.R.

No. 1. The officers of the regiment are asked to meet in their quarters at the drill shed at 8 p.m., on Wednesday, July 16th.

No. 2. Company officers will see that all helmets now in possession of the men are returned to the stores at once.

By order,
W. J. MILLER,
Major and Acting Adjutant.

AT GRAND LODGE.

A Number of Peterborough Gentlemen at Windsor.

The following members of the local Masonic Lodges have gone to Windsor to attend the Grand Lodge, which is in session in that city; Messrs. W. H. Walkey, Geo. I. Rossel, R. J. Munro, W. Stocker, R. E. Wood, F. D. McKay, Dr. Greer, Rev. W. L. Armitage and Dr. Shaw, Keene.

A despatch from Windsor says;

The hotels of Windsor are rapidly filling with delegates to the 67th annual convention of the Grand Lodge of Canada, A. F. and A. M., which opens here July 16th. Nearly a thousand visitors are expected. Most of those who have arrived are members of the various committees, which must meet before the convention in order to make out their reports. The only legislation of importance to come before the convention is a bill to have all the members of the Board of Control elected. The board consists of 20 members, who serve two years, 10 retiring each year. At present five of these are elected and five appointed by the Grand Master. Efforts to pass a bylaw making all members of the board elective have been made before, but have always failed. The chief business to come before the convention is the election of officers. The Deputy Grand Mastership will be contested by Judge McWatt of Sarnia, Mr. Benjamin Allen of Toronto and Mr. J. H. Burritt of Pembroke. The visitors thus far have been amusing themselves with trips to the neighbouring pleasure resorts. Several trips will be given the convention by the Windsor lodges, while the Detroit Masons have chartered the steamer Columbia for Tuesday night, when they will entertain their Canadian brethren.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

CRICKET.

The team which Mr. R. B. Rogers collected to play the Torontos, yesterday, made a good showing against the visitors and would undoubtedly have given them a very close game but for the rain. The best men on the Torontos had a lively crease for their batting, and after the thunderstorm the tail-enders went out in short order. The Peterboroughs met the same fate as the last of the visiting team's batters, the fast Toronto bowling being almost unplayable on the wet wicket. Hal. Burnham's 13 and Logan's 10—not out, were well put together. Altogether some excellent cricket was seen and it is satisfactory to learn that the oval turf is capable of producing a fine crease. The score was as follows:

LACROSSE MATCH AT OSHAWA.

The Port Hope Lacrosse Club has arranged for a special rate from Peterborough to Oshawa on Saturday, July 19th, of $1.05, leaving here on the regular noon train, and returning on a special the same evening. No doubt a large number will see this match as it should prove exceptionally hard fought now that the teams are in shape.

BASKET-BALL.

The Y.M.C.A. Brownie Basket Ball Team, met last night at the building to reorganize for the coming season. Messrs. Sandford Hall and Gordon Miller were unanimously re-elected to their old positions as manager and captain respectively of the team. The Brownies will be early in training, and under the able direction of their energetic manager should eclipse the enviable reputation they gained last season as "one of the two best boys' teams in Canada." The following players comprise the team; G. Miller, captain; N. Miller, G. Ferguson, R. Hall, H. Daly, and A. Boucher.

DOG SHOW AT THE FAIR.

Admirers of dogs—and who does not admire a fine dog—will have the opportunity of seeing the finest in Canada and several of the United States at the Central Canada Fair, at Ottawa, in August this year. A monster dog show has been arranged under the direction of the Ottawa Kennel Club. The old Machinery hall building has been given over for the show of bow-wows, which the members of the Kennel Club, say will be one of the best ever held in Canada.

T. A. S. ATHLETICS.

The first and second T. A. S. teams are asked to turn out on the Murray street grounds for practice this evening.

The Campbellford Juniors will visit Peterborough next week, probably on Monday, and play an evening game with the T.A.S. second team. The Campbellfords play good lacrosse, and the game should draw a good crowd.

BASEBALL.

The Cobourg World contains the following item that may be of interest;

To the Editor of the Cobourg World,—

Dear Sir, — The Roseneath baseball club accepted an invitation of the Peterborough league team to play at Peterborough last Saturday, and notwithstanding the wet weather and being anxious to redeem their defeat of June 26th at Jubilee Point, they took the boat for Peterborough. The game was played at Nicholls Park. Both teams agreed to play five innings at least, and as many more as possible, as the Roseneaths had to catch the boat. Roseneath went to bat and scored 2 runs in their first innings. This was all they got. Peterborough was an easy mark for Dawe's curves, as they were unable to do anything with him and only scored 1 run in fourth on an overthrow. Dawe struck out five and allowed three hits, while McCorry struck out three and allowed six hits. Both teams played a good game in the field. The game progressed well for five innings when on account of the lack of time Roseneath had to leave to catch the boat—and here Peterborough showed its mean, contemptible spirit, and refused to pay the $10 they agreed to give to Roseneath, and they had to journey home without it. This is the second season that Roseneath has been used dirty by Peterborough, and it will be the last, as apparently Peterborough is keeping up its old reputation of doing the dirty act, especially when defeated. Roseneath is looking forward to a game with the Independents of Cobourg, when they expect to meet men.

"TEMPLE OF JERUSALEM"

Was the Subject of a Most Interesting Lecture by Mr. David Spence, Last Evening.

Perhaps one of the most interesting evenings yet enjoyed by the members of the George street Epworth League, was that arranged by the Literary Committee last evening. The exceedingly disagreeable evening prevented a large attendance of the members and friends, but those who were present were unanimous in their keen appreciation of the lecture of the evening. The lecturer was Mr. D. Spence, who had for his subject, "The Temple of Jerusalem." Mr. Spence's address showed most careful study and preparation, was couched in beautiful language, and was a most graphic word picture of that magnificent structure, "Solomon's Temple." The use of a couple of charts served to make more vivid the description of the building. At the close a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Spence for his most enjoyable address. Preceding the address the Misses Gray were heard in a most pleasing duet, "Abide with Us."

Next Monday evening the annual moonlight excursion of the League takes place per steamer North Star. The boat leaves the wharf at eight o'clock. Tickets, which are limited to 100, may be obtained from the members of the society.

SUCCESSFUL PUPILS

Who Passed Their Examinations in Practical Music.

The results of the examinations in Practical Music in connection with the Toronto Conservatory of Music, are now out, and the following pupils of Prof. Davies have again been very successful.

R. C. O., of the Conservatory of Music, and St. James' Cathedral, Toronto. BORE JOURNEY WELL

QUEEN ONLY IN THE AMBULANCE

His Majesty's Faithful Consort Accompanied Him to the Railway Station in the Ambulance—Reached Portsmouth Safely—Warships Fired a Royal Salute, and Yacht Steamed Off.

London, July 16.—King Edward left Victoria Station at 11.35 o'clock yesterday morning for Portsmouth, where he will board the Royal yacht Victoria and Albert. The King was conveyed from Buckingham Palace to the railway station in an ambulance, drawn by two horses.

The only occupant of the ambulance was Queen Alexandra. The vehicle was driven at a walking pace. Although there was a small crowd at the station there was no demonstration in compliance with the express wish of the King. The doctors and nurses awaited the arrival of the ambulance, and a party of bluejackets removed his Majesty from the vehicle to a Royal saloon car, formerly used by the late Queen Victoria. Absolute privacy was secured by a lofty screen of red plush which surrounded the platform.

Stood the Journey Well.

Portsmouth, Eng., July 16.—King Edward arrived here from London before two p.m. yesterday.

The removal of his Majesty from the train to the Royal yacht was safely accomplished by bluejackets, and the King's couch was placed in a reception room, which had been especially constructed on the upper deck.

The warships in the harbor fired a Royal salute as the King embarked, and all the vessels dressed ship and manned yards or decks. The Royal yacht steamed off almost immediately after the transfer was completed.

It was said that the King bore the journey exceedingly well.

CONFERENCE OF PREMIERS.

Premier Ross Expects Important Results to Follow Meeting.

Toronto, July 16.—Hon. Richard Harcourt, acting Premier, received a letter last night from Hon. G. W. Ross, dated at London, July 8, in which it was estimated that the Premier hoped to leave London for home during the first week in August.

This was written before August 9 had been fixed for the coronation, and the Premier may have therefore altered his arrangements since writing.

In his letter the Premier refers to the conferences and expresses the hope that one of the results at least will be better transportation service between the motherland and Canada. The Provincial Premiers are discussing matters of great import affecting their relations with the Federal Government. These conferences between the Provincial Premiers, ending with a large conference between them and Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues, may lead to far-reaching results in the near future. The general public will be glad to know that the Premier is enjoying good health.

Cross-Petition at the 200.

Toronto, July 16.—At Osgoode yesterday notice was received of a cross-petition in Sault Ste. Marie. Andrew Miscampbell is the member and he has taken this precaution to prevent his Liberal opponent from being returned if he himself should be unseated. The petition is taken out in the name of D. M. Brodie.

So far there have been 28 petitions filed and two cross-petitions, but only in a few cases has the necessary deposit been made.

Choked by a Peanut.

Windsor, July 16.—John, the 18-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ritchie, Walkerville, was choked to death by a piece of peanut husk Sunday afternoon. The shell stuck in the little fellow's throat in the morning, and he coughed incessantly. The little fellow died on the dock while his mother was taking him to the Harper Hospital.

The Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught attended as did Joseph H. Choate, the United States Ambassador. The principal mourners were the widow and her daughters and other members of the family.

CUTTING SEA RATES.

How Americans Hope to Get South African Trade.

NEW YORK TO NATAL AT 10S TON

Extraordinary Offers Made by Cable to Merchants of Johannesburg—The Rate Not Remunerative, But Result of Competition—Chamber of Mines Trying to Secure Protection For Dynamite Factory.

Johannesburg, Transvaal, July 15.—At a meeting of the Chambers of Commerce to-day, called to receive the British Trade Commissioners, a member read a cable dispatch which he had received, offering freight from New York to Natal at 10 shillings per ton. Other members of the Chamber said they had received similar offers. This rate is not remunerative, but is the outcome of competition. It is 21s 3d below the lowest freight rate from England. The merchants do not see how the Americans are able to offer such low rates. Nevertheless they are overhauling their stock to see what they can order in the United States.

A majority of the members of the Executive Committee of the Chamber of Mines are advocating a coast duty of 5c to 7s 6d per case of dynamite in order to protect the local factory. The proposal is strongly opposed as tending to create a worse monopoly than existed during the Kruger regime, and to establish a precedent in the direction of protection.

Six Are Missing.

Rochester, July 16.—Up to noon yesterday absolutely nothing had been heard of the two boys, Charles Haas and George Lederthiew, who left Summerville Sunday morning in a canoe for a sail on Lake Ontario. Four other disappearances have been reported yesterday from Charlotte. George S. Iden, aged 22, a bellboy at the Hotel Ontario; George Hague, about the same age, and Mrs. L. Slater, aged 19, went out on the lake for a row Friday night, and have not been seen since. John Anderson, a colored boy, is also missing.

Destroyed by Lightning.

Guelph, July 16.—About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a severe thunderstorm passed through a portion of Guelph Township, traveling eastward. The barn of Mr. James Richardson, east end, was struck and two calves killed in the barn and two yearlings in the barn yard. Two of Mr. Richardson's sons were in the barn at the time, taking in hay. They fortunately escaped. The building was all aflame in a few minutes. The stock, consisting of pigs and several horses, were safely got out. The barn was worth about $2,000.

The World Condoles.

Venice, Italy, July 16.—The Mayor of Venice has received thousands of telegrams from all parts of the world, condoling with him on the collapse yesterday of the Campanile of St. Mark's.

The Pope has telegraphed to Cardinal Giuseppe Sarto, the patriarch of Venice, expressing his grief, and instructing him to give moral and financial support to any project for re-building the bell tower.

Pleasure Yacht Capsized.

Chicago, July 16.—During a squall on Lake Michigan last night, Arab IV., a 21 foot yacht, was capsized off Jackson Park. Before assistance could reach them, Harry Jansen and Mamie Taylor lost their lives.

POLITICAL HYPOCRISY AND CORRUPTION.

The Examiner has frequently referred to the hypocritical assumption of superior political virtue of Mr. Whitney, leader of the Opposition. His habit of continually and violently denouncing political irregularities on the part of his opponents, and practically excusing, if not approving, far worse political corruption on the part of his own party, is hypocritical to a degree. The charges brought in the cross petition against the Whitney candidate, Mr. Herbert T. Lennox, North York, are startling in their character. While it is not permissable to deal fully with charges which are practically sub judice, one may perhaps be allowed to cite known facts, which have a peculiar significance in relation to the charges made. The cross petition against Mr. Lennox, asks for his personal disqualification, and asserts that he was guilty of treating and bribery, and inducing people to refrain from voting, and that he was personally guilty of corrupt practices. Into the truth of these charges, one does not need to inquire. They however suggest other facts which show the hypocrisy of Mr. Mr. Lennox, and of his leader, Mr. Whitney. At the meeting addressed by Mr. Whitney at Aurora on April 9th, Mr. Lennox, who also addressed the meeting, posed as a purist. He was, he asserted, going to conduct the coming contest, "honestly and squarely," yet in the next few sentences he publicly held out a brazen bribe to the electors in the promise he made that if Mr. Whitney were returned to power, "I (Mr. Lennox) will see that he sends the Reformatory to North York." This was as brazen a bit of bribery as a man could commit on the public platform, and yet Mr. Whitney, who sat on the same platform, and heard it, had no word of reproof for it. Indeed, Mr. Whitney, the apostle of political purity, matched Mr. Lennox's bribe on a subsequent occasion. During the New Ontario tour Mr. Whitney told the people that if he were returned he would give the settlers the pine on their lots. He publicly held out a bribe which he knew he had no power to fulfil, without breaking faith with lumbermen and imperilling the public interests and depriving the province of a large revenue. Yet he wished to unduly and corruptly influence the votes of the electors, and was guilty in his own person of gross corruption, yet in the next breath he would condemn with all the weight and wealth of his adjetives, the alleged corruption of Liberals. The charges recited as made against Mr. Lennox in North York may or may not be true, but it is possible for him to be guilty of them, in view of what we know respecting the facility of himself and his leader in offering bribes publicly. Men who would offer bribes as they did in public would be restrained by no fine feelings of political morality from taking a secret course of corruption to influence an election in their favour. Even if the connection of the Conservative Association with the alleged corrupt dealings is not established, the public will not be able to resist the conclusion that while Mr. Whitney and his allies have been persistent in denouncing Liberals for alleged corruption, they are not as they hypocritically assume to be, above taking corrupt means to gain party advantage. It would be more amusing than unexpected if the leader and party who boasted of their intention to use force to protect polling booths and preserve the purity of elections, should be convicted of importing political thugs from the United States to apply American methods to polling booths in Ontario. We have all along strongly suspected Mr. Whitney, even in his strongest moments of condemnation of political impurity, of being a good deal of a political humbug and hypocrite, and it would be no surprise if suspicion became certainty before the election courts are through with the election petitions now filed.

SEVENTEEN YEARS OF STATESMANSHIP.

Lord Salisbury's Career as Premier of Great Britain, the Stages of His Advance and Success of His Foreign Policy.

Seventeen years ago, on June 24, 1885, Lord Salisbury was first made prime minister of Great Britain, in succession to Lord Beaconsfield. At that time the Gladstone Cabinet, composed of Whigs and Radicals, was divided on many important questions, both at home and abroad. Upon the Egyptian question, the renewing of the Soakim campaign, completing the Berber Railway, and "smashing" the Mahdi, there was much vacillation, and the Government nearly suffered defeat on several occasions. Mr. Gladstone's Government was however finally defeated on the proposed tariff changes, and was suspected of having invited its own defeat. It thus escaped the deadlock on the Irish question, for the Crimes Act was about to expire, and while the Radical members of the Cabinet were opposed to its renewal, and Mr. Gladstone desired to discontinue coercion, the Whigs in the Ministry insisted on preserving to the Government exceptional powers, in which the jury system seemed to act only as a protector of crime. Lord Salisbury formed his first Cabinet reluctantly, as the Conservatives were in a minority in the House of Commons, and he was defeated at the next general election, after only a few months of office. But already it began to be said that the foreign relations of Great Britain proceeded more favourably under Lord Salisbury than under Lord Granville's direction.

When the result of the elections of 1886 became known, it was found that the Conservatives and the Irish party were in a majority of four over the Liberal party. Mr. Gladstone, in the debate on the address, promised Ireland a large measure of self-government, and was joined by the Home Rule party, the combination defeating the Salisbury Government by 329 to 258. Even then Lord Hartington, Mr. Goschen, and a few other Liberals voted with the Conservatives. The question of Home Rule had formed no part of the electoral programme, and after the Marquis of Hartington had publicly announced his readiness to lead a secession of the Liberals, it became known that Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Trevelyan had refused to accept Mr. Gladstone's measure. Mr. Gladstone was defeated, and Lord Salisbury reigned for six years. He did not at first succeed in persuading Lord Hartington, Mr. Chamberlain and other "Unionists," to join his Cabinet, but this came in time, and added both strength and weakness to the new Government. The policy of Lord Salisbury in respect to Ireland, was indicated, in Lord Salisbury's speech at the Lord Mayor's dinner on August 11th. He said the first duty of the Government was to free the loyal people from illegal restraints and constraints, and that representing the mandate of the people against separation, whose motto was "social order in Ireland," the primary task was to maintain law and order. All through this Parliament the question of Ireland dominated the situation, and, for good or ill, it has much modified party lines and very considerably varied the course of British politics. Mr. Gladstone was returned to power for the last time in 1892, and resigned after eighteen months, Lord Rosebery succeeding him. The Rosebery cabinet was defeated on June 21, 1895, on a motion to reduce the salary of the Secretary of War, and Lord Salisbury was immediately requested by the Queen to form a new ministry.

Lor Salisbury has travelled a long way since Mr. Disraeli described him as 'a master of flouts and jeers,' since he was a trenchant leader writer on the staff of the 'Saturday Review' and since he returned with his leader from the 'Peace with Honour' conference at Berlin. His domestic policy has not been his strength, although much Irish legislation of an ameliorative character has been passed during his successive periods of administration. It is upon his foreign policy that his reputation must stand and in that he has little to fear from future criticism. If we are not mistaken history will regard him in that respect as a brilliant success. In Egypt, in India, in the Soudan, in South Africa, results have justified him, and these results could not have been achieved unless the Great Powers had been friendly. During the South African struggle several of the peoples of Europe were ready to fly at the lion's throat and were only restrained by the wisdom of their rulers. There was a time of stress with France over Fashoda, but a conciliatory firmness happily averted a conflict. Lord Salisbury was criticised adversely concerning his Chinese policy and the encroachments of Russia, but subsequent events, especially the treaty with Japan, have shown that he was wide-awake and ultimately successful. The war in South Africa, though blundering in detail, was pursued without vacillation to its inevitable ending, and a generous peace while insisting upon the essential principle of the incorporation of the two late republics into the empire has made loyal citizens out of recent foes. How much of these results depended upon the good feeling in the United States it is difficult to say. That it was appreciable most people believe, and Lord Salisbury must be given very largely the credit for it. It has been his consistent policy ever since he was Prime Minister to come to a really close and sympathetic understanding with England's American kinsmen. Events have helped him greatly, especially during the past five or ten years. The war with Spain and with the Filipinos has given her people troubles of their own, and they could understand Great Britain's position as they never could before. Then the growth of American export trade, the international character of recent trade relations, and the unprecedented number of both nations travelling to and fro, have given the necessary impetus to a brotherly feeling that had only been dormant.

Lord Salisbury therefore leaves the helm of state while the good ship is in quieter waters than has been the case for many years past. The Dual Alliance and the Triple Alliance, with the moral support of Great Britain and the United States, may be expected to keep peace among the great powers for a long time to come; and there is even a derth of little wars for the time being. Time will prove what shall be the fortunes of the Empire under Mr. Arthur Balfour. He started in Parliament as a kicker, having been leader of a fourth party, which included Lord Randolph Churchill and two others. But he was not of the stuff to indulge for long in such vagaries, and in a little while he proved himself his uncle's nephew. As Secretary for Ireland he gained the good will of the Irish; as leader of the House of Commons he has gained the good will of the House. He is scholarly, refined, and it is said, rather indolent. He is fortunate in having the loyal support of Mr. Chamberlain, perhaps the strongest political figure in England at the present time, and everybody will hope for his success. But his party will have to devote itself strenuously to domestic reform if it is to remain any considerable length of time in power. It is announced that Sir Michael Hicks-Beach has resigned, and that may be pregnant of much or little. We cannot believe that it means any radical departure from the free trade policy of the Salisbury Government, as the new Government would scarcely start its career in such an unpopular fashion. Mr. Balfour, however, is something of a doctrinaire on social and political questions and for some reason or other, it is said that Hicks-Beach goes out. Mr. Balfour said that he could not count on the continued assistance of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, but he could count on the latter's good wishes. For the rest, Mr. Balfour recognizes the magnitude of his task, and the splendid ovation he received from his colleagues, the first time he presided at the Ministerial Council held at the Foreign Office, is proof positive that he has their regard and confidence. Changes there must be in personnel, as Mr. Balfour said, but the Unionist policy he declared, was unchanged. So, after fifty years of public service, Lord Salisbury, the Nestor of statesmen, goes into well deserved retirement, a retirement his literary and scientific acquirements well fit him to enjoy. He is only seventy-two, after all, and in good health. He is not likely to take an active part again in British politics, although that is by no means impossible. Mr. Balfour says the inherent vitality of the Unionist cause will make up for any weakness in the arms which have to sustain it. That is not so certain, and, at least, we should prefer to find the new arms become as strong as the old.—Witness.

BERRY PICKERS HAVE SMALLPOX.

Many Cases of the Fruit Believed to Be Infested.

St. Joseph, Mich., July 16.— The family of George Howard, living some 15 miles south of this city, have been quarantined for smallpox. Great excitement prevails over the fact that the family has been afflicted with smallpox for two weeks, when they thought it was only chicken pox, and all of the time they have been picking berries for the Chicago market. This is regarded by the authorities as a terible condition of affairs, as every case of berries shipped by the family has been infected with smallpox, and has gone to Chicago families. Some crates of berries from the Howard farm waiting shipment at St. Jose, have been confiscated and destroyed.

MR. TARTE'S LAKE TRIP

INSPECTING AMERICAN HARBORS

Mr. Coste, Government Engineer, Outlines Extent and Purpose of Minister's Tour in the Interest of Canadian Transportation—Canada's Share of Lake Traffic—Inspection at Port Colborne.

Buffalo, July 16.—Hon. J. Israel Tarte, Minister of Public Works for the Dominion of Canada, arrived in Buffalo shortly after noon yesterday on the Government yacht Lord Stanley. The Minister is accompanied by his son and daughter, and by the Government engineer, Louis Coste.

Mr. Coste outlined the purpose of the Canadian Minister's visit to Buffalo. "The great question in Canada at present," he said, "is that of transportation, both lake and rail. The Minister is making a tour of the St. Lawrence and upper lakes, not with a view of getting all the transportation away from Buffalo," he said, laughing, "but to get a little larger share of the lake transportation business than we have had in the past.

"It is our purpose to visit Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Milwaukee, pass the 'Soo' and go to Duluth. The primary object is to inspect American ports. We wish to see what the Americans have in the way of harbors, dockage and railway terminal facilities at the waterfront."

It is expected that Mr. Tarte and his party will leave Buffalo for Cleveland this morning.

Port Colborne, July 16.—J. Israel Tarte, Minister of Public Works, arrived here yesterday morning on the Government steamship Lord Stanley. After inspecting the breakwater, he proceeded to Buffalo, accompanied by Mr. Louis Coste and Reeve Carter of this village

STREET CAR STRIKE THREATENED.

Albany Employes May Tie Up Lines in Five Cities.

Albany, July 16.—Unless the managers of the United Traction Company dismiss two employes that are objectionable to the Motormen and Conductors' Union, there will be a general tie-up of the system in this city and Troy to-day.

The men to whom the objection is made held office in the union, and it is charged were short in their accounts. They were expelled, and the union to make their punishment greater insisted that the road discharge them. This the managers up to now have refused, arguing that the alleged action of the men relates in no wise to their duties with the company.

Representatives of the employes and the company met last Saturday and it was agreed to postpone further action until to-day, when Millionaire Anthony M. Brady will be on hand to suggest a settlement.

"If these men be not bounced we'll tie up every foot of the line in five cities," said one of the leaders last night.

Rev. C. A. Wookey Found Dead.

New York, July 16.—The Rev. Dr. Charles A. He had been ill for some time of Bright's disease and his death was due to that malady.

Rev. Dr. Wookey was 50 years of age, and is survived by his wife, three sons and two daughters. The remains will be sent to Toronto for interment.

The claim dates back into the close of the 18th century.

MOTHER OF MURDERER FAILED.

Fred Lee Rice Will Now Go to the Scaffold in Toronto.

Toronto, July 16.—Mrs. Rice and Miss Temple, mother and sister respectively of Fred Lee Rice, the condemned murderer of County Constable Boyd, were in the city on Monday and had a long interview with the prisoner. In the evening they went to Ottawa and yesterday made a final appeal to the Minister of Justice for commutation or respite of the death sentence. Mr. Fitzpatrick gave a patient hearing to what they had to submit. Mrs. Rice and her daughter also saw some of the members of the Government, but the Cabinet decided not to interfere with the sentence.

The scaffold upon which Rice will be executed on Friday will be placed in position to-day.

Official Hangman Radcliffe will superintend its erection.

But few of the applications made to Sheriff Mowat for tickets of admission will be granted. It is his intention to allow no one into the jail yard to witness the execution except officials, representatives of the press and a baker's dozen of citizens who will make up the coroner's jury.

For an Eight-Hour Day.

Toronto, July 16.—The principal item at the Moulders' Union Convention here yesterday was the introduction of a resolution declaring for an 8-hour day, to commence May 1, 1903. It was deferred, but will likely become the most important topic of this convention. The committees of the manufacturers and moulders held their conference about the apprenticeship matter at the Rossin House, and they will report to the convention this morning.

One Common Cause of Headache.

Perhaps the most general cause of headache and pain across the eyes is nasal catarrh. The simplest cure is to inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone which traverses every air cell and air passage of the throat, lungs and nose. It kills myriads of germs at every breath, clears away mucous discharges, preserves and heals the membrane. Catarrhozone is just a splendid remedy for headache, and its action is certain and unfailing in diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma and Catarrh. A trial will convince the most sceptical that Catarrhozone is all right. Large size, $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

AGREEMENT REACHED.

Four Railways and Their Employes Break the Strike.

Chicago, July 16.—With agreements reached between four railroads and their employes the strike of the freight handlers and teamsters that has paralyzed the industries of Chicago for a week, is apparently broken. A majority of the strikers are expected to return to work to-day. By Thursday, according to the present outlook, there will be few evidences of the strike. Some of the more radical unionists may refuse to accept the terms accepted by representative committees, but, apparently, they will be able to wield but little influence with the majority of the strikers. It is possible, however, that the radicals may prevent the strike from being called off at a mass meeting of the Freight Handlers called for this morning.

The four railroads that entered into agreements with their men last night were the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, the Chicago and Northwestern, the Nickel Plate and the Illinois Central. Of the four the Northwestern and the Illinois Central accepted the proposition made upon advice of the Teamsters' Board of Arbitration.

The Nickel Plate and Lake Shore succeeded in getting their men to sign the scale presented by the railroads on July 1.

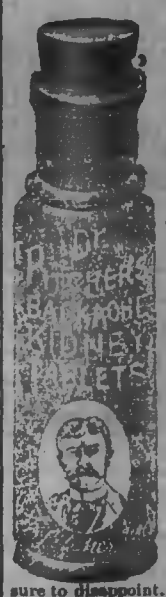
While the signing of the agreements breaks the strike it does not end it.

MAY SAVE ALL.

Bright Hopes For the Cargo of the Stranded Monteagle.

Montreal, July 16.—It was learned yesterday through Mr. D. W. Campbell, general manager of the Elder-Dempster Steamship Co., that the prospect of removing and saving the cargo of the unfortunate steamer Monteagle, belonging to that company, and which went ashore on the dangerous reef eight miles east of Fame Point, 320 miles below Quebec, on last Saturday morning, is bright and that there is every reason to believe that the entire cargo will be practically undamaged. Already 800 tons of her cargo have been removed, the vessel Gaspesian leaving the scene of the accident last evening with 600 tons, which had been transferred to her yesterday, and two schooners, the Cerice and the Fortin, also carried about 100 tons each.

A WORD OF CAUTION.



Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are prepared from the prescription of Dr. Zina Pitcher (formerly Professor of Materia Medica and Genito-Urinary Diseases, Michigan College of Medicine, Detroit, Mich, U.S.A.), which he used with wonderful success for over twelve years in private practice in the Western Hospital, Detroit.

They contain specific ingredients not found in any other kidney remedy, and it is not surprising, therefore, that they make cures in very many cases where other remedies had proved altogether ineffectual.

We would caution you in purchasing the Tablets to see that the accompanying cut, printed in green ink and Dr. Pitcher's portrait and signature are on the package. Refuse substitutes and imitations, as these are sure to disappoint.

The price of the Tablets is 50c a box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all druggists, or sent by mail by addressing the Dr. Zina Pitcher, Co., Toronto.

A MAN DROPPED DEAD.

Alfred Y. Hopkins Expires of Heart Disease

While at Work at the Cereal Company —He Resided on Park Street.

Alfred Y. Hopkins, a labourer who was employed by the American Cereal Company, and whose home is No. 211 Park street, dropped dead while at work at about eight o'clock this morning. The deceased man had only started to work at the Cereal Company a few days ago, and had made no complaint of feeling unwell. While stooping down to raise a piece of timber he reeled over and expired almost instantly. Dr. McGrath was summoned and pronounced death due to heart disease. Coronor Gray was notified but he considered an inquest unnecessary. The ambulance was summoned and conveyed the remains to the family residence.

The deceased was a middle aged gentleman and leaves a grown up family to mourn his sudden demise. He is highly spoken of by all who knew him and was generally looked upon as honest and industrious.

Mr. W. E. Hopkins, of the Canadian General Electric Co., and Miss Josephine, school teacher and Miss Eva K., assistant bookkeeper for M. Carton, are daughters of the deceased.

DEATH OF MISS MYRTAL HENDREN.

Lakefield's Sweet Singer Called Away— The Funeral Will Take Place To-morrow.

Seldom indeed has a death occurred in the county which has occasioned more sincere and deep-seated grief than the much-to-be-regretted demise of Miss Myrtal Hendren, of Lakefield, which took place this morning at about ten o'clock.

Miss Hendren fell a victim to a form of lung trouble the advances of which were so rapid as to undermine her constitution and preclude all hope of recovery within a very few months. Six weeks ago, accompanied by a younger sister, who was similarly affected, Miss Hendren went to Wilberforce to see if in the bracing atmosphere of the Haliburton hills, their rapidly diminishing strength could not be restored. The journey in quest of health, however, proved a fruitless one, and the two sisters returned home about two weeks ago, since which time Miss Myrtal has been gradually growing weaker, until this morning when death came unto her.

The deceased was possessed of a character of singular sweetness and purity and the whole-hearted and thorough way in which she gave her attention to the church work in which she was so greatly interested, made her universally beloved amongst her co-workers. She was gifted with a voice of great richness and the echoes of its mellow inflections will long linger in the memories of those whom she so often delighted with its sweetness. For about a year she was connected with the Charlotte street choir of town, and she was also heard at many local concerts. Mr. Thos. Barrie, of town, called upon Miss Hendren at her home this morning and she talked quite cheerfully, yet before Mr. Barrie reached his place of business in Peterborough, word was received of her death.

Her father, Mr. Abel Hendren, of Lakefield, and family will receive the sympathy of everyone in their great trouble. The funeral will take place on Thursday at two o'clock.

SOME ADVICE

Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer of the Town of Peterborough, has issued the following notice:

As the season is now approaching when typhoid fever and other infectious diseases are generally prevalent in towns and cities, it is a duty which all good citizens owe to themselves and to the public, to use all known sanitary precautions against such diseases. Typhoid fever is caused by sewer gas, by open cess-pools and by ill-kept privies, also by bad water and by decaying animal and vegetable substances.

The late heavy rains would be sure to carry surface water into many wells. In all such cases the wells should be cleaned out and properly disinfected. Much sickness and many deaths may be avoided by the strict observance of sanitary laws.

MURRAY STREET BAPTISTS

Held Their Annual Picnic at Jubilee Point Yesterday.

The annual picnic of the Murray street Baptist Sunday school, was held yesterday to Jubilee Point, and a very pleasant day was enjoyed by all. The threatening state of the weather in the early morning, no doubt, kept a number from going, but nevertheless about 250 took in the trip down the river. It was a delightful day for an outing, and a beautiful breeze was blowing that swept across the Point.

During the afternoon four young ladies undertook to go for a sail in a large skiff, and never calculated on the force of the wind. All went well, until they were at the entrance of the lake, when the wind caught them broadside, and carried them far out into the lake. A number of canoes started out to their rescue, but the the young ladies were equal to the emergency, and after making several attiempts to reach the shelter of the rice beds, they succeeded, none the worse for their thrilling experience. It was an anxious time for those who were watching them on shore.

Boys' race, 10 years and under—Walter Noyes, Clifton Kidd, Bert Williams.

Girls' race, 10 years and under — F. Routley, G. Tougas.

Girls' race, 10-12 years — Nellie Warrens, Millie Warrens, Hazel Chapman.

Girls' race, 14 years and under — Hazel Kidd, Minnie Ellis.

Girls' race, 14-16 years — Vieva Hunter, Hazel Kidd.

Wheelbarrow race — Walter Garbutt and Ralph Quinn.

Boys' boot race — Ray Scott, E. Hubble, G. Martin.

Girls' boot race — Vieva Hunter, Kathleen Martin, Trussie Tougas.

Boys' race, 16 and over — Jas. Ellis, J. Hardwicke, Walter Garbutt.

Gents' race — T. F. Matthews, R. S. Merrell.

Much credit is due the committee, composed of Messrs. E. B. Edwards, T. F. Matthews, R. S. Merrell and P. White, for the way in which they looked after the interests of all.

PETERBOROUGH'S NEW RINK.

Last Night's Organization Meeting in Council Chamber.

The Brock Street Lot Seems to be the Favourite Site—Will get a Charter.

A meeting of the subscribers for stock in the proposed new skating rink was called for last night in the Town Council Chamber. The attendance was quite small which may have been due to the fact that a number of those most interested in the scheme were out of town. However, an informal talk took place amongst those present, and a full statement of the position of affairs was presented by the promoters, Messrs. R. H. Kells and J. S. Knapman.

His Worship Mayor T. H. G. Denne occupied the chair, and after calling meeting to order he read the following telegram:

"Toronto, July 15, 1902.

Regret that business prevents attendance at hockey rink organization meeting. The enterprise is laudable. Shall have also my future support when I take up my residence in hockey town shortly.

J. ALEX. CULVERWELL."

Mr. Culverwell's telegram was read amid much applause.

Mr Kells, in giving a statement of the amount of money that had been subscribed, explained that there was enough subscribed, with the exception of $700, to guarantee their going ahead with the work. This $700 was already in sight, but depended upon the location of the rink. There were three lots under consideration. One of these was at the corner of King and Lewis streets, owned by the Chamberlain Estate, for which they asked $2,850, and would take $300 stock in the venture. The size of the lot is 114 x 92 feet. Another site was the lot back of Wolstenholm's which is situated in the centre of the block and was entered by a lane from Charlotte street. It could be got for $1,300. It's size is 97 x 186 feet. The third lot was on Brock street, just west of Mr. Haggart's house, and was 114 x 92 feet. They had an offer for 100 feet at $25 a foot. The Bradburn Estate offer to sell the property and take a first mortgage on the rink for that amount. Should the Wolstenholm lot be decided upon $2,500 of a loan would see them through, whilst it would need a mortgage of $4,000 should they take the Bradburn lot on Brock street. Mr. Kells said that they could obtain the loan of $4,000, he having been assured so by several money lenders. The majority of the people who attend the rink come from the north of Hunter street and there appeared to be no comparison in the choice of the lots as it was quite apparent that the Brock street property was the best place.

Mr. C. Rutherford thought that it would cost more to build a rink on either of the other two lots than it would on the Brock street lot. There was a better foundation at the latter place and they would not be troubled with water.

Considerable informal discussion then followed and the plans which were submitted by Mr. Blackwell were carefully examined. The advisability of applying for a charter was discussed and finally on motion Messrs. G. W. Hatton, T. F. Matthews, Dr. Wightman, A. H. Stratton, James Hamilton, R. H. Kells and Mayor Denne were appointed a committee to consult with the solicitors of the proposed company as to the advisability of obtaining a charter, and if deemed feasible, to proceed with the same.

It was also decided to ask the Bradburn Estate to give an extension of one month on the present 30 day option on their Brock street lot.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

LACROSSE.

The next game in the city league series will take place to-night between the Y.M.C.A. and Athletics The game will be played on the Nicholls Oval and will commence at 7 o'clock sharp.

"These western rules are a great thing for the spectator, but they're hard on the players," says Tack Hendry of the Brantfords. "You see you have to keep pounding along for 20 minutes, whether you score or not. Now under Eastern rules if you score in three minutes you get a rest of five minutes, and that counts out of your playing time. You score again in another three minutes and get another five minutes rest. Then you've actually played six minutes and eaten up sixteen minutes of playing time. Another thing is that if you get a team 'going' under Western rules it's all up with them. They don't get any time to talk it over and pull themselves together as they do in the East—they just go till they're gone. Oh, yes, this western game is a grand one for the spectators, but players have to be in great condition to play it."

INSPECTING CHEESE CURING STATION.

Hon. Sydney Fisher was in Brockville on Thursday last inspecting the Dominion Government cheese-curing station, which is now in full operation. He expressed himself as well pleased with the building and its appointments. There are about 1000 boxes of cheese in course of curing. The Government is also curing in the same building in an ordinary curing room, a sample of each factory's make for comparison with the article turned out in the model curing room. The former cheese are purchased by the Government and retailed to the local trade.

THE BAND AND ORANGEMEN.

The President Explains the Situation.

Mr. Robert Mein, President of the Fifty-Seventh Band, states the facts in reference to the situation as asserted in the resolution by the Orange of Peterborough on the evening of July 12th. The Music Committee of the Orangemen waited upon the band wishing to get thirty men so that they could be divided and make two bands. The price asked was $2.75 per day, the lowest that could be accepted as the members of the band belong to the union and $2.75 was the Union figure. This price was not agreeable to the committee and then the offer was made to supply 12 or 15 men, which would make a good band, at the same price. This was not acceptable. It was, so far, Mr. Mein said, a matter of price—the Orange Committee could not, or would not accept the price stipulated, and the band being members of the Union could accept no less. In regard to the alleged "contemptible means resorted to to prevent members playing in the emergency band" got together for the occasion, Mr. Mein says that one member of the 57th was prevented from playing because he could not be allowed to use an instrument belonging to the 57th in an outside organization. It is understood that other unions, the printers and tailors prevented others from playing contrary to union rules. It seems that the affair was simply a matter of failure to agree upon terms as between the 57th and the Orange Committee. It is unfortunate that there should be discord in a matter when harmony is one of the essential requisites.

STOCK MARKETS.

Buy Atchison.

New York, July 15th, 1902.—The strongest kinds of market indications are and have been for the past two or three days that Atch. is being groomed for another advance by the insiders. Buy some of it immediately. It ought to easily sell above 90 on this current move, and before the summer is over at least equal its high price of last year when it sold above 91. It is making more money now than then. Current earnings are at a rate of nearly ten per cent. for the common stock. The rise in St. Paul, R.I., and other grangers in the past three weeks warrant an immediate advance in Atch. shares. The recent crop reports should reflect in marked strength in these shares, and has already commenced to do so. It was the cause of immediate recovery in price for M.O.P., carrying it to a new high figure. Both Atch. and M.O.P. will be immensely benefitted by a good corn crop. Reports at present show the best for corn they have ever shown at this season of the acreage is materially large. The Berwind party hold immense blocks of Atchison and freely predict that the stock will sell at par. Atch. is not only a granger line, but a trans-continental line. The through business at present is reported by the trans-continental lines as being enormous. If the volume of general business keeps pace with that of last year and with a good crop in addition, the earnings of Atch. will be fabulous. No mistake will be made in our opinion, by purchasing the stock now and holding on to it for an extended advance. The mistake would be, we believe, to let go of the stock at two or three points advance. The Copper shares remain remarkably steady around 63, especially when the vigorous newspaper pounding is so persistently maintained. One cannot pick up a paper or periodical without finding a pessimistic article relative to coppers and the copper situation. Someone is extremely industrious in a campaign against the stock and its market steadiness under the fusillade would lead to the assumption that the interests pounding the shares are the ones that are purchasing it, as the public are not doing so. We look for a material improvement in the price of American Copper shares very shortly, and believe them a great purchase at current prices.

THE CANADIAN NORTHERN.

Railway Recognizes Some of the Unions, But Not That of the Strikers—Says Company Is Weakening.

Winnipeg, July 16.—The announcement that the Canadian Northern Railway was prepared to recognize the organization of the trainmen, conductors, engineers and telegraph operators came as a sudden surprise to many yesterday.

At the office of the company yesterday morning the officials refused to say anything.

At the strikers' headquarters Vice-President Gault of the U. B. of R. E., said: "They have the trains, we have the road. The one is of no use without the other. The situation is just the same as it was, except the last admission of the company shows they are weakening."

Others of the strikers spoke more plainly, blaming the conductors and trainmen of the road severely. The strikers, they claim, had gone out, borne the abuse and loss of work and money, and when the road was about in a position to yield to the demands or close down, these other men stepped in and reaped the benefit of the strikers' sacrifice.

Another Report.

Another report says: The only new feature of the strike situation is the announcement that the old-established unions of conductors, trainmen and firemen will be recognized by the company. Mr. Hanna, Superintendent of the road, refuses, however, to have any dealings with the brotherhood of railway employes, the members of which are on strike.

DAMAGES FOR BLACKLISTING.

W. H. Taylor, Windsor, Will Sue G.T.R. For Large Amount.

St. Thomas, July 16.—W. H. Taylor, of Windsor, who was blacklisted by the Grand Trunk Railway some time since, and who claims to have sustained irreparable injury to his reputation, as well as considerable financial loss, seeks redress in the courts, and his lawyer has served J. E. Laughlin, local agent for the company, with a summons preparatory to bringing suit against the company for damages in a large amount.

Taylor claims that when he was discharged and blacklisted by the company the latter had not sufficient cause for adopting measures so severe. The suit promises to be an unusually interesting one, inasmuch as blacklisting is seldom resorted to in this country, and the action will no doubt attract the widespread attention not only of railway men but of the members of the legal profession and men who might be similarly dealt with.

PLASTERS FAILED.

Liniments, Oils and Many Other Medicines did no Good.

Lower Windsor, N. B., July 13th.—Special—Mr. T. H. Belyea, postmaster of this place, has made a very interesting statement of his experience in his efforts to be cured of Kidney Trouble which has bothered him for many years.

At times he would have very bad spells, and when these came on he was almost laid up.

He tried several doctors and used many medicines, but nothing seemed to help him in the least.

Plasters, oils, liniments on the outside and doses of all kinds and descriptions taken internally seem to have but one result. He was no better.

Finally through reading an advertisement he was led to the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He says:

"Dodd's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended for Kidney Trouble that after reading some testimonials, I concluded to try them according to directions.

"I had tried so many things that I was very skeptical and had but little faith that Dodd's Kidney Pills could or would help me. However, I did not use them long before I found that they were all and more than was claimed for them.

"I have received more benefit from them than from any other medicine I have ever used for they seem to have made a complete cure of my case.

"I feel as well as ever I did and have not the slightest trace of the Kidney Trouble that bothered me ever so long.

"I want to say that I believe that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the right medicine for Kidney Trouble."

Mr. Belyea is very well known to everybody in this neighbourhood and and there are but few who have not been aware of his serious illness.

Everyone is delighted at his improved health and his published statement has done much to make Dodd's Kidney Pills even more popular in this neighbourhood than they have been.

GREENE AND GAYNOR.

Language of New Application Made to Suit the Treaty.

Washington, July 16.—The officials here who are seeking to secure the extradition from Canada to this country of Greene and Gaynor are now feeling more confidence in the success of their efforts. The reason for their optimism is a change in the method of procedure, they having framed their application for the extradition of the men precisely in accordance with the language of the extradition treaty. This was done on the ground that the language of the treaty relative to "receiving any money, valuable security or other property, knowing the same to have been embezzled, stolen, or fraudulently obtained," actually fits the offence of which the men are alleged to have been guilty.

It is expected that the Canadian court thus will be relieved of the necessity of ruling on the objection made by the defendants that the crime charged in the indictment does not correspond with the treaty. Under the new application the court simply will be required to decide whether or not a prima facie case of receiving stolen moneys has been made out against Gaynor and Greene.

If the men are surrendered under extradition proceedings the Georgia courts will be obliged to decide the difficult and delicate question whether Gaynor and Greene can be tried for conspiracy, as indicated, after having been obtained from Canada on a warrant which does not charge that offence.

Stomach and Liver Troubles.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The liver is responsible for more ills and suffering than is generally supposed. Once the workings of the liver are disordered the blood is not properly filtered and foul impurities are lodged in all parts of the system. Much of the success of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills is due to the fact that they act directly on the kidneys, liver and bowels, makin gthem active and regular.

Mr. B. Knowles, broommaker, 586 Main street, St. John, N. B., writes: "For years I suffered from kidney and liver disorders. I had severe pains in the back and they caught me especially when I stooped over. I was also troubled with indigestion and severe headaches.

"I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and cannot speak too highly of this medicine, for it has done me a world of good. The back pains and headache have been entirely cured, and my digestion is good."

WOLVERHAMPTON.

The English Town in Which Canada Has an Excellent Show of Its Productions Just Now.

Wolverhampton is bright and clean, with streets in first class condition, and many public buildings and churches, which would not do discredit to a great metropolis. The municipal buildings, the Art Gallery, the Collegiate Church of St. Peter, the Market Hall, the Free Library are particularly worthy of mention. The principal hotels without being palatial or architecturally striking, are comfortable and homelike. The population of Wolverhampton is estimated to be over 96,000. In 1821 it was over 18,000, and the official census figutes of 1901 gave it at 94,-179. Under the great reform bill of 1832 Wolverhampton secured two representatives in Parliament. In 1888 the borough was divided into three divisions, one member for each. In the present Parliament the political representation of the town is divided, there being one Conservative, Sir Alfred Hickman, and two Liberal members, the Right Hon. Sir Henry Fowler and Mr. Henry Norman. Wolverhampton was incorporated as a borough in 1848. The governing body of the corporation consists of twelve aldermen and 36 Councillors. Twelve Councillors retire every three years. Aldermen are chosen from among the Councillors for a term of six years. For the first time an electrical street-car service was inaugurated in Wolverhampton on Sunday April 27.

The earliest mention of the twon is as far back as 659, when it was called Wulfhere's High Towb from Wulfhere the first Christian King of Mercia, who founded a monastery. The whole district was in confusion at the beginning of the tenth century, the Danes and Saxons having fought battles at Tettenhall, Wednesfield, and Willenhall, between 907 and 911. Five hundred years ago a privilege was granted by the King for holding a sale of wool for the midland districts of England. At this time the staple of wool was removed from Flanders to England, and established in various places, among them Canterbury, Hull, Bristol and Wolverhampton. The town soon became a busy market for the sale of wool, and merchants from all parts, not only of England, but the continent, went there to make their purchases or dispose of their fleeces. The town gradually made progress. In 1642 that unfortunate monarch, King Charles, I., was in Wolverhampton, at the old Star and Garter, from which place a letter to the Magistrates of Lichfield, directing the people to send their arms, etc., to the Royal Standard at Nottingham, was sent. Three years later the headquarters of Prince Rupert were in Wolverhampton, while the King was at Bushbury. From the civil war until about the third decade of the nineteenth century, there is little, it is pointed out, to narrate, but the chronicler reports steady, if not rapid, progress. Since 1820 Wolverhampton's progress has been marked. As already stated, in 1848 a charter of incorporation was granted.

Wolverhampton is the largest and most populous town in Staffordshire and the extent of its commercial and manufacturing interests renders it of first-class importance. In a pamphlet prepared in view of the opening of the Arts and Industrial Exhibition, it is said,:—"The town sends forth the bridges which span distant rivers; it builds up the locomotive engines for passenger and goods traffic on the great western lines of railway, abd it supplies the edge tools and hand pumps and pumping engines with which mines and factories are worked and farms are irrigated in the British Empire, in fact all over the world. The celebrated Chubbs safes and locks are manufactured in the town, while buckets, trays and tinware goods are sent from Wolverhampton to the uttermost parts of the earth. Wolverhampton's manufactures of hollow-ware, tinned and enamelled, are used universally. Its tubes and taps, to convey water, and gas alike, are well known to the old world and the new. The painter mixes his various colors with the varnishes for which the town is famous. The cultivated lands of the agriculturalist are enclosed, both at home and abroad, with its iron fencing, barbed wire, and ornamental gate, whilst its galvanized, corrugated sheets roof in the blockhouses in South Africa. A comparatively new but thriving industry in Wolverhampton is the manufacture of boots and shoes, and it boasts two of the most up-to-date factories, each of which contains two modern equipments and machinery. In a word, man in almost any part of the habitable globe whether he eats, drinks or sleeps, is indebted to Wolverhampton's manufacture of culinary vessels of every kind, for pipes and taps, and for his iron bedstead. Of the more modern industries introduced during the last twenty years, chief mention must be made of the extensive ranges of buildings erected at Bushbury and on the Wednesfield road, which contain the most modern appliances and tools for the construction of all kinds of electrical apparatus for use on rail and tram lines, and also for lighting purposes. Next in importance is the manufacture of cycles, of which thousands are sent from the various factories, in the course of a year, and to this has recently been added the building of motor cars, both for private locomotion and in their development for the various purposes of trade.

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation, strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is

CANADIAN POULTRY.

A. F. Hunter in Reliable Poultry Journal writes of the methods employed by farmers of Ontario, Canada, in fattening poultry for market. He refers to the report of the Canadian department of agricultrual. The illustration here reproduced is of a pair of birds of light Brahma and Plymouth Rock cross, which weighed eight pounds and six ounces each when killed at seven months old. Mr. Hunter says:

Several farmers have sent in their methods of fattening chickens, which are as follows: Mr. A. McPhadden of Dominionville, Ont., states that his crates are made of common building lath, four feet long and divided into two compartments, with the bottom laths planed. He put four chicks in each compartment. The rations for the first week were composed of three parts of oats and one part peas. The second week's rations were the same, with a little cornmeal added. In the third week the quantity of cornmeal was increased. Three weeks' fattening was sufficient. The cost of gain of one pound of flesh was 5¼ cents. Mr. James Watson of Sonya, Ont., used two parts of finely ground barley mixed with skimmilk and fed three times a day for three weeks. Thirty Barred Plymouth Rock cockerels were fed on these rations, and the cost per pound of flesh gain was 5¼ cents. Messrs. Armstrong Bros., of Fergus, Ont., used the following rations: Morning, two-fifths ground corn, two-fifths wheat bran, one-fifth wheat-middlings. This was fed three mornings, and the other mornings, ground oil cake was mixed into the mash; noon, boiled potatoes and stale bread. Afternoon, immediately after the noon ration was eaten, the troughs were cleaned and filled with whole corn and wheat, which were allowed to remain before the birds for the rest of the day.

LIGHT BRAHMA AND PLYMOUTH ROCK CROSS.

When such eminently satisfactory results can be obtained without resorting to the use of cramming machines, it is not surprising to learn that the exporting companies, which have been buying up and fattening birds for the English market, are now giving up the use of them.

A young lad named Casselman, who was having a ride on a merry-go-round in Brockville attempted to jump off the machine while in motion and fell beneath it. He was so badly injured that it is very doubtful if he will recover.

Whitman Spinks, an employe of the Davies' Packing Company, Toronto, got his left arm caught in a pulley while at work operating a cutting machine on Saturday afternoon. The arm was so badly crushed that it was found necessary to amputate it at the elbow.

114 Are Dead.

Johnstown, Pa., July 14.—The official list of dead is placed at 114.

THE PANAMA HAT.

O, Panama hat,
With your generous brim!
I've got to annex you
To be in the swim!
To compass your price
Is a problem most grim.

O, sweetly desirable
Panama hat!
But twenty-five dollars,
How to hustle for that?
Can I do
Without lunch?
Can I do
Without beer
To get you, my beauty,
So dear, oh, so dear?

Picturesque,
Beautiful
Panama hat!
I think of Hank Morgan
And pirates and that!
I look at your dainty,
Immaculate straw!
I see a maid weaving,
And her shrivelled mamma!
I see the malaria
From the verdure so green!
I see anti-pyrin
And bromo quinine!

Be honest, be truthful,
You Panama hat!
Should I pay for such horrors
And leave my purse flat?
Should I make myself-bankrupt?
Should I spend my last red
In the lust to once feel
Such a crime on my head?

Moreover, I feel
That the money I'd rue
'Twould cost a poor chappie
To live up to you.
I hate to have people
Take merciless note
That my glorious hat
Was ashamed of my coat!
So Panama head-gear,
Your shade I forego!
There are other investments
Much wiser, you know.

A Cough Leads to a Coffin.

There's a striking similarity in these two words. Both are to be dreaded. Coffins cost many dollars, whereas 25 cents buys a bottle of Four T's and cures the cough in 24 hours, making the coffin unnecessary. Four T's is acknowledged by all to be the best lung remedy in existence. Large bottles, 25 cents, at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

The Annual Convention in Peterborough Highly Successful.

VIEWED BY AN OUTSIDER.

His Description of the Town and the Trip Through the Kawartha Lakes to Lindsay.

Mr. G. R. Pattullo, Registrar, of Woodstock, who was one of the delegates to the Ontario Historical Society Convention in Peterborough last month, writes thus interestingly to the Sentinel-Review concerning his trip.

The Provincial Historical Society held its annual meeting this year in the east, and at two points, Peterborough on the opening day and evening, and Lindsay the following evening. Both meetings were highly successful, and at both the members of the local societies and citizens generally received the delegates of the Historical Society with marked cordiality.

In the afternoon of the first day the visitors enjoyed a three hours' drive about the flourishing town of Peterborough and its suburbs, including the village of Ashburnham immediately adjacent. All were surprised at the beauty of the town's location, the extent and promise of its manufacturing industries, the number and beauty of its parks and the generally picturesque location of the town and its surroundings. Peterborough has been fortunate in the circumstance that the late Mrs. Nicholls, who with her husband lived and prospered in Peterborough, left to the town and its citizens several large benefices, including Parks, a Museum, Hospital, Home, etc. One of these parks in the town has been tastefully laid out and planted and its location is extremely beautiful, with the Otonabee river running by. The other, a suburban park, is in its natural condition, except that beautiful driveways have been made through it, which, together with a living stream make it a very attractive resort. The hospital, home and museum for the maintenance of which as well as the maintenance of the parks the late Mrs. Nicholls has amply provided, have already been fully described by another contributor in the columns of the Sentinel-Review. Another object of interest at Peterborough was the lift-lock of the Trent Valley Canal in course of erection on the homestead of Judge Armour adjacent to Ashburnham. It is built of cement and in that as well as its peculiarity of mechanical construction and operation it is quite novel, being, if I mistake not, the only one of the kind in existence. The view of Peterborough and adjoining country from this point is very extended and picturesque. There are many beautiful residences in the town and well kept grounds, although there are no avenues equal to Vansittart, nor are the streets so generally tree-lined as in Woodstock.

Three of the industries that attracted my attention especially were the Canadian General Electric Works, the new Cereal Company's buildings and the Peterborough canoe factories. Everybody knows that the fame of Peterborough canoes is world wide, and they are being shipped weekly to every country in the world.

On the second day of our meeting the delegates enjoyed quite an unusual treat at the hands of the united local societies of Peterborough and Lindsay. This was nothing less tan a sail through the famous Kawartha Lakes from the village of Lakefield, situated some six or seven miles from Peterborough, to Lindsay. The time occupied was from nine o'clock in the morning until five in the afternoon. Although the Kawartha lakes and their singular and varied beauties are familiar to people in the eastern part of Ontario, it is probable that little is known of them in the west, even by the readers of the Sentinal-Review. They are situated on the heights of land between Lake Ontario and the Georgian Bay, being several hundred feet above both. They are bordered by pine, spruce, balsam and other evergreens and forest trees and a more ideal district for camping or holidaying one could scarcely imagine. Thus far too they have the advantage of not being over crowded as Muskoka and some other Canadian resorts are rapidly becoming. These lakes extend a distance of ninety miles, the scenery all through being almost matchless. The clear limpid water of the lakes is supplemented by countless rippling streams and dashing waterfalls, large and small, while the banks along the shore, the numerous little projections stretching out into the lakes, and the adjacent islands, form a kaleidescopic picture of ever changing sylvan beauty. The name Kawartha is Indian, and it is understood to mean "bright waters and happy lands." If this be really the meaning the name is most appropriate. This chain of lakes numbers eleven, including Balsam, Cameron, Sturgeon, Pigeon, Chemong, Buckhorn, Deer Bay, Lovesick, Stony, Clear, and Katchewanooka. Apart from the opportunities for hunting and fishing which these lakes and their surroundings afford, there are countless sites for camping grounds, summer cottages and holidaying generally. All of these lakes are being connected by the Trent Valley Waterway, or as it is generally known, the Trent Valley Canal. The object of this work is to connect the Georgian Bay with Lake Ontario, taking advantage of the water stretches or chain of lakes intervening.

A line of boats runs daily over these lakes, and objects of interest to the visitor are the several locks through which they run during the trip. At Sturgeon Point, Coboconk, Bobcaygeon and other points, numerous summer cottages have been erected, and these places have become quite popular summer resorts.

It is safe to say that the members of the Historical Society never enjoyed a more delightful outing than over these Kawartha Lakes between Peterborough and Lindsay and the recollections of it will long remain green in their memories.

The several meetings of the Historical Society were held at Peterborough in the afternoon and evening, on board the steamer when going through the lakes next day, and at Lindsay in the evening. An interesting programme of papers, addresses and discussions was provided, and the visit of the members of the society can scarcely fail to awaken an increased interest in the work that the Provincial Society is endeavouring to do. The annual address of the president, which was in the nature of a farewell, he having refused re-election as President, was a careful and comprehensive summary of the history of the society and the work thus far accomplished by it. The new president, Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Mrs. Fessenden, Judge Dean, Frank Yeigh, J. H. Burnham and others, also contributed valuable papers, and reports were received from all the local societies of the province, setting forth the work done by them during the year.

An invitation from St. Thomas to hold the next annual meeting there, was received, and it will probably be accepted, in which case I would suggest that the local society in Woodstock should forward an invitation to have one of the meetings held here. The dual arrangement this year was very satisfactory with Peterborough and Lindsay, giving an opportunity of visiting two different points at the same meeting. St. Thomas and Woodstock are sufficiently convenient to each other to enable the society to spend one day at each without inconvenience and possibly with increased interest. In the event of such invitation being accepted I hope the citizens and the city of Woodstock will endeavour to give the Provincial Society as cordial a welcome as was extended to them by the town and citizens of Peterborough and Lindsay.

The outing had special interest for my old colleague, Mr. T. H. Parker, who is an old Peterborough boy, and many of whose most pleasant recollections are associated with the fishing and hunting district of Rice Lake and adjoining neighbourhood.

Dubious About the Youth.

Burke once obtained a very early painting by Sir Joshua Reynolds. Calling on the great artist, Burke submitted the work as that of a young student who sought advice from the master. Reynolds had a long look, and then asked, "Is the painter a friend of yours?"

Burke replied in the affirmative. "Well," replied the great man, "I really don't feel able to give an opinion. It's a cleverish thing; but whether it is of sufficient promise to justify the young man in adopting art as a profession I cannot say."

Sir Joshua had entirely forgotten his own work.—Chambers' Journal.

Although the medicine business should, above all, be carried on with the utmost conscientiousness and sense of responsibility, the unfortunate fact is that in no other is there so much humbug and deception. The anxieties of the sick and their relatives are traded upon in the most shameful manner; impossible cures are promised; many preparations are absolutely worthless, and some are positively dangerous to health.

As a consequence, all proprietary remedies are regarded with suspicion by many people, and the good suffer for the bad.

Handsome Reception Gown.

Vandykes, whether in lace, appliqus or cut into the fabric of gowns, are once more enjoying a full measure of popular favour, after a temporary eclipse. The graceful garniture is shown to great advantage upon this charming gown. The material was crepe de chine of a pale mastic shade laid in groups of horizontal tucks, stitched with Corticelli sewing silk in self colour. The edge of the skirt was bordered with a beautiful Vandyked design in ecru Venetian point, the pattern being picked out with rhinestone brilliants, opalescent spangles and French knots worked in pale blue Corticelli EE twisted embroidery silk. The blouse was furnished with a cape collar of the same lace which gave that long sloping effect at the shoulders so desirable for the moment. The edge was finished with a narrow accordeon pleating of white chiffon, sprung with a tiny ruche. The scarf which ornaments the vest and the sleeve puff were of embroidered chiffon and lace.

CANADA CLUB DINNER

Significant References Made About Newfoundland.

SIR ROBERT BOND'S WORDS.

Right Hon. Edmund Barton, Prime Minister of Australian Commonwealth, Brings the Matter Up—In Replying Newfoundland's Premier Said the Joining of Canada Was Only a Matter of Terms.

London, July 17.— The Canada Club dinner last night was attended by the Colonial Premiers, now in London, and many other distinguished guests. Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, Canadian High Commissioner in London, presided. The Right Hon. Edmund Barton, Prime Minister of the Commonwealth of Australia, in the course of an address, made the first public reference to the plan for the confederation of Newfoundland and Canada, mentioned in these despatches. The Australian Premier said he hoped that all obstacles in the way of Newfoundland joining the Dominion would be removed.

Sir Robert Bond, Prime Minister of Newfoundland, replying, dwelt upon the great strategic value of Newfoundland, which, he said, stood as a sentinel at the gateway to the international waters of Canada. He traced the phenomenal recuperative powers of the island and referred to its present prosperity, declaring the question of confederation to be one of terms.

"If," said Sir Robert, "the terms are advantageous to the people of Newfoundland, I shall feel it my duty to lay the proposal before my people, and, if necessary, exert myself to bring the confederation about. We are not jealous of Canada."

Curious features of the affair are that neither Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian Prime Minister; the Canadian Government, nor the Imperial Government has yet mentioned the matter to Sir Robert Bond or to his ministers, and that the ball should have been started rolling by Premier Barton.

RETURNED HOSPITALITY.

Sir Wilfrid and Canadian Ministers Entertained a Distinguished Company at Dinner at the Hotel Cecil.

London, July 17.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Prime Minister of Canada, and the members of his Cabinet, Sir Wm. Mulock, Sir Frederick Borden, Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon Wm. Paterson, who are with him in London, returned the hospitalities that have been extended to them while in England by entertaining a distinguished company at dinner at the Hotel Cecil Tuesday night.

Her Royal Highness Princess Louise, Lord and Lady Minto, Lord and Lady Strathcona and Lady Aberdeen were among the notable persons present.

The Argonauts, Toronto's representatives at the recent Henley regatta, left Euston station at noon yesterday for Liverpool, where they sail for home.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, Attorney-General of Ontario, was one of the Canadians present to bid them goodbye.

Reginald Parmenter, Major J. C. Mason, and E. M. Hamber, of the crew, will remain in England for a time.

It is understood that there will be four meetings before the finish of the colonial conference.

As the Coronation procession has been cancelled soldiers will not be required from Canada. There are thirteen men, also some men of Canadian Hussars, Strathconas, Canadian Mounted Rifles and Governor-General's Body Guards who will represent Canada as mounted escort. Major Forrester will command.

A private meeting of shipping men in regard to the fast Atlantic line resulted, it is understood, in the Elder-Dempster and Allans uniting forces to secure the subsidy from Canada and Great Britain. It is expected Great Britain will give half of the whole amount.

The Shooting at Bisley.

Bisley Camp, July 17.—Yesterday in the "Armourer's Company" match Capt. L. G. Davidson, 8th R.R., scored 46 points, and Sergt. T. G. Bayles, of the 10th Royal Grenadiers, 45. The distance was 900 yards, with ten shots.

In the Ely revolver competition, at a distance of about twenty yards with a stationary target, six shots and a time limit of three minutes, Capt. T. G. Margetts, of the 25th Battalion, made 39 points.

Major J. H. McRobie, a Canadian, but not a member of the team, scored 37 points in the Loder Challenge Cup competition. The cup is donated by Major Reginald Loder. Shooting takes place at 600 yards with eight shots.

There is a possibility that Lord Kitchener will visit the camp on July 24. He will, if he comes, inspect the Canadian team.

FRED LEE RICE MUST HANG.

The Cabinet Decided That Law Must Take Its Course.

Ottawa, July 17.—As a last resort Mrs. Rice appealed Tuesday night to the Administrator, Sir Henry Strong to save her son, Fred Lee Rice, from the gallows. The old Chief Justice, however, made it plain that nothing could be done in the matter so far as he was concerned. The case was once more gone into at a meeting of the Cabinet at one o'clock yesterday. It is evident that some of the Ministers' sympthy had been won by the mother, but after a review of the whole matter, it was decided that nothing will be done. The law takes its course Friday.

WITHIN TWO WEEKS.

Lord Dundonald, Our New Commander, Will Arrive at Ottawa.

Ottawa, July 17.—Lord Dundonald, the new commandant of the militia, will arrive in Ottawa on the 26th inst., and will be welcomed by a salute of eleven guns and a guard of honor.

Gen. Smith Punished.

Washington, July 17.—General Jacob E. Smith, who was tried by court-martial at Manila on account of orders issued to Major Waller, and found guilty of the charges by the court and sentenced to be admonished by the reviewing authority, has been so admonished by President Roosevelt, and retired under the law which provides that officers having reached the aged of 62 years may be retired at will by the President.

Mr. Steyn Seriously Ill.

Cape Town, July 16.—Ex-President Steyn of the former Orange Free State, Mrs. Steyn and two doctors, sailed to-day for Europe on a British steamer. Mr. Steyn is suffering seriously from enteric fever.

THE JURY'S VERDICT.

Deadly Assault on Ninham Was Committed by McArthur.

FULL TEXT OF JURY'S DECISION.

The Jury Also Recommended That the License of Hugh Sharkey, Jr., Proprietor of the Woodbine Hotel Be Cancelled, Stating Reasons—Jury Were Out a Little Over One Hour Before Verdict.

London, July 17.—The inquest into the death of Gus Ninham, the Indian who was murdered at Woodbank, three weeks ago, was resumed last evening before Justice Ferguson. There were only two witnesses left at the last adjournment, who were heard last night. There evidence was of no importance to the case. This closed the evidence and the jury retired to consider the verdict.

After being out one hour the jury brought in the following verdict: That Augusta Ninham came to his death near the Woodbine Hotel, at Woodbank, in the Township of Westminster, about 12 o'clock on the night of June 21. Death resulted from the stoppage of the heart, caused by the excitement and blows on the head by assault. The jury believe the blows were delivered by John McArthur, and are of the opinion that the hotel at Woodbank is not only unnecessary, but a menace to the community, and would advise that the license be cancelled."

DEWINDT IS AT DAWSON.

Left Paris on December 10 For New York Via. Siberia and Behring Strait.

Seattle, Wn., July 17.—A special to The Times from Dawson, says: Harry Dewindt of Paris, traveler, explorer, author, journalist, and globe trotter, arrived with a party from Siberia on a river steamer last night. His companions are Mons. Le Viscomte Descillinchames Belgrade of Paris; George Harding, an Englishman, and Stephen Rastorguyef, a Russian from Yekutakat, Siberia, who the Government insisted should accompany Dewindt through the wilds of Siberia. Dewindt and his party left Paris Dec. 10, and when interviewed last night told of harrowing experiences with cold and hunger. The party reports famine among the natives at Nijinskobynisk.

WEST INDIA SUGAR.

British Government Will Assist Planters on Certain Conditions.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 17.— The Acting Governor has received an intimation that Joseph Camberlain British Colonial Secretary, subject to the approval of Parliament, is prepared to recommend to the Imperial Government that it place at the disposal of the Government of Jamaica the sum of £10,000, to assist the sugar industry in order that the sugar estates may not go out of cultivation, and, secondly to insure the maintenance of an adequate rate of wages.

The offer is hampered with conditions which, it is believed, will nullify its intention, and planters, generally, are not satisfied with its terms.

MARCONI'S PROSPECTS.

Wireless Messages Over the Atlantic Ocean by Christmas.

London, July 17.—As soon as Mr. Marconi returns to this country, in about three weeks, steps will be taken to establish a regular service between Poldu Station, in Cornwall, the American station at Cape Cod, and the Canadian station at Cape Breton. Mr. Marconi believes that if all goes well he will be in a position before Christmas to send ordinary message to Cape Cod or Cape Breton at sixpence, and press messages at twopence halfpenny per word. Connections with distant towns in Africa is also promised in the Marconi program of the future.

Castro Will Be Overwhelmed.

San Juan, de Puerto Rico, July 17.—It is believed here, and the opinion is said to be founded on good authority, that President Castro of Venezuela will be overwhelmed within two weeks. President Castro took the field against the revolutionists on July 6. Twenty-four persons were killed by a shell which fell in Caracas recently.

Tree Did Not Protect Them.

Albany, N. Y., July 17.—Charles Coons, jr., and his mother-in-law, Mary Kemp, who lived on a farm about 14 miles west of this city, took shelter under a tree during the progress of an electrical storm. Almost immediately afterwards a bolt of lightning struck the two, instantly killing both of them.

LOOKING TOWARDS CANADA.

Canada is looming up larger every day in the eyes of the British. The old time insular attitude of toleration, amounting to little short of insolence, is giving way to an appreciation of the fact that there is something in Canada worth looking at and worth looking after. The latest despatches inform us that three prominent members of the English Alpine Club are on their way across the continent to explore the Canadian Rockies with a view of making the reading public better acquainted with the unexplored peaks of the magnificent hills. These mountain ranges contain as grand and no doubt grander scenery than any of the comparatively little mountains of Switzerland and if they were the vogue would attract as many tourists across the ocean as the long popular Alps, and more, because there are more people on the other side of the ocean financially able to travel. Tourists have left millions of dollars in Switzerland and if the glories of our mountain scenery are effectively set forth in print by the visiting members of the English Alpine Club we shall doubtless have a liberal destribution of British capital through the pilgrimages of British tourists to the Rockies, which will represent a large expenditure in the country from the time the tourists land on Canadian soil in the east.

But that is not the only form in which British capital is likely to come to Canada. A prominent British capitalist is looking over the "Soo" with a view of establishing a large manufacturing industry at that point. And a Birmingham manufacturer of 40 years standing is at present visiting Canada and has a high opinion of the facilities existing in Canada for a great future for the steel industry. He speaks in reference to the situation at Sidney, N. S., as follows: "I should not be surprised to see Sydney become the Birmingham of America within 25 or 30 years. The position here for the manufacture of iron and steel is, in my opinion, as good as anywhere on the American continent." Mr. J. H. Parks of A. & F. Parks Company, Limited, Birmingham, is the man and the firm is one of the largest manufacturers of tools in Great Britain, and large consumers of iron and steel. They enjoy a very extensive trade in Canada at present, and Mr. Parks stated additionally that it might be advantageous for them to establish a branch in this country. He intimated that he was examining the different locations with that end in view and that the matter would be carefully considered after he returned to Birmingham. Mr. Parks has been a prominent figure in the industrial life of Birmingham for the past 40 years, and he is thoroughly familiar with every detail of the steel industry. Speaking of the big plant at Sydney, he said:—"I am very much impressed with its position, and it is my opinion that it is not only going to make a mark in Canada, but in the whole world. Canada has commenced to wake up, and its industrial progress is no wbeing keenly watched in Great Britain, and before long there will undoubtedly be considerable British capital invested in this country. But it might not be imagined that we are going behind on the other side. As a matter of fact, I have never seen Great Britain so prosperous as it has been during the past four or five years. We still have plenty of energy and considerable capital with which to back it up."

The Britishers are coming to recognize Canada as a part of the Empire, possessing vast resources and offering favourable conditions for the profitable investment of British capital.

HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY.

A sixteen-year old lad in Montreal has the making of an honest man in him. The other day he found an accepted bank cheque marked good, for $18,275. He took it home, and showed it to his father, who told the lad to return it to the drawers, which he did, and was made richer by a present of $5. Young Robillard, for that is his name, begins his business life well. Only a few days ago he began work as a printer, and the jocular paragrapher will doubtless found on this fact a joke to the effect that his being a printer accounts for the lad's honesty, and that this same honesty will keep him poor. Seriously, however, the honesty of the lad is no doubt due to home training. The father's directions to return the cheque at once, is only the last of a long course of honest admonitions that have been the lad's good fortune to have during his bringing up. In these days of gain getting and cynical disregard for ethical principles, where profit and accumulation of wealth are concerned, there is a dangerous tendency to moral laxity. It is of great importance to a lad starting in the business of his life to adopt strict ideas of honesty and honourable dealing. Sharpness in business may commend him to an unthinking employer, but it won't gain a boy the confidence of that employer, and will, sooner or later, react harmfully. The only thing better to a young man, or an old man, either, than a reputation for honesty, is to deserve it. Little lapses from honest dealing, little acts of crookedness, are more dangerous to a young man than some bold or considerable act of dishonesty. In the latter case detection is more probable, and the sharp lesson that follows detection will probably act as a deterrent. But little acts of dishonesty, practised time after time, with impunity, so far as detection is concerned, become a habit that may cling, and urge by degrees to the point of crime, with detection, punishment, disgrace and a ruined life. Let the boy or young man in positions of trust beware of small beginnings. A very little thing in the way of crookedness will forfeit the confidence of his employer and that is the beginning of the end of his usefulness.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The average fisherman lies in wait to catch fish, and lies in weight when he, perchance, has caught them.

Living will be a good deal harder than dying next winter, with wheat going up to $1.00 per bushel, and coal at $7 or $8 per ton.

The editor of the Examiner would soon starve in Germany, where a newspaper editor has been jailed for telling the truth—he said the Emperor had a swelled head.

A high Chicago authority predicts that wheat will reach $1 a bushel before many months. If Manitoba's crop "pans out" well the Northwest will strike a bonanza this year. The Toronto bakers evidently think the price of wheat will advance. They are ready for it. They have already advanced the price of bread.

The hot weather is bad enough, without having to worry over the price of coal. The strike in Pennsylvania has cost up to the present fifty millions dollars. The mine owners won't lose their share of this cost so long as the public have to buy coal, and he is optimistic who expects any drop in price till this loss is met anyway.

The Ontario Conservatives seem to be so anxious to promote political purity that they are willing to spend money to manufacture evidence of electoral corruption—on the part of of Liberals of course. The Hamilton Times remarks that when the North Wentworth election petition against the return of Mr. Thompson the Liberal member elect, reaches the court, should it ever get that far, we shall probably hear something about the methods of the Tory machine in seeking for evidence. The purchase of lies under oath for spot cash may get some people into trouble—and jail.

"KEEP COOL."

The Advice of Bobcaygeon Independent.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says; The general election in May last was simply a Grit and Tory struggle. There was no political, social or economic principle involved. It was merely a question of whether Mr. Ross, a Grit, or Mr. Whitney, a Tory, should be the premier. At the conclusion of the election Mr. Ross had a majority of four. One of those elected to support Mr. Ross died, and Mr. Ross had his majority reduced to three. Then, after legal proceedings, Mr. Carscallen was adjudged by the court to have been elected and not the Ross supporter. This reduced the Ross majority to one. There are now several protests being considered by the courts, and the result will not be known for some little time, but the conditions will probably remain unchanged.

The Tories throughout the Province are raising a yell and demanding that Mr. Ross should resign and give place to Mr. Whitney. This demand is not likely to be granted. The two parties will have about the same strength in the Legislature when it assembles. If it is wrong for Mr. Ross to be Premier with only a majority of one it would be equally wrong for Mr. Whitney to be Premier if his majority was only the same. This argument is unanswerable—but the reply of the Tories is that we shall at once have another election. This is unreasonable. The Province suffered severely in the recent election, in turmoil, business disarrangement and in the development of ill-feeling. The Province does not want another election. The proper course to pursue is quite obvious. Mr. Ross with his majority of one, should continue to conduct the business affairs of the Province until the Legislature meets, and then a want of confidence motion should be moved in the House by the Tories. If defeated on the vote Mr. Ross would certainly have to resign and Mr. Whitney would take his place. If sustained, Mr. Ross would hold office for the usual term. Is not that all clear, distinct and reasonable? Then why keep up this racket, yelling and shouting about Ross resigning or about an appeal to the country and another election? The Legislature will meet in a few months, and then will be the time to come to a decision. This journal strongly advises both Grits and Tories to keep cool. If there were any important principle at stake there might be just cause for hurry, but there is not.

One Common Cause of Headache.

Perhaps the most general cause of headache and pain across the eyes is nasal catarrh. The simplest cure is to inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone which traverses every air cell and air passage of the throat, lungs and nose. It kills myriads of germs at every breath, clears away mucous discharges, preserves and heals the membrane. Catarrhozone is just a splendid remedy for headache, and its action is certain and unfailing in diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Deafness, Bronchitis, Asth and Catarrh. A trial will convince the most sceptical that Catarrhozone is all right. Large size, $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Grand Lodge of Ontario Meets at Windsor —First Day's Work.

Windsor, July 17.—The Grand Lodge of Ontario, A.F. and A.M., convened in the 21st Regiment Armory here this afternoon, it being the 47th communication of that body. The Grand Master's address was read by Acting Grand Master, Judge Harding of Toronto, and proved to be the most satisfactory in recent years.

In opening, he referred to the death of Grand Master R. B. Hungerford, and of 24 others in the jurisdiction, and made a feeling reference to the assassination of President McKinley at Buffalo.

M. W. Bro. Hugh Murray, Grand Treasurer, presented his report which shows the receipts to be $25,341.45, and the expenditures $20,777.12, leaving a surplus of $4,564.33.

The Benevolence Committee's report showed the grants made this year to be $12,065.

The condition of Masonry was presented by Aubrey White, of Toronto, showing that 363 of the 367 lodges had been officially visited during the year. General satisfaction exists throughout the jurisdiction.

The Duke of Connaught was made an honorary Past Grand Master. The election of officers will be held today, and a hot contest for every office is anticipated.

There's a striking similarity in these two words. Both are to be dreaded. A MINING DISASTER.

Explosion in a Deep Mine Shaft Costs Many Lives.

POWDER MAGAZINES BLEW UP.

A Rescuer Succumbs to Noxious Gas—The Explosion of the Two Powder Magazines Was at the 1,200 Foot Level, and Was So Powerful That Horses a Mile and a Half Away Were Killed.

Park City, Utah, July 17.—Two powder magazines at the 1,200-foot level of the Daly-West mine exploded about 1 o'clock yesterday morning, causing a loss of life that at present cannot be estimated nor even guessed at. At 4 o'clock 27 men had been taken out of the mine dead, and several others had been recovered in a half dazed condition. These were all brought out through the Ontario mine shaft, which is a mile distant from the Daly-West, in which the explosion occurred. The 1,200-foot level of the Daly-West corresponds to and is connected by tunnel with the 600-foot level of the Ontario.

In the Daly-West mine between 100 and 150 men were at work. In the Ontario were nearly 100, it is believed.

It is not known how many of these are dead, but the disaster extends to the Ontario, as the noxious gases that have been freed are known to be the cause of several of the deaths. The presence of these gases leads many miners to believe that the powder was burned and that the explosion was not the chief cause of the disaster.

There are two powder magazines at the 1,200-foot level of the Daly-West mine, one at each side of the shaft, with a capacity of from one to two cars of powder each. A car of powder was added to the supply within the past few days.

Three dead men have been taken out of the Ontario shaft. It is believed all were suffocated.

The explosion was so tremendous that it is said that two horses in the ore tunnel, one and a half miles away, were killed by it.

Women and children are thronging to the Ontario shaft house, which is midway between Park City and the Daly-West. Nearly all of them have husbands or fathers in the mines and their grief is pitiable.

Members of a relief party who went into the Ontario mine shortly after the explosion occurred, have not yet returned, and fears are entertained for their safety.

Officials of the Daly-West say that only three more bodies are in the mine. Miners, however, assert that 12 or 15 men are still unaccounted for.

The fumes from the explosion caused most of the deaths.

John McKeaghlin, a rescuer, who went down a second time to give help, died on being brought to the surface. He was asphyxiated.

Eight miners escaped through the anchor tunnel unhurt.

CHOLERA IN PEKIN.

Several Deaths Have Occurred and Plague Is Spreading Inland.

Pekin, July 16.—Several deaths from cholera have occurred in the Forbidden City. The Dowager Empress is alarmed, and has kept the court physicians busy preparing remedies. The disease is increasing, especially among the Chinese soldiers here and at Pao Ting Fu. Reports from various parts of the Empire show that the epidemic is steadily spreading inland from the coast.

He was removed in the ambulance to the Sick Children's Hospital.

FREIGHT HANDLERS LOSE.

Ten Days' Strike Ends in Unqualified Victory For the Railroads.

Chicago, July 17.—After ten days of strike the Chicago freight handlers' strike terminated yesterday in an unqualified victory for the railroads. A meeting of the strikers, presided over by President Curran, resulted in an almost unanimous vote to return to work, leaving the wage scale and other questions for settlement between the men and their respective roads.

At the conclusion of the meeting the strikers went by hundreds to the warehouses to apply for their old positions, and the teamsters who have remained out in sympathy again took up their reins. By noon immense quantities of freight, which had been held back for drays, were being rushed to the railroads, or taken from warehouses and cars. Chicago merchants expressed unbounded relief at the termination of the strike but they were scarcely less happy than the men themselves. The strike is estimated to have cost the merchants $10,000,000, to say nothing of the trade they have permanently lost.

The meeting of the strikers was brief, only long enough for an angry speech by President Curran, who complained of treachery in the union ranks, and the taking of the vote.

The Association of Railway General Managers, embracing every road which enters Chicago, have issued the following signed statement:

"All of our old men, not before on hand for work, reported at the freight houses at noon yesterday were put to work. No conference was held with any committee or otherwise since Tuesday, and no agreement was made with the union or with any committee. The men simply reported for work, and they doubtless expect and will receive the pay offered July 1, and which the railroad companies have been willing all along to pay."

CONFIDENT OF VICTORY.

President Mitchell of the Mine Workers Expresses His Views.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 17.—President Mitchell, of the Mine Workers, arrived yesterday for the miners' convention, which will meet to-day. He declined to express any opinion as to the probable action of the convention saying he did not know what would be done. "I shall make a speech at the opening of the convention," he said, "but I will wait until that time to say whatever I intend to say. I am confident that we will win our strike." We are in good shape to continue the strike and have plenty of money at present."

The opinion prevails among the delegates who are here that President Mitchell will not advise a strike of the soft coal men.

Delegates to the convention began to arrive yesterday morning. While in general, those who have arrived are non-committal, the majority of them do not favor a strike. This aspect may change somewhat when the anthracite men arrive.

The trees are in fine shape, the lawn is perfect, and flowers brighten the pretty landscape. What a change will the old boys' see. The townsfolk are preparing for their visitors; the paint-pot is in evidence. The "guid auld toun" is at its best, and is waiting for its coming guests. Flags and bunting are to be seen here, there and everywhere—shopkeeper and householder are getting ready for the event of the year.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams Gives His Version of the Band Difficulty.

In an interview this morning with Mr. J. B. McWilliams, regarding the trouble that appears to exist between the local Orangemen and the 57th Regimental Band, Mr. McWilliams said that the facts of the case are about as follows: "I was one of a committee that interviewed the band regarding having them accompnay the local Orange Lodges to Lindsay on July 12th. They asked $120 and expenses. We told them that we would not give more than $60 and expenses, but later I offered to put $10 additional to this amount myself. Mr. Mein, on behalf of the band, then offered to go for $82.50 and expenses, for 30 men, but he was again told that $60 was the limit the Orangemen would go in their price, and I myself did not feel disposed to add more than $10 to this amount. The negotiations with the 57th Regimental Band ended at this point and the Orangemen began to look elsewhere for a musical organization."

Speaking as to the alleged attempt on the part of certain members of the 57th to prevent other members from playing in Mr. Miller's band, Mr. McWilliams said that he does not believe that Mr. Mein would be a party to such action, although he had reason to know that efforts were made by some of the 57th to induce certain players to not turn out with Mr. Miller's band. However, Mr. McWilliams says that personally he has nothing against the 57th Regimental band and has been a subscriber towards its maintenance for many years. The transaction between the Orangemen and the 57th Band was merely a matter of finance.

LIEUT.-COL. EDWARDS GOING TO RETIRE

From the Command of the 57th Peterborough Rangers.

He Will be Succeeded by Major Miller Capt. Hayes to Become Junior Major —Other Changes.

At a meeting of the officers of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, last night, Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards made an announcement that came, it is said, like a thunder bolt from a clear sky. He announced that he had forwarded his resignation to the Militia Department, and he hoped that the officers of the Regiment would be agreeable to the acceptance of the same. The reasons Lieut.-Col. Edwards assigned for this action were that he was desirous of seeing Major Miller command the regiment before he reached the age limit, and, secondly, he found it impossible to give the required time to both his militia and professional duties.

Sould the resignation of Lieut.Col. Edwards be accepted, and it is quite reasonable to believe that it will be, as he appears to be firm in his determination, general regret will be felt amongst the men of all ranks. He has been identified with the Peterbor Rangers for a great many years, and three years ago succeeded Lieut.-Col. R. W. Bell as Commanding Officer. Since that time he has been untiring in his efforts on behalf of the Regiment, and the inspection of the corps during the past few years, and the inspection of a week ago, particularly, have been highly creditable to him. Lieut.-Col. Edwards could, if he chose, remain in command for another two years, and his decision to retire, after only three years' command, is not only unusual, but quite unexpected.

MAJOR MILLER.

According to the rules of seniority in military matters, Major Miller will assume command of the 57th upon the retirement of Lieut.-Col. Edwards. Major Miller's connection with the Regiment has been long, faithful, and in every sense of the word, creditable. He is very popular among his fellow-officers, non-commissioned officers and men and is one of the best qualified men in the Rangers. During his term of office as Senior Major he has been a great source of strength to his predecessor, Lieut.-Col. Edwards. His promotion will be well deserved.

CAPTAIN HAYES.

By the promotion of Major Miller to the command of the Regt., Major Stevenson will become Senior Major, and the Senior Company Officer, Capt L. M. Hayes, will be made Junior Major. There will follow then a general shuffling up of the officers, as in the re-organization two more companies will be most likely added to the strength of the corps.

The above announcements, it must be remembered, have not been gazetted as yet, but they will appear in general orders it is expected in the course of a week's time.

STEAM YACHT FOR THE LAKES.

Mr. H. G. Buck's Fine New Pleasure Yacht.

This morning there passed through town on a flat car a fine new steam yacht, the "Maida Vale," built for Mr. H. G. Buck, of Norwood, at Hastings. The builder was Mr. William Hickey, of Ashburnham. The new craft, launched at Hastings about three weeks ago, and of which a description appeared in the Examiner, is thoroughly equipped and appointed. The elaborate upholstering was done by Mr. Elric White, town, and every other appointment for comfort and even luxury has been carefully looked after. It is to be hoped that the owner and his friends will enjoy no end of pleasure in the waters of the Kawartha Lakes. The new steamer will carry a fairly large party comfortably.

NOVEL SCHEME.

Cooked Meat Departments at Kennedy's.

A novel feature in connection with Kennedy's Meat Market, George street, is the cooked meat department. This is an entirely new idea in Peterborough, and in fact, in Canada, but the support it is receiving promises to fully repay Mr. Kennedy for the enterprise he has shown. He has engaged Mr. William Wooling, of Toronto, who has had a large experience in the cooked meat line, and he has charge of the department in the basement of Mr. Kennedy's establishment. The apartments are fitted up in genuine kitchen style, and each day a fresh and appetizing assortment of cooked meats, such as pressed beef, jellied veal, jellied ox tongue, jellied calves tongue, cooked ham, etc., is provided. Mr. Wooling has the experience, the facilities and the material to enable him to turn out some very choice cooked meats, and this is done, as may be evidenced by any one who may have tried them. The cooked meat department at Kennedy's should prove a boon to housekeepers.

DIED IN THE BUGGY.

J. W. MacNaughton of Peterborough Succumbs to Christian Science.

Port Hope, July 16. — Joseph William MacNaughton, of Peterborough, died in a buggy this morning at Henry Gobeen's gate, Hope township, on his way home, after being treated by Christian Science.

He had been brought from Peterborough three weeks ago last Monday to be treated by "mental truth," and so far recovered that his father came in to take him home. He got Joseph as far as the gate, when his mother noticed that he had "passed on," in other words, died.

Dr. Corbett will hold an inquest tomorrow.

DIED WHILE ON THE TRAIN.

Sadly Sudden Death of Mrs. J. B. King.

Wife of Grand Secretary King Meets Death in Pullman Coach.

This morning a shockingly sudden death took place on the Grand Trunk west-bound express, near Belleville, when the wife of Mr. J. B. King, Toronto, the veteran Grand Secretary of the Oddfellows, passed away very suddenly.

Mr. and Mrs. King were returning home from Kingston, where they and many prominent Oddfellows, had been attending the annual meeting of the Oddfellows' Relief Association. When the train was nearing Belleville on its way west, Mrs. King was suddenly attacked with illness, in a Pullman coach, and expired almost instantly. A medical gentleman, who was on the train, said that death was due to paralysis of the heart.

The previous day Mrs. King was apparently in the best of health. She accompanied the party on the excursion amongst the Thousand Islands, which the directors of the Association tendered the visiting Oddfellows, and appeared to be in the best of spirits and health. However after the return to the city she complained of feeling ill and the physician she consulted advised an early return home. She and her husband and other members of the party left Kingston at one o'clock this morning for Toronto, but she met her death, as related, before the train reached Belleville.

The late Mrs. King was about sixty years of age and leaves behind her to mourn her sadly sudden demise three sons and two daughters.

Grand Secretary King will have the sympathy of tens of thousands of Oddfellows, with whom he has been associated officially and personally during his more than a quarter of a century of occupancy of the post of Grand Secretary of the Oddfellows Order.

BASS FISHING.

It was noticed that all of the female bass which were caught in the first few weeks after the season opened at Stony Lake contained spawn, and thus hundreds of thousands of fish were undoubtedly destroyed. Even now many of the fish caught are found to contain spawn. In this connection the Toronto Star says:

"We have received the assurance of a good many anglers that we are correct in saying that the spawning season for black bass is not over in the Muskoka and Georgian Bay districts until the middle of July.

"This is not news, of course to the authorities who have charge of such matters, but if evidence on the point is lacking it can readily be had, and, considering the present and future importance of bass fishing as an attraction to tourists it is to be hoped that the officials will consider the suggestion that in the more northerly waters of the province the close season should be extended to July 1st, or better still, until July 15th. There would be considerable opposition raised if the date were changed to July 15th, because it would have a tendency to shorten the season at the summer resorts, but the bulk of opinion would support a change of date that would open the bass season on Dominion Day.

"There ought to be a careful enquiry made by the Provincial authorities to see whether the present close season for black bass cannot be improved upon. Anglers will tell you that these fish spawn much earlier in Lake Erie, Lake Ontario, and Lake Huron than in the more northern waters of the Georgian Bay and Muskoka. Fishing begins on the 16th of June, and yet on the 5th of July the writer caught bass north of Penetang that were full of roe. Those fish were caught two or three weeks too soon, yet they were caught nineteen days after the opening of the season. After their eggs are deposited and hatched, black bass nurse and tend their progeny for a time, and without this attention the little fellows cannot survive. All through the Georgian Bay and Muskoka summer resorts black bass are, in our opinion, caught too soon. An experienced fisherman, who has made a living with his nets and lines up there for a dozen years, strongly argues that the black bass season should not open until the 15th of July. He thinks the close season should be adjusted in different districts to suit the ascertained requirements of the fish.

"There is another aspect to the question. The bass fishing of Muskoka and Georgian Bay is one of the chief attractions to tourists. The flow of tourists is in the latter half of July and in August. If the bass season opens a fortnight or a month before nature is ready for it, the fishing is seriously injured by the time the great body of visitors arrive. A few fishing parties get in and make big catches. They rob the spawning beds without knowing it. They find a solitary bass under the wing of a rock and carry it away in triumph, not reflecting that it is the parent fish doing duty over its offspring. Later on the bass, being sociable fish, are found not in this solitary state but in schools, and that is the time for catching them The bass fishing of the summer resorts is worth looking after, and it seems evident that a change in the close season is advisable."

AUSTRALIAN STATISTICS.

The Religions of New South Wales From the Census of 1901.

Mr. T. A. Coghlan is the first of the Australian statists to publish facts gleaned from the census of 1901 as to the religions of the people, says The Sydney, N.S.W., Bulletin. His very detailed return shows that there are something more than 144 Christian sects growing on the Cornstalk's lone and dusty patch of the earth; 144 are detailed, right down to the sect which describes itself as "Pleading for the Return of the New Testament, Christian in Faith and Practice," with just one adherent; then other churches, of less importance than that, are summed up as "other Christians not classifiable." This contemptuous grouping is possibly due to the fact that they have only a fraction of an adherent, or, mayhap, to the consideration that some church with one adherent persists in describing itself by a title running into 2,200 words. Churches with only one adherent have a failing in that direction. But there are very many sects with a congregation of one which find mention; for instance, "Saint" and "Believer in God spelt Good." "Christian, Acts XI., 26" is a church with two members, and "Assembly of God" has three. Dealing with the large sects, one fact recorded is that the Salvation Army in 1891 had 10,815 adherents, while in 1901, with a largely-increased population, it has only 9,585. Ten years ago its adherents formed 0.92 per cent. of the community, while they now form only 0.71. The Church of England boasts the largest numerical increase for the decennium, having 623,131 professed adherents in 1901, as against 503,054 in 1891; the percentage of its adherents to the total population was 44.75 per cent. in 1891, and 45.99 per cent. in 1901. There is no doubt of the growing popularity of Anglicanism in Australia. The Church of England makes no awkward demands on its adherents; it is sufficiently broad to keep within its fold even those who don't believe in anything, and it has a solid air of respectability which leads the man who is really an Anythingarian to describe himself as an Anglican. In short, it is the refuge for the man who is too tired to have any particular religion, and being too tired even to give an explanation to that effect he passes as an Anglican. Roman Catholics show a numerical increase, and also a very slight proportional increase, the first for three decenniums. In 1871 Roman Catholics made up 29.29 of the population; in 1881 the proportion had fallen to 27.63, and in 1891 to 25.53; now, in 1901, it is 25.63. Hebrews keep the same percentage (0.48) as in 1871, and number altogether 6,447. Indefinite religions total among them 128 followers, and include such items as Ark of the Covenant, 1; Canopists, 2; Secret Independent Believer 1; Celtic 1 (surely not E.W.O.S.!) There is no such thing in the State as a Calithumpian, but there are 11 Mormons (7 males and 4 females, if you please), and 660 Latter Day Saints, exactly half of whom are saintesses. Altogether a community of less than 1,400,000 souls runs more than 144 Christian religions, 15 non-Christian religions, 33 indefinite religions, and several different sorts of Agnostics. Unfortunately, there is no hope of an export trade in religions.

THAT AWFUL GAS.

For Years This Form of Indigestion had Troubled Mr. Harmer—Now all the Bloating and Belching has Gone.

Indigestion manifests itself in many forms. One of the most trying and unpleasant symptoms is the formation of gas in the stomach, and the consequent belching up, bloating and distress.

This was how it affected Mr. W. H. Harmer, of Avonmore, N. B., and in this way he had been troubled for a long time. Nothing he used as a medicine seemed to improve his condition until he commenced a treatment of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

This favourite remedy once more demonstrated its wonderful curative properties by immediately relieving and in a very short time completely curing Mr. Harmer's trouble.

He has written a letter in which he expresses his gratitude to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets for their prompt and satisfactory cure of his trouble. He says:—

"I know of several others here who have used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets with good results."

The evidence of these wonderful cures pour in daily from all parts of the Dominion. From east, west, north and south come grateful letters from people in all stations of life, who had almost given up hope of ever being cured, and who have found in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets a remedy they so long had sought.

The wonder is that every Dyspeptic has not already heard of and used this remedy.

One of the serious symptoms of this disease is fear and doubt, and this may account for the fact that there is a single case of Dyspepsia left in the Dominion of Canada.

Surely these earnest, honest letters and statements of living men and women will convince the most skeptical Dyspeptic that to suffer a moment longer when a cure is at hand is unnecessary.

What has cured all kinds of cases, of every conceivable form, in old people and in young people, is surely worth a trial.

If you don't believe, ask these people, or any one else who has given Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets a fair trial.

SONGS THAT KILLED SINGERS.

Two Died While Singing "Good-Bye, Dolly, I Must Leave You."

The popular song of "Dolly Gray" has connected with it two sad and striking tragedies. Not long ago a promising young actress fell dead on the stage of the Lyceum Theatre, in Birmingham, England, just after finishing the refrain, which, as everyone knows begins with the line:

"Good-bye, Dolly, I must leave you"

Now news comes by cable of an occurrence equally pathetic, which took place at Southend a few weeks back. A child actress was singing "Dolly Gray" at a place of entertainment in the seaside town on a Monday night. On Tuesday she was too ill to appear and on Wednesday was dead.

Few of the musical world forget the shock caused a few years back by the tragic death of the famous contralto, Madame Patey. The vocalist had created an immense success at a concert in the provinces, and in response to a vociferous encore returned to the platform and sang the pathetic Scottish ballad, of "The Banks of Allan Water." Madame Patey gave the last line:— "There a corpse lay she"—with thrilling expression, walked from the platform, and straightway fell dead. The gruesome coincidence was much commented on at the time.

Even more striking was the death of an opera singer in Melbourne in 1897. The opera for the night was Gounod's immortal "Faust," and the stage singer was cast for Mephistopheles, the evil spirit. All the evening the tempter flitted sardonically about the stage in his flaunting suit of red and black—the "devil's livery—" and his jaunty cock's feather in his cap, gloating over the ruin he was bringing by his insidious arts on his unfortunate victims — Faust and Margaret.

The last act came in due course. Poor tortured Margaret had found among the angels the peace denied her on earth, and the profligate Faust was about to suffer the penalty of his misdeeds. Mephistopheles summoned him to the infernal regions. The trap in the stage opened, and the Evil One and his dupe sank from sight. When the curtain had fallen, those about the theatre were horrified to learn that the representative of Mephistopheles had died suddenly during the descent of the trap.

There is a well known instance of a song which killed not the body but the mind of its singer. A certain promising young vocalist was on a tour with a comic opera company, playing a repertoire of well-known musical pieces. He made such a hit in a patter song that he toured in the part season after season, his rendering of the ditty in question at last mounting up into a numner expressed by four fingers. The deadly last mounting up into a number excitable artistic mind. The poor young fellow became quite mad, and had to be removed to an asylum.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The liver is responsible for more ills and suffering than is generally supposed. Once the workings of the liver are disordered the blood is not properly filtered and foul impurities are lodged in all parts of the system. Much of the success of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills is due to the fact that they act directly on the kidneys, liver and bowels, makin gthem active and regular.

Mr. B. Knowles, broommaker, 566 Main street, St. John, N. B., writes: "For years I suffered from kidney and liver disorders. I had severe pains in the back and they caught me especially when I stooped over. I was also troubled with indigestion and severe headaches.

"I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and cannot speak too highly of this medicine, for it has done me a world of good. The back pains and headache have been entirely cured, and my digestion is good."

PINKEYE.

Some Information About Contagious Sore Eyes in Cattle—Probably A Germ Disease—Proper Treatment.

"There exists each summer in the United States and Canada, a contagious inflammation of the eyes among cattle that is popularily called "pinkeye" from the red and inflamed appearance of the eye. The disease is quite widely distributed and while it occurs at all seasons of the year, it is most frequently observed during the summer months while cattle are on pasture, as dust and pollen from plants increase the irritation of the eye. "The disease was first observed by the writer in this State," says N. S. Mayo, of the Kansas Experiment Station, "but since that time has spread rapidly, and is now quite common. The disease seems to attack young cattle rather than old, but cattle of all ages will take it, and it seems to affect old cattle more severely than calves. It does not affect other animals than cattle.

"The cause of the disease has not been discovered, although it is believed it is due to a germ. The manner in which the disease is spread from one animal to another, is little understood, although flies are believed to play an important part. The disease however spreads during the winter when there are no flies about. Direct contact seems to be a means of spreading the disease. They undoubtedly aggravate it, but the disease must be introduced into a locality by an infected animal.

"The first symptom usually noticed is a profuse discharge of tears from one eye, running down over the face. Dust and dirt often adhere to the moist hair and a dirty streak is observed, especially in white faced cattle, extending from the inner corner of the eye downward across the face. The disease usually begins in one eye and later attacks the other eye. In some cases both eyes may be attacked at the same time. Associated with the discharge of tears is a swelling of the eyelid which are nearly closed, partly from the swelling, but principally to keep the light from the eye, as bright light seems to increase the pain. The front part of the eyeball becomes milky white in appearance, and one spot usually red or coppor colored. At this point an abcess or small gathering usually forms and looks to be a reddish fleshy mass. It breaks and discharges a small amount of pus or matter that escapes with the tears. As the animal recovers and the eye resumes its normal condition, a white speck remains on the eyelid for some time as a scar showing where the abcess existed. In a few cases this abcess weakens the front of the eye to such an extent that it bursts and allows the contents of the interior chamber of the eye to escape. A few of the cases where the eye bursts will heal and the animal will recover the sight, but in a majority of the cases, the animal will be permanently blind in the eye. A few cases are reported where both eyes have burst and the animal was permanently blind in both eyes. During the acute stages of the disease if both eyes are affected at the same time, the inflammation may be so severe as to cause a temporary blindness, the animals being unable to see at all, and it is necessary to feed water to them to prevent them from falling away rapidly in flesh. If the animal has the disease in an acute form there is often some fever associated with it; and in practically all cases the animals cease to ruminate, and stand about with ears lopped and eyes closed, exhibiting all signs of severe suffering. Milch cows usually fall away in the amount of milk secreted, or in severe cases, it may be stopped entirely. Owing to a closing of the eyes, together with pain, the animals do not eat well, especially while at pasture, and as a result fall away in flesh. Since practically no animals die of this disease and only a few are permanently affected as to sight, the greatest loss is in the shrinkage of flesh that follows the attack of the disease.

If possible the disease should be prevented by keeping infected animals away from the healthy. After the disease is once introduced amongst a bunch of cattle, by separating and isolation the affected animals as soon as the first symptoms are shown, the disease can be checked. It is not practicable to attempt to treat a large number of animals unless they should be especially valuable or suffer from the disease in a severe form. When it is advisable to treat an animal it should be placed in a darkened stable, the eye thoroughly washed with cold water, all secretions removed, and a solution of boric acid, twenty grains dissolved in an ounce of water, should be applied. A few drops of Harlem oil, or a little ointment made by mixing one part of finely pulverized iodoform, with twelve parts of fresh lard or vaseline can be applied directly to the eyeball, by putting it on the inside of the eyelid, and gently rubbing it over the surface. Cloths wet with cold water and kept over the eyes are useful in reducing the inflammation. Practically all animals make a good recovery in from three to four weeks."—F. W. Hodson, Live Stock Commissioner.

BULLER IN CANADA.

His Opinion of Colonials—His Experience of Canucks in the First Northwest Expedition in 1870.

In the second volume of The London Times' History of the War, the attitude at the beginning of the war of the British war authorities in respect to colonial troops is thus set forth:

Already in July some of the colonies had expressed their eagerness to send a contingent in case of war with the Transvaal. These offers were repeated at the end of September, and were welcomed with gratitude by the nation. In the War Office they were, however, by no means regarded in the same light. The military authorities believed that they had an amply sufficient force in every arm for their purpose. They thought colonials would be difficult to manage and little use, an encumbrance rather than a help. If they could have had their own way they would have accepted none of the offers. It was only in deference to the strongly expressed wish of the Government that Sir Redvers Buller consented that small detachments representative of each self-governing colony should have the privilege of accompanying the army.

In explanation The Canadian Gazette (London, England) says:

From our own knowledge we may say that this is an accurate statement of the case. We believe that a political member of the Ministry made an express visit to Aldershot to interview General Buller on the subject of these colonial offers. The general was somewhat contemptuous. What could colonials know about real warfare? Why bother fighting men with a crowd of toy soldiers? It was in some such spirit as this that he put forward his views. It was represented to him, that for political, if for no other reasons, the offers must be accepted. "Very well, then," he said in effect, "let us have as few as possible, fit them up into units of about one hundred and twenty-five men each—infantry, mounted infantry, or cavalry, but unmounted men preferred." The Times puts the official reply in these words: "In view of numbers already available, infantry most, cavalry least serviceable."

We are afraid that these facts will not tend to increase Canadian regard for the grim old warrior who led the army against the enemy entrenched in the hills on the north bank of the Tugela river. And we are amazed that Buller had not a better opinion of colonial troops—at least of Canadians, for he had some experience of our boys.

In 1870 Wolseley's little army was crawling through "New Ontario" on its way to Fort Garry. Boats for the expedition were being taken up the Mattawa River. A company of the Fourth Sixtieth Rifles (regulars) left Calderon's Landing one day at noon with a brigade of boats. The next morning No. 2 Company, of the First Ontario Rifles—Canadians—left the same place with another brigade of boats. Shortly before noon the Canadians overtook the British regulars, and were amazed to see the "engineering" operations adopted by the regulars to get their boats up a swift rapid. The men were put in a boat with poles, to keep the course. A tracking rope, attached to the boat's stem, was passed around a tree, which had been barked to enable the rope to slip, and the whole company of regulars were pulling back on the shore end of the rope, wasting nine-tenths of their power in the friction that the tree afforded. This extraordinary operation was superintended by Capt. Buller.

The Canadians looked at the rapid. Guessed they could climb it without "tracking," got out their poles, and walked their boats up the rapid without the least difficulty.

That was Gen. Buller's first defeat, and he should have been able to learn from the incident that Canadian colonists were not far behind the regular soldiers of Great Britain in some things.

Wolseley—then colonel in command of the expedition—learned to admire the Canadian colonists; but it seems that Capt. Buller was never able to overcome his horseguards and pipeclay prejudices in favour of the machine soldier.—Hamilton Spectator.

The Law of Compensation.

Yesterday a Toronto mother walked to church with her son. She was happy, for he had come many miles to visit her, and as he sat close by in the family pew, tall, erect, and like his father, now gone, mother felt the thrill of pleasure, the beginning of the recompense. The toil, the petty troubles and sleepless nights of babyhood, the further anxiety surrounding the years of youth and approaching manhood, were overshadowed yesterday by the presence of the son beside her.

Don't be forgetful, don't be fretful, the law of compensation runs through it all, magnificent in operation, as real as life, as sure as death, and as faithful as the morning sun.

And because of this universal law we in every walk of life find in our estate something to make us happier and brighter than we otherwise would have been.

So do not be envious, whatever your lot, for by this law of Compensation, the light and shade, the hilltops and valleys, the bitter and the sweet, will ever be part of our existence.—Toronto Star.

Condensation.

If science goes on discovering new means of condensing things for us, there seems to be every reason to believe that the time is at hand when existence will mean nothing but tabloids from the cradle to the grave. The great French chemist Berthelot declares it quite possible to exist without any of the foods we now possess, even milk being dispensed with, but at present the process is too costly to be of use, but he hopes some day that the cost may be overcome. And as another French chemist has invented a method of compressing sea air into tabloids it is obvious that life will not be worth living at all in the coming by and by if the pilule system is adopted. We shall care nothing for early asparagus or strawberries; ducks and game, salmon and the spring chicken will cease to be, and the flying machine means of locomotion will render us indifferent as to scenery.

A Burden to Self and Others.

"Take care of your health; you have no right to neglect it and thus become a burden to yourself and perhaps to others." When the liver gets sluggish, the kidneys inactive, and the bowels constipated, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will promptly set your filtering and excretory system in perfect order, and insure good digestion and good health. There is no medicine so generally used, and none so successful. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

Sham Champagne.

Canadian apples are cored, sliced and dried, sent to France and there converted into cider. With the addition of carbonic acid gas and yeast and a little flavoring powder the cider becomes champagne, and much of it comes to England, and is drunk under the delusion that it is of the best brand.—London Family Doctor.

FROM COBOCONK TO LINDSAY.

An Enjoyable Day's Outing in Karwartha Lakes.

Notes on the Way Over This Picturesque Route—It was a Popular Trip.

"All aboard!"

At the words the sharp blast of the whistle starts the echoes rattling merrily away amongst the hills, the lines are cast off, and the staunch little steamer "Manita" heads out into the river, en route from Coboconk to Lindsay.

An early start—6 a.m.—but who thinks of that? All the freshness, all the intoxicating life of the early morning, enters into one's soul, until one feels like giving vent to the exhiliration of spirit by a tremendous shout that will awaken the drowsy village.

Coboconk, the picturesque little hamlet, with its old bridge, its hills and ivy covered cottages, soon vanishes behind a turn in the river, and the vessel glides swiftly along. In the pilot house with the genial captain—it does not require the gift of a clgar to open a friendship—who could be morose on such a morning? — one watches all the beauties of the river and listens to the store of information that worthy possesses.

There, a sudden splash, and a series of widening circles, mark the spot where some giant frog takes to ignominious flight at the sight of the strange monster invading his domains. Countless feathered songsters circle hither and thither about the steamer and wooded shores; silver arcs of flashing light mark where the finny denizens of the river are leaping about in the pure enjoyment of living; all nature seems to revel in the beauty of the early morning.

Now, the boat, skirting a tree-crowned point, where the forest winds away into the dusk of the tall trees, heads out into the broad sweep of balsam Lake, the surface breaking into hundreds of flashes of dazzling light as the sun, now mounting higher, bathes the scene in golden glory.

Suddenly, while one watches the sylvan scene with unconcealed enjoyment, the clank of the bell rings out, and the steamer comes to a stop in the lake, and lies gently rocking. In surprise one turns for an explanation, when from behind some frowning, fir-crowned island, comes a small boat, urged swiftly along; a moment later the passenger is aboard, a good-bye hail rings out, and the skiff rapidly drops behind as the boat hastens onward. Soon the whistle echoes along the high bluffs, and an abrupt turn brings one to the entrance of the Rosedale River.

To the west, dimly seen on the horizon, a white gleam marks the entrance to the locks of the Trent Canal at Kirkfield, but the eye soon turns to the varied beauties of the charming retreat at Rosedale.

Through the swing bridge, greeting the bronzed keeper with the freedom that is peculiar to these sylvan wilds, the vessel now threads her way cautiously down the narrow river. The channel, entirely blasted out of the bed rock, is narrow, and on each side the jagged rocks and refuse can be plainly seen through the clear water.

A few moments suffice to overcome the slight drop at Rosedale lock, and rounding a great curve about a grassy promontory, the route lies down the river by a maze of broad-leaved lilies and white flashing willows. The intoxicating fragrance of the pine woods is wafted to one's senses, as the narrow passage is traversed, until the stream broadens into the sparkling expanse of Cameron Lake. The twin openings of the Rosedale and Burnt Rivers are left behind, and the course lies directly across the lake. Past a group of red-shirted lumbermen, engaged in slowly piloting some vast crib of logs, with the aid of their ungainly "alligator," a contrivance equally at home on land or water, until gliding between the stone piers of the Grand Trunk Railway swing-bridge, the steamer lands at her wharf in the heart of Fenelon Falls and the sudden knowledge strikes one that a two hours sail in the early morning has awakened an appetite that is quite foreign to one whose life is spent in the narrow confines of a smoke begrimed city.

Breakfast over—and a hearty one it is—one regains the boat to find that it has been lowered some 30 feet by means of the great double locks of the canal, which were here necessary to overcome the drop of Fenelon Falls, and a moment later the boat departs for Lindsay.

Directly after leaving the wharf, the steamer is caught in the swirl and turmoil of the rapids just below the falls and as she dashes swiftly down the river, one has a grand view of the great dripping locks, towering high above the vessel and the white foam of the water as it surges over the rocky ledge. Fenelon River, lined on either side with great high rocky cliffs surmounted with firs and shrubs is most picturesque and furnishes a panorama of scenic beauty that is hard to surpass, gradually opening out into Sturgeon Lake with its expansive areas and hazy distances, the whole run culminating in the entrancing beauties of far famed Sturgeon Point.

The groves of majestic maples and pines crown all the grassy slopes, revealing amongst their bosky aisles, entrancing views of the dainty cottages of those fortunate individuals who here resort to revel in the manifold delights of a Kawartha holiday. Soon the passengers all embarked, good-byes are said and the gallant little steamer heads across the lake for the lighthouse that marks the entrance to the Scugog River.

The sail across the lake is over all too soon, perhaps one is fortunate enough to camp at that ideal little camping-site of Pleasant Point, but the vessel soon finds herself gliding around the myriad bends of the Scugog, now disturbing some ungainly crane that with ponderous flight sails slowly away into some mysterious fastness amongst the beds of waving rice, now running a futile race with the train from the north that dashes swiftly along the shore and disappears behind the hills, until soon the signs of busy Lindsay become more marked; the spires of the town are seen ahead; the roar and rattle of the many mills that line the river fill the air and the steamer glides into her wharf, after a four hour sail that for scenic beauty and healthful enjoyment is difficult to rival.

HAVELOCK CELEBRATION.

Over 6000 Visitors in the Village on the 12th.

The Hastings Star says; "The Orange celebration at Havelock on Saturday came up to every expectation. Twenty-two lodges were in the procession and at least six thousand were in Havelock on that day. The Hastings lodge left here at 7.30 and after marching through the village drove to Havelock via Trent Bridge. They looked quite smart in their new uniforms and regalia. They arrived home at 7.30 p.m. The Roseneath and Alderville lodges each ran an excursion to Trent Bridge from Rice Lake, and both were well attended. Preparations are being held to have the 'walk' held in Hastings next year, and it is expected that it will be a joint county affair, both East Peterborough and East Northumberland Lodges taking part. The Hastings lodge has already started to make preparations, and already invitations have been sent out. This will be the first walk held in the village in thirty-five years."

SHALL WE HAVE THE SALE

Of Live Stock Such as Those Held in Guelph?

Agricultural Society and Farmers' Institute Held a Joint Meeting Last Evening.

Last night a meeting was held of representatives from the West Riding Agricultural Society, and West Riding Farmers' Institute, to consider correspondence had with the Department relative to the proposed sale to be held at a point in Eastern Ontario, of fat and thorough bred cattle. The sales held at Guelph have proved to be phenomenally successful and remunerative, and the establishment of a similar sale at a convenient point in the Midland counties, would be appreciated. It would help to bring the town before the country, and with the railway facilities we have it should become a permanency.

The upshot of the matter is that Peterborough can have the sale, if the necessary accommodation can be furnished. This will consist of a suitable building or buildings, well lighted, both day and night, with an ample supply of water; also the necessary stalls or mangers, or suitable troughs. Also a supply of good, clean straw, sufficient to keep the animals clean during the time they are in the building. These arrangements the municipal authorities are asked to guarantee, subject to the approval of the Sales Committee.

The question is where shall such a building be found. The local committee have been at work, but no satisfactory solution of the difficulty is found. The council will be waited on at an early day and the matter placed before that body, with the hope that the opportunity to secure the sale for Peterborough will not be let pass. Peterborough, in justice to its prominent position in the eye of the province must exert itself, and a joint pull by our local interests would help to solve the knot.

STOCK MARKETS.

Some Bull Pointers.

New York, July 16th. — Present weather in the great crop belt could not be finer for maturing the growing cereals. Experts of the corn trade figure the approximate value of this year's corn crop will be fully $600,000,000 more than last year while the undervalue of this year's wheat crop below that of its predecessor will be less than 75 million dollars. This great point has caused capitalistic interests to purchase heavily in the current market. Later on and at correspondingly higher prices, it will draw in the public as a buyer. Their purchases will give the market an immense upward turn above the figures recorded by the early buyers, as the public is the greatest and most irresistible purchasing power extant. We have been, and cannot too urgently urge you to buy stocks now instead of after the best of the cream is off the rise. Europe will shortly make heavy demands upon this country for breadstuffs and cotton, while it is a certainty that we will in the next three months be in receipt of at least $25,000,000 gold from the Klondike. A marked increase in bond dealings the past few days at advancing prices savors well for future prices. It shows that money is seeking investment. Such buying is the best extant in as much as it takes the goods actually out of the market, as the coming of the robin foretells the summer, the appearance of bond buyers in Wall street heralds the approach of the public to buy stocks. We are in the midst of a summer bull market, consequently it is necessary to take advantage of the money making possibilities instantly by immediately purchasing. Hesitating buyers will most likely be compelled to pay higher prices. We have stated right along that the current market was one of the safest ones in which to make purchases that we have ever seen. The bullish cavalcade is well under way. Go with it, buy stocks immediately, accumulate more as they advance and don't be afraid to hang on to your commitments.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

Victim of the Experiment.

Dover, N.J., July 17.—Miss Emma H. King, the young woman who submitted to inoculation with the germs of consumption less than a year ago in order that Dr. George D. Barney of Brooklyn, might prove the theories he held in regard to tuberculosis, died in circumstances which the county authorities think need investigation, at the farm house of Alfred Shuman, at Skippenport, on Lake Hopatcong, five miles from this place, on Sunday night.

Miss King died of poison self administered, but it is not believed that she meant to kill herself. On the contrary the arsenic powder which killed her was a medicine which she received according to Mrs Shuman to restore her to life and vigor which were hers before she consented to become a martyr to science, but which she had never enjoyed from the time Dr. Barney operated on her.

South Huron Protested.

Goderich, Ont., July 17.—To-day Dickson & Carling, solicitors, of Exeter, filed with D. McDonald, Local Registrar, an election petition to disqualify and render M. Y. McLean incapable of sitting in the Local Assembly for South Huron. Henry Eilber is the petitioner.

Manitoba's Great Crop.

Winnipeg, July 17.—Manitoba farmers are now enjoying beautiful weather and many are enthusiastic over the outlook for another bumper crop. Continued hot days and cool nights are doing wonders in advancing the date of harvest.

To Tax Laundries.

Kingston, July 10.—A tax rate of $25 is proposed to be put on all laundries in this city. The matter will shortly come before the City Council.

LONG LIVE THE KING.

Long live the King!
Long live the King who hath for his own
The strongest sceptre the world has known,
The richest crown and the highest throne,
Of a glorious past, whose every page
Reads—loyalty, greatness, valor, might,
Peace with honor, or stubborn fight:
And a flag that will never cease to be,
So long as it waves o'er land and sea,
The emblem of Truth and Liberty.
Britons! Britons! the wide world o'er,
Long live the King! we cry once more,
Long live the King!

—Jean Blewett, in The Globe.

FALL OF A SCAFFOLD

Three Men Fell a Distance of 75 Feet and Were Killed.

A FIERCE AND FATAL STORM.

A Son of Mr. Cotnam Killed and Three Others Injured—Several Barns Demolished Near Pembroke—A Tremendous Hailstorm—Hail at Ottawa—Damage by Lightning—Boy Killed at London.

Port Arthur, Ont., July 18.—Yesterday afternoon three young men, named Blackwood, Harvey and Johnston, were working on staging suspended on ropes, putting metallic sheeting on the new C.N.R. elevator, when one of the supporting ropes broke and the staging was precipitated. The three workers went with it, falling a distance of 75 feet to the dock. Blackwood fell under the others and died in a few minutes. Harvey died shortly after being taken to the hospital, and Johnston late last night. All of the victims lived here, and were all about 20 years of age and unmarried.

Fatality at Pembroke.

Pembroke, July 18.—A heavy wind and rainstorm visited this section yesterday afternoon, doing great damage. Three miles below town a barn belonging to Robert Cotnam, was blown down, and his young son killed; two others were injured.

A barn near the town, belonging to Peter White, jr., was blown down, and one man injured, also a barn on the farm of David Sheppard, about a mile from town was also destroyed.

Fierce Storm at Ottawa.

Ottawa, July 18.—A terrific electrical storm, accompanied by heavy rain and hail, swept the Ottawa district yesterday afternoon and left considerable damage in its trail. Three-quarters of an inch of rain fell in 12 minutes. The wind was tornado-like in velocity. Day's Rink, a mammoth structure, was lifted bodily and piled in a heap in the centre of Gladstone avenue. Cellars were flooded and on Victoria street a hole six by eight feet was caused by a cave-in of the sewer. The railway report washouts of culverts. A considerable quantity of grain was lodged in the country, and great quantities of mown hay was badly damaged. The hail was about the size of a bean, and came down with awful force.

Killed Watching the Circus.

London, July 18.—The five-year-old son of Fred Keene, was fatally injured yesterday morning at the corner of Talbot and Albert streets. He was waiting for the circus procession, and as it hove in sight, he started to cross the street, to get a better position, when he was struck by a butcher's wagon and knocked down, the wheels passing over the boy's head and fracturing the skull.

Caught in Revolving Shaft.

Belleville, July 18.—A terrible accident happened at Glen Lewis, Hastings County, on the 14th, when a two-year-old son of Willard Conley, was caught in the revolving shaft of a flour mill and whirled around at the rate of 40 revolutions a minute. He was thought to be dead when released but medical attendance was obtained, and, strange as it may seem, hopes are now entertained for the youngster's recovery.

Thirteen Were Drowned.

Portsmouth, N.H., July 18.—A sail boat containing 16 persons capsized in the lower harbor yesterday afternoon and 13 of them were drowned. The bodies have been recovered.

PEACE WILL BE PERMANENT.

Whitelaw Reid Sees Coalescing of Hostile Parties in South Africa.

Liverpool, July 18.—Speaking at a banquet given last night in his honor by the American Chamber of Commerce, Whitelaw Reid, the head of the United States Embassy to the coronation of King Edward, congratulated the country on the extraordinary rapid recovery of the King.

Referring to the conclusion of peace in South Africa, Mr. Reid said: "It has now become plain that this peace is to be permanent, that the coalescing of the hostile parties is to be genuine and that, as in the case of our civil war there is to rise from the battlefields of two determined and worthy foes a compact, united power, embodying both and greater than both."

Boys's Bicycle Competition.

Cape Town, July 17.—The ladies of Cape town yesterday presented Mrs. Steyn, wife of the ex-President of the former Orange Free State, with a purse of £1,000 before she sailed for Europe with her husband and two doctors on the steamer Carisbrook Castle. Mr. Steyn was in a pitiable condition from enteric fever. His arms and legs were partially paralyzed, and he was unable to open his eyelids.

Canadian Casualties.

Ottawa, July 18.—A cable from Cape Town announces the death from gun shot wound, accidental, July 2, at Maldeal, of William Holnbeck of the South African Constabulary. His wife, (nee Mary Holnbeck, resides at Cobourg, Ont. Thomas Taylor of Sherbrune, N. S., a member of the Sixth Canadian Mounted Infantry, and Fred Clark of the Fourth Canadian Mounted Infantry, are dangerously ill with tuberculosis.

Wife-slayer Lynched.

Owensboro, Ky., July 18.—Joshua Anderson was taken from jail here early yesterday morning by a crowd of men and hanged to the cross beam of the city scales. Thursday night Anderson went to the home of his wife, three miles below town, called her out, and shot her three times, instantly killing her.

Cordon Around Ladrones.

Manila, July 18.—An extensive drive, with the object of capturing the Imfrone chiefs, Montalion and Felizardo, and 50 of their followers, is progressing in Cavite Province. Twelve hundred constabulary, commanded by Capt. Baker, moved yesterday at daylight, forming a complete angle-shaped cordon covering 60 square miles. Patrol launches are guarding the rivers. NEW CABINET MEETS

Mr. Chamberlain, Though Pale, Was in Attendance.

EARL CADOGAN HAS RETIRED.

Gen. Buller's Case to Come Before the House of Commons—Vote of Censure of the Government Defeated by an Overwhelming Majority—New Scheme of Military Education Proposed.

London, July 18.—The Premier, A. J. Balfour, presided yesterday in the Foreign Office at the first Cabinet meeting of the new Administration. The Colonial Secretary, Joseph Chamberlain, was sufficiently recovered from the effects of the cab accident, which disable him, to be able to attend. Owing to his disabled his hansom in favor of a more luxurious carriage. He was pale, and wore a soft felt hat. Otherwise he showed no signs of his injuries.

The meeting of the Cabinet gave fresh impetus to the reconstruction reports. One of these is the suggestion that the Duke of Marlborough will succeed Lord Curzon of Kedlestone as Viceroy of India, but there is not the least possibility of any such appointment. It appears very doubtful if Lord Curzon will come home before the expiration of his term of office. As a matter of fact there is no appointment which could be offered him, except the Foreign Office, which would be a promotion from the Vice-royalty of India, and there is no indication that Lord Lansdowne has any intention of retiring. Under no circumstances, however, would the Duke of Marlborough be given such an important post as India, though he might possibly succeed Earl Cadogan as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. All suggestions in regard to appointments are still of a highly tentative character.

Earl Cadogan Resigns.

Earl Cadogan yesterday resigned the Lord Lieutenancy of Ireland.

GEN. BULLER'S CASE.

War Secretary Brodrick Says He Is Good Fellow Commander—Vote of Censure Lost by 236 to 98.

London, July 18.—The Buller controversy was again raised by Sir Edward Gray, Bart. (Liberal), in the House of Commons yesterday on the War Office vote. Sir Edward charged the War Office officials with having acted unfairly towards General Buller, and demanded the publication of further papers.

The War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, opposed further publications which, he declared, could not relieve Gen. Buller of the responsibility of such mistakes as the abandonment of the guns at Colenso, and the proposals to surrender Ladysmith, which, if they had been listened to, would have produced a disaster for which there was no parallel in British history. In regard to those proposals, continued Mr. Brodrick, when Gen. Buller sounded his note of despair to Gen. White, he had a heliogram in his pocket, received a fortnight before, saying that Gen. White had provisions for 70 days, and could defend Ladysmith while the food lasted. Gen. Buller's retention after Colenso and Spion Kop was inevitable under the circumstances, and his appointment to command at Aldershot was simply a resumption of his former office. Gen. Buller was a good peace commander.

Sir Edward's proposed vote of censure of the Government for its treatment of General Buller was subsequently defeated by 236 noes and 98 ayes, after much speech-making.

Simultaneously the War Office was being attacked in the House of Lords. Lord Monkswell (Liberal), brought up the scathing allegations contained in the report of the Committee on Military Education, and urged the immediate appointment of an inspector-general of army education. Lord Raglan, the Under Secretary for War, and Lord Lansdowne, the Foreign Secretary, defended the War Office, saying that a new scheme for education, containing sweeping changes, was in process of being drawn up. This statement satisfied Lord Monkswell and his supporters, and the motion was withdrawn.

Missionaries Beaten.

St. Petersburg, July 18. — The Novoe Vremya yesterday publishes a despatch from Seoul, Corea, which says that two American missionaries were stoned and beaten on the line of the Seoul Fusen Railroad by Japanese laborers, and that the Japanese minister has expressed regret and promised the severe punishment of the offenders.

LALLY BARNARD'S LONDON LETTERS.

At present, and for the past few weeks, London, the heart of the Empire, has been the centre of interest, not only to the Empire but to the world at large. After reading the telegraphic despatches relating to the Coronation preparations, and the stirring events connected with that great occasion, it is positively refreshing, after waiting a few days, to read the letters of Lally Bernard, the Toronto Globe's special Coronation correspondent. The despatches have been fragmentary, jerky and too often filtered through American news sources, and suffering in the process—in bad taste, gushing or derogatory, often contradictory, and largely destitute of the spirit of sympathy and identity with the interests of the occasion, which Canadian readers required. The London letters of "Lally Bernard" are charmingly written, in good, sound virile English, equally delightful, in sympathy and effectiveness. The writer possesses wonderful grasp of situations and seems to intuitively touch the core of the matter under treatment. Military, political, social and regal matters are all happily dealt with. The descriptions are charming, not fine writing, nor petticoat gush, but vivid word pictures of scenes and events drawn with impressment skill, but, withal, with good literary shading. While the letters of "Lally Bernard" glow with the Imperial spirit, they are interwoven with the thread of loyal recognition of the importance of Canada's relations to the Empire at large, and of her peculiar interests. The Globe, always enterprising, always anxious to provide the best for its hosts of readers, is also always happy in the selection of its special correspondents, but it is doubtful if the editor could have chosen a better or more satisfactory Coronation chronicler, than "Lally Bernard." While we all deplore the circumstances which led to the postponement of the Coronation, the readers of the Globe have gained by it a series of pictures of conditions, social, ecclesiastical and political, which have brought them intimately in touch with the real conditions, and which would have been relegated to a comparatively obscure or secondary position, if the Coronation solemnities and festivities had more exclusively deamnded the correspondent's attention. "Lally Bernard's" Coronation letters from London will take rank as classics in journalistic literature.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The tonnage of the British merchant fleet in 1850 was 32,634,000; in 1900 it was 208,707,000. British foreign trade in 1855 was about £260,000,000; in 1900 it was about £877,000,000. That shows how Britannia is being "ruined" by free trade.

Conservative journals have another fault to find with Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He declined to entertain a proposal to increase the amount of his salary as premier — something contrary to Conservative principles and repugnant to Conservative feelings.

The Conservative yellow journals have often charged Liberals with using "Yankee gold" to influence electors. Now the Mail admits that the Conservative Association employed Yankee "gall" of 40-thug power to help the Whitney candidate in North York.

Mr. Whitney has failed to score a majority of the legislature, but there are compensations. He can boast of a majority of protests against the return of his supporters. Altogether 31 protests have been entered, fourteen against Liberals and seventeen against Conservatives. The Opposition has therefore a majority of three, the only majority that promises to be within their reach.

The German Emperor ascribes his good health and vigor to the excellent advice given to him by his favourite doctor, and he has learned by heart the latter's "rule of life," which is as follows: "Eat fruit for breakfast. Eat fruit for lunch. Avoid pastry and hot cakes. Only take potatoes once a day. Don't drink tea or coffee. Walk four miles every day, wet or fine. Take a bath every day. Wash the face every night in warm water. Sleep eight hours every night."

The London Lancet confers a boon on the house-wife by explaining the causes of thunder souring milk. This learned authority has given two causes. The souring of milk by thunder is due to chemical convulsions or to a stimulus given to bacteriological agencies set up by an opposite electrical condition superinduced by the disturbed electrical state of the air. This should be a great comfort to the house-wife. No more sour milk by thunder. She has only to cure the chemical fits or Paris green the bacterological condition and the milk will stay sweet.

BURSTING INTO LIFE.

As an illustration of the way towns spring up in the West, the case of Crofton, on Vancouver Island, may be mentioned. A smelter is being constructed there, with a capacity of 350 tons a day, which is expected to be operation by the first of August. Four months ago the place had no existance, and now it has a population of five hundred and buildings are going up rapidly. There is a daily steamer service between Crofton and Sydney, with which a large barge has entered into daily competition, and the boat from Sydney to Nanaimo has also begun making daily calls.

Thus, at a place, where on the opening of spring, the wind sighed through lonely trees, there is now a brisk town, and the waters of the bay are startled by the wheels of three rival steamship lines competing for the trade of the port.

THE FORTY MEN FROM GOTHAM

Must the Liberals go forth and dig in order to find the forty election purifiers imported by the Conservative party from the wicked city of Gotham? If these men were brought over to promote honesty in politics, and if, after getting here, they worked at the job, why should their operations be kept dark? It should not be necessary to locate them by the means ordinarily employed in locating wicked men who seek to corrupt electors, and yet this is what is being done. Underneath the bad practices used by the Conservatives in North York, two of them have been found concealed. They do not look like election purifiers. If the Mail and Empire had not told Hon. E. J. Davis that they were here to promote purity in the North York election, Mr. Davis would not have known it. In fact he still thinks they were there to promote his defeat in ways that Tammany has found highly successful.

Imagine for a moment the outcry that would be made if it were learned that the Liberals had done what the Conservatives did — imported forty "detectives" from North York and distributed them throughout the close constituencies "to guard against corrupt election methods." Would they not be denounced as hired hoodlers from the most corrupt political centre in the world? But the Mail blandly explains that these men were imported to purify, not to pollute, the election. It may be all right, but how does it sound? As the election trial proceeds, more will be learned of the work done by these men and it will probably be found that these detectives were here to detect electors who had itching palms.—Toronto Star.

MR. MITCHELL'S ADVICE.

Opposes Sympathetic Strike of Soft Coal Miners—Suggests Plan For Aiding the Anthracite Strikers.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 18.—If the voice and influence of President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers shall prevail with the members of his organization, there will be no general strike of the organization. The chances of such a step are very remote. In his speech in the convention yesterday afternoon, Mr. Mitchell advised strongly against a strike, and urged that the bituminous miners continue to work, and that a system of assessment upon the members of the order, which he outlined, be carried into effect, as the best means of affording aid and support to the striking anthracite miners in the east.

President John J. Mitchell strongly opposed to ordering of a sympathetic strike, and advocated in its place, the following policy:

1. That the treasurer of the order be directed to appropriate $50,000 for the relief of the anthracite miners.

2. That the unions appropriate for the same purpose as large a sum as they can afford.

3. That an assessment of $1 per week be levied on all members of unions.

4. That all officers of the national districts drawing a salary of $60 a month or over contribute 25 per cent. of their salaries.

5. That an appeal be made to all trade unions and citizens generally to aid the cause of the miners.

6. That an address to the American people be issued, appealing to the American people to bring pressure to bear as will compel the operators to submit to arbitration.

President Ryan of the Illinois miners, at once offered a motion, which was promptly seconded, that the recommendations be adopted. The question was being put when a delegation rose to ask for information, and then arose a debate, which continued until the convention adjourned to 10 o'clock this morning

One Mine Resumes.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., July 18.—The Susquehanna Coal Company resumed work with its No. 7 breaker at Nanticoke yesterday, announcing that it had sufficient men. The officials say the coal is stock coal, which was on hand at the time the strike began. They will work the mine daily, they declare, and ship the coal to market.

RUSSIA REDIVIVUS.

How the Great White Bear Would Curtail Evil of Trusts.

London, July 18.—Details of an important move by Russia, which have evidently been suppressed hitherto by the censor, have transpired in London. The move is no less than a proposal by the Imperial Government for an international conference to deal with trusts.

Baron De Staal, Russian Ambassador in London, about ten days ago presented to the British Government a note from M. De Witte, the Russian Minister of Finance, which note was sent also to all the powers that signed the Brussels sugar convention, proposing that these powers should consider a common means to protect international commerce against the artificial depression of prices, not only by Government measures such as export bounties or the control of production, but also by the much more dangerous processes adopted by trusts, private undertakings, or cartels, which tend artificially to influence the international market.

This explains the mysterious reference made in The Financial Messenger of St. Petersburg early this week to a recent note of M. De Witte, which the paper said "is an application in the economic domain of the principle of The Hague conference."

TASSIE OLD BOYS.

Welcomed by Mayor and Trustees of the Collegiate Institute

Galt, July 18.—The Old Boys' of the late Dr. Tassie's grammar school now known as the Galt Collegiate Institute are holding a re-union and semi-centennial celebration here yesterday and to-day. Ex-pupils who date their connection with the school as far back as 1850 are in attendance. Large numbers from distant points throughout the Dominion and the United States are present to participate in the hand-shaking and general jollification of the occasion. The Mayor and the Board of Trustees of the Institute, formally welcomed the guests yesterday afternoon on the school grounds. A grand promenade concert was held in Dickson Park last night, at which the 48th Highlanders' Band of Toronto, supplied the music.

Ask Duty For Wheels.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 18.—At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the League of American Wheelmen, yesterday, a bill from the Canadian Government for $500 was received. The Dominion Government claims this is due under an agreement with the league some years ago for the privilege of passing wheels into Canada on presentation by members of their membership cards free of the scheduled 30 per cent. ad valorem duty. It was required that members should register their wheels when leaving Canadian territory, and this, it is alleged, a number of the members failed to do. The Canadian Government assumes, therefore, that the wheels were sold in Canada.

One Common Cause of Headache.

Perhaps the most general cause of headache and pain across the eyes is nasal catarrh. The simplest cure is to inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone which traverses every air cell and air passage of the throat, lungs and nose. It kills myriads of germs at every breath, clears away mucous discharges, preserves and heals the membrane. Catarrhozone is just a splendid remedy for headache, and its action is certain and unfailing in diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma and Catarrh. A trial will convince the most sceptical that Catarrhozone is all right. Large size, $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure constipation.

Vinegar as a Solvent for Glue.

For all the fish glues, vinegar is a good solvent. When gluing a piece of woodwork, if any particles of glue get on places where it is not desired, wet a bit of cloth with vinegar, and rub it off. If the glue in the bottle becomes too thick, thin it with vinegar rather than water.—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Right to Judge.

Persons who have used Dr. Chase's Ointment have the best right to judge of its merits and there is no preparation on the market to-day which is backed by such a mass of unsolicited testimony. It cures eczema, salt rheum and piles so promptly and thoroughly that people feel it a pleasure to recommend it to other sufferers. See testimonials in the newspapers.

The Nine Hour Day.

Toronto, July 18. — Yesterday morning a very important decision was arrived at in connection with the movement for a shorter working day. The committee of the Iron Moulders' Convention on a shorter work-day brought in a report which recommended that a general demand be made on May 1st, 1903, for a nine-hour day. At present the iron moulders work ten hours a day. The committee recommended that all wage agreements in future shall stipulate nine hours a day. Those opposing the committee's report proposed as a substitute motion to encourage the local unions in all cases where they were asking for increase of wages to give preference to a nine-hour day rather than insist upon more wages. This peaceful solution was carried in preference to the committee's report, by a large majority.

COLONIAL QUESTIONS.

Ministers in London Talking of Various Projects.

PRECEDENTS IN THE DOMINION.

Admiral Moresford's Suggestion—Sir Wilfrid Laurier on Canada's Future as a Grain-Supplying Country—Proposed Combination Between Allan and Elder-Dempster Line—Wireless Messages to Canada.

London, July 18.—Nothing has been officially reported about the meetings of the Provincial Premiers and Ministers from Canada, who are here at present, but it is understood that they have discussed the important question of securing better terms for the Provinces from the Dominion. An increase has been proposed for all Provinces, and its adoption would mean an increase of half a million per annum in the revenue of Ontario, the other Provinces in proportion. The Maritime Premiers, Messrs. Tweedie, Murray and Peters, desire that the money from the fishery award should be divided amongst the Maritime Provinces. They think they would have a good claim in an arbitration on account of their great fishing trade.

The question of the precedents given Provincial Premiers and Cabinet Ministers in the Dominion was discussed. At present the Provincial Ministers rank after Dominion members of Parliament, and the opinion of those at the conference is very strongly to the effect that they should rank after the Dominion Cabinet Ministers.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is evidently considering the preferential trade question seriously and tactfully. I hear this afternoon an authentic report that in his interviews with the British Government Premier Laurier said that he did not want Britain to tax its people for the benefit of Canada, but suggested that as Britain taxes all grain it should exempt Canadian wheat. Perhaps Canada might be able to reciprocate by the admission of some articles of British manufacture. It is said that the British Ministers are considering the proposal.

The banquet given by the Canadian Club last evening was a successful affair. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Edmund Barton, Sir Robert Bond, and the Canadian Ministers now in London were among the distinguished guests. Canada's Prime Minister, in his speech emphasized the loyalty of the Dominion, and declared that if they only had sufficient emigration to the codntry Canada could supply all the grain the entire Empire needed. At present the country wanted population.

Nothing definite has been reached in regard to the combination between the Allans and the Elder-Dempster Line towards securing the fast line subsidy. No offer has yet been made, but representatives of these steamship companies are interviewing Cabinet Ministers and presenting their scheme for a fast line between Canada and Great Britain.

In order to shorten the conference, the Premiers are having special interviews with the Admiralty. Defence and other departments in regard to preferential trade and the proposed steamship line. Admiral Lord Charles Beresford advises helping Canada with a fast steamship route. With a British combine for Atlantic trade it would surely knock J. Pierpont Morgan's plan in the head.

The Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company announces that they will send commercial messages to Canada before December. The rate will be 6d a word for private messages and 3d a word for press messages.

Sergt. W. C. Smith, of the 43rd D. C. O. R., was credited with 47 points in the Armourers' company match, 900 yards, with ten shots.

Lady Aberdeen, wife of the former Governor-General of Canada, and Col. Otter of Toronto, visited the Canadian hut yesterday.

Capt. C. N. Mitchell's score in the Armourers' Company reached 45.

Honor For Sir Wilfrid.

A few of the best cattle sold at from 4½c to 5c per lb.; medium stock sold at from 3½c to 4¼c and the common cattle at from 2½c to 3¼c per lb. Rathbun Co's Big Drive.

The last of the Rathbun Co's. drives for the season has reached Fenelon Falls, from Stanhope Township, in Haliburton County. There are over 100,000 logs in the drive, and it is one of the largest that has been towed to Deseronto for some years. After the logs have passed the slide and been assorted the drive will be towed by the alligator McIntosh to the above town. Foreman Geo. Jackson and H. McCormick are in charge of the drive.

Why He Resigned.

In the Examiner's item yesterday, with reference to the resignation of Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards from the command of the Peterborough Rangers, it was made to appear that that gentleman found his professional and military duties to conflict, and that he therefore felt it better to sacrifice the latter. This was misleading, as Lieut.-Col. Edwards' sole object in resigning before his term of command was up is in order that Major Miller, who will be retired by the age limit in a couple of years, might have the command of the Regiment, and attain the rank of Colonel before being placed on the reserved list.

WAS ALMOST A CALAMITY.

The Deck of a Scow Was Swept and a Young Lady Injured—The Scow Broke Away.

The Methodists of Hastings ran an excursion to Healey's Falls to-day, by steamer Rainbow and barge, and a calamity was very narrowly averted. The water is exceptionally high for this season of the year, and the current is very swift at the Narrows at Trent Bridge. Capt. Burnett, with clever forethought, landed his heavy cargo of human freight on this side of the bridge, and attempted to go through the bridge with about 25 on the boat and only four on the scow, one of the latter being Miss Short, of Hastings, who was in charge of the refreshment booth on the scow. The other three were watching the baskets, etc.

The steamer passed through all right at highest speed, but when the scow was about one half way through it struck one of the piers, and was quickly swerved to the other side. It came in contact with the other pier, and with the swing bridge, which was open and therefore lying lengthwise with the stream.

The result was awful; the cover on the scow was completely wrenched from its fastenings. In its flight it swept everything before it, and one of the beams struck Miss Short on the head and held her fast in the booth. The heavy two inch tow rope snapped like a string, and the scow went on towards Healey's Falls beyond the control of any one. Those who were on the scow providentially were in the rear, and they escaped death. Miss Short was released from her perilous position and was unconscious for about 15 minutes. Baskets, parasols, coats, benches, and all the contents of the booth were swept into the water. The greater portion of which were afterwards recovered by parties in canoes.

Soon about twenty-five persons were in pursuit of the scow in canoes, and picking up all they could find. When quiet was restored the scow was captured about a mile down the river and towed back to the bridge, where many willing hands made temporary repairs sufficient to enable the excursionists to return to Hastings. The trip to the Falls had to be abandoned, and the party returned to Hastings at nine o'clock at night.

Miss Short was sufficiently recovered to walk to her home when the boat reached Hastings, but she had a miraculous escape. Had it not been for Capt. Burnett's thoughtfulness in landing the passengers above the bridge, there would undoubtedly have been a heavy death list. There was quite a panic when the crash came, and some of the women on shore fainted. An organ on the scow was almost swept overboard. When the scow reached Hastings it was in a very dilapidated condition, but all were truly happy that they escaped as well as they did. The bridge was also damaged, but it can be used. There was a heavy load of passengers on board.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH ORGAN.

Mr. John Crane to be Succeeded as Organist by Mr. W. F. Pickard.

Universal regret will be felt by the membership and congregation of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, over the fact that Mr. John Crane, the efficient organist of the church, has resigned—that his resignation has been reluctantly accepted, and that his services are no longer available, and his successor appointed.

The new organist is Mr. W. F. Pickard, late of the Simcoe street Methodist church, Oshawa, and he comes highly recommended, and not the least recommendation is that he has met with the hearty approval of Mr. Crane, to whom the managers wisely entrusted the work of practically selecting his successor. In welcoming Mr. Pickard it is not too much to say that it is hoped that he will fill the position as efficiently and faithfully as Mr. Crane has done, in which event neither the congregation of St. Paul's, nor himself, will have reason to regret the change — the congregation will enjoy faithful and efficient musical service, and he will enjoy a popularity and appreciation such as falls to the lot of few church organists.

Mr. Crane has been organist of St. Paul's church for nine years, and the congregation part with him with the deepest regret. He finds that the demands on his duties as manager of the Ontario Bank, do not leave him free to devote the attention he would wish to the work of training the choir and directing the musical services of the church. This is not surprising, for those who know Mr. Crane know that he insists on doing well whatever he does in the way of music, and when circumstances prevent him giving the necessary attention, it is natural that he should retire. And by none will his departure from the organist's bench be more regretted, than by the members of the choir themselves. During the nine years of his duties there has never been a break in the harmony of their mutual relations. He has, therefore, been loyally supported by his choir, which explains why St. Paul's has always had a large and well trained choir, as much distinguished by the harmony of their relations with their leader, and themselves, as for the harmony of the music they presented Sunday after Sunday.

But it is to be hoped that Mr. Crane will still maintain the keen interest he has taken in music in Peterborough. Of course we shall miss his activity in the presentation of the excellent sacred concerts he has has been in the habit of giving in St. Paul's—high-class musical entertainments, in which the work of his choir has been always admirable, and the visiting soloists always performers of merit. Mr. Crane deserves well of the music loving public of Peterborough, as well as of musicians. He has always been willing to give his talent, time and attention at no little sacrifice of personal convenience, to the promotion of the success of musical entertainments, and his readiness to assist other musicians and organists, have shown the possession of a liberal and kindly spirit. Mr. Crane's services as organist will continue the first of September.

MR. COURTNEY'S INJURIES.

He Fell From a Barn and so Did a Bunch of Shingles.

Mr. Edward Courtney, jr., met with a rather serious accident on Wednesday of this week. Mr. Courtney was engaged at some work on the roof of a barn at Baillieboro, when he fell to the ground, without receiving any injuries. However a bundle of shingles which followed him, fell on one of his limbs, smashing the bone in a painful manner.

Dr. Montgomery of Baillieboro, attended the patient, and after having the injury dressed, he was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, Ashburnham. His friends will be pleased to learn that he is improving as well as could be expected.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

News From a Member of the Canadian Regiment of the Constabulary Force.

Mr. M. L. Henry, has received from his brother, Mr. Ernie Henry, quartermaster sergeant, of Troop 20, Canadian Regiment of the South African Constabulary, a copy of the first number of the "South African Constabulary Journal," printed at Johannesburg, and devoted to news of the force. It was accompanied by a series of pictures of camp life and constabulary incidents, and also a photograph of Ernie in charge of his canteen. He is highly pleased with South Africa, and speaks as if he would become a naturalized Ethiopian, and remain in the country. He also states the reports of the bad fare the members of the force receive are without foundation. A photograph of himself indicates that he at least is well fed and physically flourishing.

PETERBOROUGH OLD BOYS.

The Toronto Association Being Fully Organised.

Whereso around the world we wander,
O'er all the realms and lands of earth,
Our pulsing hearts beat ever fonder
Of that dear vale whence we had birth;
We count it kind, if God defend us,
Though far our restless footsteps roam,
And at some eve in mercy send us
Back to our happy childhood's home.

No county in the province of Ontario is more worthy of such an Association and all the benefits, social, historical and otherwise to be derived therefrom, than "Our County."

Because of the rugged, picturesque character of surface conditions, combining fair, rolling farm lands, rough, well-watered pasture lands, broad ranges of rocky, timber lands, beautiful lakes and rivers, having hundreds of leagues of artistic, scenic shoreways.

Because of the sturdy, aggressive, law-abiding, nation-making quality and character of its people. The pioneer settlers of the County in the earlier years of the last century were men and women of strong purpose, ambitious for broader freedom and larger usefulness than the caste-hampered, creed-burdened, population-congested old lands could afford them. No wonder their sons and daughters praise their self-sacrificing devotion to duty, and eulogize their memory, and are themselves a credit to such parentage. Men and women, great and honourable in church, state and community have gone forth from the County into all lands.

It is right and meet therefore, that without further delay, a friendly Association be formed to perpetuate and strengthen the friendships, crystallize the historical and unite in bonds of sentimental and patriotic usefulness and enjoyment, the "Boys and Girls" of Peterborough.

The nucleus of an Association has been formed. The adjourned meeting will be continued in St. George's Hall, Elm street, near Yonge street, on Monday evening, July 21st, 1902, at 8 o'clock.

You are respectfully and earnestly invited to be present, and bring with you any of our people.

Yours very cordially,
LLEWELLYN A. MORRISON,
Chairman pro tem.,
R. A. CARDWELL,
Secretary.

FRED LEE RICE HANGED

For the Murder of County Constable Boyd.

He Made no Statement on the Scaffold —Slept Well Last Night.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Toronto, July 18th. — Fred Lee Rice was hanged in the jail yard this morning at 8.02 o'clock, for the murder of County Constable William Boyd, on June 4th, 1901.

Rice went to his end without any apparent tremour. He slept well during the night, and arose at 5.30. His ministerial adviser, Rev. Robert Hall, was early at the jail, and after Rice had eaten a light breakfast the minister and he were left alone, until the arrival of Hangman Radcliffe.

The march to the scaffold took two minutes, and the body was cut down 45 minutes later. The pulse stopped beating 12 minutes after the drop. The coroner's jury found that death was due to strangulation. Rice made no statement on the scaffold.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—Carlisle's new terraces on McDonel street are nearing completion.

—The annual excursion of St. Andrew's Sunday school is being held today to Jubilee Point.

—The large smoke stack of the Stanley Piano Company was blown yesterday.

—The excursion of the season promises to be the excursion of the legalites to Idyl Wild on Monday.

—The steamers City of Peterborough, North Star, Water Lily and Beaver were in port last night.

—The fishing is excellent at the Hunter street bridge. A large number of bass have been caught this week at that point.

—A large party of Americans spent the night at the Snowden House. They were from New York, and have been spending a week or two at Burleigh Falls.

—The body of little Joseph MacNaughton, who died in Port Hope, while undergoing Christian Science treatment, was interred in Little Lake Cemetery this morning.

—When Forepaugh and Sells Bros.' circus was here last week, Mr. H. E. Bradley took large orders for clothing from the leading actors. Yesterday he shipped the goods to St. Thomas.

—The Canadian General Electric Company's Angling Club will run their annual excursion to Jubilee Point per City of Peterborough, on Saturday, July 26th. The steamer will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 1.30 p.m.

—Mr. F. B. Stratton makes the 12th superannuated Methodist minister to take residence in Belleville. In peacefulness and quietude, Belleville leads up gently to the rest of a cemetery, to which ministers, and all others, must sooner or later come.

A regatta will be held by the residents of Sturgeon Point on Saturday afternoon next, commencing at two o'clock, and open only to the boat owners of the village. The first event will be over a six mile triangular course, open only to sailing boats of the dingy and Mackinaw classes.

—Attractive window cards have been printed announcing the second annual Printers' Excursion, which takes place on Saturday afternoon, August 2nd, to Jubilee Point, the City of Peterborough leaving her wharf at 2 o'clock sharp. This will be, with doubt, the best excursion of the season to this popular resort.

—Mr. Jas. Bogue has been awarded the contract for building 28,000 feet —5 1-3 miles of granolithic pavement— at 14 1-2 cents for granite, and 13 1-4 cents for sand finish at Lindsay. Mr. John Hayes tendered at the same figures for cement, but his price for "expanded" metal work was 85 cents per square foot as against Mr. Bogue's offer of 60 cents, so the latter was awarded the contract.

AN ENJOYABLE OUTING.

The George Street Methodist Choir at Stony Lake.

The George street Choir Excursion and Picnic took place yesterday to Stony Lake, and was a great success. About sixty-five of the choir members and friends were on board, accompanied by the pastor, Rev. J. P. Wilson, and the Sunday school orchestra. Buses left the church about 8 o'clock, taking the party to Lakefield, where Mr. J. J. McBain had arranged for the beautiful steamer Alert to convey the happy company to Juniper Island, and there a most elaborate dinner was spread. The tables fairly groaned with the load of good things, but it wasn't long till the scene was changed, and the groans were reversed. While dinner was being arranged the orchestra enlivened the time by catchy selections and catch songs were sung by members of the choir. A hearty vote of thanks was moved by Mr. G. W. Mulligan and seconded by Mr. Doidge, and tendered Mr. McBain by the pastor. Three cheers were then given for the host.

WAS REMEMBERED.

Mrr. McEwen, of Lakefield, Was Presented With a Purse—The Address.

On Monday afternoon, 14th inst., representatives of the W. F. M. S., Lakefield, called upon Miss McEwen, president of the Auxiliary, and presented her with the following address accompanied with a well-filled purse:

My Dear Miss McEwen,—We, the members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Auxiliary, sincerely regret your removal from among us, and desire to express to you our appreciation of your willing and untiring service among us, as we laboured together so pleasantly towards the advancement of the Master's kingdom upon earth, for in you we have ever found a ready and willing helper to co-operate with us in all our undertakings.

On behalf of the Auxiliary and a few friends in the congregation, we wish at this time to convey to you our loving sympathy and appreciation of your service of love, and ask you to accept this purse as a slight token of our love and esteem.

"The Lord watch between me and thee, whilst we are absent one from another."

MRS. BENSON,
Sec. W. F. M. S.

Lakefield, July 14, 1902.

Miss McEwen was also presented with an address from the Pansy Mission Band, expressive of their appreciation of her help and encouragement in their efforts to advance the cause which lies so near her heart. "The World for Christ."

Miss McEwen's departure from Lakefield, leaves a blank, which can scarcely be filled. In the work of the W.F.M.S. she was particularly interested and entered upon it with a zeal and energy that drew from the lips of all observers, the encomium, "This one thing I do, heartily, cheerfully as to the Lord."

Miss McEwen's testimony regarding that work is, "It has done infinitely more for me than I have done for it. My most pleasant memories of Lakefield centre round the work of the W.F.M.S."

HIS MAJESTY'S GREAT ILLNESS.

TIME WHEN THE NATION'S BREATH WAS HELD IN FEAR.

The Dangerous Illness of the Prince of Wales From Typhoid in 1871—A Glimpse Into the Loving Home Life of Royalty at Sandringham—Empire's Anxiety—Queen Victoria's Gratitude.

The year 1871 brought many events of home interest. There was the wedding in March of the Prince's younger sister Louise to the Marquis of Argyll. The ceremony took place in St. George's Chapel. The Queen opened Parliament in person, and was attended by the Prince of Wales. In June her Majesty opened the new St. Thomas' Hospital, and was accompanied by the Prince. She paid a visit to Chiswhurst in order to show her regard for the Emperor and Empress. Afterwards she went to Balmoral, and on her return to Windsor rather later than was her usual custom, she heard that the Prince was far from well. He had felt out of health in London, but had, nevertheless, joined a house-party at Scarborough, and then had, by the advice of his physician, gone with the Princess and his family to Sandringham. A bulletin, signed by Dr. William Jenner, Dr. William Gull, Dr. Clayton and Dr. Lowe, informed the nation on November 25th that the Prince was suffering from typhoid. The first sign of illness had been detected while the Prince was the guest of the Earl of Londesborough at Scarborough. The Prince's groom, Blegge, and Lord Chesterfield both manifested the same symptoms, and eventually both died of typhoid.

Fortunately for the Princess of Wales, the Princess Alice was staying at Sandringham, and once again, as in the case of the Prince Consort, her nursing skill and clear-headed control of matters proved of great assistance. The Princess had been enjoying the pleasure of spending her brother's birthday in his company for the first time for eleven years, and she had written soon afterwards to Queen Victoria:—"Bertie and Alix are so kind, and give us so warm a welcome, showing how they like having us, that it feels quite home." She had no idea that very soon the whole nation's attention would be concentrated on that home at Sandringham, and that much the same strain and anxiety that she had undergone in connection with her beloved father's illness ten years previously would be her lot, although happily not with the same sequel. Queen Victoria came with post-haste to Sandringham, daring all the danger of infection in her maternal anxiety for her son, and she advised the immediate removal of the children and their little cousins to Windsor. The fever at first took its normal course, and the nation's hopes of a speedy recovery rose high. The Queen's return to Windsor was a good sign; but suddenly, on December 8th, a turn for the worse greatly alarmed all who were in attendance on the invalid. When the news reached the Queen, she asked that special prayer should be offered for her son the next day in all the churches and chapels throughout the kingdom. No one who was present at the services on that Sunday will forget the serious apprehensions which filled all hearts. The following note from the Princess to the Vicar of St. Mary Magdalene's Church, Sandringham, was received by the clergyman just before the service:

"My husband being, thank God, somewhat better, I am coming to church. I must leave, I fear, before the service is concluded, that I may watch by his bedside. Can you not say a few words in the prayer in the early part of the service, that I may join with you in prayer for my husband before I return to him."

Of course this touching request was met, and amid emotion, which was painful, the congregation of neighbors and servants of the Royal household prayed that the valuable life might be spared.

The Empire's Anxiety.

One who remembers this time of sorrow writes: "Since the days when Princess Charlotte's death blighted our nation's hope by her sudden removal, there was certainly no such universal and intense concern felt by everyone in the country. We used to wait for every bulletin—in those days they were not issued so frequently during the day as now—and as soon as they were posted up at the telegraph or the newspaper offices there was a rush of men and women to read them. They would walk away in silence learning that the next would have worse tidings. All the newspapers prepared long biographies of the Heir-Apparent, for no hope of his recovery was held out for some days in December, and the Times had a leader commencing with these ominous words: 'The Prince still lives, and we may still therefore hope.' Some who put great trust in omens were distressed as the anniversary of the Prince Consort's death drew near, and when both the groom at Sandringham, who had been stricken at Scarborough at the same time as his Royal master, passed away, and Lord Chesterfield died also, there was increased fear of a fatal termination of the Prince's illness. Queen Victoria and the Princess visited the parents of Blegge, the groom, on Sunday, December 17th, and within a few hours he passed away. But as the year waned, the invalid passed the crisis satisfactorily, and all were rejoiced at the more favourable bulletins which the physicians were able to issue. I remember hearing that the drapers had been buying immense amounts of black cloth, and the stationers were stocking large quantities of black-edged paper, in anticipation of a calamity; but both goods were fortunately not required. Several stories as to the huge number of letters received at Sandringham, suggesting remedies or ameliorating comforts for the invalid, were in circulation, and it is certain that a very large number of suggestions were made to the doctors."

This interesting extract, from a letter sent to his wife by Sir James Paget, the famous surgeon, who had been one of the medical attendants on the Prince, gives some facts concerning the illness. It is dated Sandringham, December 30th, 1871, and runs as follows: "I have just time before this morning's post to thank you for your welcome letter. It seemed very long since I saw or heard of you. Thank God, I hear now only of your happiness. I am uncertain how long I may stay here. . . . The Princess is the sweetest nurse you ever saw (for you used not to look into the glass when I was ill). She would do everything if she were allowed, . . . with all the gentlest and most loving ways. And the Prince's patience and courtesy make me very ashamed of my recollections of my illnesses—especially the last."

"December 31. . . . I am happier about the Prince, though not yet seeing when the end of his trouble is to be. . . . I was at church for short service; the Prince having carefully designed that I should go. It is not, indeed, a beautiful church, yet it would be hard to find a fault in it, decorated as it is for Christmas, and with many signs of the care of the Squire and his wife. And the little Prince's grave close by the chancel entrance door is very touching with its white marble slab, and the cross at its head, on which they have put the 'Suffer little children to come unto Me.', ... The enclosed came to me this morning—a reasonable thing among many follies sent here, including (yesterday) a noiseless coal scuttle to Dr. Gull, and a proposal to import mountain air into the sick room."

Queen Victoria's Gratitude.

On Boxing Day, Queen Victoria wrote this touching letter to her people, expressing thanks for their sympathy: "The Queen is very anxious to express her deep sense of the touching sympathy of the whole nation on the occasion of the alarming illness of her dear son, the Prince of Wales. The universal feeling shown by her people during those painful, terrible days, and the sympathy evinced by them with herself and her beloved daughter, the Princess of Wales, as well as the general joy at the improvement of the Prince of Wales' state, have made a deep and lasting impression on her heart, which can never be effaced. It was indeed nothing new to her, for the Queen had met with the same sympathy when, just ten years ago, a similar illness removed from her side the mainstay of her life, the best, wisest and kindest of husbands. The Queen wishes to express at the same time, on the part of the Princess of Wales, her feelings of heartfelt gratitude, for she has been as deeply touched as the Queen by the great and universal manifestation of loyalty and sympathy. The Queen cannot conclude without expressing her hope that her faithful subjects will continue their prayers to God for the complete recovery of her dear son to health and strength."

The Thanksgiving Services.

By January 14th, 1872, the Prince was out of the doctor's hands so far as the issue of bulletins was concerned, though for some weeks further care had to be exercised in his convalescence. When the invalid was well enough to be moved, he and his devoted wife went on a short visit to the Queen at Windsor, and then recruited their health—for the Princess had suffered much by the long strain of nursing—in Osborne. When they and the Crown Prince of Denmark returned thanks privately for the prince's recovery at a special little service conducted by Dean Stanley one afternoon in Westminster Abbey. The Dean wrote of this service the following account: "I kept it a great secret, except from the Canons. We met them at the great Western door; the nave as usual, was quite clear. They walked in with me, and took their places on my right. I preached on Psalm 124 verse ("I was glad when they said unto me. Let us go into the house of the Lord"). The Prince of Wales heard every word, and has decided that it shall be published, which it will be, and you shall have a copy. It was one of those rare occasions on which I was able to say all that I wished to say. They were conducted again to the West door, and departed." After considerable discussion with the authorities as to the exact form which this unprecedented thanksgiving service should take, it was settled that on February 27th the Queen should drive with the Prince and Princess of Wales and other members of the Royal Family from Buckingham Palace to St. Paul's Cathedral. It was a wonderful sight, and the crowds were extraordinary in their size and also in their good behavior. It was stated at the time that the pickpockets of the metropolis had agreed not to ply their thievish tricks on that day, and certainly there was an astonishing absence of such crime. The Archbishop of Canterbury, the eloquent and revered Dr. Tait, preached a fine sermon from the appropriate text of "Members one of another" (Romans 12,5) as exemplifying the union which sympathy created between the highest and the lowest.

At night the whole city gave itself to rejoicing, and the illuminations surpassed anything hitherto attempted in London.

Work and Travel.

During the year 1872 the public interest was chiefly centred on the Tichborne case, and the Prince was no less eager to read the reports of this remarkable case. Other incidents were a visit to Austria to be present at the opening of the great International Exhibition in the capital; the death of Dr. Norman Macleod, who was a sincere friend of the Prince; and the final settlement by arbitration of the Alabama Claims—in which question the Prince showed a special interest, his visit to America having increased his desire that goodwill should always exist between us and our cousins. In 1873 he had to welcome the Shah of Persia, who stayed for about three weeks in this country and was the subject of several extraordinary stories, more or less true. It is said that he was concerned to see so many noblemen on terms of friendship with the Prince of Wales, and said he should order a few of them to be beheaded if he were the Prince, in case they should dispute his succession to the throne! The betrothal of the Prince's brother Alfred to the Grand Duchess Marie of Russia was announced in July, 1873, and in the following January the Prince and Princess went to Russia in order to be present at the wedding. By the special request of the Queen, Dean Stanley went also, and sent a special account of all the ceremonies to her Majesty. The wedding presents of the British Royal Family were very fine, and the Prince and Princess of Wales had a most friendly reception at the Russian Court. In March the wedded pair made their entry into London in a heavy snowstorm, Nature paying this compliment to one who came from a land where snow was a matter of course in the spring of the year. A return visit was made by the Czar of Russia, and the friendship between him and the Prince was thus renewed. A social event in July was a splendid fancy-dress ball, given by the Prince and Princess on a very brilliant scale. The Prince was "Charles I." and the Princess looked very charming in a Venetian costume. Even Mr. Disraeli did not disdain such frivolities, which must have appealed to his love of spectacles. He came in the not very picturesque attire of a Privy Councillor, and surveyed the scene with a quizzical air through his eyeglass.

Mother Can Have the Body.

Toronto, July 18.—The Ontario Cabinet, at a special meeting held yesterday afternoon, dealt with the application of Mrs. Rice, who asked that the body of her son, Fred Lee, be handed over to her after the execution this morning for interment in the family burying plot in Champaign, Ill.

The application was discussed behind closed doors, and at 7.30 o'clock the acting Premier handed Mr. Robinette an order directing Sheriff Mowat to hand the body over to Mrs. Rice this morning.

THAT AWFUL GAS.

For Years This Form of Indigestion had Troubled Mr. Harmer—Now all the Bloating and Belching has Gone.

Indigestion manifests itself in many forms. One of the most trying and unpleasant symptoms is the formation of gas in the stomach, and the consequent belching up, bloating and distress.

This was how it affected Mr. W. H. Harmer, of Avonmore, N. B., and in this way he had been troubled for a long time. Nothing he used as a medicine seemed to improve his condition until he commenced a treatment of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

This favourite remedy once more demonstrated its wonderful curative properties by immediately relieving and in a very short time completely curing Mr. Harmer's trouble.

He has written a letter in which he expresses his gratitude to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets for their prompt and satisfactory cure of his trouble. He says:—

The evidence of these wonderful cures pour in daily from all parts of the Dominion. From east, west, north and south come grateful letters from people in all stations of life, who had almost given up hops of ever being cured, and who have found in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets a remedy they so long had sought.

The wonder is that every Dyspeptic has not already heard of and used this remedy.

One of the serious symptoms of this disease is fear and doubt, and this may account for the fact that there is a single case of Dyspepsia left in the Dominion of Canada.

Surely these earnest, honest letters and statements of living men and women will convince the most skeptical Dyspeptic that to suffer a moment longer when a cure is at hand is unnecessary.

What has cured all kinds of cases, of every conceivable form, in old people and in young people, is surely worth a trial.

If you don't believe, ask these people, or any one else who has given Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets a fair trial.

Was Tortured by Eczema 30 Years

A Dreadful Case—Itching Almost Unbearable—The Flesh Raw and Flaming.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Mr. G. H. McConnell, Engineer in Fleury's Foundry, Aurora, Ont., states—"I believe that Dr. Chase's Ointment is worth its weight in gold. For about 30 years I was troubled with eczema, and could not obtain any cure. I was so unfortunate as to have blood poison, and this developed eczema, the most dreadful of skin diseases.

"I was so bad that I would get up at night and scratch myself until flesh was raw and flaming. The torture I endured is almost beyond description, and now I cannot say anything too good for Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has cured me and I recommend it because I know there is nothing so good for itching skin."

Few people realize the suffering caused by eczema and other itching skin diseases. This is an example of what Dr. Chase's Ointment is doing in the way of relieving suffering mankind. Many of the cures it brings about are more like miracles than anything else. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Toronto's Recent Relapse, Which, However, Will Do No Harm—Courts of Conciliation and Arbitration.

It may be a long time before we appreciate the importance of the events of the last three days, (June 21, 22, 23, 1902), says The Toronto Globe, and the value of the service which has been rendered to us by Mr. Ames and his co-workers, members of the Toronto Board of Trade. The experience has done us no harm. We have had a little taste of the methods of war as against those of peace; a temporary backsliding from civilization to barbarism, from the twentieth century to the dark ages. Inquire into nine-tenths of the quarrels of men—individual quarrels, class quarrels, race quarrels, national quarrels—and you will find that they were such as could have been settled by bringing the parties together and compelling them to state their case in the light of reason and justice. They were fighting about symbols, red tape, prejudices—or they were fighting because one felt the need of resisting injustice or oppression and the other had a case which would not bear stating in any court in which decisions were founded upon plain principles of justice and common sense.

The reason why many people hesitate about courts of conciliation and arbitration is that they find it difficult to break the bonds of red tape, tradition and prejudice. It is hard for them to conceive of a court in which they may not be defeated by some technicality, or by the superior cleverness of an advocate, or by the long purse of an opponent. Perhaps even in so-called arbitrations they have been worsted by such means. But the spirit of arbitration or conciliation in labor disputes is entirely different from this. It means simply that the parties are to come together, to lay aside all considerations of superior force or cleverness, and simply to say about each proposition as it comes up: "Is it fair? Is it reasonable?" In wars, in law suits, in games, in elections, in debates in Parliament, even in private controversies, we have all before our minds the idea of victory or defeat. At the end of each we ask: "Who has won? Who has lost?" This is human nature. It would be foolish to quarrel with it. But it would be equally foolish to fail to recognize that it forms one of the main obstacles to the fair settlement of labor disputes.

The remedy, as it seems to us, is not to ignore the fighting instinct that is innate in the meekest of men, but to remember that all the struggles in which they may engage are subsidiary to the battle of life—the man's endeavor to gain for himself and those who are dear to him not only food and shelter and clothing, but the free growth and development of every human faculty. There is no reason why the workman should not sympathize with the large plans of the capitalist—not the mere money-grabber, but the genuine captain of industry. But that involves a corresponding obligation on the part of the employer—a genuine human sympathy with the plans of the artisan, his ambitions for himself and his family, his desire that they should reach the highest place to which they are entitled by ability and character. Some employers, dimly perceiving this obligation, establish halls, places of amusement, etc., for their workmen. The object is good, but the best means of attaining it is simple fair play—the payment of fair wages. The object of arbitration and conciliation is to bring men together on that basis. One is to strive not to win an advantage over the other by force or cunning, but to show that his claim is fair and reasonable. There is nothing visionary in this. It happens every day in discussions between reasonable men. In such discussions it often happens that something is said which strikes home to a man's reason or conscience. In the heat of argument he may not admit it; he may search about for some plausible answer; but if he is a man of brains and heart and bowels of compassion, he will sooner or later yield to the appeal. That is what is meant by arbitration and conciliation. It is not a cunning, cut-and-dried device, to be substituted for strikes and litigation. It is simply a means of bringing men together with their best side uppermost, in a spirit of good-temper, justice and reasonableness.

Practically it was on these lines that Mr. Ames and his co-workers proceeded, and it is impossible to praise their services too highly. They have not only helped to rid us of an inconvenience—that is a minor matter—but they have helped to put a new spirit into the dealings between men engaged in our great industrial enterprises. Why, indeed, should these not be regarded as co-workers? What is the use of our talking about national development and prosperity if the benefits are not to be shared equitably among all who are honestly working for the advancement of our common country? In the conduct of the labor leaders we see good ground for hope of industrial peace. We find, as a rule, that the more a man has to do with the organization of labor on a large scale, the more reasonable he becomes. He learns to look at both sides of the case. He finds that his reputation depends, not on making trouble, but on putting an end to trouble, and gaining solid advantages for his clients. In short, among labor leaders, as among politicians, there are statesmen as well as demagogues, and one of the hopeful signs of the times is the development of statesmanlike capitalists and statesmanlike leaders of workingmen. To both we are indebted for the settlement of the street car dispute.

RESOLUTENESS.

Hon. G. W. Ross Tells the Young Men of Canada How Nations Win—Responsiveness in Statesmanship Necessary.

Hon. Geo. W. Ross, in rising to deliver the convocation oration at the recent commencement exercises, one of which was the conferring of the degree LL.D. upon himself, of McMaster University, Toronto, referred to the difficulties of preparing his remarks in the midst of matters not very closely identified with academic work, but nevertheless very engrossing. He directed their attention to a look out upon national conditions, to which we as Canadians might well aspire. What did we need of the qualities which other nations had exhibited in their makeup, in their history, in their contests with each other, which had given one pre-eminence over another? He would mention three qualities, the first being a resolute spirit in dealing with whatever difficulty was encountered. This was possessed by the Spartan who guarded the pass at Thermopylae, by the Roman who kept the bridge, by William Tell when he defied the Austrians, by Robert Bruce when he defended his country against the Anglo-Saxon invader, and by the English nation, small though it was, who overthrew the Armada when Spain was the master of the world. The resolute spirit was not confined to the military world. Pitt had it when he dealt with the most tremendous financial difficulties ever undertaken by an English statesman. (Applause.) Sir Robert Peel had it when he had to pacify Ireland in 1846 against the rising tide of indignation caused by the agitation of Cobden and Bright. The same spirit had given the church pre-eminence, and had sent missionaries to India and the islands of the sea. It had solved many of the great mysteries of science, had planted colleges and universities all over the world. "Let us infuse into all the purposes of our life," said Mr. Ross, "whether academic, educational, or religious or political, in the proper sense of the term, that same confidence, that spirit of self-reliance, so that he who knows a Canadian by name will see in him and find in him that force of character and determination which gives an assurance of success, no matter what the difficulty may be." (Applause.) The pessimism so common in Canada twenty years ago was passing away, he believed, and everything pointed to the prosperity of the country.

Our second need was a responsive statesmanship. We were disposed to rest upon our oars and believe that our national institutions had attained perfection. There was an effete conservatism which had no capacity for further development. Society was an organism, and the institutions of to-day would not fit the second or third generation which comes after us. This want of responsiveness in statesmanship was one of the most dangerous clogs upon the liberties of the people. One of the Stuarts lost his head and another was expatriated through want of this responsiveness, and the American colonies would have been saved to the British Empire had the statesmen in England appreciated the ideas of the western hemisphere. Were we in Canada studying the pulse of the people and profiting by the thought of the best people? The responsive statesmanship within the Empire was going to revolutionize the Imperial trade relations, the political interests, widen the franchise and bring the colonies into closer relationship. There was nothing to prevent our having a population of 20,000,000 in the next 30 or 40 years, only our want of statesmanship and our own want of foresight. (Applause.)

The third point on which to profit was the consolidation of national power. Cavour did that for Italy, Bismarck did it for Germany, and we had taken the preliminary steps in confederation. "I rejoice that there are in Canada so many formative influences," said Mr. Ross, in conclusion; "public schools so well endowed, universities with such unselfish aims, freedom in church and State, and if with these conditions we fail, on us should rest the blame. Fail! Why it would be impossible unless history belies itself and unless the record which we read of the strength and growth of other countries is not true to fact. I ask you to feel the nobility of the nationality under which you were born, to feel the force, the impulse of those possibilities of development which are pressing upon us, and I ask you to apply yourselves resolutely to the great duty of making Canada prosperous and great, as your advantages are great and ready at the hand of everyone who chooses to avail himself of them." (Loud applause.)

A Burden to Self and Others.

"Take care of your health; you have no right to neglect it and thus become a burden to yourself and perhaps to others." When the liver gets sluggish, the kidneys inactive, and the bowels constipated, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will promptly set your filtering and excretory system in perfect order, and insure good digestion and good health. There is no medicine so generally used, and none so successful. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

Culture.

Culture of a certain kind as well as invigoration and improvement, goes, as was said before, with all high knowledge. Culture in the sense of taste, goes with literary studies only. The student of Practical Science at the university has the opportunity of coupling with it some literary studies; at all events he breathes a liberal air. He may to some extent imbibe the literary spirit and acquire a liking for general reading. He has stimulating companionship and he may form useful friendships.

In England, there is a large leisure class, larger than in America. Academical institutions, like institutions generally, must adapt themselves to the general demand.

The classics seem under a free system of choice to be finding their proper place. They are worth nothing to any but the genuine student, while to the genuine student they are of great value. The smattering acquired by the mass of the students at Oxford and Cambridge under the compulsory classics system, was totally worthless. To the contents of the prose classics, though not to their beauty of form or their aroma, there is now access through translations.—Goldwin Smith.

BRIDGENORTH.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Plenty of rain.

Chemong Lake is very high at present.

Percy Udy finished haying on Friday last.

Tom Mann drove to Young's Point on Sunday.

The heavy rains don't affect the potato bugs in this section.

Mrs. R. E. Sinclair of Stouffville, spent a few days of last week with Mrs. Morgan.

Miss E. Patterson of Campbellford, spent last week with Mrs. Rev. W. A. Guntom.

Mrs. J. Touther, who has been spending a few days with her son in Toronto, has returned home.

Mr. Sandy Morrison has purchased a fine Jersey cow.

Mrs. Nathan Taylor has returned home from Cobourg.

Marcus Mann has purchased a fine new buggy.

Percy Udy spent Monday in the back country.

Miss Annie Fraser spent a week visiting friends in Bobcaygeon.

The big windstorm of Thursday last broke down one of the balsam trees on Mr. Jobe's lawn.

Leo Clancy, accompanied by a lady friend, drove out to Bridgenorth on Friday evening to visit some friends. Owing to the heavy downpour of rain they were unable to return home until Saturday.

Fishing is good in Chemong Lake this season, and some of our local sports have been very successful.

The annual huckleberry excursion composed of Mr. W. B. Kelly & Sons employees will leave the wharf at the foot of Mill street on Friday morning, per steamer Lady of the Lake, Capt. Kelly in command, for the Blue Mountains.

George Bell is running the planing mill day and night to fill orders.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan and family, of Durand, Mich., are visiting friends in the village.

Mrs. John Coons, who has been undergoing an operation at Nicholls Hospital, has sufficiently recovered as to be able to return home.

Mrs. Jonathan Mann, of Peterborough, accompanied by her daughter, have moved out to Poplar Heights where they will spend the summer.

Mr. R. C. Heard received a bad cut on the head on Tuesday while engaged making some repairs in connection with the new wind mill which he is having erected. Dr. Morgan dressed the wound, which required some three or four stitches.

The heavy rain on Saturday night caused a washout on Mr. W. B. Kelly's lawn. At one time the family residence was in danger of being swept away. A gang of men with teams were engaged on Monday hauling stone and gravel to fill in the washout.

Is it not time the new $28,000 bridge across Chemong Lake was shifted back to its proper place, which at present looks like a rail fence? Why don't the engineer come up and take a look at it. A traveller who drove over the bridge a few days ago was enquiring from some of the natives where the new bridge was which he had heard of so much, and which cost so much money. At present when there is any wind blowing it is like a cork on a pail of water. Mr. O'Leary the caretaker, is at present engaged with a gang of men building a couple of piers, and some three hundred feet of glance boom at approaches of the swing bridge to guide the steam boats through. Had this been done in the proper time the expense would have been about half what it will cost at the present time, when labour is so high.

The Rev. J. W. Bunner, the new pastor of Hall street Methodist church, has arrived, and is busy getting things into shape. He says Bridgenorth is beautifully situated and is the prettiest spot he has been stationed during his ministry. The reception which was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Bunner on Friday night was a very successful affair, and the Ladies' Aid, who had charge of the reception, are to be congratulated on the very efficient manner in which they carried out the proceedings.

Latest Fashion Notes.

An Attractive Golf Costume.

Pipings have so gained in popularity that they are a feature of by far the greater number of garments of whatever sort, even appearing upon what it is the fad of the moment to call "tub" frocks and shirtwaists. Quite a novelty in this line are the pipings of leather and kid which are to be seen upon a few of the most exclusive models of the tailor-made styles. Such a one is shown in the accompanying illustration. This smart frock is made of tartan in shades of dark and light gray, and is designed for golf or walking. The skirt clears the ground by about two inches. It has the very narrow front panel which appears upon so many of the skirts of the season, the pipings of white kid defining sharply the outline. The edge of the skirt is finished by a deep outside facing, covered with rows of machine stitching done with Corticelli silk. The blouse is very simple in design, double breasted, and with a basque, all the edges being piped with white kid, which also forms the belt. There is an outside breast pocket flap, and a velvet collar facing.

CANADIAN PACIFIC.

An Estimate of Income.

The annual report of the Canadian Pacific, which will not be issued till fall, will contain several features worthy of note. The income account will show not merely substantial increases in gross earnings and in expenses, but will also present some changes in items, particularly in "other income" and fixed charges, which will be worthy of explanation. From the reported figures to date, and from information furnished us from official sources, we estimate that the income account will show about the following figures:

	1902	1901	Changes
Gross	$97,323,822	$89,680,243	Inc—$7,643,579
Expenses	82,343,907	78,745,828	Inc— 3,598,079
Net	$14,979,175	$12,160,375	Inc—$2,818,850
Other inc.	1,300,705	999,455	Inc— 441,250
T'l inc.	$16,284,880	$13,013,830	Inc—$3,312,080
Fix chgs.	8,957,544	7,305,505	Dec— 637,301
Balance	$ 9,466,336	$ 5,708,325	Inc—$3,760,371
St'mships	.....	150,000	.....
Balance	$9,416,336	$ 5,558,325	Inc—$3,910,371
Ppfd. div.	1,222,500	1,222,500	.....
Balance	$ 8,273,830	$4,394,469	Inc—$3,910,371
Com. div.	3,350,000	3,250,000	.....
Surplus	$ 5,023,830	$ 1,144,469	Inc—$3,909,371

The increase recorded in gross is due altogether to the bettered conditions under which the road has been operated this year. The ratio of expenses to gross has considerably increased over 1901, and this is taken as a sign that the management is likely to show more liberality in the matter of charging improvements to current account. We are informed that the appropriations for improvements have been considerably higher this year, but part of the increase is accounted for by the fact that in 1901 a large proportion of the labourers of the road were on strike during a period of several months, so that extensive labour on the road was impossible. Naturally the payrolls of the company showed less expense. The increase of nearly 25 per cent in net in spite of the more liberal charge shows very well the improvement of business on the road.

Earnings from telegraph lines, elevators, hotels and industrial companies operated by Canadian Pacific are included in the earnings from operations. In 1901 these earnings aggregated $1,913,666. The entire telegraph system is leased to Postal Telegraph for a fixed rental per annum. "Other income" includes interest on deposits and loans, interest due from Duluth South Shore on consolidated bonds, and interest due from the Soo Line. Two items will tend to increase this other income in the report of 1902. Duluth South Shore last year had a deficit of $167,230, which had to be met by Canadian Pacific out of other income. This year the road will just about pay fixed charges.

The other item that will go to increase "other income," is interest on deferred payments for stock, subscribed for under the rights issued this spring. This interest, we are told, will amount to about $285,000, and it is so estimated in the income account.

Fixed charges will show a decrease, because the interest on land grant bonds was charged to fixed charges in 1901 to the extent of $457,201, this amount representing the difference between the total amount of interest due on the bonds, and the amount of interest due the company on deferred payments for lands sold. We are informed that the large land sales of the present year will increase the interest due on deferred payments, to such an extent that the interest on the bonds will be fully taken care of which will enable the company to decrease fixed charges by $437,000. The company authorized last year an issue of £480,000 for the purpose of increasing steamship equipment. The interest on these bonds for a part of the year will appear in fixed charges.

Land sales, which have increased tremendously this year, do not appear in the income account of Canadian Pacific at all. In fact they are not mentioned in the annual report. The reason for this is that the proceeds have been devoted in the past to the redemption of the land grant bonds. The Canadian Government is the trustee of the bonds, and the charges are payable to the Government and payable by them to the holders. This year will probably see the last of the bonds redeemed by the railroad, and proceeds of land sales should show in future reports.

The balance after preferred dividends shows about 12.7 per cent on the common stock bearing dividends this year. The increase of $19,500,000 in the common stock draws no dividends until 1903. It has been accepted as likely that the common would be put on a 6 per cent. basis, and in case this happens the surplus would be reduced by $375,000. There is now some disposition to believe that the company will not venture upon any extra expenditures in face of the improvements contemplated. — From Wall Street Journal, N.Y.

AMERICAN CAPITAL IN CANADA

Large Sales of Lands to Various Syndicates.

Montreal. — The fact that Canada is offering special inducements to immigrants by offering land on that market at low prices, has not been unnoticed by Americans. During the past few weeks some immense sales have been made to American capitalists. It is stated on very good authority that the officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company are planning to take 25,000 American farmers into the Canadian Northwest, where the company has several million acres of land. Arrangements are being made by the Manitoba Provincial Land Department and the Immigration Department of the Dominion for the sale of 80,000 acres of Provincial lands to Nebraska capitalists. The lands are near Lake Manitoba, and are being sold for the purpose of settling a large number of Mennonites who have been farming in Nebraska for many years, and now wish to sell out and move to Manitoba.

THE POOR.

His Majesty's Mind Was Already Made Up—Directed by Duke of York.

When General Booth's striking book, "In Darkest England," was published, in 1890, a copy was sent to the Prince of Wales, whose secretary wrote:—"Prince likewise assure him (General Booth), on the part of the Prince, that His Royal Highness is confident that he cannot fail to be greatly interested by the perusal of a work that speaks of a subject which for many years has been found so much at heart." The Prince was a member of the Royal Commission which considered the question of how far the State should compel the erection of suitable houses for the working classes. He took a keen personal interest in the sittings of the Commission, and was one of the most regular attendants. He visited several crowded parts of the East End incognito, under the guidance of Lord Carrington, and was deeply impressed by the terrible conditions under which so many of the poor lived. It was about the time when shocking revelations had stirred the heart of the nation, and the Prince determined from that moment to do all in his power to improve the surroundings of the homes and hard-working poor. He has alluded in public again and again to this grave question affecting the social well-being of the whole community, and it is noteworthy that his first King's Speech is one of immense difficulty, and one in which generous-hearted impulse must be held in check by consideration of all the issues involved. But the influence of the King is great. The expression of a wish by him will sometimes go farther than an Act of Parliament. His influence upon public opinion is potent, and will be exerted for the good of his poorer subjects this matter. If casual meetings in a wayside inn can effect a reconciliation between two nations at war, it is not hard to imagine that the wish of a King expressed to men who are delighted and ready to serve him, may have effect in so happy a fashion as this.

King's Rapid Progress.

London, July 18.—Since his removal to Cowes, the progress of the King has been so rapid that his physicians have ordered a more liberal diet for His Majesty.

The fleet has been ordered to assemble at Spithead on Aug. 11, for the purpose of a review being held a few days subsequently by the King.

The date of the review, which was erroneously reported to have been fixed for Aug. 11, will depend upon the condition of His Majesty's health and the effect of the coronation ceremonies on his general condition.

It has been decided that no special missions shall be invited to the coronation, and foreign nations will be represented at Westminster Abbey by their Ambassadors and Ministers.

SUMMER GOODS

Of course, the weather man has been doing his worst the past few weeks, and people, instead of enjoying their vacations under proverbial July temperature, clothed in sheer and light garments, have been hugging the cook stove or a gas heater.

But even damp, chilly weather hasn't stopped the sale of Summer Fabrics at Fair's. Of course we find our stock too heavy, because we couldn't foretell the weather; but selling has been going on merrily, all the same, because of LOW PRICES is the cardinal feature of our extraordinary selling under the circumstances. Two reasons bring ladies to Fair's just now for those dainty French Silk-and-Linen Stripe effects, lovely Muslins, Organdies. French and German Laces, Summer Skirts, etc. Foremost attraction is the superb variety displayed. Second, is the fact that practically the entire stock is marked down to HALF PRICE—often at very much less. Little wonder that all eyes have been turned to Fair's recently, for there has been a continuous array of splendid chances.

All Stylish Summer Goods, Millinery, etc., face their final price at Fair's. The price-cutting is revolutionary—butwe are thinking of the ultimate benefits that will accrue.

TORNADO IN ONTARIO

Dundas and Stormont Counties Visited by a Mighty Blast.

FIVE PERSONS WERE KILLED.

Many Other Were More or Less Severely Injured—Damage Over $200,000—Mr. John Kearns' House Blown Away With the Family Inside—James Kearns' Dwelling Wrecked—Other Losses.

Metcalfe, Ont., July 19.—Much damage was done by Thursday's storm in the neighborhood of Morewood and Chesterville. A number of buildings were completely destroyed, besides damage to other property.

Many persons are reported injured and several deaths.

Among the killed are: a daughter of M. O'Grady and the wife and daughter of John Kearns. Mr. Kearns himself is feared to be fatally injured, also Willie Beckstead.

In Chesterville a Miss McGregor is reported killed and James Wilson was seriously injured at Ormond.

A Furious Storm.

Chesterville, July 19.—The cyclone which passed over this community exceeded in fury anything of its kind in the memory of the oldest inhabitants. About 6 p.m. the citizens of Chesterville were attracted to the appearance of the sky to the northwest of the village, while incessant electrical discharges lit up the light, large cloudy masses which were rolling and scudding before the wind. It was evident that a fearful storm was raging in the immediate vicinity. Nearing Chesterville the tornado took a southeastern direction and passed within a mile of the town. Those who were watching felt distinctly the hot blast from the cyclone as it swept with fearful velocity to the southeast, the wind monster twisted, tore and destroyed everything in its path for a space of about fifty or sixty rods in width, while everything within a radius of a mile in width was more or less affected. The storm struck the township of Winchester in what is known as the Ormond settlement in the northwest corner and cut in a general southeasterly direction across the townships of Winchester, Finch and Osnabruck, and is supposed to have spent its energy at the St. Lawrence. Yesterday morning the country for miles around presents a scene of devastation and terror.

Fences have disappeared and cannot be found. Dwellings and outbuildings were overturned and in some cases torn to pieces. Dead cattle are lying here and there at almost every farm in the centre of the storm's path, and dead, maimed and bruised human beings are added to the horror of the scene. At the farm of Mr. John Kearns, seventh concession, Township of Winchester, a gruesome sight met the eye of the beholder. Portions of the barn lay about the premises and of the dwelling not a vestige could be found. Not even a splinter of a rag gave evidence that it had once been the site of a happy home. The father lay in the clover field with a broken hip and otherwise terribly bruised, and near by him lay his little son, 7 years old, quite dead. The corpse of the unfortunate mother, evidently picked up with the house, was found against the fence. The two other children were found in the field, with broken limbs and terribly bruised, but still living.

A fine hardwood bush, the property of Mr. J. Coyne, adjoining the Kearns property, presented a unique appearance. Maples, elms and oaks were torn from their roots, twisted, broken and splintered. Many instances of narrow escapes are being reported.

At the residence of Michael S. Grady, 5th concession, Winchester, a narrow escape is reported. John Clark, the mother and four children were in the stable milking when the barn collapsed over them. Clark escaped through a portion of the roof, and, getting an ax, cut a way to the imprisoned family, all of whom were got out safely except one girl, badly injured. The residence of Harmon Shaver, 9th concession, Township of Winchester, one of the most solid brick houses in the locality, was completely devastated. It is impossible to estimate the damage now, but it is within the mark to say that in the Townships of Winchester, Finen and Osnabruck it will exceed $200,000. At this time of writing four are reported dead and many seriously injured.

Mr. Kearns' Story.

Although racked with pain, Mr. Kearns gave a very graphic story of the disaster last evening. He said:—"I saw the storm coming when it was about half a mile away, and I started for the barn to turn the cattle and horses loose, but the building was blown down. When I turned to get my family to a place of safety, the big funnel-shaped cloud then seemed to be only 50 yards away, and it was carrying trees, boards, and materials of all kinds, and I could not reach the house in time and threw myself down on the ground. At last the storm struck me, and I was carried away with it. I was thrown down and picked up several times, and struck by boards and timbers several times, and something struck me over the hip and broke it. I began to fancy I would be killed, and the heavy coat I wore was torn from me. Under my arms I looked around and saw no sign of the house or barn. I called for my wife, but there was no response. Several times I tried to get up and failed, but at last crawled to a couple of pieces of boards and used them as crutches and I crawled around slowly and heard crying. It was my youngest child, Marguerite, crying for her mother, and farther away lay Norah, aged 12, and I supposed she was dead. I moved towards her and came across the body of my boy Edward. He was stone dead, and then I moved around to find my wife, but I got sick and faint and lay down beside my little boy. I felt I must leave things as they were. When the storm was over they found my wife, and I have another girl, Genevieve, but she was at her uncle's, and so escaped.

Another Victim.

Mrs. Nelson Hart was reported to be suffering only from a fractured hip yesterday morning, but last night the news was brought to Chesterville that she had died.

THE KING'S CROWNING

By His Majesty's Command the Date is Announced.

CANADA TO SEND CONTINGENT.

Thirteen Mounted Men to Be Sent From Canada—Will Leave the Dominion on the 26th Inst—Col. Turner, V.C., in Command—Service Men and Those With Medals Preferred—The King's Progress.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, July 19.—A bulletin issued yesterday morning by the King's physicians says: "The King continues to make satisfactory progress. He is benefitting in every way from the change. His Majesty sleeps well, and is able to have his couch placed upon the open deck during the greater part of the day."

The next bulletin will be issued July 21.

Date Officially Announced.

London, July 19.—An official notification was issued yesterday morning that, by the King's command, the coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra will take place August 9. Rehearsals of the procession from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey were held yesterday morning, and the officials of the various State departments in the Abbey ceremony are again busy with preparations for the crowning.

TROOPS FOR CORONATION.

Colonial Contingent Will Number Fifty—How They Will Be Chosen.

Ottawa, Ont., July 19.—The Minister of Militia cabled the department from London yesterday to send one officer and thirteen mounted men to sail by 26th inst., to represent Canada in Colonial escort at the coronation procession.

The same men are to be taken, if they can go, who were chosen by Lieut.-Col. Turner, V.C., for the same duty in the procession that did not take place on June 26, otherwise the vacancies are to be filled from the contingent that went over last month. Holders of medals are to have the preference. The whole Colonial escort numbers fifty for this occasion.

Lieut.-Col. Turner, V.C., of Quebec, will be the commanding officer of the Canadians in the coronation escort next month.

LAST DAY OF THE RE-UNION.

Great Sport Provided For Visitors at Tassie Semi-Centennial.

Galt, July 19.—The second day's program of entertainments for the Old Boys' re-union and semi-centennial celebration of Galt Collegiate Institute opened yesterday morning by excursion trips on the street railway to Preston mineral springs, Idylwild Park and Hespeler.

The attendance yesterday was greatly augmented by the new arrivals. Evidences of hearty welcome on the part of citizens generally are everywhere apparent, flags and bunting on public buildings, places of business and private residences being conspicuously and tastefully displayed. A garden party in charge of the Ladies' Committee was held in the afternoon on the lawn of the Collegiate Institute grounds. Several thousands attended, most of whom went by trolley. The Street Car Company furnished a 15-minute service for two hours, during which time every motor and trailer was packed. A cricket match was played between teams drawn from the rank and file of pupils and ex-pupils after which the prizes won in the various sports were distributed.

The closing and biggest event of the series, however, was the banquet held in the skating rink, commencing at 8 o'clock last night. The attendance, including occupants of the gallery, is estimated at considerably over a thousand. The proceedings covering both days, from the beginning to the end, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of all concerned.

TAPS FROM THE WIRES.

At Marlborough, Ulster County, N.J., John Budna has just become the father of his 21st child. All are living.

Thomas E. McMahon, 26 years old, a lineman employed by the Ithaca, N.Y., Telephone Company, was killed Friday by contact with a live wire.

Dr. Frederick B. White, a New York practicing physician, killed himself Friday by drinking carbolic acid. He was 31 years old. His health had failed.

Two men were killed and three others were seriously injured as the result of a grade crossing accident at Old Orchard, Me., Friday. The dead are: William Mills, Boston; C. Mills, Boston.

Albert Williams, a colored man, who has reached the remarkable age of 100 years and four months was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, Friday night in the police ambulance.

There is trouble at the factory of the Toronto Carpet Company, and as a result about 300 employes are not at work. They have been out for four days now. An effort is being made to bring the disputants together.

Toronto council will give $25,000 to a fund for the support of the widows and families of the dead firemen, and Friday $15,827 was subscribed by citizens in a few hours. The intention is to make the fund $50,000.

A cloudburst at Plattsmouth, Neb., Thursday night proved serious. A flood of water four feet deep washed down the main street of the town, taking with it everything movable. The total damage is estimated at $200,000.

CABINET RECONSTRUCTION.

Portfolio to Be Retained by Certain Members of Old Administration.

London, July 19.—The Duke of Devonshire, president of the council; the Marquis of Lansdowne, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs; Joseph Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary; the Earl of Selborne, First Lord of the Admiralty, and the Marquis of Londonderry, Postmaster-General, it is understood, have consented to retain their present portfolios in the new Cabinet.

Lord George Hamilton, Secretary of State for India; C. T. Richie, the Home Secretary; R. W. Hanbury, President of the Board of Agriculture; W. St. John Brodrick, Secretary of State for War; A. Akers Douglas, First Commissioner of Works, and Walter Long, President of the Local Government Board, will remain in the Cabinet, but their portfolios may be changed. George Wyndham will remain Chief Secretary for Ireland, but with a seat in the Cabinet, the new Lord Lieutenant having no seat in the Cabinet, and being rather a social representative of the Sovereign than a political representative of the Government.

To Restore Tien Tsin.

London, July 19.—Replying to a question of Earl Spencer (Liberal) in the House of Lord yesterday, regarding affairs in China, the Foreign Secretary, Lord Lansdowne, said it was hoped to restore Tien Tsin to the Chinese within a month.

Answering another question, Lord Lansdowne, informed Earl Spencer that the Chinese indemnity debt was a gold debt, but Great Britain was not vindictive, and in consequence of the serious depreciation in the value of the tael, had suggested to the other powers a mitigation of the terms. Lord Lansdowne thought every effort should be made by Great Britain to act with the other powers.

Chinese Reforms Defeated.

Pekin, July 18.—The Throne has issued orders to Sir Robert Hart, Imperial Commissioner of Maritime Customs, to remit only the excess of former collections of native customs toward the payment of the indemnity to the powers.

This action is taken, it is believed, in order to safeguard the immemorial corruption to which the customs revenues have been devoted heretofore, and to defeat the reforms provided for in the protocol. It also violates the letter of that document.

NEEDS $500,000 A WEEK.

To Support the Anthracite Mine Strikers—No Decision Yet.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 19.—At the conclusion of the secret session which lasted the entire afternoon yesterday, the recommendations of President Mitchell for the management of the anthracite strike were referred to a special committee which is to report back to the convention this morning. The committee consists of President Mitchell, Vice-President Lewis, Secretary Wilson and the president of each district which is taking part in the convention.

At the conclusion of the session Secretary Wilson said: "It will cost $500,000 weekly to support all the men now on strike in the various districts. An assessment of $1 per week will bring in $250,000 a week, and an assessment of $1 per week upon each member of the union will result in about the same sum. This will leave us $25,500 to raise each week from outside sources and from the promises and offers that have been made us we are confident that we will be able to do this."

The convention will be informed by the Illinois delegation this morning that the miners of that State have voted a donation of $50,000 to the cause of the anthracite strike.

FIVE YEARS FOR METCALFE.

Man Who Robbed C.P.R. of $243 Punished at the Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., July 19.—Thursday before Judge Johnson, Gordon C. Metcalfe, alias J. Cochrane, the telegraph operator and ticket clerk, who, in December last, robbed the Canadian Pacific Railway here of $243, was sentenced to five years imprisonment in the Kingston Penitentiary.

Metcalfe, who bears many other aliases, was extradited from Hartford, Conn., on two charges, viz:—The one upon which he has just been sentenced, and another of having stolen an express package containing $520 from the Dominion Express Co., at Neepawa, Man., in October last, at which time he went by the name of F. B. Ballard.

Chief Joel's Sentence.

Maseru, Basutoland, South Africa, July 18.—The trial of Chief Joel, on a charge of high treason in fighting against his brother Hiesen, and contempt of court, has resulted in his sentence to a year's imprisonment and a fine of 500 head of cattle. The town was lively during the trial. The most important Basuto chiefs were present. Lerothodi, the paramount chief, walked to the prison with Joel.

French Fishing Vessel Lost.

St. John's, N.F., July 19.—Two French fishing vessels have been lost on the south coast of the Island, endangering the lives of the 54 members of their crews. The first was the schooner Claire from the Grand Banks. The other wrecked vessel was the French barque Francois Joseph from St. Pierre, which went ashore on Cape Penn in a thick fog and sank 20 minutes after striking. Most of the crew were compelled to make their escape nearly naked. The disaster occurred about midnight.

Police Prevented It.

Stockholm, Sweden, July 19.—It is now said that the police got wind of the proposed duel between Capt. Arvid Wester of the general staff of the Swedish army and William Casper, an American, manager of the Grand Arena Palace, and prevented the meeting.

WOMAN'S POWER

Perfection of Form, Feature, and Mind Render Women All-Powerful. Health, However, the Greatest Charm.

Woman's greatest gift is the power to inspire admiration, respect, and love. There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of features.

The snap and spirit which health gives to the eye, the movement, and the speech are full of magnetism.

Sickly women can't understand this.

They only know that they are miserable, and their efforts to be attractive are languid and weak.

Woman's influence in the world is limited by her strength, and the strength of health is real strength.

It brings with it beauty and grace and loveliness of disposition.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study. If she would be all she may, she must guard well against the signs of ill health.

Regular and painless menstruation is absolutely necessary.

The help which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gives to women who are attacked by any disorder of the feminine organism is real, permanent help. It cures all weaknesses of the organs and makes it possible for women to retain their health and beauty to maturity.

Mrs. Pinkham advises women who are ill free of cost. Address her at Lynn, Mass. Thousands owe their health to her.

A Boston Woman's Experience.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel very grateful to you for the benefit I derived from your kind advice and remedies. I was troubled with a complication of female troubles, had ovaritis, painful and irregular menstruation, leucorrhœa, nervousness and weakness. I had no appetite and could not sleep nights. The least exertion would cause shortness of breath and dull pains in my hips and side. The doctors all advised me to have an operation and have one of my ovaries removed, but this I could not bear to think of. I was induced to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking the first bottle I was much improved. It renewed my appetite, health and strength. I continued taking it, also your Blood Purifier and Sanative Wash until entirely cured of all my troubles. The pains have never returned and my health is splendid. Your remedies have been a boon to me and I am sure many a woman owes her life to them."—MARIE WEBB, 356 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass. (March 15, 1901.)

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such hosts of grateful friends. Remember this when you go to buy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letter is not genuine, or was published before obtaining the writer's special permission. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

SOWING AND REAPING.

The fate of Rice, the murderer of Constable Boyd, who died on the scaffold Friday in Toronto, furnishes a lesson as well to the lawless, as to parents of children. Whilst we all sympathise keenly with the mother and sister in their persistent efforts to procure the mercy of the law for their son and brother, we must all admit that the death sentence was a well-deserved punishment for a cold-blooded murder, and the mother herself furnishes facts to show that her sorrow and remorse must be intensified by the reflection that she is herself much to blame for the shameful death of her son, who has closed a career of violence and crime on the gallows. The life that Rice led was a legitimate sequence to the manner of his home training. In appealing for mercy for her son, the mother told the Minister of Justice that her son was a clever lad, "high strung," impatient of control, and that her foolish indulgence allowed full play to these characteristics. The lad was allowed to go his own way; his faults over-looked and forgiven, if not reproved. Criminal indulgence led to the lad taking his own way, and that way led ultimately to the gallows. In this course the mother, according to her own admission, has brought sorrow on her own gray hairs. Parents should lay the lesson to heart. The character moulded in the home for the first ten years of a boy's or girl's life, is likely to last for life. If the child does not learn self-restraint at home, if home indulgence gives play to the indulgence of wayward propensities, one cannot be surprised if evil environments surround it in later life, that evil results follow.

Children should also learn the lesson that their evil deeds, and the punishment and disgrace they may involve, not only affect themselves, but rend the hearts of anxious mothers with grief, and bow the head of the father with shame. When punishment comes to criminals, so callous of nature and hardened of heart are they, that it affects them less, perhaps, than the relatives, who have maintained their respectability and borrowed in silence.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Conservative candidate in North York, got the consolation prize. His admirers recouped him the amount of the protest deposit.

Canadian trade with Great Britain has increased over six millions the past year. Liberal tariff legislation has led to this gratifying result, which promises to improve as time goes on.

The Provincial Secretary and the Commissioner of Public Works, made an official visit of inspection of the Mimico Asylum on Thursday. That's the right way—it is carrying out the spirit of the old proverb—"If you want business done, do it; if not, send."

The Oddfellows' Relief Association is level headed. At the recent meeting in Kingston, it refused to grant a change of beneficiary to any one procuring a divorce in the United States, though the judgment of a proper Canadian court annulling a marriage would be acknowledged. The facilities for getting off with the old love and on with the new, are altogether too workable across the border.

The surprise is not that the Conservative managers presented Mr. Lennox, the defeated candidate in North York, with a thousand dollars, but that they had a thousand dollars left, after the expensive campaign conducted in his interest in that riding, at the general elections last May. Why, the imported Yankee experts in Tammany methods must have cost considerable money, besides that expended under their supervision.

The Examiner has always maintained that Canadians become corrupted in manner of speech and bearing, etc., by proximity to the United States. Now we are threatened wwith a more serious manifestation of the effects of contagion. Canada seems to be catching the cyclone habit from our neighbours to the south. At any rate we are catching the cyclones. We have had a few small ones in this county and district, and a big one has touched up the country in Eastern Ontario, and caused the loss of four lives and the destruction of property worth $200,000.

The barb-wire fences, which proved such a characteristic feature of the war in South Africa, have been removed. A hope has been expressed that the stone block houses, which are quite a feature of the landscape, like the Peel Towers of Scotland, and the Martello Towers of the South of England, will not be destroyed. The suggestion is a good one ,providing that they may not prove too unpleasant reminders to the loyal Boer subjects. But perhaps they will not object if they were to be allowed to use them as barns.

An old lady, "Granny" Goodman, of Hamilton, died in that city a day or two ago, aged 110 years. She has been a resident of Hamilton for 90 years, and no doubt the quiet and soothing environments in which she lived, tended to lengthen her days. She was a lass of twenty when the war of 1812 took place, and remembers when fields of golden grain occupied the lands now covered by the brick and mortar of the ambitious city. Mrs. Goodman's death has been hastened by the death of her youngest son a few months ago, a circumstance she took very greatly to heart. She was the last of her family.

While the wet weather and severe storm visitations have rather damaged the crop outlook in this part of Canada, we all rejoice that there is promise of an abundant harvest in Manitoba. There is a prospect of a good yield and there is an unusually large acreage. An army of 20,000 workers is needed to gather the harvest. We are therefore assured of another prosperous year for Manitoba, and the wheat growing sections of the Northwest, which will be much intensified if, as predicted, there will be a sharp advance in the price of wheat.

BUTTER STORAGE STATIONS.

Final Links in the Chain Between the Markets and Consumers.

The Montreal butter exporters, the men who are engaged in educating the British public up to a realization of the fact that Canadian cow-products are the best in the world, met on Friday in the hall of the Montreal Board of Trade.

Their business had to do with the completion of the last link of that chain of refrigeration, hammered out by the combined energies of the factorymen, the exporters, and Prof. Robertson's department, which is to lay down Canadian butter in England without its ever giving up for one moment the coolness and freshness imparted to it in a scientific Canadian dairy.

This last link is the provision of refrigerated storage at the stations where the butter is left to be taken up by the official refrigerator cars. Six such stations are to be so equipped, experimentally at first, according to the offer of the Department of Agriculture and the executive committee of the butter buyers on Friday afternoon made suggestions for the six stations.

More than six places were named, and great secrecy was preserved as to the suggestions, owing to a feeling that the Government was in no way committed to accepting any or all of them. Three stations are to be in Quebec and three in Eastern Ontario, and so far as possible they will be on different lines of railways.

A PLAGUE OF DEAFNESS.

The statistics of Aural Specialists and of Special Clinics devoted to the treatment of ear diseases show that there is an alarming increase in the number of people who are afflicted by deafness. The cause of this increasing prevalence of defective hearing is attributed by the medical profession to a greater tendency of late years to catarrhal ailments. At the Drouet Institute careful observations of the history of the cases under treatment verifies this opinion, as more than half of the patients attribute the cause of their deafness to taking cold, or to catarrh of the nose and throat, extending to the ears.

An instance of an obstinate form of defective hearing, attributed to such a cause, is contained in the following extract from the records of the Institute; Mr. P. Eade, who suffered from deafness for twelve years, states that the ear trouble originated in a violent cold, which settled in the head and ears. This patient also had noises in the head, discharges from the ears, and a catarrh of the nose and throat. In fact, complications of the most severe character were present in this case, and yet the cure effected by the Drouet method was complete.

Clacton Road, St. Osyth, North Colchester, Eng., March 14th.

Dear Sir,—I am glad to say that my hearing is quite good now. I don't want to hear any better. I can hear as well now as I could thirteen years ago, therefore I don't think I shall need any further treatment or advice. Everything is quite clear now. My throat and my nostrils are quite cured. Thanking you for your kindness, and what I call a complete and radical cure. Yours respectfully,

PRESTON EADE.

Those who are interested in deafness or diseases of the ear, nose or throat, can obtain a free copy of the "Journal for the Deaf," with a Supplement, containing detailed accounts of upwards of 40 cases cured during the past month, by addressing the Secretary, Drouet Institute, 72 Regent's Park Row, N.W., London, Eng. Each journal is accompanied by a Patient's Report Form, which enables applicants to receive full particulars for applying this treatment at home. Any advice by correspondence is absolutely free.

RICE PAYS THE PENALTY.

Murderer Did Not Flinch—Neck Slipped and Death Was Due to Strangulation—Relatives Get Body.

Toronto, July 19.—The murder of Constable William Boyd by three desperadoes on June 4, 1901, was finally avenged yesterday morning in the hanging of Fred Lee Rice. The black flag of death unfurled above the Toronto Jail signified to the hundreds of persons assembled out of morbid curiosity at the jail gate that the last scene in the tragedy that began with the formation of the notorious "Rutledge gang" in the Colorado State Prison five years ago had just been finished.

Rice walked to the scaffold with a firm step, a set, determined expression and a rigid bearing. His face was pale, and only once did he cast a glance at the group of witnesses in the jail yard. There was no dramatic incident. The doomed man ascended the eleven steps of the gallows practically unaided and awaited the executioner without a word. In fact, the usual question as to the desire of the prisoner to say anything was not asked. The drop took place at 8.02 o'clock, and twelve minutes later the heart stopped beating, and the physician, Dr. James H. Richardson, pronounced the man dead.

The doctor said afterwards that the noose had slipped around back of the ear, and that the death was due to strangulation. The neck had not been broken, although the man weighed 175 pounds, 13 pounds more than when he entered the jail last October. There seemed to be a tendency on the part of some present to believe that the hanging was bungled.

In accordance with the decision of the Government on Thursday, the body was surrendered to his relatives.

He Felt Tired Every Morning.

MALT BREAKFAST FOOD

Makes Life Happy for a Montreal Business Man.

It Gives Him the Vim, Activity and Strength of an Athlete.

A prominent Montreal business man says; "For two years I suffered more or less from waterbrash and indigestion. Upon rising each morning I felt as tired as when I went to bed, and never sat down to breakfast with a good appetite. A friend advised me to use Malt Breakfast Food. I did so, and I was delighted with its flavour and with its effects on my digestion. After six months use of Malt Breakfast Food, I am now in first rank as far as my appetite and health are concerned. My wife thinks there is no other food to compare with Malt Breakfast Food." All grocers sell it.

WALTONIAN FISHING.

Written by a Busy Canadian Who Goes Fishing for Thoughts.

The timidity of our fishermen about their health gives us an insight into their philosophy. We have long been persuaded that Izaak Walton could never have written his "Compleat Angler" if his thoughts had been continually distracted by bites. What Izaak wanted was dream fishing. He was out for a quiet drowse on bank or in boat and the rod, and line were only excuses. When there came a tug and the evidence was indisputable that something had been hooked, the dear old philosopher took another swig at the bait, said "Dear me! How annoying!" and then got out and tied his line to a tree. It's a mighty strong fish that can pull a tree up by the roots although, if we believe what the fishermen say, such things have happened. At any rate Izaak Walton never ran against a fish of that sort, or he would have put it on record.

This, we may take it, was the true Waltonian way of fishing, and it had this advantage—it didn't interfere with his thinking. The Walton style is still affected by the great majority of fishermen, who believe that the fish are a secondary affair, so long as a man can catch a few comforting thoughts. What, pray, is reflection save fishing for happy ideas? Fishing for them is much pleasanter than digging for them and sweating for them, as many slaves of the lamp have to do to this day. And the thoughts that are fished for are so much better and brighter than the other kind. They are redolent of nature, of blue skies, and rath suns, and burnished rivers, and whispering verdure. The other kind have the mark of the pick and the curse of gold on them. But fishing! What is more delectable than to stretch at full length on the bottom of your skiff, with the tented sky overhead, and the wimpling waters around, and then to dream? What a keen sense of detachment from the world! What a lotos drifting with the tide! But you need warm weather for that.

SAVES BABIES' LIVES.

This is the fatal season for the babies. They die off in thousands from common summer complaints brought on by faulty dieting. Your baby, dear mother, should be fed on nourishing and life-giving Lactated Food. If you would have your baby plump, strong and happy begin today with Lactated Food. It perfectly agrees with the weakest stomach. When all other foods fail Lactated Food saves the baby's life.

Ruskin's Toys.

The home rule of Ruskin's mother was well nigh Puritanic in severity. His toys were few and his source of amusement limited. He says:

For toys I had a bunch of keys to play with so long as I was capable of pleasure in what glittered and jingled. as I grew older I had a cart and a ball and when I was six years old two boxes of well cut wooden bricks.

With these modest but I still think entirely sufficient possessions, and being always summarily whipped if I cried, did not do as I was bid or tumbled on the stairs, I soon attained serene and secure methods of life and motion and could pass my days contentedly in tracing the squares and comparing the colors of my carpet, examining the knots in the wood of the floor or counting the bricks in the opposite houses.

There were also intervals of rapturous excitement during the filling of the water cart through its leathern pipe from the dripping iron post at the pavement edge or the still more admirable proceedings of the turncock when he turned and turned until a fountain sprang up in the middle of the street.

But the carpet and what patterns I could find in bed covers, dresses or wall papers to be examined were my chief resources.

A Cough Leads to a Coffin.

There's a striking similarity in these two words. Both are to be dreaded. Coffins cost many dollars, whereas 25 cents buys a bottle of Four T's and cures the cough in 24 hours, making the coffin unnecessary. Four T's is acknowledged by all to be the best lung remedy in existence. Large bottles, 25 cents, at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

Canadians Won Several Prizes in Prince of Wales' Match.

MACKINNON CUP COMPETITION.

This Challenge Cup Is Open to Teams From England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales and Any British Colony—Canadians Lead the Score at the First Range of 800 Yards—Trouble Over Overtime.

Bisley Camp,, July 19.—Owing to Scotland having taken 70 minutes over the time allowed for shooting at the eight hundred range at Bisley, a dispute has arisen.

The teams without being allowed, then finished shooting at 900 yards, but have been ordered back to one thousand yards.

Half way to the finish at the 900 yards range Canada was leading, but Australia hurriedly finished and has the advantage.

Several teams will withdraw from the competition, and great dissatisfaction exists.

MacKinnon Challenge Cup.

The competition for the MacKinnon Challenge Cup began yesterday. It is open to teams from England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Canada, Australia or the British Colony. The shooting takes place at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards, with ten shots at each distance.

The Canada's team has been chosen as follows:— Sergt. T. G. Bayles, 10th R. G.; S.-Sergt. J. C. Carruthers, 4th Hussars; Capt. L. G. Davidson, 8th R. R.; Sergt.-Maj. E. Macdougall, 5th R. C. A.; Sergt. Geo. Mortimer, 10th R. G.; Col.-Sergt. J. Moscrop, 6th D. C. O. R., Pte. T. J. Peddie, 5th R. S.; Capt. R. Rennie, 2nd Q. O. R.; Sergt.-Maj. T. Richardson, 5th R. C. A.; Pte S. C. Scott, 43rd D. C. O. R.; Sergt. E. H. Skedden, 13th Batt.; Sergt. W. A. Smith, 43rd D. C. O. R.

1.—Canada	470
2.—Scotland	469
3—Australia	468
4.—New Zealand	462
5.—Rhodesia	461
6.—England	454
7.—Natal	448
8.—Ireland	423

Sergt. T. G. Bayles, of the Royal Grenadiers, Toronto, made a score of 44 out of a possible 50 in the Keystone Burgundy match. The distance was 1,000 yards.

Prince of Wales Competition.

With the wind very strong and shifty, the Canadian team faced the targets yesterday morning and shot in the Prince of Wales competition. This match is always considered one of the most important at the Bisley meeting. The aggregate value of the prizes is £360. The distances are 200 and 600 yards, with ten shots at each distance.

The scores of the Canadiaos who participated in this match are as follows:

	200 Yds.	600 Yds.	Total
Bayles, Sergt.	45	43	88
Davidson, Capt.	49	38	87
King, Capt.	44	38	82
Margetts, Capt.	47	34	81
Mitchell, Capt.	48	35	83
Mortimer, Sergt.	47	40	87
Moscrop, Col.-Sergt.	48	45	93
Rennie, Capt. R.	45	39	84
Richardson, S-Maj.	45	45	90
Skedden, Sergt.	44	39	83
Spearing, Major	44	40	84

Davidson, Mitchell and Moscrop made exceptionally good scores at the first range, but Moscrop made the top aggregate score for the Canadians. The winner of the prize made a score of 95 points and Moscrop was only two behind that figure.

Col.-Sergt. Moscrop's score gave him fourth place and fourth prize which amounts to £10.

Richardson in twelfth place got £3; Bayles in thirty-fifth £2, and Mortimer in fifty-ninth £2.

The Elcho Shield.

The Elcho shield was won by England, with a score of 1,587. Ireland was second with 1,530 and Scotland was third with 1,505.

Toronto, July 19.—Charles Webb, assistant shipper for James Lumbers, the wholesale grocer at 67 East Front street, fell down the elevator shaft in the employer's premises at 11 o'clock yesterday morning and received injuries from which he died an hour later at the Emergency Hospital. London, July 19.—Another conference of the Colonial Premiers was held yesterday at the Colonial Office, but beyond a desultory discussion of the general trade relations of the Empire, nothing was done. NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

The Diminishing Wild Duck.

I have had more fun hunting wild ducks than you could shake a stick at. I have pursued the elusive wild duck with more persistence than that with which the politician pursues patronage or the business man the almighty dollar. Sometimes I have got him, and more often I have not, but whether I bagged my bird or caught nothing more than a cold I have had my share of exhilarating sport. The correct was to shoot ducks, of course, to shoot them over decoys while you lie concealed in a hide made of marsh grass and rushes. It makes your fingers tingle and your blood run fast, when, after watching your wooden decoys bobbing up and down in the water, twenty-five yards away, for an hour, perhaps you see a nice flock of bluebills come circling down to join their treacherous wooden counterparts. You wait till the real birds are just dropping into the water, and then: "Bang! bang! Well, you got four, or you got one, or you scored a clean miss, but in any event you had the sensation, your decoys are still there, the day is young yet, and there are more ducks about than that one flock of bluebills. One of the best duckshooting spots in Ontario, is the St. Clair flats, the marshy expanses which border Lake St. Clair. Most of the marshes on the Canadian side are leased by gun clubs, but ther are a few free spits left yet, and sometimes, if the wind is just right, your hide well placed, your shooting eye true, and the ducks flying well, you may make a bag of from twenty to five times that in a day. The most successful gunners at the flats use what they call "pumpers," that is, repeating shotguns, capable of shooting six times without reloading. Some of the gunners down there are very expert, and I once had pointed out to me, a deadly marksman, who, with his "pumper," got six ducks out of a flock of seven, one to each cartridge. Is it any wonder the wild duck is fast diminishing in number?—Ravenspur.

PERMANENTLY CURED OF LUMBAGO.

It will no doubt be a source of satisfaction to those who are suffering from the effects of wrong-acting kidneys to know that Dr. Pitcher's Backage Kidney Tablets not only give prompt relief in all cases, but they cure so effectively and thoroughly that the disease is not likely to return again—the cure is permanent. To illustrate the permanency of the cure they effect, we cite the case of Mr. Joseph Fitzpatrick, who lives at 54 Metcalfe street, St. Thomas, Ontario;

STATEMENT 1899.

"During a recent attack of lumbago and kidney trouble, due to exposure to cold, I used Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and can speak unhesitatingly of their fine qualities. They are easy in action, give relief quickly, and despite my age, sixty-six years, have completely cured me, and put me in fine condition again."

JOSEPH FITZPATRICK.

STATEMENT 1902.

"I have never had any return of the old trouble with my back and kidneys since Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets cured me in the fall of 1899. At that time I could hardly get around at all, but they soon cured me. They are a grand remedy, and both my wife and myself prize them highly."

JOSEPH FITZPATRICK.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are prepared from the formulas of Zina Pitcher, M.D., formerly Professor of Material Medica and genito-urinary diseases, Michigan College of Medicine, Detroit, Mich., U.S.A. They are the most effectual treatment known for backache, pain in the back or between the shoulders, bloating, swelling of the feet and legs, puffiness under the eyes, difficulty of urination, pain or, distress, scanty flow, high-coloured urine, brick dust or other deposits, frequent calls during the day or night, rheumatism, uric acid in the blood, dragging pains in loins, sense of weight or pressure in the region of the bladder, constipation, kidney weakness of children and old people, and all forms of kidney, bladder and urinary troubles.

Price 50c a bottle, or three bottles for $1.25, at all druggists or sent by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont. 7

One Common Cause of Headache.

Perhaps the most general cause of headache and pain across the eyes is nasal catarrh. The simplest cure is to inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone which traverses every air cell and air passage of the throat, lungs and nose. It kills myriads of germs at every breath, clears away mucous discharges, preserves and heals the membrane. Catarrhozone is just a splendid remedy for headache, and its action is certain and unfailing in diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma and Catarrh. A trial will convince the most sceptical that Catarrhozone is all right. Large size, $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Leading Specialists of America. 25 Years in Detroit. Bank Security.

Nine out of every ten men have been guilty of transgression against nature in their youth. Nature never excuses, no matter how young, thoughtless or ignorant he may be. The punishment and suffering corresponds with the crime. The only escape from its ruinous results is proper scientific treatment to counteract its effects.

The DRAINS, either by nightly losses, or secretly through the urine, must be stopped—the NERVES must be built up and invigorated, the blood must be purified, the SEXUAL ORGANS must be vitalized and developed, the BRAIN must be nourished. Our New Method Treatment provides all these requirements. Under its influence the brain becomes active; the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and ulcers disappear; the nerves become strong as steel, so that nervousness, bashfulness and despondency disappear; the eyes become bright, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and sexual systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. The various organs become natural and manly. We invite all the afflicted to call and consult us confidentially and free of charge. Cures Guaranteed or no Pay. ST. ANDREW'S PICNIC.

A Most Enjoyable Trip Down the Otonabee River Yesterday.

About two hundred and fifty excursionists spent a most enjoyable day at St. Andrew's annual excursion yesterday. It was an ideal day in every respect, and they took advantage of the whole day, returning to town at 10 p.m. The City of Peterborough is in excellent condition for large picnics, being much more roomy and comfortable since being refitted, and under the very capable management of Captain Lane, with his efficient crew, everything passed off in a delightful manner. Everybody was hungry on arrival at the picnic grounds so it did not take long to get everything in readiness, and partaken of.

After dinner the time was spent in games, races and general good fun. All were in good spirits, and were bent on having the best possible time. A game of baseball was indulged in between the executive of the Sunday School and the Boys' Guild senior 9. The game was most exciting and the players showed great skill. The Guild team is in good working shape and has greatly developed since organization, so the game was easily won after two innings, and as the reward was a water melon each man got a share.

The scholars were then arranged in companies on the grass and served with ice cream and fruit.

After tea the boat started for home, and after touching at Jubilee, made a splendid run. The beautiful and lurid sunset, though unpromising to the farmer, lent a pleasant closing to such a delightful day. The trip home was occupied in singing, with organ and concertina accompaniment. Mr. Harry Edmondson spent the day with the picnicers, and it goes without saying they all had a happy time, and many of the choruses will never be forgotten. Mr. Cumming, recruiting officer for the new Indian Company of Militia, sang a few well rendered and much appreciated pieces.

The Executive desires to express its warmest thanks to the officers of the boat, to Mr. Drain, the agent of the boat company, who accompanied the excursionists, and to Mr. and Mrs. English, for the use of their beautiful grounds and for the kindness shown.

Joint Excursion.

An enjoyable day may be spent on Tuesday next, July 22nd, with the Presbyterian and English Sunday Schools, of Millbrook, down the river to Jubilee and Gore's Landing, by City of Peterborough leaving here at 8.30. Adults 40c., children 25c. Band on board. 2tod14

The Band Concert in Victoria Park Last Night.

The band concert in Victoria Park last night by the 57th Regt. Band, was one of the best of the series so far given. The attendance, too, was exceptionally large, and encores were demanded at an unusual rate, and were generously given. Many very sprightly little selections were given, interspersed with some of the old time favourites.

Peterborough should indeed be proud of her band, and this opinion has been expressed by many Americans and Canadians from out of town places who chance to be passing through to and fro from the lakes on the past two Friday evenings.

LAID AT REST.

The Funeral of the Late Miss Myrtal Hendren.

The funeral of the late Miss Myrtal Hendren took place yesterday from the family residence, Lakefield, to the Lakefield Cemetery. The cortege was an exceptionally long one, the most prominent citizens of the village, as well as many from Peterborough, and the surrounding country, turning out to pay their last tribute of respect to the deceased.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Jas. Hendren, Herbert Montgomery, Theo Crawford, E. Doidge, W. F. Stubbs, and Fred Skitch.

THE COMING CAMPAIGN.

The Christian Guardian on the Referendum Situation.

The Christian Guardian, on the referendum situation, says:—

The more we think of it, the more thoroughly we are convinced that the present is a time of grave importance to the cause of temperance in this fair Province and throughout the Dominion. Admitting that human nature generally has a tendency to exaggeration, and that we are inclined to think that a present crisis exceeds all others in gravity and far-reaching effect, we still believe that the temperance movement has come almost to a parting of the ways, and that the history of the next few months will tell vitally on this great struggle for the home, the state, the saving of men, and the glory of God.

The coming convention in Toronto beginning on July 29th, at 10 a.m., will open the campaign. We are hoping that that gathering will be largely attended and representative of the temperance sentiment of the Province. We are hoping, too, that it will be representative of the sane and sober judment and the intense conviction of thousands of our best citizens. Our cause much needs just now a zeal tempered and controlled by sound wisdom and discretion. Delegates should come, not with preconceived plans and ideas, which they are determined to force upon the convention, but with minds open as to methods and in a spirit of heartiest co-operation and unity. If sober counsel prevails the policy that the convention adopts is likely to be the safe and the successful one, even though it may not be yours.

Above all, we are to bear in mind that we are to make our cause God's cause, that His interest in the great purpose of our striving is greater than ours can possibly be, and that His wisdom is above all. We would earnestly ask that all our people, from the far east to the far west, would unite in prayer that infinite wisdom and patience and faithfulness might be given to the leaders and the people at large, and that a deep conviction of duty may be brought home to all.

Literature will play an important part in the campaign that ends with the referendum vote in December. The two new publications—The Pioneer, the organ of the Alliance, and The Liberator, the organ of the Temperance Legislation League—will do valiant service, and we welcome them into the ranks of the staunch temperance advocates. The Westminster, The Presbyterian, The Canadian Baptist, and The Congregationalist will also, we are sure, appeal regularly and faithfully to their constituencies. And it is not our intention that the Christian Guardian shall go back at all upon its splendid record of the past as a leader in this movement, and as a quickener of the conscience and director of the energies of the Methodist people. Following the convention, we hope to set apart a specified space for a wide variety of material bearing upon the temperance and prohibition issue, for which we have made careful preparation.

EXPLANATORY.

Mr. J. E. Hayes states that his tender for cement walks in Lindsay was 13 1-2 cents for sand finish, and 14 1-2 for granolithis finish — and not 13 1-4 for sand finish, as reported. The next lowest finish was 13 1-4 cents, which apparently carried the contract, as the difference of a cent makes a difference of $70 in the cost of 28,000 feet of walk.

SWIMMING IN JACKSON PARK LAKE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — With regard to swimming in Jackson Park, did I not see a paragraph in the Daily Examiner a few days ago stating that some boys had been summoned before the Police Court for the above offence, and that the Chief was determined to look after all such offenders in the future? Has he done so? Last evening I was in the Park and saw boys, or rather young men, bathing in the little lake at the bridge. Jackson Park is one of the most pleasant places in Peterborough for retirement after a hard day's labours, but it is not pleasant to come across a lot of hoodlums, using filthy and profane language, besides the other above named offence.

Yours truly,
R.

BASEBALL.

The Belleville Intelligencer says;—"The Peterborough Club's request for home and home games with Belleville is being considered by the local players, but a prominent ball-tosser informs us that they once gave Peterborough a game in Belleville with the understanding that they get a return game in Peterborough, but it never materialized. Therefore they are not falling over themselves trying to arrange this match. There is, however, a possibility that the games may be arranged. They would, no doubt, prove interesting."

There seems to be very little doubt now that the new skating rink will be erected on the Bradburn lot, on Brock street. Since it has been pretty nearly settled as to the site, the promoters are meeting with encouragement from the business men in that neighbourhood. Since the meeting on Thursday about $500 has been subscribed towards the building fund. Another meeting will be held very shortly.

EXIT JACK! ENTER JACK.

Norwood's far-famed and well-known hotel, which was brought to such a high state of efficiency by Mr. Malcolm McGregor, a former proprietor, and who created for this house a splendid and enduring reputation for supplying its guests with every comfort, luxury and convenience, and which has been known for many years as the "McGregor House," whose reputation for excellence was well sustained by the late congenial host, Mr. John McDonald, the management and proprietorship thereof, has just passed from Mr. McDonald to Mr. John White, a gentleman from Peterborough, whose reputation as an hotel man has already preceded him. In fact he is not entirely unacquainted with Norwood, or Norwood with him. His father conducted the first livery in Peterborough, and John has walked on the virgin soil here where the McGregor House now stands, before the edifice was erected. We therefore wish success for the new proprietor, and trust that the enviable reputation of the McGregor House will attain even greater lustre.

OUR TOWN ROLLER AND OUR STREETS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — I wish a few lines of your space to inquire why our town roller is so disappointing in the amount of work it does. When the roller was purchased we were to have through its work, the best possible streets in the province, but, as a matter of fact, we have, with the exception of a few, some of the worst streets in the country side. Any person going to the country, when he reaches the outside roads, is struck with the contrast between the outrageous condition of the outlying streets of the town, and that of the excellent country roads, which are far better than many, if not most, of our streets in town. That this condition should exist, with all our expensive appliances, and the large expenditure made on our streets, is positively shameful.

Our fine steam roller doesn't seem to do the work expected of it. It seems to spend the time between getting out of order, being put into order, and standing on street corners, where its only function appears to be to frighten passing horses, or radiate the heat of the boiler into the premises opposite which it may be placed. There seems to be something wrong with our steam roller—there must be, for it cannot be the fault of its efficient engineer. As a large ratepayer I am interested, and I would suggest to the Town Council that they communicate with the Harrisburg people, state the facts to them, and have them send a man here to overhaul our steam roller, find out what is the matter with it, and show what it can do, if it is able to do all that was claimed for it. When we got it it was to be used in keeping our streets in good order at small expense. But it appears that the most it has done is to help build a few pieces of new street. Now I understand that it costs about $7 per day to run the steam roller. Therefore in a hundred days, say the three summer months, at an expense of only $700 it might be profitably employed to put into decent shape the outrageous outlying streets beyond the business centre. The roller, with the pickers applied, could loosen a long stretch of rough street in a day, if it could be made to "get a move on," and if it were followed by the grader, and the street nicely levelled and then treated to a good application of the roller, a good street would result without any cost for additional metal, etc. Our system, or, rather, lack of system, in looking after our streets, is very sloppy. We build a good street, and then leave it severely alone. When a hole or hollow develops it is left to develop, and is gouged deeper by every passing wheel; whereas if it were taken in time, and a barrow full of street metal placed in the depression, the street would be maintained in good condition. But it is left to work out its own destruction, and before long it is pitted with ruts, and the last state of that road is worse than the first.

Our steam roller, if it is what it was "cracked up" to be, should do better and more work than it seems capable of doing now, even in competent hands. Let the aldermen investigate, and have the Harrisburg people look the roller over and put right whatever may be wrong. I don't condemn the roller; I believe it is capable of doing good work, but I know that it does not pay for its keep—in the language of the stud barn, it is "eating its head off."

I have now had my grumble partly out, and I feel better, but I would feel a good deal better when I send in my cheque for taxes to the collector, if I were sure that, in the matter of street improvement, and getting value out of our costly street roller, I was getting fair value for my money. Thanking you, I remain,

Yours truly,
RATEPAYER.

LOCAL LEGAL.

Single Court—Before MacMahon, J.

Morrow vs. Peterborough Water Co.—Judgment (E.B.B.) on special case stated for the opinion of the court in action by plaintiff Morrow, who sues on behalf of himself and all other holders of partly paid up shares of stock of defendant company, to recover his distributive share of certain moneys now in the hands of the company. The question for the opinion of the court is: In what proportion or proportions is the surplus in the bank to the credit of the defendant company, after providing for the satisfaction of all the liabilities of defendant company, the return of all share capital and the payment of dividends, distributable among the shareholders of the stock of the said company other than the holders of first preference shares? All the stockholders, both secured, preference and the holders of ordinary shares of stock, having had returned to them the amount paid in by them on their shares, together with the dividends payable thereon up to the period of distribution, and all the debts and liabilities having been paid, order made directing that after payment out of the surplus assets on hand of the costs of all parties of this motion, the remaining assets of the company be distributed among all the shareholders of the ordinary stock of the company in proportion to their shares. G. F. Shepley, K.C., for plaintiff. R. E. Wood (Peterborough) for defendants Rogers and Lewis. L. M. Hayes (Peterborough) for defendant Collins. C. H. Bradburn (Peterborough) for the Peterborough Water Company.

KAWARTHA LAKES.

STONY LAKE.

Stony Lake is looking its prettiest just now, the cool weather and numerous rainfalls contributing to preserving the greenness of the verdure to such an extent as to greatly enhance the beauty of the islands. It is only during the last week, however, that the tourist trade has begun to assume the proportions which might be expected at so popular a resort. Stony Lake, as well as all other Canadian summer resorts, has suffered from a lack of patronage owing to the backwardness of the season, but doubtless the place will be crowded during the latter part of July and all through August. The rush of cottagers has already begun, and although many of the old faces are missing, still nearly all of the islands are already occupied. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt and family are occupying Mr. R. B. Rogers' cottage at the head of Clear Lake, and Mr. Rogers has the house boat moored in the vicinity for the accommodation of his own family. Mrs. Munro and family and Mrs. Ludgate are at the Hamilton cottage, and Mr. Robt. Neill is again occupying his pretty summer home. Mr. John Crane has reopened Glad-Hal-Ken, and has erected a large 9 x15 tent on the north end of his island for the accommodation of guests when his cottage is filled. Across the channel Mr. C. B. McAllister's place looks very pretty, his three tents showing up in fine style against the background of green foliage. Mr. McAllister's friends will be interested to know that he has solved the problem of milking that kicking cow by making both head and hind quarters fast to trees, which are conveniently placed to serve the purpose.

A very neat Alabo-Vapour yacht has been purchased this year by Mr. McCallister.

The Bualls, of Rochester, are once more on their point, and Mr. Harry Stock and family took possession of "Invanhoe" yesterday, when the island was given up by the Y.M.C.A. boys of Warren, Pa., who have occupied it for the past two weeks. Miss Brown has taken "Forest Nook" for the season, and has a very large party of guests. Mr. Rice, of Toronto, has taken "Raybourne" for the season, and his brother and family are again at Grassy Island. Mr. Wm. Lech and some members of the family are again on Pompadour Island, and Mr. J. D. Collins is comfortably settled for the season at his cottage. Mr. E. H. D. Hall's island is again taken by Mrs. Dennistoun and party, and Mr. T. E. Bradburn opened his cottage this week. Mr. Caldwell came down to his cottage from Toronto during the week, and a large party from Toronto have rented Mrs. Dunn's cottage, across from the store. Sheriff Hall's family are, as a matter of course, spending the summer at their cottage, and an idea of the height of the water may be gained from the statement that it is within six inches of the top of the Sheriff's wharf. Headlands is occupied by Mrs. Tate, of Lakefield, again, and the Jaffray party of Toronto, report having a splendid time on their own pretty island, which has not been occupied for several seasons. Messrs. Blomfield and Lillicrap of Lakefield, have re-opened their places, as have Messrs Hamilton and Barrie, Mr. R. E. Layfield and family being with the latter, at "Ishpening."

Mr. J. J. McBain's pretty place at "Bona Vista," looks as attractive as ever, but no one is at Mrs. Traill's island as yet. Dr. Bell, of Lakefield, has reopened his cottage, and the Eagle Mounters are all up for the season, consisting of Messrs. Sutherland, Jones, Griffith, John Sawers, H. P. Lindsay and Geo. Cochrane. Mr. Nugent and family are on Little Otter, having as guests Mr. and Mrs. Woodworth, of Toronto, and Mr. Cole and family are at Big Otter. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett have been at Gemmell's Island since early in the spring, and Mr. G. M. East and family of Toronto, are again on their little island, east of Eaglemount. Mr. Austin, of Toronto, is building a little east of them.

Mr. Fred Morgan reports a fair business at the Victoria House, McCracken's Landing, with great prospects for the remainder of the season, as a great many applications have been received for rooms for the latter part of July and for August. The Victoria House is patronized very extensively by Peterborough people, and August promises to be a very gay month at McCracken's.

Strathormond was re-opened yesterday by Mrs. J. R. Stretton. The "Mollie" is at present out of commission on account of repairs having to be made to her machinery. Messrs. Carter and Macdonald, old Lakefield boys, who are now in Pittsburg, have added another story to their cottage, and have also extended their verandah space very considerably. A fine new boat house has also been built for the launch.

Mr. Bates and family, of New York, have taken "Kenmore" again this season from Mr. K. G. Lech. The cottage is greatly improved by the addition of large verandahs on three sides. Mr. Piper's new cottage has no occupant as yet, but Mr. A. C. Cameron, of Toronto, has the old place. Dr. Pond, of Pittsburg, is up again, and Jas. Moore, of Lakefield, is next door to him. Messrs. Samuel Henderson, and Jas. Aikins, are down from Toronto, with their families, as usual.

Mount Julian Hotel has been improved by the addition of a two-story wing, the ground floor of which is to be used as a kitchen. As it has a fine hardwood floor, the boarders have been utilizing it for dancing purposes. Dr. and Mrs. Clarris, of Buffalo, Dr. and Mrs. Brown, of New York, and Mr. Frank Garfat, of Port Hope, are occupying the cottage and make a very merry party. Dr. Clarris has the finest gramaphone on the lake, the music being clearly heard as far as Eagle Mount on clear evenings.

The "Viamede" people are looking forward to a great rush in August and they are fully prepared to furnish every accommodation. The importation of Chinese servants has solved the labour question at Viamede in a manner which is most satisfactory.

Mr. Acton, of Toronto, and Mr. Allan, from across the border, are again in their cottages. Mr. W. H. Meldrum, who recently purchased Mr. Mellor's very convenient little island, is already encamped on it for the season. Mr. J. L. Madill is on Sheldrake's Island, and just behind a large party are enjoying themselves at Dukes Domum. Mr. Guilett, of Cobourg, is once more at Westaway, and still boasts possession of the only tennis court at the lake. Some Toronto people are at Fairy Lake Villa, and Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald has rented Mr. J. B. McWilliams' new cottage. Mr. L. Payne opens his cottage periodically for a few days and does a little fishing. Messrs. Jos. Yelland, R. McWhinnie, A. C. McCallum and Felix Brownscombe have all reopened their cottages at "Idleside."

Tecumseh Lodge bears a deserted appearance as yet, Mr. McWilliams and family not having gone back to the lake yet. Mr. and Mrs. D'Arcy Strickland are at Mr. R. C. Strickland's Burleigh cottage, and Mrs. J. Wood, of Peterborough has purchased Mr. Lillicrap's pretty cottage.

Messrs. Darcy & Son are running a very up-to-date hostelry at Burleigh Falls, and have quite a big crowd of Americans there enjoying the fishing.

Mr. Harry Strickland and family, of Toronto, are at Mr. E. Rolleston Tate's cottage.

Mr. Richard Hall's cottage has been re-opened. Oakdene is closed at present, though opened earlier in the season. The Syndicate Island at Boschink Narrows reminds one of old times by the way it is filled up. The cottages of Messrs. W. G. Ferguson, Peter Connal and Robert Hall are all occupied by their respective families and Mrs. R. R. Hall has Mr. Adam Hall's cottage. Mrs. A. H. Stratton and children being her guests at the present. The American colony at Boschink is all settled for the summer, but Dr. Race and family are not up yet.

Mr. Fred Addison and family have been up for some time. Mr. Addison has purchased a gasolene launch out of which he promises to take much pleasure this season. Unfortunately, he met with quite a severe injury to his hand on the first trip. Mr. B. Shortly's place, just around the corner looks as neat as ever, and Mr. W. A. Sanderson's big Union Jack floating on the breeze denotes that he and his family are already domiciled at the Lake for the summer. The Craig's are again at Belle Isle, and Miss Williams, of Norwood, has opened up her cottage. Popular Mr. Harry Brock, Secretary of the Cottagers' Association, is again at "Kalliola," with his family and his neighbours, Rev. Mr. Gibson and Mr. Ackerman, of Norwood, are also at their cottages.

The hospitable doors of "Belle Chasse" are ajar for the season, and Miss Hackett, with her guest, Miss Lemay, of Welland, N.Y., came into town yesterday, returning this evening to the Lake with Mr. LeBrun.

Mr. Robert Lundy's beautiful place looks as attractive as ever, as does Mr. Gould's attractive little island.

The Norwood colony in the upper lake are all occupying their cottages, and Prof. Ray, of New York, has located near them. He has a very pretty little yacht, so that between him and Mr. Buck the Upper Enders should see lots of boating.

Both Messrs. Breese and Donell report plenty of guests coming to their boarding houses for August.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Manning and party have Mr. Croly's cottage for a couple of weeks.

The family of the late Surveyor Lieut.-Col. White, of the Imperial service, are spending their second summer at Ballyraggit. Mr. Dodsworth, of Pittsburg, is already opened up and is once more endeavouring to master the obstinacy of his little yacht.

Mr. and Mrs. Della Fosse, of Lakefield, have taken Mr. Lingwood's cottage.

The following were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Payne at "Paynesboro," Stony Lake for the past ten days;—Mrs. G. H. Murray, Innerkip; Mrs. W. Patrick and Stanley Patrick, Woodstock; Mr. W. L. Joy and wife, and the Misses Helen and Marion Joy, Toronto Junction.

Mr. T. W. Robinson has made a number of improvements to the Juniper Island store, whereby it has been greatly enlarged and made much more convenient for customers.

The Stony Lake Cottagers' Association will hold a special meeting at the pavilion, Juniper Island, at three o'clock on the afternoon of Thursday, July 31st. Matters pertaining to the annual regatta will be considered. It is proposed to hold the races on two days this season. The first day will probably fall on August 20th, and the second the day following, which is Peterborough's civic holiday.

VIAMEDE.

The weather at Stony Lake seems still uncertain as to whether it is wise to remain cold and showery, or warm and settled. But the disturbed state of the elements seems so universal that we cannot complain of being singled out for special unpleasantness, and doubtless August will prove more reasonable and comfortable for the many tourists who will be on the move during the month.

At Viamede on Wednesday evening, the hostess gave the use of the spacious wharf to the house staff for a quiet little dance, and a pleasant evening was spent. Most of the guests visited the scene of amusement during the evening, and expressed themselves as having heartily enjoyed the event.

The following guests have registered at this resort;—Dr. Edward Renouf, Mr. Ollers, H. T. Philpot, Baltimore, Ind.; Mr. John Richardson, Lakefield; Mr. Thos. Pearson, Montreal; Mr. Ollers, H. T. Love, Mr. W. S. Firman, Mr. H. M. Webb, Mr. Thos. Webster, Mr. T. McNoyes, Rochester; Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Day, Providence, R. I.; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McMaster, Montreal; Dr. Rolester, Shelburne; Mlle. Stanchfield, John B. Stanchfield, jr., Adelbert Hudson, Elmira; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar C. Neal, Mr. Roy Neal and Miss Grace Neal, Buffalo; Dr. Alex. Bell, Apsley.

LAKEFIELD.

Mr. Buck, of Norwood, has launched the Maida Vale, which is a beautiful yacht, capable of accommodating about 70 persons. The boat has a speed of about 12 miles an hour.

Craig's summer hotel is doing a rushing business. Below is a list of those who have registered at the Craig House this week; Chas. T. PETERBOROUGH'S BOOM.

The Cereal Works Making Demands on Railway Facilities.

General Superintend Timmerman, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, stopped over last night at Peterborough on his way up from Montreal. To-day Mr. Timmerman, accompanied by Superintendent Price, is inspecting the improvements which are being carried out in the yards at Peterborough, including the increased facilities for handling large quantities of grain, made necessary on account of the extensive plant now being erected here by the Cereal Company. A large amount of capital is being invested in these works at Peterborough, and the Canadian Pacific Railway in consequence is expending a large amount of money in the erection of new sheds and enlarging their yards.

The safest way to form an opinion of "DARDANELLES," an absolutely pure Egyptian cigarette, is to try a package. Once tried always used. Packed in Silver, Cork and Plain tips. Sold everywhere, 15 cts. per package.

QUAINT BIBLICAL PHRASES.

An interesting official document has been issued describing the actual coronation ceremony in Westminster Abbey, entitled, "The form and order of service and ceremonies at the coronation of Their Majesties Edward VII. and Queen Alexandra, in the Abbey Church of St. Peter, Westminster, June 26." The document, which is very long, is divided into numerous sections thus:

Section 1—Preparation.
Section 2—Entrance into the church.
Section 3—The recognition.
Section 4—The litany, communion and sermon.
Section 7—The oath.
Section 8—The anointing.
Section 9—Presenting the spurs and sword, and girding with the sword.
Section 10—Investing with the armilla and imperial mantle, and delivery of the orb.
Section 11.—Investiture per annulum et baculum.
Section 12—Crowning.
Section 13—Presenting the Holy Bible.
Section 14—The benediction and Te Deum.
Section 15.—The enthronisation.

The document is couched in quaint Biblical language. It commences with a description of how on the morning of coronation day care is to be taken that the ampulla is filled with oil, and with a spoon laid ready upon the altar. The archbishops and bishops, being already vested with their copes, will form a procession outside the west door of the Abbey and await notice of the approach of Their Majesties before moving into the church. Their Majesties will be received with the anthem, "Peace Be Within Thy Walls." Their Majesties will pass towards the throne and make their humble adoration, kneeling at the faldstools, and then sit in chairs below the thrones.

The document continues to describe the curious ceremony of recognition and the other ceremonies. Those above mentioned occur before the coronation proper.

Insanity in Summer Brought on by Nervous and Mental Troubles.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

The Great Tower of Safety and Rock of Health in the Hot Weather.

Nervous diseases, when aggravated by mental disturbances produce more cases of insanity in the hot weather than at any other season of the year. Nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, sleeplessness and chronic constipation induce depression of spirits, extreme weakness, despondency and langour; from these dread insanity comes slowly but surely.

Nervous sufferers have a dread of hot weather. Finding themselves deeper in the pit of misery than they were in the spring and early summer they are in utter despair.

There is hope for you dear reader, if you are one of the sufferers. You stand in need of Paine's Celery Compound, that great builder of the nervous system. Its vitalizing action commences with the first bottle you use. The volume of blood immediately increases in the arteries, and the body is fully fed and nourished. Your appetite becomes regular and natural, the nerves and brain are also strengthened, and you have impulses of health that cheer the soul.

This remarkable remedy will truly meet your case and give you a new life; it will lay the foundation for happiness and long years. We counsel you to try this marvellous summer health restorer at once, and enjoy the blessings of health.

Snubbing a Snob.

Jasmin, the Gascon poet and barber, once treated a rich snob to the snubbing he deserved. Jasmin had been reciting his poems for the benefit of the poor and had afterward been escorted in triumphal procession to his hotel. Next morning while he was still in bed some one knocked at the door, a vulgar nabob entered and installed himself without invitation in a chair.

"My dear Jasmin," said he patronisingly, "I am a banker, a millionaire, as you know. I wish you to shave me with your own hand. Please set to work at once, for I am pressed for time. You can ask what you like for your trouble."

"Pardon me, sir," said Jasmin, with pride. "I shave for pay at home only."

"What do you say?"

"It is true, sir. I shave for pay only at home."

"Come, come! You are jesting. I cannot be put off. Make your charge what you like, but shave me!"

"Again I say, sir, it is impossible!"

"How impossible? Isn't it your trade?"

"It is, but at this moment I am not disposed to exercise it."

In spite of renewed bribes and entreaties Jasmin remained firm, and the millionaire went away unshaved.

ON WALKING.

Hon. Mr. Le Sueur, of the Postoffice Department, Ottawa, Got Comfort Out of Toronto Street Car Strike.

Mr. Le Sueur of the Postoffice Department, Ottawa, was in Toronto on Saturday, 21st June, 1902, when the street cars were tied up tight. He had to walk into the city from "Edgewood," Indian Road, about four miles out, and as he trudged along he took refuge in the ancient philosophers, says The Toronto Star. Mr. Le Sueur is all sorts of an honor classical man of Toronto University; he is deeply read in those fine old Greek systems which teach that virtue is its own reward, and that a man is really presumptuous who looks for such a bonus as eternal happiness. As a Christian gentleman that is, of course, not Mr. Le Sueur's belief, but the idea of accepting the present and making the best of it has tempered all his life with a sweet imperturbable resignation.

In short, Mr. Le Sueur refused to make his four-mile journey on Shanks' Mare a via dolorosa. As he measured off his journey he thought of those ancient civilizations where there were no street cars for the populace. There were the equites to be sure, who had the privilege of riding horses, and there was the rich man who, then as now, bowled down the street in his auriga. But there were no street cars. As a general rule, the people walked, and only the gods rode. Mr. Le Sueur thought of the great men of the past who had used the Irishman's tandem—one foot before the other—and his heart was cheered. His mind reverted to Greek art. What built up those splendid symmetrical forms? What gave the great Greek men their noble port and wonderful chest expansion? Why, walking, to be sure! Last of all, Mr. Le Sueur thought of the Greatest Walker in the World—one Aristotle, who established a Peripatetic School. Aristotle, whose ideas are responsible for the Manchester School of Thought, which now dominates the civilized earth, walked in a garden, and taught philosophy as he walked. He believed that the gentle execution stimulated thinking, and that the difficulty of walking and reading at the same time helped the memory.

Having reached this point in his reflections, Mr. Le Sueur found himself at the corner of King and Yonge streets. What a change was here! The populous siltnce! The decorous hum unbroken by the clanging of such modernities as trolley gongs! What a delightful reminiscence of old Athens! Mr. Le Sueur almost expected to see Dr. Parkin on the corner in a toga—with the Senatorial stripe. In lack of that, his mind fell on legs and their uses. Doesn't Darwin say that organs or limbs which are disused gradually wither away and disappear? How many men who now totter out to a street car on rickety pins stop to reflect that their posterity may have no more legs than a brownie?

Mr. Le Sueur's mature conviction is that a street railway strike is a great boon if it reminds the public that it has legs. If we don't want to look like Mr. Wells' Martians—all head and no body to speak of—we must walk more. At first the suddenness of tht exercise will leave us a little sore. But keep on, people! Persevere in the tramp. Think of the actors, how healthy they are, in spite of their strenuous life! Why? Because they count ties. You'll get used to it, of course; and in time you'll eat more, with healthier relish, sleep more soundly, and think more clearly than if you had a whole wilderness of street cars.

Acetylene for Cotton Factory.

A very curious case of acetylen lighting is reported from Germany at Stadtbach, in Augsberg. At this point there is a large cotton mill, which derives its power from a waterfall a little over a mile distant. The natural conclusion would be that electric lighting would be adopted, but, owing to the liability of the turbines being stopped at intervals during the winter, owing to ice, it has been decided to employ acetylene, which can, at least, be depended on for continuous service.

Like a Chicken.

"Destiny," said the pensive boarder "is like a chicken—it isn't everybody who can serve it to his entire satisfaction."—Sydney Town and Country Journal.

THAT AWFUL GAS.

For Years This Form of Indigestion had Troubled Mr. Harmer—Now all the Bloating and Belching has Gone.

Indigestion manifests itself in many forms. One of the most trying and unpleasant symptoms is the formation of gas in the stomach, and the consequent belching up, bloating and distress.

This was how it affected Mr. W. H. Harmer, of Avonmore, N. B., and in this way he had been troubled for a long time. Nothing he used as a medicine seemed to improve his condition until he commenced a treatment of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

This favourite remedy once more demonstrated its wonderful curative properties by immediately relieving and in a very short time completely curing Mr. Harmer's trouble.

He has written a letter in which he expresses his gratitude to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets for their prompt and satisfactory cure of his trouble. He says:—

The evidence of these wonderful cures pour in daily from all parts of the Dominion. From east, west, north and south come grateful letters from people in all stations of life, who had almost given up hope of ever being cured, and who have found in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets a remedy they so long had sought.

The wonder is that every Dyspeptic has not already heard of and used this remedy.

One of the serious symptoms of this disease is fear and doubt, and this may account for the fact that there is a single case of Dyspepsia left in the Dominion of Canada.

Surely these earnest, honest letters and statements of living men and women will convince the most skeptical Dyspeptic that to suffer a moment longer when a cure is at hand is unnecessary.

What has cured all kinds of cases, of every conceivable form, in old people and in young people, is surely worth a trial.

If you don't believe, ask these people, or any one else who has given Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets a fair trial.

A LIFE IN PERIL.

She Suffered From Headaches, Dizziness and Night Sweats—Her Friends Feared She was Going Into Consumption.

From L'Avenir, St. Jerome, Que.

Among the thousands of young girls who bless Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for safely carrying them through that most perilous period of their lives when they step from girlhood into the broader realm of womanhood, there is none more enthusiastic than Miss Gabrielle Thomas, a young lady known to most of the residents of St. Jerome, Que., and greatly esteemed by all her acquaintances. To a reporter of L'Avenir du Nord, Miss Thomas said: "From the time I was fourteen until I was eighteen years of age my health was very bad. I was very weak; had no appetite and could do no work. At night I perspired greatly and frequently slept but little. I suffered from headaches, dizziness and could scarcely move about without becoming breathless, and I finally reached a stage when my friends feared I was going into consumption. I was under the care of doctors, but their treatment did not help me. I then tried several advertised medicines, but with the same poor results and I had come to think I could not get better. One day I read in a newspaper the statement of a young girl whose symptoms were almost identical with my own, who was cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I then decided to try this medicine and have reason to bless the day I did so. I had only used the pills a few weeks when I began to get better, and in a couple of months every symptom of my trouble had disappeared and I was as strong and healthy as any girl of my age. I have since always enjoyed the best of health and I shall be glad indeed if my experience proves helpful to some other suffering girl."

The happiness of health for both men and women lies in the timely use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which act as a nerve tonic and supply new blood to enfeebled systems. They have cured many thousands of cases of anaemia, "decline," consumption, pains in the back, neuralgia depression of spirits, heart palpitation, indigestion, rheumatism, sciatica, St. Vitus' dance and partial paralysis. But substitutes should be avoided if you value your health; see that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is on every box. Sold by all dealers or sent post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Queen Victoria and Son Busy.

In the height of the season in 1881 Queen Victoria attended a brilliant garden party given by the Prince and Princess at Marlborough House.

In the following year the Prince was present on several occasions when His mother made public appearances, greatly to the gratification of her people. In March, 1882, a man shot at her Majesty as she was driving away from Windsor railway station; but fortunately the Queen suffered nothing worse than a shock. The fellow was seized by an Eton boy, Mr. Bromley Davenport, who some years afterwards sat in the House of Commons and was the recipient of the Queen's special thanks. In April the Queen and the Prince were present at the wedding of the Duke of Albany at Windsor. In May the Queen dedicated Epping Forest for the use of the public forever, being accompanied by the Prince. Later in the year she declared the new law courts open, and again the Prince was at her side during the function. There is no doubt that the Prince did his utmost to persuade his mother to come out more frequently from the retirement which had become her second nature; for he was well aware how her presence in the metropolis gave a necessary spur to West End trade and added life to London. At the same time he was discharging more and more the duties which ordinarily belong to the Sovereign, although he was always careful to say that he did so "on behalf of my Mother." The publication in 1883 of More Leaves from my Journal in the Highlands did more to prove the affectionate bonds with which the members of our Royal Family were linked than all the formal speeches in public could have accomplished. The natural way in which the Queen wrote of "Bertie" and "Alix" in these interesting revelations of her home-life went to the heart of the nation in a very genuine fashion. The language in which Royalty is written of is ordinarily so stiff and formal that these affectionate allusions of the Queen to her son and his fair consort seemed to take us into her confidence and to throw aside the veil of formality and ceremonial which ordinarily divides a monarch from the people.

Assassination of the Czar.

The year 1879 was one of considerable gloom in England, for bad harvests and great depression of trade were added to the continued war which had already entailed much distress. Political restlessness followed, and in 1880 came the extraordinary turn of the tide which landed Mr. Gladstone in power with a large majority behind him. With the advent of a new Government it seemed as though things took a turn for the better, and the commercial outlook was certainly brighter. Queen Victoria's grandson—now the German Emperor—the eldest son of the Crown Princess of Prussia, was married in 1881, and the event was of special interest to his British relatives. But soon after the wedding bells had rung came the terrible news of the assassination of the Czar Alexander I., on March 15th, 1881. The Prince and Princess, as has been mentioned, were old friends of the Emperor and the tidings made a very deep impression on them. The shock was all the greater because the sister of the Princess was the wife of the ruler who now came to the throne of the Russian Empire. Besides, all such events affect every member of all the Royal families, for they cannot but feel how precarious their own life is. The Princess of Wales was much depressed by the shock which she received, and it was some time before she could get over it. That summer the family gathering in Denmark was shadowed by the constant thought of the death of one who had always enjoyed so keenly his release from police supervision and the sense of freedom which was so impossible in Russia. The Czar said once to the daughters of the Prince: "Goodbye, my dears, you are going back to your happy English home: I am going back to my Russian prison."

Cross Petition Filed.

Hamilton, July 18.—A cross petition was filed yesterday morning by the Conservatives of West Hamilton, the usual charges being made.

INTERESTED IN SCIENCE.

As Boy and Man the King Has Honored Its Professors.

It is not inapt, perhaps, to remember here that though the serious side of the King's life is much less understood than the popular side of it, the King had been interested from the beginning of his career in serious things. Inventions based on scientific research have always interested the King, who from his youth was keen on witnessing chemical and electrical experiments. He said ten years ago, in a speech at the Royal Institution: "I had the opportunity of practising chemistry in the University of Oxford, and I only regret now that I have not time to pursue that interesting science." He attended the marvellously-absorbing lectures delivered by Michael Faraday, and both he and his sister—the late Empress Frederick—lost no opportunity of paying honour to men of science. The developments of electricity have been followed carefully by the King, who soon recognised the value and advantages of electric lighting. When "liquid gas" was manufactured before a brilliant assemblage in London, the Prince of Wales was present as an interested spectator of the experiment. He is very fond of hearing of the latest discoveries in science, and no one who has been privileged to explain such a matter to the King has failed to gain his close attention. Anypoe of the King's attendance at Faraday's lectures, an interesting autograph letter was bequeathed to the Royal Institution by the late Mr. Charles Deacon, of Newcastle. It was written by the King when he was a lad of fourteen years of age to Michael Faraday himself. In a simple, boyish style the young Prince said how much he had enjoyed the lectures, and how he counted the Professor as a friend, and would try and remember the marvellous things he had learnt from him.

The Welsh From Patagonia.

W. L. Griffith, Canadian Government agent for Wales and secretary to the Welsh Patagonian Committee, responding to the toast of the committee, at the Liverpool banquet, stated that the following message had been sent to York House by the Colonists' Committee: "This committee, acting on behalf of the Welsh settlers who have to-day arrived on British soil after a long sojourn in the Argentine Republic, hereby express our heartfelt satisfaction and pleasure at being once more within the dominions of H. M. Edward VII. We also most respectfully tender our sincere thanks to H.R.H. the Prince of Wales for the interest he has taken in, and the assistance he has rendered to, the movement of our repatriation. We look forward to becoming the centre of a numerous Welsh settlement in the Dominion of Canada, assured that the experience gained under an alien Government will tend to increase our loyalty to the British Empire."

The following reply has been received: "Prince of Wales has received with much pleasure the resolution forwarded by you from the Welsh Patagonians. H.R.H. desires me to convey to them his congratulations on their being again within the King's dominions, and to wish them happiness and prosperity in their new homes in Canada.—A. Bigge." Mr. Chamberlain had telegraphed: "I wish Welsh Patagonians every success in their new life in Canada." Sir John Llewellyn, chairman of the Patagonian Committee, has also sent a message of congratulation and of good wishes, and an interesting letter has been received from Gutyn Ebrill, the patriarch of the Patagonian colony, who expresses his warmest approval of the movement. Mr. Griffith added that, from an experience of fifteen years in Canada, he was sure there were bright prospects for the colonists in the Northwest, and that ultimately Wales would have a chance of sending her sons to share in the prosperity of the new colony.

Quack Doctors Versus Druggists.

It is a more sensible thing for the public to entrust their health in the hands of a skillful chemist than to a quack medicine. Merrill's System Tonic is a reliable drug store remedy —pleasant to take — which purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and regulates the bowels. 50 doses in each bottle. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

This Is a Bargain.

Of Benefit to Growing Girls.

It Makes the Pale, Bloodless and Anaemic Strong, Healthy and Vigorous.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

In the life of nearly every girl there comes a time when her system demands just such assistance as can best be supplied by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. The physiological changes which take place put a strain on the system, which is likely to leave paleness, weakness, and a run-down system. This great food cure restores health and colour to the pale anaemic, and frequently relieves parents of a burden of anxiety regarding their growing girls.

Mrs. Goodson, 104 Sebastopol St., Montreal, Que., states:—

"My daughter was very nervous, and seemd to have no strength. Her appetite was bad, and she looked pale and bloodless. Since she has been using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food there has been a marked change in her appearance. She now has a splendid appetite, and seems to be stronger and healthier in every way. I am well pleased with the results obtained from the use of this medicine, and think it is a splendid treatment for growing girls."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto, Ont.

CROESUS AND CUPID

By Martha McCulloch-Williams

Copyright, 1902, by the S. S. McClure Company

"A fine country place, heaps of ready money—and perfect liberty! Helen, is there anything left to wish for?" Hildreth asked, laying down the lawyer's letter. Helen shrugged the least bit as she answered: "Why, yes! If only one could have been born a widow"—

"I am ready to immolate myself. Widows are easier made than born," Hildreth said, catching her hand. "Only make me your lord, Helen of Troy, and I will promise to do the disappearing act whenever you are ready."

"You don't understand. Of course I should hate being a made widow. Made widows have to wear caps, and —and people say such horrid, horrid things of them if they venture to be—eh, the least bit human—I mean not funereal. But if only one could be born to that estate, with all the grief over or softened to a becoming pensive memory, why, it would be heavenly. Widows, for all their drawbacks, have the best lives of all." Helen said, puckering her forehead the best she could. Scowling was an unknown art to her. She had laughed persistently in the face of hard fortune. Now that the tide had turned her gay courage began to ebb.

"If only I had anybody all my own, I should not mind," she went on. "But there is not a soul. Maybe I ought to be selfishly glad. If there was a soul nearer than ninth cousin, this wonderful fairy fortune would be cut in two. I cannot feel that I in the least deserve it. But only think! I can have what frocks I please and silver money for my poor people instead of pennies."

"Will it spoil you, I wonder?" Hildreth said meditatively. "You know we've always said money was the real touchstone. Any poor body can be decent; there is so little temptation to be anything else."

"I wish I knew," Helen said. "I think souls are like flowers, making the earth they grow in too rich—ruins if it does not kill them outright."

"You are not offensively rich. All told, this great-uncle's legacy foots up a quarter of a million. Spending that will never bother a person of your luxurious capacities," Hildreth said consolingly.

Helen laughed. "And I have existed on less than six hundred a year," she said. "Promise me, Vance, you will never change—the beastly money shall make no difference with us."

"It's bound to make a difference. Think of daring to ask you now to dine with me at L'Ally's!" Hildreth laughed back: "Nothing will go with you but Merry's or the Swelldorf. And I cannot eat your dinners there since I have not the coin to return them in kind."

"You are horrible!" Helen said promptly. "By way of punishment, I invite myself to dine with you tonight. Not at L'Ally's either—we'll go to that forty cent place where the coffee is so sinful that it always suggests an appeal to the police. Maybe some of the others will be there."

"All of them. It's near the middle of the week. Pay day is two days ahead for most of the gang." Hildreth answered, with a flickering smile. "Lord, I shall like to see them when they know! You are going to tell them, of course, Helen?"

"You may tell them. I shall not say a word," Helen said, setting her finger tips together. "I'm beginning to be cowardly," she went on. "Suppose it should turn out that my money costs me my friends and my illusions?"

"I hardly understand," Hildreth began.

She raised her hand. "This is my fear," she said. "All these five years I have been out in the scurry of things. I have hugged the belief that my—that people liked me for what I was, not for what I might one day become. Latterly, since Gumpsey's has asked for and exploited my stories, there has been so perceptible a warming up in some quarters it has made me a bit cynical. Now I am saying to myself, 'Suppose the money draws the sycophants to you, and the fear of seeming sycophantic drives away the real ones?' That would be terrible. I hope—oh, how I hope—that those I care most for will understand, however my way of life changes, I myself shall be just the same!"

"I shall believe it," Hildreth said, lifting her hand to his lips. "In proof, you must dine with me this night year, and at the forty cent place—if it survives so long."

"If it does not, you shall dine with me," Helen said gratefully, "and not at the Swelldorf either. It shall be deep in the country, under my own fig tree and vine."

* * * * * * *

"No; the forty cent place did not die in answer to my prayers," Hildreth said upon the anniversary of Helen's inheriting. He sat opposite her, with a broad damask snowfield between, all the breadth of it gleaming with silver and crystal. Roses lay loosely over it—heavy headed hothouse roses grown upon the place. Helen, a vision in misty white, with pearls at her throat and richer roses at her breast, was all unlike the girl of last year. She had been trimly tailor made, yet very, very threadbare then. Somehow Hildreth found it hard to give her place to the fluffy, fluttery creature who now answered her name.

He had been absurdly fond of the tailor made girl, sinfully fond if one reflected that between them the two had had nothing certain a week. Free lances of the pen, they had been also free companions, sentient, responsive as the wind harp to the winds, yet never by any chance sentimental.

"I suspect it died in answer to my petitions. I did not see how else I was ever to get you down here," Helen said demurely. "Vance, you have treated me very, very badly—only three letters and two snippets of your valuable time when I came to the city. By way of penance you shall now tell me everything about everybody."

"For instance?" Hildreth said inquiringly.

Helen shook her finger at him. "You know," she said. "But by way of setting you off, who has my place at L'Ally's and the offices? Do you know Gumpsey's begged me to work exclusively for my 'discoverers?'"

"Characteristic," Hildreth said. "But as to your place, you don't really think anybody could take it. Marvel has not got done lamenting your loss to literature, and Ransom sighs for your stories of occasion."

"You flatter me," Helen said. "Ransom was always a dear. He read my things by the light of his own kindness. But tell me about the new young women. There must be new young women, who strum a guitar for you to smoke by and know, as I did, not to bother you with a word."

"Oh, there are two or three," Vance said indifferently; then, suddenly rousing: "And one of them's a corker, too—western girl, two years in civilization. If she ever quits burring her r's, yours truly will surrender at indiscretion."

"Dear, dear, this is crushing!" Helen said, pretending to hide her face. In reality she studied Hildreth from the ambush of her fingers. "If you love her very much, Vance," she said in muffled tones, "fetch her here for six months. I'll try my best to straighten out the tragic accent."

"Don't know if it's worth while," Hildreth said, drumming on the table. "There's a photo—square jawed fellow, with gimlet eyes—which keeps ward over her den. I've a sneaking suspicion the gimlet eyed is a lion in all our paths"—

"Oh, he need not count. I can take care of him," Helen said, smiling wickedly.

Vance got up and went to her side. "No; you can't," he said, "for the very excellent reason that you have got to take care of me. I've been all sorts of a fool, Helen, over this blessed money."

"I knew it all along," Helen said. "How glad I am you have seen light at last!"

Women and Worry.

Granting that a woman's nerves are more apt to become detraque, to borrow a French word, than a man's are, a fact which we have no wish to try to account for, we are not at all sure that it is because she is more subject to the smaller worries of life than a man is or indeed that she is really more subject to them. It is true that the cares of the household, productive as they are of much grievance and trouble, fall chiefly upon a woman's shoulders; but, on the other hand, a man's ordinary business or profession is quite as full of small annoyances and worries which are every whit as irritating as those that beset his wife.

The difference, we should say, between the two sexes lies rather in the manner in which they meet their troubles than in the apportionment of those troubles. We would not readily dispute the theory that it is the steady and persistent pressure of these small worries which works a change in the nervous system more surely than any great and sudden trouble, just as the drop of water hollows the stone, but we are inclined to believe that the reason in this case why one stone is hollowed sooner than the other is to be found in the greater softness of the stone and not in the greater frequency of the drop.—London Spectator.

"LEWIS CARROLL."

How the Prince of Wales Appreciated the Great Oxford Photographer.

There is a very interesting account of the Queen's visit to Oxford when her eldest son was staying there. "Lewis Carroll," who lived at Christ Church, thus mentions the affair in his diary: "Visit of the Queen to Oxford, to the great surprise of everybody, as it had been kept a secret up to the time. She arrived in Christ Church about twelve, and came into Hall with the Dean, where the collections were still going on, about a dozen men being still in the Hall. The party consisted of the Queen, Prince Albert, Princess Alice and her intended husband, the Prince of Hesse-Darmstadt, the Prince of Wales, Prince Alfred, and suite. They remained a minute or two looking at the pictures, and the Sub-Dean was presented. They then visited the Cathedral and Library; evening entertainment at the Deanery, tableaux vivants. I went a little after half-past eight, and found a great party assembled—the Prince had not yet come. He arrived about nine, and I found an opportunity of reminding General Bruce of his promise to introduce me to the Prince, which he did at the next break of conversation. His Royal Highness was talking with Mrs. Fellowes. He shook hands very graciously, and I began with a sort of apology for having been so importunate about the photograph (referring to "Lewis Carroll's" attempt to photo the Prince on his first arrival at Christ Church.) He said something about the weather being against it, and I asked if the Americans had victimized him much as a sitter. He said they had, but he did not think they had succeeded well; and I told him of the new American process of taking twelve thousand photographs in an hour. Edith Liddell coming up at the moment, I remarked on the beautiful tableaux which the children might make. He assented, and also said, in answer to my question, that he had seen and admired my photographs of them. I then said that I hoped, as I had missed the photograph, he would at least give me his autograph in my album, which he promised to do. Thinking I had better bring the talk to an end, I concluded by saying that, if he would like copies of any of my photographs, I should feel honoured by his accepting them. He thanked me for this, and then I drew back, as he did not seem inclined to pursue the conversation." A few days afterwards the Prince of Wales gave his autograph, and also a dozen or so of "Lewis Carroll's" photographs.

A Burden to Self and Others.

"Take care of your health; you have no right to neglect it and thus become a burden to yourself and perhaps to others." When the liver gets sluggish, the kidneys inactive, and the bowels constipated, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will promptly set your filtering and excretory system in perfect order, and insure good digestion and good health. There is no medicine so generally used, and none so successful. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

Grain Looking Well.

Winnipeg, July 18.—Reports received from all parts of Manitoba yesterday indicate exceptionally good crop conditions. Though the season is several days later this year, the grain looks much better than it did during the corresponding state of growth last year. This statement does not refer to districts, but is true of the whole province. Grain will not be ready for harvesting before the first week in August.

Want 20,000 Men.

Toronto, July 18.—James Hartney, agent of the Manitoba Government, states that from present indications, fully 20,000 men will be required for the harvest in Manitoba during the approaching harvest season. This is the same number that was wanted last year when the number obtained was 19,300.

Negro Burned at the Stake.

Clayton, Miss., July 18.—William Ody, a negro, who Wednesday night attempted to assault Miss Virginia Tucker of this place, was burned at the stake at midnight.

Do You Belch Gas?

If you have uneasy sensations in the stomach a bad taste in the mouth, headaches— remember that ten drops of Polson's Nerviline in sweetened water is a quick and certain cure. Nerviline aids digestion, dispels the gas, makes you comfortable and free from distress at once. Nerviline is just splendid for Cramps, Colic, Dysentery, Stomach and Bowel Troubles, and costs only 25c. Better try it.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure constipation.

Encouragement.

Whenever you can conscientiously encourage any one, do so. You would not leave those plants in your window without water or refuse to open the shutters that the sunlight might fall upon them, but you leave some human flower suffer for want of appreciation or the sunlight of encouragement. There are a few hardy souls that can struggle on stony soil, shrubs that can wait for the dew and the sunbeams, vines that will climb without kindly training, but only a few. Utter the kind word when you can. Give the helping praise when you see that it is deserved. The thought that "no one knows and no one cares" blights many a bud of promise.—Catholic Home Companion.

KILL OR CURE

The pain can also be stopped by decapitation.

MAMMOTH PRIZE COMPETITION

TO BE HELD IN CONNECTION WITH

GOLD SOAP $2,500.00 IN PRIZES.

In order to get thousands of people in all parts of the country to see how pure and economical GOLD SOAP is for all manner of washing and cleaning, the manufacturers have decided to hold a Mammoth Prize Competition, to start May 15th, 1902, and end November 15th, 1902. The prizes will be awarded to the persons sending in the greatest number of Gold Soap Wrappers before November 15th, 1902. A full list of prizes will be found below, and all those who do not win a prize will receive a regular Gold Soap premium in return for their wrappers—varying in value according to the number of wrappers sent in. The manufacturers of Gold Soap could not afford to offer such an astounding inducement to the public, were it not for the fact that they feel sure that once Gold Soap is tried it will be used constantly, as no good housekeeper would think of going back to one of the common, impure soaps, after using the soap that is "worth its weight in gold." GOLD Soap is the purest, handiest, and most economical soap that it is possible to make, and if used constantly will keep down expense, make the washing more quickly and easily done, and will bring the clothes out beautifully white. In the following list

THERE ARE 5,213 PRIZES.

If you start now to save your Gold Soap wrappers, you will have quite a lot by November, and you will then share in the big Gold Soap competition. Do not be afraid to send in your wrappers, no matter how many you may have, because you are certain to receive a prize or a regular Gold Soap premium.

Please note that you are not asked to send any money or do any work of any kind—simply use the best Soap in the world, save the wrappers, and we send you a prize or a premium. This is the greatest offer ever made to the public, and will make GOLD SOAP known from ocean to ocean—and wherever it is known it is liked and recommended.

Of course, if you prefer to have one of the regular Gold Soap premiums that are described on the backs of the wrappers, you may send in your Gold Soap wrappers at any time, with a note telling which premium you wish. All Gold Soap premiums are guaranteed, so you don't take the slightest risk.

DIRECTIONS—Save your Gold Soap Wrappers and send them into Gold Soap, Toronto, marked, "Competition," before November 15th, 1902, with your own name and address enclosed. The prizes will be sent out on November 24th, with a full list of the winners. You may send your wrappers in at any time, so long as your name and address come along with each lot. Do not send in the whole wrapper, but just the centre part, with the words "Gold Soap, Good as Gold."

For dressmaking and family sewing Corticelli Silk is the best silk made. For hand or machine use it has no equal. Corticelli Silk runs smoothly in the needle; it is always even in size and always full length and full strength.

Ask your dealer for "Corticelli" and politely but firmly refuse all substitutes, which some clerk may say are "just as good." You may be sure they all lack the many qualities of the genuine Corticelli Silk. If your dealer does not keep Corticelli Silk, it is probably because he makes a little more money selling you some other brand. As Corticelli costs YOU no more than poor silk, why don't you try it? Ask for Corticelli—the Dressmakers' Favourite Spool Silk.

PASSING OF OLD PLAYHOUSES.

London Theatres That Are No Longer in Existence.

Theatres and places of amusement are very like human beings—they have their births and deaths, and very often their marriages. The marriages (or amalgamations) and deaths are not as frequent as births. Some think the births are too prolific and speak of a surplus population of playhouses. Comparing the millions of to-day with the thousands of Shakespeare's time, the places where "stage plays" were represented were more numerous three centuries and a half ago than they are in the reign of King Edward VII., writesJohn Hollingshead in London Sketch.

Among the few London theatres that have left a substantial architectural record behind them to keep their memory green, the chief is the Pantheon, in Oxford street, which, after transforming itself into a bazaar of the Soho type, was acquired by the great wine merchants, Messrs. Gilbey, and presents the same front as it did in the latter part of the eighteenth century.

The Pantheon was started to be the great rival of the King's Theatre, in the Haymarket, at a time when Italian opera had partly got over the narrow-minded prejudices of the London cockney, when the humor of calling every tenor or soprano Signor or Signora Spuallini was getting a little threadbare, and Italian ballet dancing had almost ceased to be compared with the stalking of a pair of compasses across the stage.

Next to go was the Milton street (ancient Grub street) Theatre, just outside the City Wall at Cripplegate, and at the back of old Morrison's great soft goods emporium in Fore street. It has a few interesting records worth searching for, and in one instance of a theatre turned into a chapel.

An opposite instance is that of the old Court Theatre, at Chelsea, now supplanted by "residential chambers," which was a chapel before it became a theatre under the late Miss Litton's tactful management.

Among the old theatres which have turned their backs on the drama and welcomed the tenancy of the Young Men's Christian Association ("Y.M.C.A.") is the "City of London" (so called), which clung to the borders of the city. It was largely used as a "starring" house, and here I saw Elton, the celebrated legitimate actor, a short time before his fatal voyage across the Atlantic.

"Astley's" after a long period of depression, finally fell into the hands of those very "superior" landlords, the ecclesiastical commissioners. They have left the public its bread (panem is pure modern slang for the "staff of life"), but they have taken away its circuses. The site is now devoted to cheap boot shops, cheap tailors, cheap fruit stores, cheap hats and cheap food—

But alter and tinker the sight as they will,
The scent of the sawdust will cling to it still.

Within the last few years several familiar theatres have been doomed—the Olympic bought by private treaty by the London County Council, and the Opera Comique, bought after a semi-judicial investigation; "Toole's" (which has had more names during its short career than any other house) has been absorbed by the Charing Cross Hospital; the Tottenham street Theatre, with its unique record; the Amphitheatre in Holborn, which has become the chief depot of a general carrier, and the "Holborn" (also in Holborn), which is now a portion of the First avenue (Gordon's) Hotel.

In a short time the Globe Theatre (34 years old) will be cleared by the London County Council for the new street,subject, I presume, to proper valuation. "Old Lyons Inn," which was cleared in the middle of the sixties for an Anglo-American Hotel that ended in a site half covered with a speculative builder's failure, would have afforded good houseroom for a spacious central theatre, but it was cut up into two theatres, built side by side, like Siamese twins, having many defects and few merits.

The Globe was the best twin—a house in which the "line of sight" was happy—but the Opera Comique the original home of Gilbert-Sullivan opera, was a house that ought never to have been built, and certainly ought never to have been licensed.

Side by side with the vanishing of the Globe Theatre (not without history) comes the transformation of Niagara Hall, in York street, Westminster, into a show bazaar for electric coaches.

Niagara began as a panorama building, and will end its amusement career as a skating rink. The King and Queen visited it a few weeks ago as a rink, having before visited it to see "The Falls of Niagara." It was opened in 1888. To build the front hall five houses had to be bought and pulled down. One of these was the house in which John Milton lived and wrote for a time, which is now partially absorbed by Niagara Hall and the new block of Queen Anne's mansions.

This house came into the possession of Jeremy Bentham, the utilitarian philosopher, who let it first to James Mill, the historian of British India (the father of John Stuart Mill, the political economist), and afterward to William Hazlitt, the essayist and dramatic critic. There are about 14 York streets in London and Westminster, but probably not one with such an interesting record.

"The doctor would like to see you inside," said the physician's maid to the man who was waiting on the porch.

"Not much!" said the bucolic patient. "He don't try none of them X rays on me!"

She—Did you ever follow the hounds?

He—Oh, yes! I was out hunting several years ago, and one of the hounds landed in a ditch on the other side of a hedge, and I followed him all right!"

MATTERS MILITARY

BY SENTRY.

The proposal of the Examiner that the citizens of the town should take up the matter of supplying the 57th Regiment with a new stand of colours is meeting with general favour. About the only real objection to the proposition is that during the past few years the nature of the manouuvring of regiments has so changed, that nowadays it is more real hard work, such as sham battles, etc., than it is ceremonial parade. This may be true, but it is not an objection sufficiently strong to place the question of the need of new colours in the back ground. There seems to be no doubt in the least that the Rangers need new colours, and that being the case, it remains with the citizens of the town to see that these are provided. Now appears to be an opportune time to start the movement, in view of the fact that a thorough re-organization of the Regiment appears to be in contemplation, and the strength of the corps is to be increased to eight companies.

The 14th Durham Field Battery, under command of Major E. A. MacNaughton, of Cobourg, will go into camp at that town in September. The indications are that Lieut. E. O. Bradburn will be here in time to accompany his corps to camp. The 14th has been supplied with the very latest quick-firing machine guns.

Mayor Denne says that he is about tired trying to get a meeting of the subscribers of the Dan. Spence Memorial Fund. No matter what disposition is made of the fund, some one will be dissatisfied, but the Mayor is determined that this dissatisfaction should be encountered at once, and it is his intention to issue one more call for a meeting. The probabilities are that no matter what else the meeting is, some definite action will be taken in the matter. A meeting will likely be called for some day next week.

Among the officers that were compelled to stay in South Africa for a few weeks longer is Lieut. J. H. Staples, of the 45th Durham Regiment of Infantry. Want of sufficient transports was the cause of delay.

The present season appears to be rather eventful in military circles in this district, inasmuch as it records the retirement of Lieut.-Col. John Hughes from command of the 46th Regiment, Lieut.-Col. Samuel Hughes from the command of the 45th Regiment, and Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards from the command of the 57th Regiment. It is a great season, this, for promotions, as well as decorations.

Through the absence from the annual training of his corps for the past two years, the commission held by Lieut. E. R. Tate in "C" Squadron, 3rd Dragoons, becomes vacant. This is to be regretted, as when Lieut. Tate turned out with his regiment he has always proved enthusiastic and untiring in his zeal for the welfare of the 3rd.

Sgt. C. M. Paterson, of the 15th Argyle Light Infantry, Belleville, has been in town for the past few days renewing old acquaintances. Sgt. Paterson was formerly connected with the local staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and received his first military training in No. 4 Company of the 57th. He held Sgts.' stripe when he left Peterborough, and his friends here will be pleased to know that his military spirit still clings to him.

The general opinion appears to be that the annual trip of the local Regiment will take place on Coronation Day, and not on Labour Day.

"Outpost," the military writer in the Ottawa Journal, has the following interesting article on the subject of rifle shooting:

"About all that remains in the military life of Ottawa to keep up the enthusiasm in the shooting at Rockliffe on Saturday, and the anticipation of the rifle matches in the D.R.A., the arrangements for which have been about completed. It is gratifying to learn that there is to be a quick magazine firing contest. This will perhaps, be the most practical match of the week's shooting. It is when the emergency comes and the magazines are called into use that the real marksmanship counts. A man who can make a good score under exciting circumstances is the man who can be depended upon when he is in action. As a matter of fact, nine-tenths of the so-called marksmen are not one-two-three when they are put in a tight corner, simply because they have not had the practice and have not cultivated the nerve to withstand excitement. When a man is under heavy fire and has to call his coolness into play to use a magazine effectively on an enemy who are rushing the position, it requires all the spare nerve he can summon to stand the pressure. More of this class of shooting in the weekly contests would tend to educate the soldiering fraternity for the real thing. In fact, the mere lying down in comfort at given ranges does not teach anything about actual marksmanship on the field. Most men can make a tolerably good score at a given range. Let them do more skirmishing and more magazine firing practice, and the result will soon be shown."

The out-of-town members o fthe D.R.A. are being consulted as to the advisability of postponing the annual matches. There are nearly as many difficulties in the way of postponing the matches as there are obstacles to holding them at the time agreed upon. One of the chief features of the meeting will be the international competition for the Palma trophy. It is a point of honour that this match should go on. If it is postponed it will conflict with the United States rifle meeting, which will be in full swing the week following. As it is, the United States team will only be able to attend for the first two days of the week beginning August 25th, and must leave on the third day. If the Palma trophy match alone is held and the other events postponed, it will be difficult to get together a strong Canadian team from all parts of the Dominion, and induce them to remain over for the regular matches. There is also the danger that a postponement may mean the absence of the Australian and British teams, who are making their preparations to be here on August and may not be able to stay until September 1st. On the other hand, to proceed with the matches as first contemplated, means that with crowds in town for the fair, reduced hotel rates are out of the question, and that many of the local riflemen will be busy with civil pursuits. There will also be great difficulty in getting caterers and markers. Altogether, the situation is a complicated one for the D.R.A.

The artillery of the Turkish army consists, according to the last issued return, of 248 batteries, of which 18 are horse artillery, 178 field, 48 mountain, and 6 howitzer batteries. Negotiations for supplying the artillery with quick-firing guns have been entered upon with certain German manufacturers, but financial difficulties stand, for the present, in the way of the delivery of the coveted pieces.

* * *

Sgt. S. Comego, of Alanwick, who is identified with No. 6 Company, 40th Northumberland Regiment of Infantry, was in town last night on his way to Chemong. It is Sgt. Comego's intention to recruit for No. 6 Company at Chemong and to have its strength composed entirely of the aboriginies of the country. At the present time this company is made up of Indians from Alanwick, Roseneath and Hiawatha, and they take a great interest in the affairs of their regiment.

STOCK MARKETS.

Views of a Bank President.

New York, July 18th.—Unless I am very much mistaken, we are in for a big bull market, and very much higher prices so long as corn keeps growing. It is thus assuring the biggest crop in the history of the country. There will be but little consolation for the bears on the market who are notoriously pessimistic. All promises now are for a period of remarkable activity for the railroads, with all industries piling up increases upon increases in earnings. Such a state of affairs must find reflections in the stock market and wise men in the financial district are beginning to anticipate all these things. There is reason and to spare for bullishness. So speaks one of the bank presidents, the official of one of New York's largest financial institutions. His remarks are right and to the point. They are also freighted with common sense. We are going into another era of rapidly rising values. It is a most opportune time to engage in stock market operations. Chicago interest are unusually active upon the bull side, and London has turned in as a buyer. The advance guard of the public are already entering Wall Street, and the financial markets will be shortly in fine swing towards the higher level. With stocks principally in the hands of large operators, the pace is likely to be rapid. Better come in immediately. Arrayed upon the bull side are the great pools and cliques, the Gould, Harriman, Rockefeller, Morgan, and Western interests. There can be but one outcome to immediate future speculation. Prices are going up. It is a time when one can shut one's eyes and purchase most anything. Later on discrimination will be necessary.

We have enumerated again and again the various issues, that looked promising. We now state we believe it makes but little difference what selection one makes to buy it will be to make money. We stated some time ago when things looked blue on the surface that the Morgan interests would have a buoyant and great bull market on which to float the great steamship combination. It is with us now. The steamship combination is almost ready for introduction to the sea of finance, and it will be successfully accomplished. We strongly urge you to buy something. Standard stocks are going considerably higher, as are all the medium priced issues.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

An explosion of sewer gas wrecked two houses in Boston and caused injury to several persons Friday. The one house was demolished while the other had the front blown out. Among the injured two were seriously hurt.

Without warning or apparent provocation, Gustave Anderson, a street railway employe, Thursday night fired three shots at Edward Fagerstone, one of the proprietors of the Western House, Spokane, Wash., killing him instantly.

Otto Rose, Newark, N.J., was seriously injured at Windham Centre Friday morning, by stepping from the rear platform of No. 17 M.C. R. express, while the train was going at the rate of 50 miles an hour. Rose was taken to St. Thomas to the Alnasa Wood Hospital.

Word was received at the offices of the Presbyterian Church in Toronto of the death at Mhow, India, of Rev. Norman H. Russell, a prominent missionary in that country. It is thought that his illness was of comparatively short duration, as no word of it had been received in Toronto. Rev. Mr. Russell is survived by a widow and four children. His widow was formerly a Miss Hodgins of Toronto.

"You say the child swallowed a five dollar goldpiece and you performed an operation on him?" said the caller.

"Yes," replied the doctor; "I needed the money."

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Keep Little Ones Well During the Hot Weather Months.

If you want to keep your little ones hearty, rosy and full of life during the hot weather, give them Baby's Own Tablets the moment they show signs of being out of order in anyway.

This medicine cures all forms of stomach and bowel troubles, which carry off so many little ones during the summer months, and is the best thing in the world for sleeplessness, nervousness, irritation when teething, etc. It is just the medicine for hot weather troubles; first, because it always does good, and second, because it can never do any harm—guaranteed free from opiates. Mrs. W. E. Bassam, Kingston, Ont., says; "I began using Baby's Own Tablets when my little girl was about three months old. At that time she had indigestion badly; she was vomiting and had the diarrhoea constantly and although she had an apparently ravenous appetite, her food did her no good, and she was very thin. Nothing helped her until we began giving her Baby's Own Tablets, but after giving her these the vomiting and diarrhoea ceased, and she began to improve almost at once. I have since used the Tablets for all other troubles and have found them all that can be desired,—they are the best medicine I have ever used for a child."

These Tablets are readily taken by all children, and can be given to the smallest,weakest infant by crushing them to a powder. Sold at drug stores, or you can get them postpaid at 25 cents a box by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y.

SUMMER GOODS

Of course, the weather man has been doing his worst the past few weeks, and people, instead of enjoying their vacations under proverbial July temperature, clothed in sheer and light garments, have been hugging the cook stove or a gas heater.

But even damp, chilly weather hasn't stopped the sale of Summer Fabrics at Fair's. Of course we find our stock too heavy, because we couldn't foretell the weather; but selling has been going on merrily, all the same, because of

The Value-Giving Power of Our Remarkable Reductions

LOW PRICES is the cardinal feature of our extraordinary selling under the circumstances. Two reasons bring ladies to Fair's just now for those dainty French Silk-and-Linen Stripe effects, lovely Muslins, Organdies. French and German Laces, Summer Skirts, etc. Foremost attraction is the superb variety displayed. Second, is the fact that practically the entire stock is marked down to HALF PRICE—often at very much less. Little wonder that all eyes have been turned to Fair's recently, for there has been a continuous array of splendid chances.

All Stylish Summer Goods, Millinery, etc., face their final price at Fair's. The price-cutting is revolutionary—butwe are thinking of the ultimate benefits that will accrue.

British Immigration Increased That Much Last Year.

TABULATION OF THE FIGURES.

The Returns Are Particularly Satisfactory to Canada—What the Increase Means —Dominion Rifle Matches Postponed —The Palma Trophy Match Will Take Place as Agreed Upon Previously.

Ottawa, July 21.—The Department of the Interior has just completed the tabulation of the immigration figures for the fiscal year ending June 30th last. The outstanding feature in this connection is the very large increase in British immigration. All circumstances and conditions considered, these figures are even more remarkable than the extraordinary showing in regard to the inflow of American settlers. During the year just ended the British immigration totalled 17,000. The previous year it was 11,810. Eleven thousand has been the average figure of British arrivals for some years. The figures since 1897 have been:—1897, 11,383, 1898, 11,608; 1899, 10,628; 1900, 10,360; 1891, 11,810. During the past year conditions have been unfavorable in regard to British immigrants, and the increase in arrivals in Canada is consequently evidence of a much greater efficiency in the immigration methods in the old country. Figures for the past year indicate that the immigration officials were apparently unable to make any showing above the 11,000 average. That seemed to be the limit. Last year Mr. James Smart, Deputy Minister of the Interior, went to the old country and reorganized the Canadian immigration offices. The figures just given bear testimony to the excellence of the work he did. The returns are particularly satisfactory when the unpromising outlook in the old country last year is taken into consideration. Besides the difficulty existing in the apparent impossibility to rise above the 11,000 mark the Boer war constituted a serious obstacle to increased immigration. The war took many persons from England to South Africa who might have been eligible settlers for Canada, and, moreover, there has been a well-developed idea that as soon as peace was restored South Africa would be a very promising field for young and energetic men. Undoubtedly this idea has kept in the old country many young men desirious of locating in a new country, but who, knowing the war would soon end, wished to see just what chances would offer in South Africa. The Department of the Interior is consequently much pleased at the results that have followed the reorganization of the old country work. In Parliament and sections of the press the cry has always been that settlers from Great Britain were very much more desirable than immigrants from the continent. It is evident that under the new state of affairs Canada is in a fair way to get many more of the former class of settlers than she has hitherto attracted.

Rifle Matches Postponed.

The Dominion rifle matches have been postponed until the first week in September, but the competition for the Palma Trophy will take place on August 26, as previously agreed upon. The American and English teams will therefore be able to compete for the trophy. Afterwards the Americans will leave to attend their own matches, which open on August 29th and continue until September 6th. The D. R. A. matches will open on September 1st instead of on August 25th.

SIR WILFRID'S DENIAL.

Stories of Discourteous Treatment in Britain Are Untrue.

London, July 21—A Laffan despatch to The Daily Chronicle says that telegrams have appeared in the Canadian press announcing that Canadian circles in London openly express dissatisfaction with the treatment given Sir Wilfrid Laurier during his stay here, and declare that the Canadian Premier is not being treated with the deference due to a man whose Imperial statesmanship is so universally admired. In an interview Sir Wilfrid gives an emphatic and absolute contradiction to this story. The despatch sent to the Canadian press also says that the Right Hon. Richard Seddon, Premier of New Zealand, being constantly employed as spokesman in and out of the council of colonial Premiers, has given rise to jealousy among brother Premiers. This statement is also absolutely denied. Not the slightest jealousy exists, and all the Premiers are an ehe best of terms. Every person in Canadian circles laughs at the report which they say is absolutely groundless.

RAILWAY COLLISIONS

Three Fatal Head-On Accidents In The United States.

TRAIN IN ERIE CANAL FEEDER.

It Had Rolled Down the Embankment After Striking With the Other on the Same Track—Victims Floated in the Water in the Canal—Five Men Were Killed and Many Were Injured.

Gladstone, Mich., July 21.—At a bridge about two miles west of Pembine, Wis., two local freight trains had a head-on collision on a curve. William Raymond, and William Johnson, engineers, and Albert Anderson, fireman, were killed, and Joseph Fallbrecht, fireman, injured. All the killed were married and leave families.

Fatal Head-End Collision.

Newcastle, Pa., July 21.—One man was killed and seven badly injured in a head-on collision that occurred Saturday night at East Brook, four miles north of this city, on the Western New York and Pennsylvania Division of hte Pennsylvania lines, when southbound passenger train No. 216, from Oil City, crashed into northbound train. Killed: Edward Murphy of Mahonington, engineer of the northbound train; crushed between tender and cab of his engine; married and leaves a family.

ONE KILLED AT BALTIMORE.

Sixteen Other Persons More or Less Badly Injured.

Rochester, July 21.—A fatal head-on collision occurred between two passenger trains on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, near Hope Hospital, this city, last evening, in which one person was almost instantly killed and sixteen others more or less seriously injured. Both trains were running at a high rate of speed, when they came together. An engine and one passenger coach in one of the trains was thrown from the track and down an embankment and into the Erie Canal feeder, and was completely wrecked; the other engine was demolished, but remained on the road bed. The man who was killed was Peter W. Putnam, aged 36, of Rochester, fireman, westbound or outgoing train, and he leaves a widow and two children.

On the east side of the track at the scene of the wreck is the Erie Canal feeder while on the west side is the Genessee river. The force of the collision was so great that both engines rebounded 50 feet. The engine of the incoming train was thrown to the west on its side and reduced to scrap iron. The combination smoker and baggage car following jumped the tracks on the east side, slipped by the engine, turned on its side and fell with a crash into the canal feeder. The day coach following the combination car also jumped to the eastward and buried its forward end in the canal feeder. The remaining coach of the incoming train remained on the roadbed. From the combination car and day coach which went into the feeder, all the injured were taken.

The work of the uninjured passengers of both trains who immediately rushed to the rescue of those imprisoned in the two cars in the feeder, were greatly handicapped by the inrush of water, which, in the briefest space, had almost filled these cars. Most of the injured, bruised and bleeding and crying piteously for assistance were found floating about in the water inside of the wrecked cars, and with much difficulty were pulled through the windows in the side of the upturned car or dragged through holes caused by the wreck. It is miraculous that many were not drowned before aid could reach them.

EDNA WALLACE HOOPER SUES.

Seeking to Recover Her Mother's Estate From Premier Dunsmuir.

Victoria, B.C., July 21.—Edna Wallace Hopper is here with her attorney, Judge Coyne of New York, to bring her action against James Dunsmuir, Premier of British Columbia, for her mother's share of the Dunsmuir estate, her mother having married Alexander Dunsmuir, the young brother of James. At the time of Mr. Dunsmuir's death James Dunsmuir made a settlement with her, allowing her an annuity. Miss Hopper claims that at the time this agreement was made her mother was not in her right mind, and wishes to have the agreement set aside and have Alexander Dunsmuir's share of the estate awarded to her. Mrs. Joan Dunsmuir, mother of James and Alexander, is also suing James for Alexander's share of the estate on the ground that it is hers, Alexander having simply held it in trust for her.

CANADA'S GROWING TRADE.

The latest trade returns indicate that Canada is forging rapidly ahead. The full returns for the last fiscal year, ending 30th June last, give us the pleasing information that the total trade of Canada last year — imports and exports — amounted to the large figure of $414,517,350, a gain over last year of $36,827,672, and a gain in ten years of $173,247,915. That is, the gain in the past ten years has been greater than the total trade was in 1878.

The gain in the total trade has taken place almost entirely since the Laurier Government came into power. The trade for the five year period before 1896 showed a decrease, and the upward jump has taken place since, and at the rate of over fifteen millions per year. The total trade per head of Canada, with its 5 1-3 millions, is $77.70, as against $25 per head for the 76 millions of population of the United States. The total trade has not only increased rapidly, but also the trade per head. The total trade per head ten years ago was $46.99; to-day it is $77.70. The total trade increase last year was largely due, as the Globe points out, to the phenomenal harvest of the West, and it might be added that there has been a noteworthy increase in the past year's record of manufactured goods. The year 1893, the best in the history of the country up to that time, was bettered by nearly eleven millions, being $7,693,959 in 1893, and $18,462,970 the past year, being a gain of 125 per cent. in nine years. During the same period there was an increase of nearly 28 millions in the export of animals and their products. Then we have agricultural products mounting up in the export record to $37,288,164, and with exports of mines and forest products totalling about thirty-five and thirty-two millions respectively, the exports of the Dominion are sufficiently varied to "afford assurance against disaster through the temporary failure of any special product."

THE GREAT MORAL ISSUE.

It has been impressed on the readers of the Tory journals that Mr. Whitney is engaged in a great moral crusade; that the Liberal Government retains power by fraud and corruption, and that the great heart and conscience of the people of Ontario are with the Conservative leader. The bye-elections afford the opportunity for testing this claim. One of these is to be in North Renfrew. The great moral issue, however, has not yet been presented. The electors of North Renfrew are asked to support Mr. Whitney on purely local and selfish grounds. The Ottawa Citizen, the leading Conservative paper in the district, says:

"Electors of North Renfrew, who will suffer heavily in coming years through the treachery of Eastern Ontario Liberals in this matter, will have it in their power very shortly to execute a just sentence against the party responsible for this great wrong. Ottawa electors retired the man who had misrepresented them on this question and sent him to his political grave; we confidently expect a like doom will overtake the Government, in whose interest Mr. Lumsden betrayed his constituents, now that North Renfrew has it in its power to make it impossible for Ross to further retard the growth of Eastern Ontario, and particularly the Ottawa Valley region. A vote for the Conservative candidate in North Renfrew will be a vote for the future prosperity of this region."

In carrying out this campaign Mr. Whitney ought to be able to point with pride to his solid delegation from Toronto. They are certainly free from the guilt of trying to bring the trade of the north to Toronto, and they were endorsed by the Conservative voters of this city, who gave them the noble majority of 3,400. Never did a city less deserve the name of Hogtown. Its Conservative electors would make almost any sacrifice for the sake of the party. — Globe.

VERTICAL WRITING.

The Hamilton newspapers are "scrapping" over the system of vertical writing in use in the public These loving Ambitious City journals are always at it, and viciously, as if their pens were dipped in gore, whether the subject is politics, poultry, or perpendicular penmanship. One good thing to be said of vertical writing is its superior legibility. Of all the illegible scrawls, of all "d——d cramp penmanship," the worst and most unintelligible, is that writing that lies flat like a field of ripening game, after a summer gale, especially if the writer is inclined to scrawl. One objection to vertical writing urged by its opponents, is that it destroys individuality — all vertical writing, it is alleged, looks alike. If this were true it would be a trifling matter. Individuality in what is expressed by writing of any style, is what is important. A novel by Dickens, would be Dickens, and delightful, whether it were written in his outrageously scrawly and impossible kakigraphy, or in vertical writing, or by a type machine. A dime novel would be dreadful in any hand of the most decided individuality. Writing that can be read is the desideratum, and vertical writing "fills the bill" better than any other.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Mr. Whitney is indulging in the architectural amusement of building castles in the air — and peopling them with a visionary majority of supporters.

Murderer Rice walked to the scaffold with a rose in the button hole of his coat. If he had worn the "white flower of a blameless life," he wouldn't have had to walk to the scaffold at all. Honest living pays in this world, as well as in the world to come.

GRAVEL CURED.

Remarkable Case of This Painful Disease.

Reuben Draper, of Bristol, Que. who was a Victim Finds Relief and a Permanent Cure—He Tells of His Sufferings and how He Left His Troubles Behind.

Bristol, Que., July 20, (Special) — No disease can cause more severe and dreadful pain than Gravel. Reuben Draper, of this place, was taken ill with this awful trouble about five years ago. He was cured and so many have asked him how it was done, that he has decided to give the while story for publication.

"About five years ago I was taken ill with the Gravel. I suffered great pain, so I sent for a doctor. He gave me some medicine and came to see me twice afterwards, but my disease was not gone and in a very short time I had another severe attack.

"This time I sent for another doctor with about the same results, only I was getting weaker all the time.

"Then a man advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, for he said that they had cured his mother. I thought I would try them and sent for a box.

"Just a week after I began the treatment I passed a stone as large as a small bean, and four days later another about the size of a grain of barley; this gave me great relief, and I began to feel better and to gain strength right away.

"That was five years ago, and I have not had any trouble in that way since. I have the stones in a small bottle and anyone can see them who wishes. Dodd's Kidney Pills certainly saved my life."

The story of Mr. Draper will be good news to many sufferers who may not have known that Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure Gravel and Stone in the Bladder.

What has cured this gentleman and hundreds of other very bad cases, should cure anyone, and those who may be afflicted as Dr. Draper was, should try Dodd's Kidney Pills.

TOWED INTO HALIFAX.

American Liner Belgenland Broke Her Shaft in Mid-Ocean.

Halifax, N.S., July 21.—The American Line Steamer Belgenland, from Philadelphia July 5 for Queenstown and Liverpool, three days overdue on the other side, was towed into this harbor disabled Saturday by the British steamer Scholar. The Belgenland's shaft is broken. All on board are well.

The Belgenland's intermediate shaft broke on July 9 in lat. 40.57, long. 51.07, and the engineers made repairs by placing steel bands about it, but they broke on Sunday, July 13.

Heavy seas were encountered south of Sable Island. The passengers conducted themselves in an admirable manner. Of the saloon passengers, 90 will proceed to Liverpool by the first chance, and the other 40 will return to their homes in the United States.

Captain Hill, who commands the Belgenland, is a Halifax man, who commanded the Netherlands when she was here, and was at one time second officer of the Lansdowne.

THE SLATER

Are You an Expert?

Even an expert may be deceived by an imitation Goodyear Welt.

Many shoes sold as Goodyear Welts have all the lumps, threads, tacks and discomfort of imitation welts, which they are.

Even the dealer who sells them to you likely as not bought them for real welts—even he cannot always tell by appearances.

Wear "Slater Shoes" and you will get nothing else but Goodyear Welt shoes, because no other kinds of shoes but Goodyear Welts are made in the "Slater" factory.

Be careful that you get a real "Slater Shoe" with the slate frame on the sole or the lining—the words "The Slater Shoe" and the price—nothing more. Sold only by "Slater Shoe" agents—$3.50, $5.00. "The Slater Shoe."

THE CROPS IN CANADA.

A Summary of Conditions That Prevail—Rain Destroys Hay and Corn—Reports by Provinces.

Toronto, July 21.—In Ontario there is general depression among the farmers owing to the apparently never-ending fall of rain. Between Toronto and Lake Simcoe and in several other sections the hay crop is rotting in the fields. The farmers are unable to take it in, and if fine weather does not come soon the whole crop will be ruined. The present outlook is exceedingly gloomy, but the weather reports at last point to more favorable weather conditions in the near future.

Other crop reports to hand indicate a most prosperous state of things right through from the Northwest Territories to the Province of Nova Scotia. The reports are particularly bright from Manitoba and the Territories, where the largest crop on record is looked for. Mr. Hartney, the local agent of the Manitoba Government, states that the bulletins from Manitoba continue to be of a most encouraging character.

Alberta's crops are not nearly so far advanced as Assiniboia's, and the reports concerning them while not so sanguine, are in no way pessimistic, and even here favorable weather will assure a good crop.

Western Ontario reports are optimistic, particularly with reference to the fruit crop. Apples are said to be heavier than for years, and there will be an abundance of peaches. All grains are looking well, though farmers are going out of wheat raising and taking to oats and other products. Corn forms a general exception, however, all reports speak of it as being largely ruined.

Eastern Ontario reports generally speak in a hopeful tone. Crops are for the most part, good, those of hay and potatoes appearing to be the most promising.

Quebec reports, in common with those from all over, speak of too much rain and cold weather, the effect being more disastrous towards the east. In Quebec hay and potatoes are doubtful in some places, as are roots, but on the whole a heavy crop of hay may be looked for, as well as of potatoes.

Nova Scotia and New Brunswick will, apparently, have average crops. The fruit crop in Nova Scotia is reported poor, under the average, while in New Brunswick the conditions are somewhat better, and from all accounts the crop should be a good one. Owing to the lateness of the season, it is thought that considerable improvement would result from favorable weather.

A Right to Judge.

Persons who have used Dr. Chase's Ointment have the best right to judge of its merits and there is no preparation on the market to-day which is backed by such a mass of unsolicited testimony. It cures eczema, salt rheum and piles so promptly and thoroughly that people feel it a pleasure to recommend it to other sufferers. See testimonials in the newspapers.

COSTLIEST OVERFLOW

Father of Waters Destroys $10,000,000 in Growing Crops.

A GREAT MISSISSIPPI FLOOD.

Missouri Corn Lands Submerged—River Still Rising and Threatens to Carry Away Levees Protecting Thousands of Acres—300 Square Miles of Growing Corn Devasted by the Rising Waters.

Keokuk, Iowa., July 21. — The flood conditions are much worse today, and the Mississippi River, is from two to ten miles wide for 75 miles below Keokuk and is rising rapidly. The flood is reaching far outlying farms, hitherto missed, and farmers in the lowlands on the Missouri side have lost everything but their houses on high knolls, and a few fields behind the highest levees. Damage is also occurring on the Illinois side between here and Quincy. The Lima and Hunt levees opposite Canton, Mo., which protect many square miles of corn in Illinois are constantly patrolled, and hopes are entertained that they may possibly hold. The greatest damage is on the Missouri side of the river, between Keokuk and Hannibal, territory covering 300 square miles, and on which the corn was estimated at 80 bushels to the acre a few days ago. Reports Saturday were that in the territory indicated the loss will be over four million dollars, chiefly to corn lands.

The damage done along the Mississippi is greater than was expected or at first reported. One township in this county, Green Bay, is six or seven feet under water. It contains more than 11,000 acres of crops. Families there were driven out hurriedly, and some cattle were drowned. The levee 8 miles north of Burlington broke, inundating 3 square miles that had been considered safe.

Thousands of acres are submerged in Appanoose County, Iowa, and there is much small grain caught in the fields. The crop in other places is chiefly corn.

Exploration of the flooded districts of the Mississippi River from Keokuk south, shows conditions beyond the appreciation of realization of any but those with long experience with the father of waters in its most destructive mood.

The situation is growing worse hourly. There is absolutely not the slightest chance of stopping this, the most costly flood in the history of the great river above St. Louis.

Everywhere the greatest crops ever known are under water deep enough to float a steamboat. People at the river cities give accounts of losses aggregating many millions of dollars. Hundreds of farmers, rich ten days ago are penniless and homeless.

Careful estimates gathered from the statements of best informed people indicate the loss up to Saturday is about $6,000,000, with every prospect of two or three millions additional by the rise above not yet reaching the lower stretches of the river.

Most of this loss is on the Missouri side of the river between Keokuk and Hannibal.

All this territory was practically covered with corn a fortnight ago.

Opposite Quincy, in Missouri, is still another centre of special devastation, which is appalling. Levees hastily thrown around farms are disappearing. Lone Tree prairie, 10 miles square, is deserted, the population having fled to Quincy and the bluffs on the Missouri side, from which they watch the complete destruction. North of Hannibal, there is more wheat than at other places, and all the shock is washed away. The chief crop there is corn, however, and there as the same ruin as as other places.

One Common Cause of Headache.

Perhaps the most general cause of headache and pain across the eyes is nasal catarrh. The simplest cure is to inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone which traverses every air cell and air passage of the throat, lungs and nose. It kills myriads of germs at every breath, clears away mucous discharges, preserves and heals the membrane. Catarrhozone is just a splendid remedy for headache, and its action is certain and unfailing in diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma and Catarrh. A trial will convince the most sceptical that Catarrhozone is all right. Large size, $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Minister Tarte at Windsor.

Windsor, Ont., July 21.—Hon. J. Israel Tarte, Minister of Public Works, arrived in Windsor Saturday morning on his tour through the Great Lakes for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of trade that the Canadian vessels are doing, and the condition of the harbors on the Canadian side. Mr. Tarte promised to recommend the dredging of four or five acres along the docks of Amhertsburg, to cost $100,000.

A HANDSOME SUM.

About $1650 Realised in a Collection at St. Peter's Cathedral.

The congregation of St. Peter's Cathedral, at a meeting held a few weeks ago, decided not to hold the annual Dominion Day picnic in aid of St. Joseph's Hospital, but to add to the funds of that worthy institution by means of a collection. The result has been that the handsome sum of about $1650 has been collected, which speaks volumes for the liberality of the members of St. Peter's congregation.

A MEMORIAL SERVICE

Which is to be Held in Connection With the Death of the Late Mr. Alfred Y. Hopkins.

At the conclusion of the exercises at All Saints' Sunday school yesterday, a meeting of the teachers and officers was held, and it was decided that on Sunday next, a memorial service would be held in connection with the death of the late Mr. Alfred Y. Hopkins, who for eight years had laboured assiduously in the interests of the Sunday school and in his capacity of Superintendent during the last four years, had contributed greatly towards increasing the effectiveness of the work. The interest which the deceased has taken in All Saint's has been such as to not only endear him to the children, but to place him so high in the estimation of the congregation that every organization in connection with the church appreciated his work, and will feel that his loss is almost an irreparable one. At the conclusion of the memorial service next Sunday afternoon, the children will march in a body to the cemetery and there place flowers upon the grave of their late superintendent.

Mrs. Jas. Kendry was present at the annual convention of the W.M.S. Auxiliaries of the Lindsay District in Fenelon Falls on Thursday last, and addressed the delegates. In referring to the convention the Lindsay Post says; "Mrs. Jas. Kendry, of Peterborough, gave a short address, which was much enjoyed. This lady expressed thankfulness over the assured position now occupied by the Woman's Missionary Society in the church. A few years ago the Societies were obliged to give excuses for their existence—now the pastors are firm friends. There is also now no lack of workers to send to the fields of labour. The W. M. S. has taught the church the value of small gifts. The amount raised by this small district is sufficient to support six girls in one of the homes, or twelve Bible women in Japan or China. Who can estimate the good accomplished by even this number?"

SPORTING PASTIMES.

LACROSSE.

A despatch from Oshawa says;—"The fastest and most interesting lacrosse match ever played in Oshawa took place in the new athletic grounds to-day, when the celebrated Ontarios from Port Hope came up and played their return C. L. A. league with the home twelve. The weather was extremely disagreeable, it pouring down rain nearly all the afternoon. However, owing to the intense rivalry existing between the two teams, and the great interest taken and speculation made on this match, a crowd of fully 2,000 enthusiastic spectators turned out in the rain to witness it, five or six hundred coming up from Peterborough and Port Hope by special train. In their game with Port Hope in Port Hope on July 1st, the Oshawa team were defeated by a score of 9 to 4, but they certainly redeemed themselves to-day by trimming Port Hope to the tune of 9 to 2. At the first face-off Oshawa secured the ball, and it soon made its way up towards the Port Hope goal, and after four and a half minutes play in the vicinity, Stewart scored the first goal for Oshawa. The next goal went to Oshawa after one-half minutes play. Port Hope then secured the ball, made a rush on goal, and McDonough shot; Gee stopped it nicely, but did not hold the ball, and when it fell on the ground it rolled into the net. Oshawa scored one more, making the game 3 to 1 in their favour at the end of the first quarter.

In the second period Oshawa secured two goals, shutting Port Hope out. In the third, Oshawa netted two more, and Port Hope one. In the last quarter two goals were scored, both going to Oshawa, making the final score 9 to 2. The rain made the field very disagreeable at the beginning, but towards the middle of the game the rain ceased, and, as the grounds are high they were not in a very bad condition. The players on both sides did considerable slipping, but notwithstanding this the game was fast and the playing throughout was keen and excellent. At no time did it lag or become tame. The greater part of the playing was in the vicinity of the Port Hope goal, and had it not been for the excellent stops of the visitors' goalkeeper the score for Oshawa would have been much larger. The game was an exceptionally interesting one for the spectators, both teams playing clean lacrosse, as evidenced by the fact that Referee Gillespie, who has a reputation for being extremely strict, only had occasion to rule three men off during the game, one Oshawa and two Port Hope. The game was indeed fiercely contested and the checking hard, but none of the players received any serious injuries. The Oshawa team played a far superior game throughout than their opponents. The Ontarios, however, are an excellent lot of lacrosse players, and which ever of these two teams win out this district will undoubtedly give the winners of the other intermediate districts a hard race for the Provincial championship. The Ontarios were confident of winning this game, and considerable money was parted with by their backers. The teams and officials were as follows;

Port Hope — Goal, Young, point, T. Tuer; cover point, F. Tuer; third defence, Henderson; second defence, Martin; first defence, Burke; centre, Wood. first home, O'Flynn; second home;, McCabe; third home, Lipsett; outside home, McDonough; inside home, Carveth; field captain, Hooey; goal umpire, Saunders, timekeeper, Renwick.

Oshawa — Goal, Gee; point, Kerwin; cover point, Shields; third defence, Glover; second defence, Sands; first defence, Monroe; centre, Hallett; first home, Staples; second home, Raymer, third home, Hall, outside home, Charles; inside home, Stewart; field capt., Ed. Baker; umpire, Stedham; timekeeper, Pickard.

Referee, Harry Gillespie, Orangeville; referee's timekeeper, Howard Clemes, Port Hope.

An important practice of the senior and junior teams of St. Peter's T. A. S. is called for this evening at 6.30 on Murray street school grounds.

The Campbellford lacrosse team will cross sticks with St. Peter's T.A.S. second team to-morrow evening on the Separate school grounds, Murray street. These two teams played a tie game in Campbellford recently, and a good game may be expected on Tuesday evening.

STONY LAKE NEWS.

Steamboats may Make new Arrangements for the Morning Trip.

Service was held in the Pavilion yesterday morning as usual, there being a very good attendance of cottagers. The service was conducted by Mr. McKenny, of Pittsburg, assisted by Mr. Kooke, of the same city. Miss Georgie Dennistoun presided at the piano. The two American gentlemen gave very interesting Bible talks, and prayer was offered by Mr. Sheriff Hall.

A notice was posted at the Pavilion on Saturday night announcing that the annual dance of the "Downenders" would take place on Wednesday night. This is one of the events of the season, and should draw an immense gathering of cottagers from all over the lake. The invitations to the dance are of a general nature.

Mr. Wilson Cameron of Toronto, is spending his holidays as usual at 'Rocklands." He has brought with him to upper Stony Lake an elegant sailing yacht that promises to afford a great amount of pleasure to the cottagers of that neighbourhood.

Mr. F. D. Kerr, barrister, and Mr. Hogg, Bank of Montreal, were the guests of Mrs. Jas. Dennistoun, who is occupying Mr. E. H. D. Hall's cottage.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum of town, is now comfortably situated on the Mellor Island, which he has purchased. He intends making extensive' improvements to the cottage forthwith. Miss Mollie Meldrum has as her guests her cousins, Mr. and Miss Maxwell of Toronto.

Mr. Harold Cluxton was a guest at Mr. Sheriff Hall's cottage.

Mr. E. S. Clarry spent Sunday the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Collins.

Messrs. Alex. Collins, of the Ontario Bank, Toronto, and Mr. R. D. Collins, of the Molsons Bank, Brockville, are spending their holidays at their cottage, with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Collins.

Miss Jessie and Miss Jean Cameron are guests at Rocklands for a week or two.

It is expected that Rev. Mr. Langfeldt will conduct the services at the Pavilion next Sunday.

Mr. Graham Weir is credited with catching a thirty-one pound 'lunge in Gilchrist's Bay. This one would apparently make Jimmy Connal's seventeen pounder look like a minnow.

The "Maida Vale" is showing a rare turn of speed. Her crew claim that they ran from the Juniper Island wharf to Mr. Buck's cottage in thirty four minutes. There will be "doings" when she and the "Mollie" range alongside one another some of these days.

The Majestic ran from the Point to Lakefield on Friday in 23 minutes. There was a race on between the steamer and Mr. Ed. Young, who was driving. It cost Ed. the cigars.

Mr. McAllister is taking a lot of solid comfort out of his launch. He can easily make about seven miles an hour, when at three-quarter speed and towing the dingy.

Dr. and Mrs. Clarris of Buffalo, who are at Mount Julian hotel, took their fine gramophone over to the Pavilion on Friday evening, and it furnished music for a dance.

Dr. Neill was the guest of his brother, Mr. R. Neill, yesterday.

Mr. Thos. Barrie went up to the lakes this morning.

Mr. R. E. Layfield returned from the lakes this morning.

An informal hop was enjoyed at the Pavilion on Saturday evening.

Mr. Jack Erskine, of the Bank of Commerce, who spent a week or two at Miss Brown's, had a thrilling experience last week, and it was none the less exciting to the young lady who accompanied him. They were on an expedition to White Lake, and going through the "canal" Mr. Erskine misjudged the passage. The result was rather disastrous, as the canoe was swamped and the occupants were left to the mercy of the rapids. Mr. Erskine cleverly rescued the young lady, and they both arrived on the shore feeling the effects of a good ducking. The farmers and the farmers' wives in the neighborhood are always prepared for such emergencies and a liberal supply of garments were placed at the pleasure of the belated explorers.

It is stated that next year a movement will be set on foot to have two mails a day inaugurated to and from Stony Lake. At the present time it is impossible to receive an answer to a communication from Stony Lake on the one day. Lakefield has a daily service of two mails, and why should not the residents of Stony Lake?

Victoria House is just about filled to the doors, and on Saturday evening the proprietor had to give up his own room to accommodate a couple of late arrivals. Town people going out to Victoria House for a holiday should make a point of engaging their rooms ahead, as though there is always room for one more, yet it saves a lot of trouble if a letter is sent on before.

There is some talk amongst the steamboat men of arranging to stop at certain stated points only, on the morning trip from the Lake to Lakefield. On two or three occasions, especially on Monday mornings, the boats have almost missed the train at Lakefield through having to make so many calls, quite a number of which, the steamboat men say, could, by a little trouble on the part of the cottagers, be made unnecessary, if, when not carrying baggage, they could congregate at the more central places. The Empress started out this morning at a quarter to five o'clock to collect her passengers, and yet did not reach Lakefield until nine o'clock. If there had been a few more calls to make the train would have been missed and many of Peterborough's business men would not have reached town until some hours later, as it would have been necessary to hire busses. The steamboat men say they cannot start at an earlier hour in the morning, and they think the only remedy will be to specify some half dozen places at which they will call on the morning trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutty, who have been holidaying at Stony Lake, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Connal, passed through to-day on their way home. Mr. Hutty killed a puffing adder while at the lake. This is one of six which have been killed in the vicinity inside of the last fourteen years.

The following guests are registered at Victoria House, McCracken's Landing; J. W. Philpott, T. A. Folgambe, G. S. Phyper, Cleveland; Miss Minnie Guillet, Cobourg; H. C. Armstrong, Walter Robinson, Peterboroughough; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Clegg, Wingham; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pentland; Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. A. Jobe, Bridgenorth; Mr. and Mrs. S. Clegg, Mr. and Mrs. E. Clegg, Peterborough; Mrs. E. C. Bickford, H. B. Carlton, J. M. Reddington, A. R. Lane, W. E. Williams, Rochester; M. Sheppard, C. Sheppard, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Denworth, Rochester, H. Sheppard, Toronto; John Macdonald, Rochester; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert, Miss Gilbert, Rochester; C. M. Patterson, Belleville; A. J. N. Terrill, H. Rush, A. H. Stratton, D. Davidson, Peterborough.

MR. THOMAS MEEHAN.

A Remarkable Career—How He Rose From Small Things to Great—An Example to Young Canadians.

In part owing to his most valuable labors in connection with that well known journal, Meehan's Monthly, and in part owing to his great success as a nurseryman, the name of Thomas Meehan has become a household word among the fruit growers of America. Success in life does not seem to depend so much upon outward condition, or even upon college training, as upon that inherent faculty which some men have of taking advantage of opportunities which lie along their pathway, and turning them into gold, or into position.

On Tuesday, the 19th of November, this noted botanist and nurseryman passed away, aged seventy-five years, mourned by a large circle of personal friends and associates in scientific pursuits, says The Canadian Horticulturist.

He was born near London, England, in 1826, and soon after this date his father became head gardener upon a large estate in the Isle of Wight. "Here, in the backwoods of Squire Young's Scotch fir plantation young Thomas Meehan used to love to sit on the brown pine-needles and alarm suddenly the young snakes till they scampered into their mother's mouth for protection. With no other boys to play with for miles around, he spent his time in writing boyish essays on what he saw. In after years one essay of an 8-year-old boy got into print, and brought on him a burlesque by Dr. Lindley, the eminent horticulturalist and botanist, of England, in an early number of the Gardeners' Chronicle of London— a cut with Meehan's viper still further evolutionizing till its tail had become sagittate, so that it could spear a mouse and pass it to its mouth without moving itself. Professor Brown Goode, of the Smithonian Institution, took up the question, and proved by overwhelming evidence that the eight-year-old boy was right. A cut of the "Meehan viper," as it originally appeared in the Gardeners' Chronicle, December 16, 1848, is herewith reproduced."

THOMAS MEEHAN.

It was not that his father and mother did not appreciate the value of an education but because the schools were not at hand, that his education was neglected, except for such rudiments as his mother could find time to give him, until the age of ten, when he was given two years at Lancastrian school, after which he went into regular work in gardening under his father's training. But success was in him, and circumstances could not bar it. He determined to know, and spent his evenings in the study of botany and horticultural books and literature, thus early evidencing that habit which in later life brought him, with only two years of school life, the well-earned reputation of scholarship in specific lines, superior to that of hundreds whose names are adorned with B.A., Ph.D., M.A., and other titles.

No man is born into the world, whose work
Is not born with him—there is always work
And tools to work withal, for those who will,
And blessed are the horny hands of toil.
The busy world shoves angrily aside
The man who stands with arms akimbo set,
Until occasion tells him what to do—
And he who waits to have his task marked out
Shall die and leave his errand unfulfilled.

At twelve years of age he began contributing articles of scientific value to the public press, and thereby was brought to the notice of the members of the Royal Wernerian Society, and made a member while still a mere lad of about fifteen! While still in his teens, young Thomas formed an excellent plan for the continuation od his studies; he associated together a band of young men who met at nights to take up languages, mathematics, chemistry and studies, the one most advanced in a study always taking the lead of the others.

His first position was that of Head Gardener to Paymaster Vaux, and during the next five years he filled several engagements, each one giving him valuable opportunities for gaining a knowledge of details of horticulture. This was especially true of his engagement at Kew Gardens, where he had charge of houses containing plants from all parts of the world. These opportunities he made the most of; for example, at Kew he made a catalogue of 1,600 varieties studying up the history of each. At the same time he continued to contribute to the public press, and thus made the most of every opportunity for advancement.

Through a friend he was induced at the age of twenty-two to come to America, where his first engagement was with Robert Buist, as superintendent of nurseries, afterward he filled several positions of trust, for example, that of manager of Bartram's gardens, and in 1852 that of Cope's grounds and conservatories; during which time also his pen was always busy.

In the spring of 1854 Mr. Thomas Meehan decided upon a bold and independent stroke, and, with the seeds he had collected from time to time, and $1,000 of his savings capital, he rented ground in upper Germantown, and established what are now so widely known as Meehan's Nurseries. Here was got together the first collection of the beautiful native trees and shrubs of America, which soon required much additional land, until in time some seventy-five acres was completely covered with nursery stock.

His title of Professor came to him on his being appointed State Botanist, and Lecturer at the University of Illinois.

Thomas Meehan traveled much, including trips to Canada, Alaska, the far West, and in all these his one thought seemed to be the study of his favorite science. His mastery of details was well proven by his ready acquaintance with plants. From every land "Plants, specimens, twigs, leaves or flowers," it is said, "were almost daily received at his office for identification, and it was a cause for wonderment to those about him to see him, usually without hesitation, write off the names and possibly add some remarks about their history."

He was a prolific writer, and among his productions we may just mention "The American Handbook of Ornamental Trees;" frequent contributions to "The Horticulturist" (American) on Landscape Gardening; the editing of The Gardener's Monthly; agricultural editorials of Forney's Weekly Press; important papers before the A.A.A.S.; Native Flowers and Ferns of the U.S.; many of the articles in Meehan's Monthly, etc. etc.

To his lasting credit, let us chronicle of Mr. Thomas Meehan, his public and philanthropic spirit. Neither business affairs, nor literary work, was allowed to interfere with his interest in the public schools and public parks. In the interest of the first of these, he was instrumental in securing $2,000,000 for new school buildings in Philadelphia, and, in the second, his influence led to the organization of the City Park Association, and the laying out of some twenty-eight small parks, as public resting places, in various parts of the town. Among the honors conferred on Prof. Meehan, and well deserved, was the Veitch medal presented for "distinguished services in Botany and Horticulture" and this is all the mort noteworthy because he was only the third American to be so honored.

Our young Canadian readers should study the face of one whose career has been so remarkable for achieving great results with fair opportunities.

HONEST POVERTY.

Is there for honest poverty
Wha hangs his head and a' that,
The coward slave, we pass him by
And daur be puir for a' that,
For a' that and a' that
Our toils obscure and a' that:
The rank is but the guinea's stamp,
The man's the gowd for a' that.

What though on hamely fare we dine,
Wear hodden grey and a' that?
Gie fools their silks and knaves their wine;
A man's a man for a' that.
For a' that and a' that,
Their tinsel show and a' that;
The honest man, though e'er sae poor,
Is king o' men for a' that.

Ye see yon birkie, ca'd a lord,
Wha struts and stares and a' that,
Though hundreds worship at his word,
He's but a coof for a' that.
For a' that and a' that,
His riband, star and a' that,
The man of independent mind
He looks and laughs at a' that.

A prince can mak' a belted knight,
A marquis, duke and a' that,
But an honest man's aboon his might,
Guid faith he mauna fa' that!
For a' that and a' that,
Their dignities and a' that,
The pith o' sense and pride o' worth
Are higher ranks than a' that.

Then let us pray that come it may—
As come it will for a' that,
That sense and worth o'er a' the earth
May bear the gree and a' that,
For a' that and a' that,
It's comin' yet for a' that,
When man to man the world o'er
Shall brithers be and a' that!

Preserving Fence Posts.

As a result of a series of experiments conducted by the Department of Agriculture, Germany, in the preservation of fence posts, we have the following report: Posts used in vineyards were dipped in different solutions to preserve them against rot. The period of the experiment covered twenty-four years. The best results were secured with tar. Only nine per cent. of fir posts impregnated with tar had rotted at the end of twenty-four years. At the end of twenty years, thirty-three per cent. of those impregnated with copper sulphate (bluestone) had rotted; nevertheless, the ease and cheapness with which posts, particularly green posts, can be saturated with copper sulphate solutions seems to make its use more desirable than that of tar.

Quack Doctors Versus Druggists.

It is a more sensible thing for the public to entrust their health in the hands of a skillful chemist than to a quack medicine. Merrill's System Tonic is a reliable drug store remedy —pleasant to take —which purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and regulates the bowels. 50 doses in each bottle. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Unappreciated Dignity.

Andrew Lang tells this story: "As to asking for votes, one would feel like Abernethy—I think it was he—who stood for a professorship in Edinburgh. He had to canvass a bailie who was a grocer. The bailie had une attitude digne. 'You have come, young sir, in this creesis of your career to ask for my vote for the chair of toxicockology?' 'No, sir, said Abernethy; 'I have come to ask for a penny's worth of your figs. Put them up, and look smart about it.'"

Of Benefit to Growing Girls.

It Makes the Pale, Bloodless and Anaemic Strong, Healthy and Vigorous.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

In the life of nearly every girl there comes a time when her system demands just such assistance as can best be supplied by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. The physiological changes which take place put a strain on the system, which is likely to leave paleness, weakness, and a run-down system. This great food cure restores health and colour to the pale anaemic, and frequently relieves parents of a burden of anxiety regarding their growing girls.

Mrs. Goodson, 104 Sebastopol St., Montreal, Que., states;—

"My daughter was very nervous, and seemd to have no strength. Her appetite was bad, and she looked pale and bloodless. Since she has been using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food there has been a marked change in her appearance. She now has a splendid appetite, and seems to be stronger and healthier in every way. I am well pleased with the results obtained from the use of this medicine, and think it is a splendid treatment for growing girls."

Barns in Germany.

The speech delievred by Carlyle at the dinner given to Allan Cunningham at Dumfries, in 1831, has been unearthed by John Muir from the report of a contemporary newspaper, and it was worth unearthing, if only for the reference made in it to a communication which had recently passed between the speaker and the then idol of his literary and philosophical worship, says the Literary Era In the course of the remarks with which he prefaced his proposal of a toast to the memory of Robert Burns, Carlyle told his audience that within the last two months he had "learned from Goethe, the greatest living German poet, that the works of our immortal bard are under translation in Berlin, so that foreign countries will speedily be as happy with them as ourselves." Whether the translation was completed and appeared, and whether Carlyle's anticipation of the "happiness" of the German reader of "Willie Brewed a Peck of Malt" in the language of the fatherland were realized we cannot say. But that we meet with no further reference to it in any Carlylean writings suggests that it may have proved a little disappointing.

HOUSE OF STANLEY.

FIRST MAN WHO BORE THE NAME MYSTERY TO OLD CHRONICLERS.

Family Settled in Derbyshire Before the Death of Edward the Confessor—Name Made Famous in Reign of Edward the Third—The Present Earl Was Once Governor-General of Canada.

Who the first man was that bore the name of Stanley is a mystery that has baffled the most industrious of the old chroniclers, but it appears tolerably certain that the family was settled at Stoneley in Derbyshire before the death of Edward the Confessor, and subsequently became allied with the Norman Audleys. It was not, however, until the reign of Edward III. that the name was made famous by John Stanley, whose prowess at the battle of Poictiers was remarkable even on a day of great deeds. The family tree may then be said to have been planted by this daring and successful soldier, whose next exploit was a combat with a French knight that won him his bride. After Poictiers, Stanley's hardest struggle was at Shrewsbury, a battle that had special significance for his race, for there Northumberland was slain, and amongst his forfeited lands the kingdom of Man was bestowed by a grateful Sovereign upon his trusty and well-beloved lieutenant. Sir John married the heiress of Lathom, and thus became possessed of Knowsley, Prescot, the seat of his descendants ever since.

For several generations the family is less prominent in our annals until we come to Sir Thomas Stanley, who married a sister of Warwick, the king-maker. He was one of the few supporters of Richard Crookback who managed to keep his head on his shoulders and eventually to get safely out of the clutches of the tyrant. Whether it was Sir Thomas, or his brother William, who placed the "Crown of ornament" on Henry's head after Bosworth Field is not certain; but the victor's manner of rewarding these noble brothers who had risked their lives for him was remarkable. Thomas he created Earl of Derby; William he executed for alleged complicity in the conspiracy of Perkin Warbeck, and hastened to confiscate his estates, a step that was only too pleasing to King Henry VII. The earldom of Derby, it should be explained, had long been merged in the Crown. It was first bestowed by King Stephen on Robert de Ferrers, who led the men of Derbyshire at the battle of the Standard. Nevertheless historians have agreed to consider Sir Thomas Stanley as the first earl. Some time later the King visited the Earl of Derby at Lathom, and it is related that when they went on to the housetop to view the surrounding country the nobleman's jester whispered, loud enough for Henry to hear, "Tom, remember Will," whereat the monarch turned pale, so the story goes, and hastily took his departure. The first earl was a careful man and saved money. He was also diplomatic and appeared at the Court of Edward IV. with both roses entwined in his helmet. His second son, Sir Edward Stanley, fought at Flodden, and it is to him the last words of Marmion are addressed.

Of the succeeding earls the fifth, whom Spencer personified as Amyntas, died of a mysterious illness, possibly due to poison, and his brother, who was his successor, had been so long abroad that it required a law suit of several years' standing to convince his family that he was the rightful heir. James, the seventh holder of the title, surnamed the Great Earl, was a brilliant figure in the Civil War. His countess was worthy of her husband, and her defence of Lathom with a handful of men against a determined host of Roundheads for three months was considered as great a feat in her time as the defence at Mafeking in our own days. In "Peveril of the Peak" Sir Walter Scott represents her as a Roman Catholic. Worcester, that was Cromwell's crowning mercy, sounded the earl's death knell, for while Charles was safely hid in his oak tree, Derby fell into the hands of his enemies, and after swift trial was executed at Bolton, the town which he and Prince Rupert had brilliantly taken by storm some years before. It has been said of Charles I. that "nothing in his life became him like the leaving of it." Derby's life was without stain and without reproach, and he met death no less firmly than his Royal master; indeed, so admirable was his composure that on the very scaffold he delivered an address in praise of princes and of laws, which so stirred the people that the soldiers had difficulty in preventing a general uprising in his favor, even as he laid his head upon the block. A romance of the stage is associated with the name of the twelfth Earl of Derby, whose second wife was Elizabeth Farren, of Drury Lane. This fascinating and talented actress is said to have numbered Charles James Fox amongst her admirers, but Lord Derby was the man she chose to marry, and their union was in every respect a happy one. The earl was a noted patron of sport, particularly of cock-fighting, and he was fond of introducing the birds into his drawing room to the amusement of some of his friends and the consternation of others. At Knowsley the thirteenth earl, who was an authority on natural history, formed an unrivalled collection of birds and mammalia.

In the fourteenth Earl of Derby the House of Stanley produced by far its most illustrious member. He was Colonial Secretary in 1838, and left the Cabinet in disgust when "Johnny (Lord John Russell) upset the coach" by voting for the disestablishment of the Irish Church. Both Disraeli and Lord Salisbury held office in the Derby Administration of 1852, and six years later it fell to a Derby Cabinet to add India to the vast possessions of the Crown. When the Conservatives made way for their opponents Queen Victoria bestowed on their chief an extraordinary mark of Royal favor by appointing him an extra Knight of the Garter, an honor hitherto reserved for princes. Nor did his countrymen miss the opportunity of paying him homage. A great banquet at Liverpool was amongst the compliments showered upon Lord Derby, and this was followed by a review of 11,000 Volunteers at Knowsley—the Earl was far-seeing enough to perceive that a great future lay before the much abused citizen soldiers. Then the Rupert of debate settled down in peace to complete his translation of Homer's Iliad, but the country could not allow him to plough his lonely furrow too long, and soon he was back in the political arena, making the whole country laugh at his humorous criticisms of Russell's "meddle and muddle" policy. His last administration closed in three years by his illness and resignation, and he died in 1869.

Lord Stanley, afterwards fifteenth Earl of Derby, had the unique experience of being a member of a Cabinet presided over by his father. He was the first Secretary for India, and later as Foreign Secretary it fell to him to draft the terms for settling the Alabama claims. In 1870, as Lord Derby, he married the widow of the second Marquis of Salisbury, for whose sake, it is said, he had remained single three and twenty years. From the Disraeli Cabinet, in which he was Foreign Secretary, Lord Derby retired after the Russo-Turkish war, strongly disapproving the foreign policy of Lord Beaconsfield, and went into Opposition. Under Mr. Gladstone he held the seals of the Colonial Office until the dissolution of 1885, when he practically disappeared from the foremost rank of politics. He was born in 1826, and was succeeded at his death in 1893 by his brother, Lord Stanley of Preston.

The present Earl, born in 1841, has had a wide experience of public life. After holding the posts of a Lord of the Admiralty, Financial Secretary for War, and subsequently to the Treasury, Secretary for War, and afterwards for the Colonies, he was President of the Board of Trade in 1886, and two years later went out to Canada as Governor-General, returning in 1893. He has been Lord Lieutenant of Lancashire since 1897.

It has already been shown how the Isle of Man came into the possession of the Stanleys. On the death of the eleventh earl, it passed to James Murray, Duke of Atholl, whose grandmother was a daughter of the seventh earl. In 1763 the "interests and privileges" of the historic island were sold to the Lords of the Admiralty for £70,000, and in 1806 the sovereignty of Man was purchased outright by the British Government, and what privileges remained were bought in by the Crown twenty years later.

Ancient Weather Statistics.

The Upper Canada Medical Journal for April contains some statistics of the temperature of Toronto during the last 24 years, very interesting to those who love to speculate on the weather. There are very few old residents of Canada who do not believe that the climate is gradually becoming milder. They will generally tell you that there are no such winters now as twenty years ago. The season which has just closed rather startled these believers in the improvement of the age, for an intensity of cold and length of duration it was as distinguished as any that the oldest inhabitant can recollect. The writer in The Medical Journal gives the following statement of the mean temperature during the last twenty years for the six months of winter, beginning with November and ending with April :

1881-2	26.60
1832-3	30.38
1833-4	31.48
1834-5	28.32
1835-6	26.26
1836-7	26.80
1837-8	29.88
1838-9	—
1839-40	31.28
1840-1	29.15
1841-2	33.20
1842-3	27.48
1843-4	31.70
1844-5	33.45
1845-6	30.45
1846-7	30.07
1847-8	32.42
1848-9	29.28
1849-50	32.08
1850-1	31.60
1851-2	27.10

In one respect the last winter bears off the palm from all competitors, whose facts have been recorded. Ninety and one-half inches of snow fell during the season, while the average fall during the previous eight years was only half that quantity — forty-five and a half. The smallest quantity of snow was in 43-44, only fifteen and two-fifths inches. The lowest temperature marked by the thermometer during twenty years past is 20 degrees below. This occurred twice—in 1831-2 and 1835-6, and last winter it did not go below 14.8. In 1846-7 the lowest temperature marked was 1.1 below.—From the Globe of June 24, 1852.

For comparison with the climate statistics given above the mean temperature of Toronto during the same six months of 1901-2 was 31.16, and during fifty-six years has been 29.5. The coldest record last year was 0.8 above zero. The average snowfall for 56 years has been between 68 and 69 inches.

A Burden to Self and Others.

When the liver gets sluggish, the kidneys inactive, and the bowels constipated, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will promptly set your filtering and excretory system in perfect order, and insure good digestion and good health. Frightful Dangers of the Bath.

The London Lancet, which has for many years been engaged in the noble work of protecting humanity from the dangers that keep continually springing up, comes forward with a timely warning against too much bathing. In the spring when people's underclothes begin to stick to them the bath becomes particularly seductive. People who can go for a week in the winter without bathing frequently desire when the weather warms up to plunge into the tub every few days. This condition moves The Lancet to say :

"Too much bathing is harmful, as it tends to maceration of the superficial part of the epidermis, which is too frequently removed, and occasionally probably too rapid a proliferation of the cells of the malpighian layer."

Let people who are in the habit of giving themselves up to the pleasures of the bath pause and consider. It is doubtless a serious thing to bring on maceration of the superficial parts of the epidermis, and we are free to confess that we should shrink in dread from one who carelessly went about with a proliferation of the cells of the malpighian layer.

It is fortunate that The Lancet has pointed out the danger in time to head off an epidemic of the trouble mentioned, and we have no doubt that the warning will, in most quarters, be gladly heeded.

Kept His Umbrella.

The composer Panseron, while driving homeward in his cab during a terrific shower, met the aged composer Cherubini plodding along on foot, protected from the storm only by a shabby old umbrella full of holes. Panseron took compassion on the old gentleman and begged him to make use of the cab, saying that he himself would walk home. Cherubini accepted and took the other's place in the cab. Then Panseron naturally asked the old gentleman for the loan of his umbrella.

"Oh, no, my dear boy!" said Cherubini. "It is a well known fact that a man never again sets eyes on an umbrella that he has lent." And he drove off in Panseron's cab.

A Cough Leads to a Coffin.

There's a striking similarity in these two words. Both are to be dreaded. Coffins cost many dollars, whereas 25 cents buys a bottle of Four T's and cures the cough in 24 hours, making the coffin unnecessary. Four T's is acknowledged by all to be the best lung remedy in existence. Large bottles, 25 cents, at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

BRITISH-CANADIAN FAST ATLANTIC LINE

Canadian Government Earnestly Working to That End.

CANADIAN LINES MAY COMBINE

The Allan and Elder-Dempster Companies Want Control of the St. Lawrence.

(Montreal Herald.)

Inner shipping circles would not be surprised at the announcement, in a few months, of the establishment of a fast line to Canada.

It is expected the Allan and the Elder-Dempster lines will furnish the service. A despatch from London yesterday stated that the representatives of these two lines in England were negotiating with the home authorities and the Canadian Ministers for sufficient subsidy to ensure the success of the fast line.

In Montreal the officials of both companies profess ignorance of negotiations along the lines indicated, but seemed to think there was something in it.

One of them, who is in a position to know, said this morning;—"I should not be surprised to see a combination of the Elder-Dempster and the Allan lines for the purpose of controlling the trade of the St. Lawrence. We do not know anything of the details of the negotiations here for the head office of the Elder-Dempster line is in London, and that of the Allan line in Glasgow, but in view of what has occurred to the shipping of the North Atlantic under the guiding influence of Mr. J. P. Morgan, a combination of this sort seems inevitable for self-protection.

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE.

"The Canadian Government seems to have awakened to a realization of the necessity of something being done. There has been talk of a fast line for several years. Many conferences have been held by steamship men, with the cabinet, and since 1899 the project has been discussed in a most serious fashion, but I always believed that some of the most influential men in the cabinet did not believe that the time had really come for a fast line.

"I do not say that they were not right. In fact I think, as things have turned out, that waiting has been a good thing. Certainly no harm has been done. The Morgan consolidation has been accomplished without a Canadian fast line having been a factor in their consideration in forming it.

"Now we are in a position to arrange for a fast line with full knowledge of what has been done in New York, and to consider the possible competition from that direction.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER.

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier, I believe, is now giving the fast line project his most serious attention, and is endeavouring in England to arrange the best possible terms for the service with the steamship men, and if possible, to secure the assistance of the British Government.

"Heretofore, the project has been a departmental matter in Canada, but it is too big an affair for a department. Now, the Premier has the project in hand, and the cabinet united behind him.

"The despatches we have received since the premiers gathered in London indicate that the fast line project is the one in which the Canadians are chiefly interested. In every speech they have made there has been a reference to it.

"Even the Postmaster-General, who is not supposed to look after marine details, protested at a banquet given by Lloyds' Register, against the unfair discrimination by the British marine insurance underwriters against the St. Lawrence route. He seems to have gone deeper than the bare project of a fast line, and into the troubles of the Canadian steamship companies generally, though this question of insurance is a vital one in the fast line project.

"I believe that to-day the fast line project is receiving more serious attention than it ever did before, and is more near realization. One thing is certain—it can be had if it is wanted. The only question is the price. The Morgan combine shows the need of it."

STOCK MARKETS.

This Stock Will Rise Greatly.

New York, July 19th.—We again revert to Penna. stock, urging its purchase now as we did three weeks ago, when it was selling at 159. This stock should, in a short time, sell above 180, and before the end of the year work up above 175. Did it ever occur to you that the tremendous rise in the market of Pa. assets, C. & O., Norfolk, Baltimore and Ohio, etc., means an immense increase in the wealth of Penna. Railroad Co. There is not a better stock dealt in in Wall street, and no matter what price you might purchase the stock at, should it decline temporarily from the purchase price, you may be confident it will return to that price again. A decline in price from your purchase price would simply afford you an excellent opportunity to average, and with the absolute certainty that such action would prove profitable. In tabulating earnings of the Penna. system the immense gains made by the subsidiary companies, the majority of whose stocks are held by the Penna.., do not figure. Did they do so, you could purchase Penna. stock at 175 in the open market, yet these enormous sums of money belong to the Penna shareholders. We presume our readers have become somewhat tired of the continous urgency and persistence with which these letters have espoused the bull side of the market for the past three months. But their advice has been most excellent, and we have written strongly, with the view of getting our readers interested upon the right side of the market in time to participate in the profits now being made in Wall street. We have been told that we sent out for the period mentioned the most flamboyant bull letters issued by any house on Wall street. We are glad we have done so. Our readers will be glad also, if they have followed them. The market is far from a finish, so we continue our efforts to get our clients to come in before Mr. Everybody has entered Wall street and loaded himself up, purchasing from the cliques and early buyers. Mr. Everybody is a bad man to be in company with in Wall street.

AN INQUEST BEING HELD

As to the Death in Port Hope of Joseph MacNaughton.

The Parents Who Reside in Peterborough Have Given Evidence Before a Port Hope Coroner's Jury.

(Port Hope Guide.)

The inquest on the body of the late Joseph W. McNaughton, who died on Wednesday, was held at the residence of Mr. Henry Goheen, yesterday, Coroner Corbett presiding.

The first witness called was Mr. D. N. McNaughton, father of the deceased, who said—I live in Peterborough, and deceased is about seven years of age. He took the measles in January last and has not appeared well since, but nothing wrong so far as I could tell, except a little dry hacking cough. I did not call any doctor in to see him. The deceased resided in Peterborough until three weeks ago last Saturday, June 28th, when he was removed to Port Hope. When he left home he was in his usual health. He had failed away quite a lot from the time he had the measles, and had lost considerable flesh. My wife brought him to Port Hope, and I thought the change would do him good. I did not see deceased again until Tuesday, July 15th, but as far as looks is concerned, he looked fleshier than when he left home. I came to Port Hope to get work and then to take my wife and deceased home. I had four letters from my wife, and the report was that the deceased was better and doing well. I was with them from Tuesday night until Wednesday morning. Deceased got up on Wednesday morning; helped to dress himself, had breakfast and walked out to the buggy and I lifted him in. Mrs. Goheen was going to drive my wife and deceased to Port Hope, to take the train to Peterborough. They started for Port Hope, and I began to get ready to drive to Peterborough. My wife had a return ticket to Peterborough, and I thought it would be easier in the train for deceased, than in a buggy. Mrs. Goheen left the horse and buggy at the gate, and came back and told me my son was dead. I went down and led the horse and buggy back. I have had bad luck with medical doctors in former cases, but I did not send him out for treatment. My wife is a Christian Scientist and she has always done the best she could for him. The four letters I received are at Peterborough. I did not approve of deceased being treated by Christian Science. I have often argued against it, and tried to persuade her against it. I know it was my duty to do all that lay in my power to restore the child to health, but I did not see that he needed any medical assistance. My wife said that Joseph Brundrett was treating the deceased. I do not know how often Mr. Brundrett came out, and could not say whether he came to see my son or not. Drs. Parker and Hamilton, of Stirling, attended one of my children once, and they gave the case up. They said it was lung and throat trouble, but I did not feel satisfied in either cases.

Mrs. McNaughton, sworn, said,—I reside in Peterborough; the deceased was my son, and would be seven years of age on Sept. 12th, 1902. I was away at Campbellford when deceased was sick, but my husband said he had the measles. Deceased had a dry, hacking cough. I gave him every comfort I could, kept him warm, and left him in God's hands and gave him Christian Science treatment. Deceased had failed from January up to the time he came to see Mr. Goheen. I had no medical assistance in the case, but left the child in God's hands, thinking He was Almighty. My husband asked me if I thought we had better get a doctor for deceased; I said that he could do as he wished, but I would not order it. I never gave him any medicine, but continued to treat him by Christian Science. I clothed and fed him, prayed for him, and explained the Scripture, telling him that God was his help. I left Peterborough on the 23rd of June, and brought deceased to Port Hope, thinking the change would do him good. We did not stay in Port Hope, but came out here to Mr. Gohpen's. We have been in Port Hope seven or eight times on business. Mr. Joseph Brundrett, of Port Hope, treated the deceased by Christian Science. I wrote to my husband four or five times in regard to the deceased, and told him that he was improving, and enjoying himself. Myself and deceased started for town on Tuesday morning, July 15th, after breakfast. He walked to the buggy, and his father lifted him in on his lap and we started for Port Hope. We got as far as the gate, which is about 40 yards from the house. I went to draw the rug up, when I noticed that his chin had dropped, and he was dead. I believe the body is dead, not the spirit. This child was under Christian Science treatment until he died. He gained about five pounds since he came down here. My husband is not a Christian Scientist. I was in attendance on my son in this house until he died. Mr. Brundrett was out twice, but I did not send for him. He was invited out one Sunday, and I had no objection to his coming. Mr. Brundrett and many others thought he was improving, but at last his feet began to swell. With me it was a question of religion, and I have taken the Scripture as my guide.

Dr. L. B. Powers.—I examined the body of deceased. From appearances he must have been in a very weak condition at death. I have no doubt that consumption followed the measles. The immediate cause of death was the exertion of getting into the buggy, syncope of the heart. I think it is the duty of everbody to do all they can for consumption, because all people who have consumption do not die.

The inquest then adjourned until Monday night.

DROWNED IN THE ELBE

Fifty on Board Steamer Primus, Cut in Two, Perished.

BOTH CAPTAINS SURRENDERED

The Boiler Exploded as Men Fought For Their Own Safety Regardless of Others —A Tragic Scene—A Too Precipitate Movement Caused the Disaster—180 Other Passengers Saved.

Hamburg, July 22.—The steamship Primus, of Hamburg with 185 passengers on board, was cut in two and sunk by the tug Hansa on the River Elbe, at 12.30 o'clock yesterday morning. About fifty persons were drowned. Thirteen bodies already have been recovered.

The Primus was an excursion steamer from Buxtehude (Province of Hanover, Prussia.) The disaster occurred between Blankenese and Nienstedten. Among the passengers were the members of the Eilbeck Male Choral Society.

At the time of the accident the Primus was crossing the river channel near Blankenese, from the southern into the northern fairway. According to witnesses aboard the Hansa, the movement was made too precipitately.

The Primus struck the tug's engine-room, and the Hansa endeavored to push her ashore, but the tug grounded soon and the ships parted. The Primus then sank.

In the interval, however, about fifty of her passengers were able to reach the Hansa by means of ropes and ladders. Seventy more were picked up by the tug's boats, while others swam ashore.

Captain Petersen of the Primus, swam ashore and gave himself up to the police. Capt. Sachs of the Hansa also surrendered.

The weather was fine, the moon was shining and both vessels were steering absolutely clear of each other. Suddenly the Primus when about 450 feet from the Hansa, put her rudder hard aport and crossed the bows of the latter.

Less than a minute elapsed between the time the Primus changed her course and the collision. Boats were immediately lowered from the Hansa, and ropes and ladders were thrown overboard. Fifty persons were rescued by the boats. At the same time the Hansa tried to push the Primus ashore, but, being of deeper draught, grounded herself before the passenger boat. The Primus floated down stream and sank 100 feet from the Hansa.

The terrible panic that occurred on the Primus when the Hansa struck her rendered the efforts to save her passengers almost useless. Fortunately the steamer Dolphin came up immediately, and succeeded in saving 60 of those on board the sinking steamer, while other boats assisted in the work of rescue. Some of the survivors furnish graphic descriptions of the awful suddenness of the disaster.

Men fought for their own safety regardless of others. In the midst of the confusion the boilers exploded, adding to the horrors of the scene.

More of the passengers would have been saved by the ropes thrown from the Hansa had it not been that before those who seized the ropes could be hauled on board they were pulled from the lines they had grasped by other persons struggling in the water, and all were drowned in the hideous confusion.

It is asserted that divers have already recovered 45 bodies, but as yet it is impossible to verify the death list.

BURIED UNDER TONS OF ROCK.

One Man Dead, and His Companion Very Badly Injured.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 21.—Two colored men working in the tunnel for the Canadian Niagara Power Company, named Joseph Cook and Charles Ester were buried in the falling rock that fell down upon them after a blast that had been let off Sunday morning, 150 feet below the surface. The men's comrades soon removed the broken stone and found both badly crushed. They were hurried to the Memorial Hospital. Upon their arrival at the hospital it was found Ester had died on the way. Cook has a fractured skull, broken leg and ribs.

Tragedy at the Circus.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 22.—Lee Bruce, a teamster, employed by Forepaugh & Sells Brothers, was shot yesterday afternoon just as the afternoon crowd was leaving the circus tent. Dennis Bowen, a watchman, is under arrest charged with having fired the fatal shot. Bowen narrowly escaped being lynched by the angry circus attendants, who witnessed the shooting.

Sir Oliver's Birthday.

STORMONT PETITION.

Justice Maclennan Dismissed the Motion to Set It Aside.

THE OBJECTION WAS TECHNICAL

Petitioner, However, Had Failed to State His Right to Petition and Must Pay His Costs—A Cross-Petition in Huron Mr. Hendrie of Hamilton Puts Up the Funds and Files Cross-Petition.

Toronto, July 22. — Mr. Justice Maclennan yesterday morning dismissed without costs the motion made by Mr. J. H. Moss to have the petition against the return of Mr. W. J. McCart, the Liberal member for Stormont dismissed, on the ground that the petition failed to make the fact clear that the petitioner, Mr. John McLaughlin, was the Conservative candidate in the election.

In giving judgment Mr. Justice Maclennan said:—"In the present case the petitioner's right to petition is the fact that he was a candidate at the election. The question is, does the petition contain a statement of that fact? I think it does contain a sufficient statement of that fact. The petitioner is 'John McLaughlin of the Township of Roxborough, farmer,' and it states that 'John McLaughlin of the Township of Roxburgh, farmer,' was one of the candidates at the election. I think that, reading the document above, the petitioner and the candidate, upon a fair construction of it, must be taken to be one and the same person. There might be a latent ambiguity, but none is shown, the other John McLaughlin in the constituency residing in a different township and being of a different occupation."

A cross-petition has been filed in South Huron against Murdo Y. McLean, the Liberal candidate. A petition against the return of the present member, Mr. Henry Eilber, is already before the court.

The deposit for the petition against the return of Mr. Hendrie of Hamilton arrived at Osgoode Hall yesterday morning. A cross-petition has also been filed against Mr. Washington, the defeated Liberal candidate.

TENDERS ASKED.

Liverpool, July 22.—The Journal of Commerce is authority for the statement that the Canadian Government has invited Messrs. Allan, Holt, Jones and other Liverpool shipowners to make tenders for service of 18-knot passenger steamers between Vancouver, Australia and points on the Pacific and also for service of commodious and quick passenger steamers.

Kept Body Over a Year.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 22.—The remains of Lucille Charter, of Greenville, Ohio, were buried from Morse & Sons undertaking establishment at Niagara Falls South yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, interment taking place in Drummond Hill cemetery. Lucille Charter was a professional nurse who was supposed to have suicided, or to have accidentally taken an overdose of morphine on June 23, 1901. For almost a year the remains were unidentified. The body was in a perfect state of preservation.

NEWSPAPERS.

Archbishop Ireland, one of the most broad minded and public spirited of American prelates, has been speaking on the modern newspaper, which he pronounces the "mentor of the people." While he admits that some newspapers are sensational and discreditibly conducted, he also asserts that the generality of newspapers are conducted honestly and with a view of subserving public interests. The average newspaper is anxious to deal honestly with the public, and when it fails in preserving a record that will give it a character for honesty and reliability, it is through the sources from which it must gather its information. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred a newspaper does not deliberately print an incorrect item of news in its columns, upon its own responsibility. When such a thing happens as incorrect news being printed, it is through wrong information supplied from sources considered reliable. Many persons forget that publishing a newspaper is a business enterprise, as much as is the conducting of a bank, or a drygoods business, and to be successful it must be so managed that the balance is on the right side of the ledger. A newspaper cannot be run counter to its own interests by running counter to the interests or prejudices of its patrons, any more than either of the business concerns named could profitably pursue a like course. The idea seems to prevail that the business of a newspaper is to keep the world straight, to redress wrongs, reform abuses, and, in a word, perform the combined functions of the church and the law — to make everybody good and law-abiding. Thousands think that every petty grievance, perhaps purely personal, which they bring to a newspaper, as to a journalistic police court, must be made the subject of special newspaper effort, no matter if, in the process, its business interests are injuriously affected, good patrons offended, and the business they represent, imperilled. More is expected from the newspaper than from the pulpit. A minister of the Gospel, who will, as a rule, preach straight truths at members of his congregation, at the risk of offending them, and alienating pewholders, who may be regarded as good customers in the way of contributions, is about as rare as a hen's mouth supplied with thirty-two teeth. Why should more be expected of a newspaper? Why not require a lawyer to hound a well-paying client who has done something that some of the public object to? Yet that, or something similar, is what is required of a newspaper, and good deal is done in that direction. The voice and influence of a newspaper are, as a rule, always used in the interests of morality, law and order, good citizenship, and the general well-being of the community, in which its issue moves. It spends money in the effort to promote such interests, but self-evidently it must be allowed to exercise its judgment in respect of how far to go in such directions. As a business enterprise, it must protect its business interests, as well as the interests of the community. In taking an honest stand in regard to these latter, it must not be so honest and outspoken as to imperil its chances of paying a hundred cents on the dollar. The newspaper should not be required to mount its Rosinante, and run full tilt against every alleged abuse and wrong, and every person associated with such alleged abuse at the risk of being compelled to retire from the field through the collapse of its business integrity. Ministers of the Gospel won't take such a high stand, nor will ministers of the law. The function of the newspaper as a business undertaking, is to supply the general public with reliable news, but incidentally it performs a great deal of moral scavenging. It is not its business to devote its whole attention to moral reform. Even a journal whose sole object is to do this, can't afford to indulge in unrestricted zeal — even a religious journal must draw the line this side of losing its subscription list.

THE TEMISCAMINGUE RAILWAY.

That Whitney majority deferred has made the Mail sick, and its daily drivel is nasty. It remarked on Monday that "the Ontario Government is not deriving from its Temiscamigue Railway scheme the political advantage for which it looked." The Government was not looking for any particular political advantages, except such as incidentally come from proper attention to the public interests. The railway was needed in order to open up and develop a splendid agricultural area of New Ontario, and the Government decided to build it in such a way as to give the province the advantages of owing its own railway, and thereby controlling freight and passenger traffic rates. The route selected was the proper route, and while it may prove prejudicial to Ottawa's trade interests, it will preserve the trade of the new region to Ontario at large, and prevent it being diverted to Quebec. If the Mattawa route had been chosen, Ottawa, while it would stand to get more trade than it does now, would not have got it all; there is little doubt but that Montreal would have captured the lion's share. The railway itself will be the Government's justification. If it has lost a little local support by the building of the line by the route selected, it has done what it aimed to do—it has benefitted the province at large.

EDITORIAL-NOTES

Russia proposes combined government action to crush the trusts. Russia should be a capable leader in this direction. It has crushed for centuries the trust of its people, who looked to their rulers for some better than the life of slaves. What is the difference between a Russian Czar and a trust tyrant, anyway?

Conservative organs and orators, during the last election, among the alleged unredeemed pledges made by Mr. Ross at the time he became premier, placed the failure to procure remount stations in this country for the purchase of horses for the British Army. They were told that it was not in Mr. Ross's power to compel the British Government to adopt his suggest respecting a remount station, but he could use his influence and would perhaps ultimately succeed. Mr. Ross has spent some time in England, and no doubt he has urged the matter upon the attention of the Home authorities, and with good result. In the Mail of Monday, a despatch appears, stating that on the authority of a British Remount Officer the Imperial Government intends establishing remount stations throughout Canada.

CANADA, LAND OF ORCHARD AND WHEATFIELD.

The speech made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the Colonial Dinner on 1st inst., is described by the Canadian Gazette as "a magnificent oration." Sir Wilfrid said many notable things, amongst them—"England has always been in the van of religious toleration and civil liberty, but Canada has even taken the lead of England. Fifty years before Roman Catholic emancipation in England, Roman Catholics had in Canada been placed on the same footing as those of other creeds, and long before the admission of Jews to the Imperial Parliament, the same problem had been solved in the Dominion."

Again, "Although Canada is still a colony it is a nation with a history. As to the first part of the history, the memory of Wolfe is sacred to the French people of Canada, and the memory of Montcalm is equally sacred to the British in Canada." This peroration has been very highly eulogized by English journals as a rare oratorical display. The reports are very meagre. The following, however, gives an idea of the tone of Sir Wilfrid's speech;

"The whole Australian continent has now been moulded into another nation under the flag, and I step dawning beyond the Cape of Good Hope the day when there will be in South Africa another Confederation, which shall comprise Natal, the Cape Colony, Rhodesia, the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony, and in which there will be civil liberty and equal rights for all races. Great Britain has shown that she can govern races other than her own kith and kin by entrusting them with full citizenship and by appealing to their gratitude and the best instincts of the human heart." In conclusion Sir Wilfrid Laurier paid an eloquent tribute to the excellencies of the Canadian winter and the magnificence of Canada's natural resources. Then, raising his glass, the Premier said, "Here is to the land of the bountiful orchard and wheat field. Here is to the land of perfect equality between man and man. Here is to Canada, the brightest gem in the crown of the British Empire!"

A Time of Anxiety and Fear for Thousands Around us.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Will Banish the Summer Blues and Other Distresses That Make Life Miserable and Unhappy.

This is the season when we hear men and women complaining about their unhappy and half-dead condition. They find that physical and mental energy has deserted them, and they are sinking deeply in the pit of despondency.

The hot summer weather produces thousands of miserable feeling mortals. They lack nerve force, strength and true vitality. They cannot rest day or night, and life becomes a burden.

The great recuperator, builder and strength-giver for all weary, worn-out and suffering people is Paine's Celery Compound, now so universally prescribed by medical men. When the great medicine is used at this season, languor, despondency, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, dyspepsia and digestive troubles are permanently banished, and men and women go about their duties and work with a vim, will and energy that indicate health and physical strength. Mrs. Anna Dawson, Wilkesport, Ont., says;—

"I consider it a pleasure to put on record what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I have been afflicted with nervousness and sleeplessness. All ordinary medicines failed, and nothing met my case until I used Paine's Celery Compound. Now I never miss a night's sleep. I strongly recommend your medicine to all nervous sufferers."

RELIEF FOR THE PLANTERS.

Half a Million Pounds For Sugar Industry of West Indies.

London, July 22.—A supplementary civil service estimate, issued yesterday, aggregates upward of half a million pounds sterling, and provides £250,000 ($1,250,000) for free grants in aid of the sugar industry of the West Indies.

The Government in the supplementary estimate asked for £25,000 additional for the expenses of the coronation, caused by its postponement. This brings the total up to £125,000 ($625,000).

No Change of Policy.

London, July 22.—Replying to a question of Henry Labouchere (Advanced Radical), in the House of Commons, intended to elicit a statement as to whether the resignation of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, indicated the possibility of the adoption of a protective policy, the Premier, A. J. Balfour, said yesterday that there was no ground for believing that any policy settled upon by the Cabinet while the Chancellor was a member of it, would be changed by his retirement.

Promise to British Trade.

London, July 22.—The trade commission sent to inquire into the best methods for promoting British trade in South Africa seems much impressed with the great activity of the Americans. In its first report sent home, the commission says America will be the greatest menace to British trade, adding that the Americans are making a fine effort to get hold of the market, and are introducing their practice of specialization and concentration with the same result as so exemplified in other parts of the world.

Keokuk, Ia., July 22.—The height of the flood in the Mississippi River was reached yesterday south of here. The river fell an inch and a half at Keokuk yesterday, and the fall will reach southern points by to-day. But the rise of a foot more in the vicinity of Canton, Quincy, La Grange, and Hannibal carried the water over thousands of acres previously uninjured.

BONANZA KING'S DEATH.

Late John W. MacKay Will Be Buried in New York.

London, July 22.—An informal meeting of Americans sojourning in London, held at the Carlton Hotel last evening, adopted resolutions expressing regret at the death of John W. Mackay, and tendering sympathy to Mrs. Mackay and the other members of the family.

The remains of John W. Mackay of San Francisco, who died here Sunday evening, will be taken to New York for interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn.

Didn't Know His Wealth.

San Francisco, July 22.—Richard Dey, a close personal friend and former confidential secretary of the late John W. Mackay, in an interview Sunday night, said:

"I don't suppose Mr. Mackay himself knew within $20,000,000 of what he was worth. His business was in such order and his arrangements were so carefully made, that everything will go on just as though he were still alive."

Storm in Chautauqua.

Jamestown, N.Y., July 22.— Another terrific storm passed over Chautauqua County Sunday and last night, doing great damage to growing crops, delaying traffic of the Erie, and Dunkirk, Alleghany Valley and Pittsburg Railways.

A bridge across a culvert in this city broke down while George Singular, a six-year-old boy, was standing on it, and he was quickly carried into a sewer, through which he was swept at a terrific rate for more than 1,000 feet, coming out at the lower end in less than three minutes in a frightfully cut and bruised condition, but alive and able to crawl to a place of safety.

Malt Breakfast Food

The One Great Delicious and Appetizing Food for Summer Breakfasts.

No Indigestion, Eructations, Waterbrash or Digestive Disturbances When Nature's Food is Used.

The most important event in the evolution of breakfast cereals was the production of Malt Breakfast Food, now known as king of the breakfast table. Its rich, nutty flavour and deliciousness insured its popularity. Its strength-building and muscle-forming qualities are well known. Its usefulness in establishing digestive vigor makes it an invaluable breakfast dish. It is a banisher of indigestion and dyspepsia. One trial makes it a permanent friend. See your grocer.

Feared an Explosion.

Chicago, July 22.—By jumping into the Calumet River to escape an explosion, which they feared would follow the breaking of a gasoline tank on their launch, Charles Kubicek and his brother, Duffy, were drowned Sunday night.

A NAVAL BATTLE.

Insurgent Gunboat, the Darien, Hit by the Colombia Government Gunboats.

Panama, Colombia, July 21.—The insurgent gunboats, Padilla and Darien, appeared Friday night between Flamenco and Ottique Islands.

Governor Salazar thereupon ordered the Government gunboats Chucuito and Clapet to put to sea and meet them.

A battle between the war vessels began Saturday morning in the bay. The firing was first heard at 10 o'clock. Great alarm prevailed in this city. The entrenchments were filled with soldiers.

The Chucuito and Clapet, upon sighting the Padilla and Darien, opened fire, which was returned by the rebel ships, and the cannonading continued until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

It is announced that the Padilla left the harbor, towing the Darien, which had been hit and disabled.

More Garment Workers Out.

New York, July 22.—The 25,000 garment workers who struck Sunday for higher wages and shorter hours were joined yesterday by about 15,000 others, who asked that 56 hours be considered a week's work. As this is the dull season in the trade, it is expected that it will be some days before the various interests will get together. About nine different unions are engaged in the strike.

ENJOYABLE MOONLIGHT.

The George Street Epworth League Down the River Last Night.

The disagreeable and threatening weather of yesterday caused no little anxiety to the members and friends of the George street Epworth League as to the prospects for their intended moonlight excursion down the river last evening. However, towards evening the sky gave promise of clearing, and with a fair sized crowd, which no doubt would have been greatly augmented had the weather been more favourable, the steamer North Star left the wharf at 8.15 sharp, with the prospects of a clear and pleasant evening before them. Nor were they disappointed. The clouds quickly scattered, the moon came out, and the evening was all that could be desired. A quick run of about seven or eight miles down the pretty Otonabee was made, when the return trip was begun. Music and song served to enliven the time, while a refreshment booth on board was well patronized. The boat reached the Peterborough wharf about 11 o'clock, all on board unanimous in their enjoyment of a most delightful moonlight sail.

A NATATORIUM NEEDED.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — Public attention has been called to the frequent use made of the Jackson Park waters for bathing, and a number of our boys have already paid the penalty of the law for so doing. While there ought to be no difference of opinion regarding the need of putting a stop to this, yet ought not some means to be adopted to provide a suitable place for public bathing. There came into my hands yesterday a pamphlet from Los Angeles, California, containing a picture of a very commodious public bathing establishment. It is much like a large rink, and is very attractive, bright, with plenty of light, and most enticing in its appearance and arrangements. It is well known that parents forbid their boys from going to the river to bathe, because of the extreme danger, and boys brought up in a town with so much water passing through it, are simply going to grow up with a spirit of defiance against the law, and there is no quicker way to create and develop "hoodlums," as one of our papers called them.

Would it not be wise for the promoters of the new rink to consider the advisability and practicability of putting their building in shape for this useful and praiseworthy object? I feel convinced that sufficient capital would be written from hundreds of parents that now take no stock (double use of the word) in the rink to enable the company to put in a concrete bath deep, and graded, the entire dimensions of their building. I am also sure that additional membership and admission fees (if small enough) would be profitable to the company.

In addition to this, many of the so-called "hoodlums" would become loyal to law and order, and for ever interested in a community, company or council that would take that interest in them.

It is no charitable undertaking, but a genuine, business and philanthropic one.

Yours, for aquatics,
JAS. G. POTTER.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

GOLF.

Mr. R. M. Hamilton is the winner of the handicap tournament which has been in progress for the last couple of months for the Captain's Prize. He played Mr. Sam Ray in the finals and won by four up and two to play. Mr. Hamilton made a record for the first four holes, getting them for seventeen.

The seniors go to Port Hope tomorrow, but will unfortunately be without the services of several of the best players.

The white clover, which has been such a nuisance during the summer, is dying out as the season advances. Complaints concerning the clover are heard from all the links in the country.

The Captain's Handicap Tournament of the Golf Clubs is now completed, with the result that Mr. Miles Hamilton won the first prize of one dozen golf balls, and Mr. Sam Ray won second prize of a two dollar club, to be selected by the winner.

LACROSSE.

The Port Hope Guide has the following to say of Saturday's match when the Ontarios were defeated in Oshawa by the score of 9 to 2:—"The Ontarios of Port Hope journeyed to Oshawa on Saturday afternoon to play their scheduled game with the team representing that town. A win was placed to the Oshawa team, but it was a victory bringing little honour to them, and no disgrace to the Ontarios. Glover was laid up with a sore shoulder, Gibson was taken sick at the last moment, and Elwood had not recovered from the bruises received at the previous game with Oshawa. With these three people off the people of Port Hope did not look for a victory, but wish to congratulate the Ontarios on the splendid showing they made. Lipsett, Martin and Carruth filled the vacancies and did some good work, but McCabe and Burt were put on the defence, and with a team disorganized in this way, it is impossible to win."

The Victoria Lacrosse Club defeated the Independents yesterday afternoon in the Central Park by a score of 8—4.

The Campbellford lacrosse team arrived in town to-day, and will play the second team of St. Peter's T.A.A. this evening on the Murray street grounds. The ball will be faced at 6.45 sharp, and a good game is expected. It is understood that the result of the match this evening decides the ownership of a silver trophy which Mr. J. Alex. Culverwell has put up for competition.

The Y.M.C.A. and T.A.S. teams are scheduled to play a game in the City League series on the oval tomorrow evening.

BASEBALL.

Last night, on the Central Park diamond, the Excelsiors and Shamrocks played a four innings game. Both teams played fast, clean ball, but Flaherty, pitcher for the Excelsiors, was too fast for the Shamrocks. The score stood 2—0 in favour of the Excelsiors. The batteries were Shamrocks, Thompson and Watson. Excelsiors, Flaherty and Belleghem.

FOOTBALL AT CHEMONG.

There promises to be a very interesting football match at Chemong Park to-morrow evening, when the Omemee team plays against the Chemong Rovers. Quite a few are driving out from town to witness the game.

PETERBOROUGH MEMORIES REVIVED.

A Former Resident in a Reminescent Mood—Writes of the Early Days of the Town and of the Changes Time and Progress Have Made.

Mr. G. H. Johnston, brother of Mr. A. J. Johnston, now of Lethbridge, but a resident in the earlier days of the town, has had his memories stirred by the receipt of the Peterborough Bookstore's "Souvenir of Peterborough," and writes in a reminiscent mood of them to a friend in town. A few extracts will be of interest;

"Your beautiful copy of views of the good old town has been received. As I turned the views over and over, memories of bygone days pass in review before me. I will refer briefly to some of the scenes of past days recalled by some of these views;

"For instance, on page 5, taken no doubt from the tower of St. John's church, in a corner of the view is shown part of the lane where the late John Kennedy, Major of the 57th lived, and where the old Peterborough Rifles drilled for many a day under men, many of whom have passed away — Capt. W. A. Scott, Lieut. Poole, Ensign (Hon.) Thomas White, Theodore Clementi, my father, the late William Johnston, Rev. R. S. Patterson, Chaplain to General (Lord) Wolseley, in Abysinnia; the Kennedys, father and four sons, and many others, whom I see in my mind's eye passing before the saluting point of my memory, or discharging their duties as citizen soldiers.

"I remember the Dennistoun law office, where once stood the boot and shoe store of Robert Stenson; the large rough-cast two story house, where now stands the Croft House. Back of that and alongside the home of the Kennedys, was John Connor's barber shop. Some of the older residents will remember him as a six-foot negro, who ran away from slavery, and whose tales of his escape were listened to by us boys with open mouthed interest. The old Caisse Hotel was kept where now the Morgan House stands, once the bon ton hotel of Peterborough, and where young Leon Caisse frightened the wits out of Jack Brownlee by his discovery of his power of ventriloquism. Jack, who lived across the street, was sleeping one night with Leon, and the two boys were amusing themselves with making the guttural sound of gave-live-a-goo-live, a gave live-a-gum, when a voice imitating them with startling distinctness, was heard in another part of the room. The two lads ducked their heads under the clothes, but at length tried it again, and the same ghostly echo was heard, much to Jack's real, and Leon's pretended terror. Leon became quite expert and travelled with Cool Burgess.

"View two, page six, shows new buildings on the old site, but the well known Faucher's, and afterwards Billy Chamberlain's restaurant, is recognized.

"But here is my old stumping ground on page 7. If I am right this part of Water street is opposite Victoria Park. Can this be old Mr. McNeil's corner, where such a lovely row of buildings now stands? If so the old boys would almost shed tears at not seeing "old Dick," the white horse, who, when we boys pointed our fingers at him would throw back his ears and "go for us." Poor old Dick, I seem to see him now as he drew his old white-haired master around to auction sales. As a pair they attended every funeral as regularly as the undertaker, whether it was that of high or low, rich or poor. Something was very seriously wrong if Mr. McNeil and Dick were not there. Where are the boys of that family—Harry, Aleck and Billy? I have met many of the boys of those good old times, and none have brought discredit on the homes of our youth.

"As I look up this street I see where elegant residences have replaced the pine groves which once occupied their sites. An incident happened here in the centre of the block. Harry Billington lived in the house afterwards remodelled by Mr. Chas. Stapleton. An eagle of no mean size was chained in a wagon, but hopped out as soon as on the street, and no one would put him back, till one of the men called Darcy, a tall individual with a jag on, came along. He said he could put the eagle back and tried it, but very soon his clothing was in ribbons and his arms covered with blood. This scene attracted a great crowd.

"On page ten Central School is represented. What happy moments are associated with that building! As a boy I first attended the old school on the hill, opposite the Temperance Hotel, Hunter street. Mr. John Gordon, the principal, boarded with us, as did Mr. Frise, the assistant teacher. I started out with Mr. Jas. Borrowman, afterwards with Miss Luny, (Mrs. William Wand.) The picture of the new school building as I look at the third row of windows, recalls King Edward VII to my mind, as a boy passing through that room when he visited Peterborough in 1860. We youngsters practised under Mr. Glover to sing "God Save the King," and another national hymn. What a day that was! I can fancy myself a little urchin in the third row. O, that the days of snap-shot photography had been in vogue then! The Prince was, of course, the attraction of the day, according to the programme; but to the small boy, the unaccustomed splendour of the postillions of the princely carriage horses, Harry Billington, Joe Datcher and Joe Huston, eclipsed everything else, even royalty itself, in our eyes. I should like to glance over the old registers and trace the lives of the boys of those days. I am quite sure that none of them ever graced a gallows and cannot believe that any of them had a compulsory familiarity with the inside of a jail. But many we know made good use of the knowledge obtained in the old school, to the good and credit of Canada. Who was more admired than Frank Buller, (Dr. Buller of Montreal, one of the most noted specialists on the continent) for nerve displayed in climbing up the corner of the tower, with fingers and toes in the bricks that mark the fancy work on the corners, and getting in at one of the windows above? I could fill pages about the boys and girls who crowded to that school.

"The picture of the fine building (the Post Office) now standing where for years a foundation for a building stood, was a favourite play ground for the boys. How many used to gather here and around the old Bentley corner, where Mason's greenhouse now stands! Some of the boys were so taken up with the games of 'hunko,' 'red lion,' etc that parental commands were forgotten. For instance, Tom Rutherford, the champion cricketer, long distance runner, etc., was sent by his mother for a setting of eggs. The Johnstons, Welsh's, and other lads, were at play, and Tom could not resist the temptation, but joined our play till nine o'clock in the evening. He suddenly remembered his message, which being done, he went home, to be saluted by his mother with, 'Why, Tom, what kept you all this time?' 'Well, mother, I couldn't come any sooner, for Johnston's Shanghais don't lay till after dark.' Tom escaped, as his father and mother appreciated a good excuse.

"St. Paul's church recalls the lessons learned there from Mr. Hamilton, (father of Mr. Peter Hamilton). Good old man! He would bring in great big apples, our little hands could not get around, but which our teeth soon made smaller. Joe White, alas no more! Tom Hay, George Rogers, and others I forget, were among the number. Good fatherly Mr. Roger and earnest Mr. Torrance were faithful in their ministry, and these photographs bring back old memories. Then beautiful St. John's and the school, just next our garden. I suppose we would not be allowed to play 'tag' around that old building now, but we used to do so, and that is a pleasant memory now. Then the cemetery picture, just showing the place by the receiving vault, where our family plot is, and if I do not see this place once more, I hope to rest there at last.

"The souvenir is a credit to Mr. A. H. Stratton, and I hope he will issue more of them. If they are not appreciated by the present residents of the town, former residents from the old home will thank him, as I do, for issuing the present volume.

"Geo. H. Johnston.

A WELL MAN AT 80 YEARS.

Was Rescued From Kidney Disease and Dreadful Suffering by the Use of

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

Mr. R. J. McBain, Niagara Falls, Ont., a man of eight years, and well known throughout the Niagara district, writes;—"I believe that if it had not been for Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills, I would be in my grave before this. I was very bad with kidney disease, and suffered with dreadful pains in my kidneys. Being disappointed in the use of many medicines, I had almost given up hopes of ever getting better.

"One morning, after a night of especially severe suffering, a friend called to see me, and asked why I did not try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I got a box at once, and took two pills, which was rather a heavy dose; one pill is plenty at a dose. I used them regularly for a month, and at the end of that time was a changed man.

'It is now about five years since I began using this pill, and since that time I have felt as good as I did 40 years ago. I am almost 80 years old, and am free from all disease, except rheumatism, and this is much better than it used to be before I used this medicine. I recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with all my heart to any person, man or women. This is my opinion of these valuable pills, and you may use it for the benefit of others.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are especially appreciated by people of advanced age. The kidneys are frequently the first organs of the body to break down, and there are few old people but suffer from kidney disorders, and resulting pains and aches. One pill a dose. 25c a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto, Ont. 8

GRAVEL CURED.

Remarkable Case of This Painful Disease.

Reuben Draper, of Bristol, Que. who was a Victim Finds Relief and a Permanent Cure—He Tells of His Sufferings and how He Left His Troubles Behind.

Bristol, Que., July 20, (Special) — No disease can cause more severe and dreadful pain than Gravel. Reuben Draper, of this place, was taken ill with this awful trouble about five years ago. He was cured and so many have asked him how it was done, that he has decided to give the while story for publication.

"About five years ago I was taken ill with the Gravel. I suffered great pain, so I sent for a doctor. He gave me some medicine and came to see me twice afterwards, but my disease was not gone and in a very short time I had another severe attack.

"This time I sent for another doctor with about the same results, only I was getting weaker all the time.

"Then a man advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, for he said that they had cured his mother. I thought I would try them and sent for a box.

"Just a week after I began the treatment I passed a stone as large as a small bean, and four days later another about the size of a grain of barley; this gave me great relief, and I began to feel better and to gain strength right away.

"That was five years ago, and I have not had any trouble in that way since. I have the stones in a small bottle and anyone can see them who wishes. Dodd's Kidney Pills certainly saved my life."

The story of Mr. Draper will be good news to many sufferers who may not have known that Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure Gravel and Stone in the Bladder.

What has cured this gentleman and hundreds of other very bad cases, should cure anyone, and those who may be afflicted as Dr. Draper was, should try Dodd's Kidney Pills.

THREE CLOUDBURSTS.

Climax Reached in Broome County, N.Y. —Four People Killed, Two Seriously Injured—Damage $200,000.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 21.—The heavy rains which have prevailed in this section for the past few days reached a climax Saturday night, when three separate cloudbursts occurred within the limits of Broome county alone, and several in surrounding territory to the northward, breaking mill dams, washing out railroad tracks and highway bridges, and doing much minor damage, as well as relaying trains. As a result of the water's mad work, four are killed, and two seriously injured and $200,000 monetary damage has been done.

At 8.30 o'clock Saturday evening a cloudburst occureed in the town of Coventry, on the watershed drained by Bump Creek. The downpour soon sent this creek out of bounds.

The bodies of the Cook family were found Sunday, a mile below the scene of the flood.

At Oxford, Chenango County, another cloudburst occurred, and the village is reported much damaged, but no lives were lost.

The storm exhausted its fury in less than 15 minutes.

THE CORONATION ESCORT.

The Thirteen Canadian Soldiers Who Go Back to England.

Toronto, July 21.—When the Canadian Coronation Contingent was in England, 13 of its mounted members were chosen to represent Canada, as a royal escort in the coronation procession. Since the contingent returned to Canada, the authorities have decided to have those men in the procession, as previously arranged, and they have been, consequently, notified to be in readiness to depart again for England this week.

It is likely that they will embark on the steamship Pretorian, at Montreal, on Friday night, to sail on Saturday morning. They are all medal men.

The men will form a portion of the King's Colonial escort, of which Col. Turner is to be the commander. The escort will include representatives from every colony of the British Empire, and will be 100 strong.

The Various Orders.

The Order of Baronets, the lowest hereditary rank, was instituted in 1611. A Baronet is designated "Sir John Smith, Baronet"—usually written Bart. Taking precedents of Baronets are members of the Most Honorable Privy Council, who are addressed "Right Honorable."

The Order of the Bath, instituted in 1399, and revived in 1725, is divided into three classes—Knights Grand Cross, G.C.B.; Knights Commanders, K.C.B., and Companions, C.B.

The Order of St. Michael and St. George, instituted in 1818, has also three classes—G.C.M.G., K.C.M.G., and C.M.G.

In all Orders of Knighthood, the Knights Grand Cross and the Knights Commanders have the prefix "Sir," with the initials of their class following the name. Companions bear no title but have the letters C.B., or C.M.G., as the case may be, attached to their names.

Knights Bachelors are gentlemen who have received the honor of Knighthood, and are entitled to the prefix "Sir," and to "Knt." at end of name.

It follows that members of any order of Knighthood may be entitled to several prefixes and affixes, as: Field Marshal the Rt. Hon. Lord Roberts of Kandahar, K.P., G.C.B., G.C.S.I., G.C.I.E., V.C.,; the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, G.C.M.G., the Hon. Sir. C. Tupper, Bart., G. C.M.G., C.B.

SELLS HIS INSECTS.

Dr. Brodie Gets $1,000 for His Collection of 18,747 Ontario Gall-Producer.

Dr. William Brodie, of Toronto, a gentleman now well advanced in years, is one of the most learned biologists and entomologists in Canada. For forty years he has been the authority to whom all younger naturalists send their puzzling bug and beetles for identification. During many decades Dr. Brodie has been the patient collector of birds and insects. In consequence he has gained an international reputation among scholars. This enviable reputation for scholarship is now enhanced by the fact that he has just been offered $1,000 for his collection of gall-producing insects. This collection is made up entirely of insects found in Ontario, and contains 18,747 specimens. The collection has been purchased by the Entomological Society of Washington, and is probably the most complete ever gathered by a patient and enthusiastic scholar. The gall-producing insect has been Dr. Brodie's specialty. He has hunted it for many years, and is now the recognized authority on its habitat and habits. The gall-producer is the tiny insect which is responsible for the black knobs and protuberances on plum, cherry and other trees, and on other shrubs.

Some years ago Dr. Brodie offered to give the collection which the Entomological Society of Washington has been so eager to acquire, to Toronto University, or to the Provincial Government if either institution would provide suitable cases for the insects. Neither the University nor the Government was generous enough to go to such a slight expense, and as a consequence Canada loses one of the most valuable collections of insects ever made in this country.

HIVING A SWARM.

To Prevent Bees From Absconding From Their New Home.

Many swarms abscond after being hived a few hours. This is because their new home is not comfortable, and it is probably too hot, says F. G. Herman in American Agriculturist. A swarm of bees needs plenty of air. After a few days when there are eggs and brood in the new hive they will rarely desert it. When hiving a swarm, we raise the front end of the hive with corner blocks (d) made of inch stuff 2½ inches wide and 5 inches long sawed diagonally from one corner to another. These blocks are also used for constructing the entrance when needed. We then slip the small end of the extension board (b) under the bottom board of the hive, and the two little pieces of iron hold it firmly in place. This makes a platform on which to dump the cluster of bees, when they will quickly run into the hive instead of running all over the ground. Next put the shade board (c) on top of the hive, and the bees are about as comfortable as they can be made and are almost always sure to stay and make it their new home. If the evening proves to be a little cool, remove the corner blocks after sundown, but leave the shade board on for a few days at least.

Good Health for Capital.

Maintaining good health is to the majority of people the most vital question in the world, and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and Restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Naturally, gradually and certainly it forms new, red corpuscles in the blood, creates new, healthy nerve cells, and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defies disease.

Indian Fired the Gunpowder.

Portage la Prairie, Man., July 21.—A serious accident occurred at the Sioux encampment, several miles east of the town, Saturday. One Indian was lighting a lantern in his tent, and threw the match down when finished with it, but the match was not finished, and it happened to fall in a pile of gunpowder, causing a serious explosion. The Indian, his wife and the various cooking utensils were suddenly elevated into the air. The brave is badly burned and his recovery is very doubtful. His wife is very seriously burned, but is not fatally injured.

One Common Cause of Headache.

Perhaps the most general cause of headache and pain across the eyes is nasal catarrh. The simplest cure is to inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone which traverses every air cell and air passage of the throat, lungs and nose. It kills myriads of germs at every breath, clears away mucous discharges, preserves and heals the membrane. Catarrhozone is just a splendid remedy for headache, and its action is certain and unfailing in diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma and Catarrh. A trial will convince the most sceptical that Catarrhozone is all right. Large size, $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE BEAUTIES OF RICE LAKE.

Barristers' Excursion Down the Winding Otonabee.

SOME POINTS OF INTEREST.

The Water Lily Made a Very Speedy Trip—Many Business Men Accompanied the Legalites.

Notwithstanding the fact that the wather looked somewhat threatening yesterday afternoon, there was a fair sized, and decidedly jolly party on board the trim little steamer Water Lily when she cut loose from her moorings and steamed into Little Lake. It was the first annual excursion of the Peterborough Law Society, which had as its guests a number of the prominent business and professional men of the town, and a number of the county, town and court officials. There was Chief Rossel, who nails you, Mr. Henderson Nesbit who jails you, and County Crown Attorney Wood who bails you. There were also on board His Honour Judge Weller, Deputy Judge Edmison, and the following members of the legal profession — Messrs. John Green, President of the Law Society; A. P. Poussette, K.C.; E. B. Stone, E. A. Peck, L. M. Hayes, E. D. H. Hall, O. LaPlante, and C. Alexander Ghent, and George J. Sherry, Norwood, John Maloney, Clerk of the County Court, F. J. Bell, Clerk of the Division Court, Fred Hall, Deputy Sheriff, B. Morrow, Registrar, R. P. Watt, County Clerk, John Belcher, County Engineer, F. C. Frances and George Giroux, of the T. V. C. staff, Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, A. A. Hollingshead, of the Ontario Bank, Dr. F. J. Bradd, W. Bunton, R. Fair, W. H. Hill, Joseph Armstrong, R. A. Morrow, Alex. Elliott, T. Bartlett, R. Roy and E. S. Clarry.

The bow of the Water Lily rounded Cemetery Point as her hoarse whistle intimated to Lockmaster Collins that she desired to descend to the waters below. Lockmaster Collins was found ready, as is always the case, and the Lily, swept by an exceptionally strong current, reached the locks, settled into her nest-like quarters between the old fashioned stone walls, and then was soon ploughing the angry waters below.

The Otonabee at this point is now very dangerous looking. The swift current that sweeps over the locks dam rushes fearlessly along and submerges the land on either side for many feet. The river is above spring high water mark, so the steamboat men say, and the buoys at Yankee bonnet and at other points along the river are several feet under water, thereby rendering it exceedingly difficult for navigation, particularly during the night time. Trees along the verdure clad shores appear to be drowned to the extent of several feet or more, and the many creeks that flow into the Otonabee River look not unlike small tributary rivers.

The Lily did herself proud yesterday. Engineer Andy Young was determined to show his passengers what she could do, and she hit off a twelve mile an hour clip, to the delight of those on board her. It seemed no time hardly till the party was at the Forks. The Government dredge has been at work for some time here, and has made a channel through the east fork, so that the legalites and their friends steamed merrily through without calling at Jubilee Point. Then they were out on the broad expanse of historic Rice Lake, and beneath a murky-looking sky the excursionists viewed the many points of interest. Spook Island, that is said to have been the land, that is said to have been the grave yard for Indian braves of bygone generations, and which is now chiefly celebrated for its abundance of poison ivy, looked beautiful indeed as the steamer skirted by its northern shore. There was a heavy sea running, caused by a stiff and bracing breeze from the east, but the Lily ploughed her way along, rounded Tick Island, and ran her nose against the Harwood wharf, where a solitary passenger was landed.

Harwood, like all villages, little and big, has a history, but the history of Harwood is tinged with pathos. It can truly be compared to Goldsmith's deserted village, and contains almost all the features that were impressed upon the poet and pathetically described in verse. Years ago Harwood was a rather prominent centre. Its huge sawmills were the pride of its inhabitants; tall chimneys belched forth clouds of smoke in honour of its prosperity; busy saws sang its praises, and the young man of the village did not exile himself to obtain employment. Now all is changed, and the visitor to Harwood is struck by the veil of quietness that hangs over the village as the steamer enters the wharf, and it can be seen that Harwood has settled down to a quiet and unpretentious life. For years the old white chimney of the sawmill could be seen from almost any point on Rice Lake, as it appeared to pierce the heavens, but this monument of bygone prosperity has within the last few years also disappeared, and until one lands right at the village the evidences of flourishing industries of years ago are not noticeable. The old railway bed that still greets the eye of the traveller, but which is gradually falling into decay, the various spur lines that stretched out through the lumber yards, resembling the fingers of a man's hand, and the great patches of bleached sawdust, are still visible, but the immense mills are missing—the buz of the saw is unheard, and the huge piles of finished product do not block the farm land from view. The population of the village has decreased from about 500 to about 200 or less, and Harwood would gladly welcome another wave of prosperity.

But there is still another feature in connection with Harwood that the old residents of the village tell of with pride. Forty years ago the steamboat and the saw mill whistle were not the only noises heard here. The iron monster of railroad locomotion poked his nose into the village daily, a brisk freight traffic was carried on the year round, and the steamers found Harwood the busiest of Rice Lake ports. From the mainland to Tick Island the road bed was filled in with stone, and the remainder of the Lake was bridged, thereby connecting Peterborough and Cobourg. Of the latter section, during high water, none of it is visible but at low water time the tops of the old piers jut through the water and at a distance resemble a row of stumps. Yesterday a resident of the village told with apparent pride of the time our present sovereign, King Edward, crossed from Cobourg to Peterborough on this road. He did not care to risk his life on the bridge, however, and was conveyed across on a steamboat. The only apparent change for the better from a commercial point of view that Harwood can boast of is an elegant new wharf, which appears to be most substantially built.

Idyl Wyld was the destination of the legalites excursion. Breezy Idyl Wyld looked exceedingly pretty at a distance, and Manager English, of the resort, had his flag flying in honour of the event. As the passengers landed and strolled up the bank they were heartily welcomed by Mr. English. The hotel is yet in a rather unfinished state, although it is in good enough shape to accommodate a limited number of guests. An excellent supper was served and the excursionists afterwards participated in a quoits tournament, in which Mr. George Giroux proved himself to be champion. Even the frivilous pastime time of hop-step-and-jump was indulged in and aroused considerable interest amongst the legalites. At seven o'clock the excursionists boarded their steamboat and were on their homeward journey. A call was made at Harwood, which necessitated the steamer going out of her course about one mile or more, but Jubilee was reached before eight o'clock. The run up the river was a record breaker, and it seemed no time until the Lily landed at Wolfe street wharf.

A prominent feature on board the Lily yesterday was the presence of Sgt. Comego, of the Alanwick Indian Reserve. He is a Sergeant in the 40th Northumberland Regiment, and has been recruiting for his corps at Chemong. He was privileged to transportation to Harwood, from where he intended to walk to his home. However, so great a favourite did the sergeant become, that he was induced to make the trip to Idyl Wyld. He procured a canoe and a fishing tackle, and soon landed two beautiful eight pound lunge. These, the Indian presented, with becoming modesty to Deputy Judge Edmison, and Mr. John Green, President of the Peterborough Law Society. When Sergeant Comego bid the party farewell at Harwood on the return trip he was given a cordial good-bye by all on board, and as the Lily backed out from port the Indian, with pleasant gesticulation, shouted to the legalites and their friends, "Safe Home!"

The return trip was enlivened by a lively lot of singing, all the old favourites being resurrected for the occasion.

Mr. John Green, the President of the Society, was warmly congratulated upon the success of the day's outing.

STOCK MARKETS.

Bruin in Wall Street.

New York, July 21—These are the lean and sombre days for the bears in Wall street. Mr. Polar, Mr. Grizzly and Mr. Cinnamon have been sitting very quiet since their disastrous attempts some weeks ago to seize the reins of speculation. They met with a severe drubbing and their Waterloo. It has been the history of Wall street that but comparatively few men have proved successful as bears. The notable exceptions have been Daniel Drew, Addison Cammack and Charles F. Woerschoffer. These men were also great bulls at times. The logic of Mr. Woerschoffer, which came from a most varied and large experience, was to the effect that "The winners of Wall street, both large and small, made their successes through the appreciation in values of securities." Wall street's great fortunes were made in that manner and there never has been an example of a great lever in lifting values as his short committments are oftimes the cause of sharp stock advances. Calculated to run in the professional bruin, he becomes in such cases a buyer at high prices in his efforts to take his loss. The outlook for the present week is for a continuance of the upward movemnet. It may be possible that one or two slight reactions, due to profit taking, may appear. If they do, don't hesitate or fail to take advantage of them by making a few purchases. It will be your opportunity. A couple of weeks ago we advised that the market would be a good one to pyramid in. It has proved so, so far, and thus has borne out this view.

Crop news continues to be most favourable, business activity shows no signs of diminution, earnings continue to increase, while orders for goods are on the increase. We repeat we are in the midst of the finest kind of a bull market. Buy stocks.

July 21.—The reason given in London to-day for the easier tone of the market there for our securities is inadequate. The death of John W. Mackay, wholly unexpected, should be without influence. The steel shares will go higher.

Morgan factions propose giving special attention to these. It will be well to buy steel shares.

On all recessions take on P.O. S., Pac. and Atch. Penns. 31-2 per cent. warrants are being bought heavily by trust companies. Pa. shares are going measurably higher. Pressed steel car are being bought for western account. The Pool in Chicago & A. is intact.

YUKON GOVERNMENT.

Rev. Father Gendreau Speaks of It Very Highly.

ADMINISTRATION BUSINESSLIKE.

Liquor Permit System Recently Abolished, and Thus Last Ground For Criticism Has Been Removed—Exports to South Africa—Special Freight Service Terminated With Sailing of Steamer Usher.

Ottawa, July 23. — Rev. Father Gendreau, O.M.I., who has just returned from Dawson, bears strong testimony as to the good government enjoyed by the people of the north. Father Gendreau spent three years in Dawson in charge of the Roman Catholic hospital, and left there in June. He occupies a prominent position in the Oblate Order of Canada, and his opinion, therefore, carries considerable weight. When in Ottawa recently he was asked for his opinion, and in reply said he was perfectly satisfied with the administration. He asserted that every branch of the public service was being conducted in a business-like way. He had not heard any complaints whatever in this connection, except as regards the liquor permit system. The Yukon council has, however, lately abolished the permit system, so that the last ground for criticism has been removed. Father Gendreau said he considered the people of Dawson had good grounds for feeling satisfied at the way the affairs of the Yukon are administered.

Exports to South Africa.

In February last Hon. Mr. Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, obtained permission from the War Office to forward Canadian products to South Africa on ships chartered by his department for cargo for the War Office, and a monthly freight service between St. John and Cape Town was inaugurated in March. No further shipments of supplies being required by the War Office, this freight service terminated with the sailing of the steamship Usher on the 14th instant. Under the arrangement made with the Imperial authorities the miscellaneous goods had to be discharged at Cape Town. This limitation prevented the shipments from assuming large proportions, because the import trade of Cape Town is for local consumption only, Port Elizabeth and Durban being the great distributing points for the interior, and transhipment of goods at Cape Town is impracticable because of the expense. The class of goods forwarded by these Government transports embraced the following articles: Axes, baths, billiard tables and frames, canned apples, canned corn, canned tomatoes, canned lobster, fish, furniture, iron roofing, metal sheeting, paper fillers, peas (split), saddlery, shoes, wood, mantles, axles (for road carts), bicycles and parts, canned goods, codfish, chair stuff, cheese (Imperial), flour, harness, lumber, match blocks, pianos, radiators, castings, sash lumber, tomato catsup, barley, boots, calcined plaster, chairs, chair stocks, cushions (road cart), cook stoves, desks, doors, furniture stock, harness rack, metal ceilings, mats, paint, peas (green), road carts, sash, doors and frames, stoves, boilers, pipes, castings and pots.

200 Houses Unroofed.

Baltimore, July 22.—The tornado which suddenly struck this city Sunday afternoon, involving the loss of 12 lives and a widespread destruction of property, was the severest which has been known in this latitude for 17 years. A careful estimate by police headquarters Sunday shows that 200 houses were unroofed. The public squares and parks are considerably wrecked.

THE CHEESE-MAKING COUNTIES

A letter from the Globe's special correspondent describes the prosperous condition of cheese-making in Oxford and neighbouring counties. The season has been exceptionally favourable for stock. Pasture was never more abundant, and the yield of milk will give an increased output of cheese during the present month. It is generally necessary to partly feed cattle in July to keep up the flow of milk, but the splendid pastures of the present year have made feeding unnecessary. Cheese-making is a system of co-operation that has been made a decided success, and it has given the farmers a market at their own doors, and a good return in cash for their product.

A good milch cow gives from 4,000 to 5,000 pounds of milk during a season of six months, which yields a return of about $25. In the best cheese making districts farmers keep from ten to thirty and forty cows. A factory turning out 100 tons of cheese in a season requires the milk of about 700 cows, or about 70 patrons, among whom would be distributed about $17,000. Such rough estimates show the importance of the cheese-making interest and the general advantage of a season of good pasture. Perth, Waterloo, and the middle counties of the southwestern peninsula have not felt the injury to their grain crops, which has caused complaints about the excessive moisture in eastern Ontario. The result is a favourable outlook for wheat, while oats and other coarse grains are abundant. The advance of the season sustains the best promise of the spring months in the varied lines of agriculture on which the province depends.

THE SINCEREST FLATTERY.

The Quebec Chronicle, a leading Conservative journal, advises the Quebec Government to adopt the Ontario policy in regard to pulpwood lands;

"The pulp industry has not only grown to vast proportions in a very brief period, but is destined to attain still larger dimensions. The supplies of pulpwood are increasingly on the demand, and we alone are able to meet it from resources that under proper regulations are practically unlimited. We can sell, and are anxious to sell, but it should be on conditions that suit ourselves, and not others, since we are the masters of the situation. It is to our interest to have the conversion of the raw material into the manufactured article done in our own country in order that we may thus provide employment for our own people, and increase at the same time our population and our industrial establishments. We can do this most effectually by inserting in the deed of sale a condition that the wood should be worked up here, or not quite so effectually, but nearly so, by following the example of the Ontario Government, and imposing an almost prohibitory duty on the export of pulpwood. One or the other of these things should be done."

All through the recent election campaign the Opposition newspapers and stumpers were lauding the Quebec system of dealing with provincial pulp lands. The defects of this system as compared with that of Ontario, were pointed out by the Government journals and speakers in the Government's interests, and the superiority of the Ontario way insisted upon. In the above extract we have a Conservative journal of good standing, advocating the adoption of the Ontario system. As imitation is regarded as the sincerest flattery, the Chronicle's proposal to adopt the Ontario system, is indeed high praise. The above is one of many examples associated with the late contest in which Liberal contentions have had so sound a basis as to have as much value after as during an election contest.

"ALL OF ONE BLOOD."

Editorials in the strain of the following, from the Brooklyn Sunday Eagle, go far towards relieving the strained relations which sometimes arise through the utterances of some windy Congressman, who is playing to the gallery. The editorial is as appended;

"In Kipling's 'Jungle Stories' the cry of the jungle folk is always, 'We be all of one blood.' This blood-kin guarantees peace and safe conduct to the traveller, and binds all together against alien attacks. Baloo and Bagheera are but little alike and are most content when each goes his own road, but kin they are as against all others. Briton and American are as Baloo, the sturdy bear, and Bagheera, the lithe and alert panther, but 'brothers we be of one blood.'

"That blood is to-day deeply moved. The King lies helpless in presence of the Terror of Kings. We are big enough now, strong enough, self-assured enough, to speak out frankly our sorrow and our sympathy. The significant thing is that fine sympathy is not the same in quality as the one which would stir us in the presence of any other monarch. We care little for any king or kaiser, as such. We have millions of them at home. But the King of the English folk is much to us. Not to dwell upon the fact that this particular King Edward has borne himself right manfully and carried himself in his affliction in the sturdy fashion of one of our own sovereigns, we watch his ebbing and flowing pulses with anxiety, because it is our own blood which swells them. We have ownership in Good King Arthur as much as has any Briton. Alfred and the Confessor, and Richard of the Lion Heart are ours just as much as they belong to John Morley or Lord Salisbury. Even after America became a separate nation and the Hanovers became English kings and the two peoples drew apart in sympathy, in fashions and in ideals, the underlying relationship was never dead, or even broken. We detested a bad Hanoverian upon the English throne, not in the way in which we held a worthless Bourbon on a neighbouring throne in contempt, but because of the deep instinct that in some way our own inheritance was being misused. We loved and revered the gracious woman and good Queen, Victoria, not alone on account of what she was, but because the longing of kinship was satisfied in her.

"The real object or purpose of the Coronation rites has not been missed or thwarted by the illness of the King. On the contrary that purpose is probably being even better filled. It has been pointed out again and again that coronation adds nothing to the constitutional office or prerogatives of the sovereign. The ceremony is in essence a survival of the old custom of our free ancestors whereby the consent or approval of all the people and all the estates was given to the leadership of the chosen one. It was a family affair, a tribal action. The postponed, or, it may be, abandoned, Coronation, was sagaciously planned with this idea controlling it. All the family from at home and from over the sea were gathered. Neighbours were invited as well as visitors from afar, but neither neighbour or visitor was concerned in it as was the English folk. The special Ambassador from our United States represented most of all. In this country the blood has been enriched and invigorated, the speech has been expanded, polished, sharpened, but the dominant strain has not been changed. 'We be all of one blood.' By blood it is the dominant race. The future of the world, so far as one can see now, is to be determined by the English-speaking people. The politics, the trade, the literature, the commerce—in a word, the power of the world, belongs to a family of which the King of the English folk is by courtesy and history the primate. The real unity and underlying solidarity of this race is probably better knit and solidified by the strong sympathy which flows spontaneously to the stricken than it would have been by the uninterrupted pageantry of the Coronation week. As Americans in particular, and as part of the English race, we did and still do pray with all our hearts, God Save the King!"

Although the medicine business should, above all, be carried on with the utmost conscientiousness and sense of responsibility, the unfortunate fact is that in no other is there so much humbug and deception. The anxieties of the sick and their relatives are traded upon in the most shameful manner; impossible cures are promised; many preparations are absolutely worthless, and some are positively dangerous to health.

As a consequence, all proprietary remedies are regarded with suspicion by many people, and the good suffer for the bad.

For these reasons we announce that our proprietors are the principal shareholders in

EDITORIAL NOTES

Australia has won the Kolapore cup, though the Canadian team made a game shoot for it. But we won't grudge the Cornstalks the winning of it, so long as it rests in the Colonial family.

An American journal talks eloquently of the changeful mood of the British people towards their war hroes. This is a case of a resident in a glass house throwing stones. Look, per contra, to the treatment American war heroes receive—praised one day and denounced the next. Dewey was a greater than Nelson, but he is at a low ebb now in the matter of popularity, especially since he has declared that the battle of Manilla, on the strength of which he was set on Nelson's head, was merely a sham battle—a practice canard made.

THEY WANT 20,000 AGAIN.

Another Army of Men Required to Harvest the Western Wheat.

Mr. Jas. Hartney, local agent of the Immigration Department of Manitoba, said to the Globe Friday, that the farmers of the west are asking for 20,000 harvesters again this year. They asked for that many last year, and got 19,300, and Mr. Hartney says that the prospects have never been better. An old-timer in the West, a man who has lived there for the last twenty years, said to him the other day that in Southwestern Manitoba, at least, the grain would go on the average four bushels to the acre more than last year. The stalk was heavy and was coming out in great big heads.

The dates of the harvesters' excursions will likely be fixed this week. They will be a little later than last year owing to the setback from wet weather. Mr. Hartney hopes that there will be no trouble this year about congestion of farm hands at certain centres. The Government agents in every township, that is every six miles square, are making enquiries, and will send in a report as to their respective requirements. With this information the Government agents will endeavour to locate the necessary number and no more, at every point. But there is one thing that they intend to be very particular about. They are going to not only advise the men where to go (and where not to go, but warn them persistently of the districts already supplied, so that the blame cannot afterwards be laid at their doors. They will also warn persons who hope to take the trip, and not to work the required thirty days, that the C.P.R. will not take them back at the reduced rates unless they comply with the conditions. Complaints from persons such as these are what the department objects to most.

KILLED BY A TROLLEY CAR.

A Toronto Lamplighter Killed Instantly —Body Terribly Mangled.

Toronto, July 23.—Daniel A. Hall, a lamplighter, in the employ of the Carbon Light & Power Co., was killed by a trolley car yesterday morning on Queen street a few feet west of Fenning street. His body was terribly mangled. Hall was riding a bicycle eastward on the devil strip. Passing Dovercourt road he was riding behind Queen street car No. 589, in charge of Motorman William Eastman and Conductor Edward Quinn. In nearing Fenning street Hall turned from the devil strip to the north track and endeavored to pass the car he had been following. A car was approaching from the east and in order to get out of its way he rode in front of the car going in the same direction as himself. In doing so the westbound car struck him, throwing him in front of the eastbound car. The wheels of the car crushed his body, and he was killed instantly.

The body was carried to Craig's undertaking establishment and Coroner Young was notified. He issued a warrant for an inquest to-day at 2 o'clock.

Deceased was married, and resided at 49 Wright avenue with his family. He was 50 years of age.

May Changed Her Mind.

New York, July 23.—The charge of grand larceny that was formally made at police headquarters Monday by May Yohe, against former Captain Putnam Bradley Strong, who has mysteriously disappeared, has been withdrawn. Miss Yohe's lawyer would only say that the charges were withdrawn for the sake of Strong's family. Captain Strong's whereabouts are still unknown.

Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia, Hon. J. M. Gibson, President D.R.A., and Major-General O'Grady-Haly Witness the Shooting of Canadians With Keen Interest— Some Notable Scores.

Bisley Camp, July 23.—After having shot at the 600 yards distance—the last range of the three in the first stage of the King's Prize Competition—it is likely that nine Canadians will qualify for the second stage, which takes place on Friday.

Capt. R. Rennie, 2nd Q.O.R.	97
Capt. L. G. Davidson, 6th R.R.	96
Capt. C. N. Mitchell, R.O.	96
Sergt. W. A. Smith, 43rd D.C.O.R.	95
Corp. J. M. Jones, 82nd Batt.	94
Lance-Corp. S. C. Mortimer, 6th D. C.O.R.	94
Pte. T. J. Peddie, 5th R.S.	94
Sergt. S. J. Perry, 6th D.C.O.R.	93
Pte. S. C. Scott, 43rd D.C.O.R.	93

The highest possible aggregate score was 105—35 points at each range, Lance-Corporal Cole, of the Dorset Regiment, England, made the highest score, 103, and wins the prize awarded to the leader in the first stage.

The great team match at Bisley, the Kolapore Challenge Cup competition, took place yesterday, and was won by one of the colonies, Australia. In fact, the colonials gained the three principal places, Rhodesia being second and Canada third.

Sir Frederick Borden, Canadian Minister of Militia; Hon. J. M. Gibson, president of the Dominion Rifle Association, and General O'Grady-Haly, were present and watched with keen interest the shooting of the Canadians.

The team from Canada stood at the top in the 500 yards range, but fell away behind at the 600 yards.

Lance-Corporal Mortimer did phenomenal shooting, making the largest individual score of any team. His total at the three ranges was 102 out of a possible 105, seven shots at each distance, 200, 500 and 600 yards.

Bayles, Sergt. T., 10th R. G.	34	33	28
Mortimer, L.-Corp, S. C., 6th D.C.O.R.	34	33	35
Moscrop, Col.-Sergt. J., 6th D.C.O.R.	29	33	27
Mitchell, Capt. C. N., R. O.	35	30	30
Peddie, Pte. T. J., 5th R. S.	33	32	33
Richardson, Sgt.-Maj. T., 5th R.C.A.	31	34	30
Rennie, Capt. R., 2nd. Q.O.R.	31	32	26
Smith, Sergt. W. A., 43rd D.C.O.R.	31	33	29
	258	260	238

The scores of the teams competing were as follows:

	200 yds.	500 yds.	600 yds.	Total
Canada	258	260	238	756
Australia	258	257	255	770
Mother Country	263	244	248	755
Natal	251	257	238	746
Rhodesia	258	253	247	758
Guernsey	251	251	246	748
New Zealand	262	248	234	744
India	243	234	231	708
West Indies	225	206	174	602

A number of Canadians figure in the Keystone Burgundy prize list, the competition in which ended yesterday. Sergt. E. H. Skedden, of Hamilton, was awarded second place, winning six pounds. Sergt. T. G. Bayles of the Royal Grenadiers, was fourth and won two pounds. Lance-Corporal Mortimer, seventh place; Sergt. S. J. Perry, eighth place, each winning two pounds. Capt. Davidson in tenth place, and Pte. Peddie in twentieth place won one pound each.

Capt. W. C. King, of the 46th Battalion, took thirteenth position in the Premier, 600 yards with eight shots, and won two pounds. Capt. Davidson, in twenty-seventh place, got one pound.

In the Armourers' Company match Sergt. Smith landed in fourth place, getting a prize of two pounds. Capt. Rennie in fifth position, and Capt. Davidson, eighth, also won two pounds each. Capt. Margetts, tenth; Sergt. T. G. Bayles, fifteenth; Capt. Mitchell, sixteenth; Major R. J. Spearing added one pound each to their winnings in this match.

Capt. Mitchell took seventh place in the competition for the Wimbledon Cup and won three pounds. Capt. Rennie in the eighth place got three pounds also, and Capt. King in fifteenth place got two pounds.

FOR THE PALMA TROPHY.

Great Britain's Riflemen Who Will Compete For the American Trophy Won by the Canadians Last Year.

London, July 23.—The team of riflemen which Great Britain is sending to Canada to compete for the Palma Trophy, won by the Canadians last year from the Americans, is composed of seven Englishmen, four Scotchmen and one Welshman.

They are as follows: Davidson, of Hythe; Davies, of Glamorgan; Fletcher, of Liverpool; Fraser, of Bank; Lamb, of Lancashire; Martin, of London; Miller, of Derby; Ommundsen, of Edinburgh; Richardson, of Northumberland; Scott, of Melrose; Varley, of London; Wallingford, of Hythe. Every man is an expert rifleman, the pick of the British isles.

Davidson won the Secretary of State for War's Prize at Bisley Monday with a possible score of 75. Davies and Ommundsen are both gold medalists. Fraser once tied for first place in the competition for the King's Prize. Martin on two occasions landed in second place in the Prince of Wales' competition. Scott is a renowned shot. One year he won the Prince of Wales' contest, and has twice reached second place amongst the winners of the King's Prize competition. He also is credited with having won the Caledonia Shield. Fletcher, Miller and Varley have excellent records as marksmen.

The War Office refuses to allow Wallingford or Davidson to go to Canada. The announcement was made yesterday.

ONLY HOPE IS CANADA.

Senator Drummond's View of the Ocean Traffic Situation—What Britain and Canada Might Do.

London, July 23.—The House of Commons Committee, appointed to enquire into the question of steamship subsidies, was in session yesterday and examined Senator G. A. Drummond of Montreal. Mr. Drummond said that he had arrived at the conclusion, from recent developments of American shipping combines, that the land line practically controlled the situation and that the ocean lines were merely adjuncts. At first sight it would appear that the purchase of a number of old British steamers by the American combination could be remedied by building new boats. But he believed that, if this was done by a new organization, it could be made unprofitable by the Americans, who, by means of through bills of landing from the producing centres, could control freights as well as a considerable portion of the passenger traffic.

He believed that the only hope of escape from the control of the American shipping combine lay through Canada. Therefore, he advocated a speedy up-to-date service of twenty-one knot steamers between Great Britain and Halifax, instead of New York. Such a line ought to be subsidized to the extent of £300,000 ($1,500,000) to £400,000 ($2,000,000), yearly for ten years, half payable by Great Britain and half by Canada. Thereafter, he believed, if judiciously managed, the line would be self-supporting. It would be advantageous to both countries to cement the trade between Canada and Great Britain.

Lord Beresford's Suggestion.

London, July 23.—The conference of the colonial Premiers yesterday discussed ship subsidies from the double standpoint of the economical carriage of goods, and combatting the subsidy policy of foreign Governments. Nothing of a definite character, however, was accomplished.

Rear Admiral Lord Charles Beresford told the committee that he did not favor fostering trade by means of bounties. He objected to subsidies but attached the greatest importance to Great Britain owning a mercantile marine containing vessels of great speed and favored postal subventions for the encouragement thereof.

Lord Beresford suggested that the Government build 24 knot liners and allow the companies to work them, the Government sharing in the profits.

Will Make No Concession.

Toronto, July 23.—The Iron Moulders' Convention yesterday confirmed the present rule of the trade of one apprentice to eight journeymen. The indications are that the convention will conclude its labors this week.

IMPROVEMENT CONTINUES.

King Edward Is Said to Have Walked a Few Steps Monday.

London, July 23. — The weather was less wintry at Cowes, Isle of Wight, yesterday morning, and the reports from the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, continue to chronicle King Edward's improvement. It is said that he walked a few steps Monday.

The King will hold his first council since A. J. Balfour became Premier on board the yacht shortly. It is expected that the name of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to succeed Earl Cadogan (whose resignation was made public July 17), will then be announced.

No Public Holiday.

Ottawa, July 23.—There will be no public holiday throughout Canada on Coronation Day, Aug. 9, but royal salutes will be fired at Victoria, Winnipeg, London, Toronto, Kingston, Montreal, Quebec, St. John and at Charlottetown. Unless special observances are arranged for by the municipalities, this will be the only exercise of the day.

WARDEN GILMOUR HURT.

Was Petting a Mastiff When the Brute Bit Him.

Toronto, July 23.—It was stated in the city last night that Dr. Gilmour, warden of the Central Prison, was petting a big mastiff in his room at the Central, when the brute flew at him and fastened its teeth in his hand, severing the bones between the third and fourth fingers. He dragged the brute from one side of the room to the other, it hanging on. It is said that no one has been allowed to see him since, and that yesterday he was very ill in bed.

An effort was made to secure further detail this morning, but without success.

Buller Writes Another Letter.

London, July 23.—General Buller has written another letter to William Brodrick, the Secretary of State for War, in which he complains that Mr. Brodrick accentuated charges in the House of Commons which were never officially brought against him, and to which he was ordered not to reply. In his communication to the War Secretary Gen. Buller demands that he be allowed to state his views regarding Ladysmith's capability to hold out against the Boers.

Last Night's Moonlight.

Last evening was an ideal one for a moonlight excursion, and the trip down the Otonabee River under the auspices of St. Andrews church Mission Band was very largely patronized. Indeed, there were many who were unable to take in the trip owing to the fact that the capacity of the steamer was fully taxed. The sail down the Otonabee in the moonlight was much enjoyed, and the excursion arrived home in good time.

OBITUARY.

The Funeral of Mrs. H. T. Strickland Took Place This Morning.

The funeral this afternoon of the late Mrs. H. T. Strickland from Lake cottage, Ashburnham, was attended by many sorrowing friends.

Mrs. Strickland was born in Montreal and was a daughter of Mrs. Peter Morgan, who resides with the family in Ashburnham.

The deceased lady was a member of St. Luke's church. She was always a most sincere Christian, a faithful and true friend, and her loss will be deeply felt by all who had the great pleasure of knowing her.

Much sympathy is felt for her bereaved family.

SOCIAL MEETING

Of the B. Y. P. U. on Monday Evening Last—Presentation.

A very pleasant ice cream social was held on Monday evening in the school room of the Murray street Baptist chuch, and quite a large number of young people were present.

The occasion was taken advantage of to present Miss Taylor, who is shortly to be married to Mr. Stanley Matthews, also a highly esteemed member of the Union, with a very handsome charming marble clock. A suitable address to the recipient was read by Miss Muriel Martin, and the presentation made by Mr. Walter Garbutt. Miss Taylor replied in very feeling terms. After readings by Miss Bradshaw, Miss Webber and Mr. Martin, and vocal solos by Mrs. Dr. Scott and Mr. Martin, refreshments were served, and a very pleasant evening was brought to a close with the National Anthem.

It is interesting to notice that Miss Taylor has been identified with the church practically all her life, and has been closely connected with all the varied activities of the church, but more especially with the Sunday school, B. Y. P. U., and the choir.

PETERBOROUGH CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

A Much Earlier Date Fixed This Year Will be Held on September 9th, 10th, 11th—Arrangement With Band of 48th Highlanders the Cause.

The directors of the Peterborough Central Exhibition have fixed the date of their annual show more than a fortnight earlier than other years. Instead of being the first few days of the last week of September, it is fixed this year on September 9th, 10th and 11th.

The cause of this is that the managers have concluded arrangements with the splendid band of the 48th Highlanders, which has made triumphant tours through Canada and the United States, will be one of the many attractions of the exhibition, and as they could not come to Peterborough at later dates than those mentioned, is the cause of their selection.

The prize list is being printed.

THEIR ANNUAL OUTING.

Court Littlejohn, Canadian Order of Foresters—Excursion to the Falls.

The fifteenth annual excursion of Court Littlejohn, Canadian Order of Foresters, will take place on Thursday, August 21st, to Toronto and Niagara Falls. This is one of the most popular outings of the season and should be largely patronized. The excursion is by the C.P.R. to Toronto, and thence by the Toronto Navigation Co's magnificent lake steamers, and the Niagara Falls Park and River Ry. over the great whirlpool route. The sail across Lake Ontario on the magnificent steamers is most exhiliarating. The attraction of reaching Niagara Falls over the famous whirlpool route affords the excursionists a sight of some of the greatest scenic wonders of the world, and a panoramic view of the historic points of interest along the Niagara River on the Canadian side.

LAKEFIELD TRAIN DELAY.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — I wish to call attention through your columns to the matter of the irregular and late departure of the mid-day (so-called) tourist train for Lakefield. I speak more especially of Saturdays, which come within my experience. A week ago last Saturday the train was almost an hour late in leaving Peterborough, and last Saturday three quarters of an hour. This train is scheduled to depart at 12.15, but it is often from a half to an hour late. Now all this is very unpleasant and annoying to passengers, who are trying to leave town to enjoy the pleasures of the lakes, and having limited time desire to make the most of their outing. Of all petty annoyances of life the most depressing is waiting for a late train or steamer. In the case of the Lakefield train delay is particularly annoying to business men. They rush to get their business put in shape for a day or two's absence, often leaving some matters unadjusted for lack of a few minutes times. They hurry to the station, only to find that they have to wait for the train to leave perhaps half an hour, or an hour, in extreme cases — time which they would preferably have devoted to their business. If the shunting is the cause of the delay, why not have it done earlier, so that the train crew could have their dinner in good time, and permitting of the train departing at the announced hour. If that can't be done, put the time of departure at a later hour, so that the passengers can leave at the time fixed in the time card. What the public want is to have the train leave on schedule time even if it is a few minutes later than at present, so that it can be depended upon.

I am sure that Mr. Sandy, the obliging station agent, does his best, but he is to a certain extent handicapped by a double responsibility — to the interests of the traffic of the railway, and to the public. I am sure that if the matter is brought to his attention and that of the railway company, some improvement will be forthcoming. The town newspapers, town citizens and the railway companies have done a great deal to popularize the Kawartha Lakes as summer resting places, and the resort thanks to them, is rapidly increasing. It is certainly in the interests of the railway and the public that these lakes should not be made unpopular, by reason of vexatious delays in reaching them. A route of travel that gets a good name for prompt service will be well patronized, and vice versa a route that gets a bad name for promptitude will suffer accordingly.

I do not write in a spirit of mere fault finding, but with a sincere desire to remedy a state of affairs that is unpleasant for all parties concerned.

Yours truly,
BUSINESS MAN.

July 21st.

WHY?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — It is stated in your issue of the 17th inst., that J. W. McNaughton "succumbs to Christian Science." This statement is most unfair, in face of the fact that the boy was suffering from consumption, and that he was benefitted, even if not cured, by the treatment. It certainly cannot be said that Christian Science caused or hastened his death. Why is it that whenever a Christian Science patient dies, it is spread abroad in the press, while nothing is said of the thousands of those who die daily under the care of regular physicians?

Yours truly,
C. R. MUNRO.

THE T. A. S. II TEAM WERE THE VICTORS.

A Closely Contested Game of Lacrosse.

The Campbellford Team Lost by a Score of 2 Goals to 0—The Culverwell Cup.

Several hundred people assembled on the Separate school grounds last evening to witness the lacrosse match between the Campbellford Club and St. Peter's T.A.S. II team. A few weeks ago the two teams played a tie game in Campbellford and on that occasion Mr. J. A. Culverwell offered a handsome cup in competition, the ownership to be decided when next the teams met. As a result a great deal of interest was manifested in the game by the friends of both teams. The result of last night's struggle was a victory for the T.A.S. team by a score of 2—0, Jack Primeau and Jack McNichol notching the goals. The game in itself was a very good exhibition of lacrosse. Campbellford possesses a junior team which is going to be heard from later on. They are splendid stick handlers, good runners and hard workers, and are fast learning all the fine points of the game. Their home last night was a little light, and that was the weakest part of their line up. Their defence is a strong one, and last night it put up a magnificent fight, and kept the T.A.S. home hustling every minute of the game. The two teams were about equally matched as regards size but the T.A.S. team was decidedly the faster aggregation, and have players in their line up who would certainly know how to behave in senior company. This was apparent last evening from the creditable showing some of the boys made in the game. The T.A.S. home was however a little loose in shooting, but this may be accounted for by the fact that it was closely watched by the visitors' defence. The game throughout was a clean one, and Mr. Myles McDonough, who made a very efficient referee, had only to read the riot act on two occasions, and only one player received injuries, Shea, of the visitors, receiving a blow on the head. The Campbellford boys are a gentlemanly lot of young sports and enjoyed their visit to town immensely. They were taken in hand after the game by the members of the T.A.S. Mr. Ed. Crowe and Editor Dryden of the Despatch, who are managers of the team, accompanied the boys to town. These two gentlemen are indefatigable workers and are doing their utmost to boom lacrosse in Campbellford, and they certainly have an aggregation in the field at present that promises in the near future to make a name for itself in the lacrosse arena.

The line up was as follows;

NOTES.

The "man with the scythe" is badly needed on the school grounds.

The ladies were as demonstrative as the men last evening, and applauded the good play on either side.

The usual number of "small" people decorated the fences. 'Twas ever thus.

The T.A.S. team has been trying to arrange a game with Lindsay, but without success.

An individual last evening in trying to evade the admission fee into the game, mounted the Central Park fence. His trousers had a mix up with a broken board, and he was obliged to take a side street home. Moral—Always pay your way.

DUE TO FAULTY INSPECTION.

Coroner's Jury Returns a Verdict in the McIntosh Building Fire.

Toronto, July 22.—The exhaustive investigation of the coroner into the late fatal fire at the McIntosh building resulted in a verdict being rendered at an early hour this morning by the jury.

After reciting that the firemen came to their death by falling walls, the verdict reads:

"We further find that the system under which the city inspection of buildings is conducted, especially in regard to interior alterations, of buildings is in a deplorable state, and we would recommend that the city authorities pass a proper building bylaw or bylaws including a rigid inspection of all such buildings under proper regulations. We further recommend that the chief of the fire department be given full power by the City Council to have all buildings inspected by the district chiefs according to their regular locations. And that such inspections should be posted in conspicuous places in all fire halls, where the result of such inspection shows any buildings to be unsafe."

"YES, I FINISHED HER."

Man Acknowledges That He Deliberately Cut His Wife's Head Off.

Halifax, July 22.—A brutal and cold-blooded murder was committed in this city at 6.30 o'clock yesterday. Geo. William Cooke, aged 45, married Lydia Arnold, aged 42, six weeks ago. Last evening he deliberately cut her head off with a razor and went to sleep in the bed from which the corpse of his wife had fallen and which was covered with blood of the victim.

Cooke's wife's sister, Eliza, ran to the police station with the information. An officer went up and arrested Cooke.

When the officer told him his wife was dead he replied: "Yes, I finished her. I cut her throat with the razor."

He offered no resistance, but quietly walked to the station and was locked up.

KING IS GAINING STRENGTH.

His Majesty's Wound Continues to Heal Satisfactorily.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, July 22.—A bulletin issued yesterday on the condition of King Edward says: The King is in excellent health. He is gaining strength, and the wound continues to heal satisfactory. His Majesty was unable to spend any time on deck Sunday, owing to the unfavorable weather.

The next bulletin will be issued on July 24.

The cold wind continues, and the decks of the royal yacht Victoria and Albert are enclosed by canvas screens as a protection against the inclement weather.

A despatch received here from Cowes says it has been arranged that Emperor William shall visit King Edward before the latter returns to London.

GRAVEL CURED.

Remarkable Case of This Painful Disease.

Reuben Draper, of Bristol, Que. who was a Victim Finds Relief and a Permanent Cure—He Tells of His Sufferings and how He Left His Troubles Behind.

Bristol, Que., July 20, (Special) — No disease can cause more severe and dreadful pain than Gravel. Reuben Draper, of this place, was taken ill with this awful trouble about five years ago. He was cured and so many have asked him how it was done, that he has decided to give the while story for publication.

"About five years ago I was taken ill with the Gravel. I suffered great pain, so I sent for a doctor. He gave me some medicine and came to see me twice afterwards, but my disease was not gone and in a very short time I had another severe attack.

"This time I sent for another doctor with about the same results, only I was getting weaker all the time.

"Then a man advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, for he said that they had cured his mother. I thought I would try them and sent for a box.

"Just a week after I began the treatment I passed a stone as large as a small bean, and four days later another about the size of a grain of barley; this gave me great relief, and I began to feel better and to gain strength right away.

"That was five years ago, and I have not had any trouble in that way since. I have the stones in a small bottle and anyone can see them who wishes. Dodd's Kidney Pills certainly saved my life."

The story of Mr. Draper will be good news to many sufferers who may not have known that Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure Gravel and Stone in the Bladder.

What has cured this gentleman and hundreds of other very bad cases, should cure anyone, and those who may be afflicted as Dr. Draper was, should try Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Fell Asleep on the Track.

Chatham, July 22.—Edward Dobson, jr., Thamesville, attended the circus here on Saturday and thereby came to his death. He took the train home, but neglected to get off till he got to Bothwell, the next station, and proceeded to walk back. Later he was found asleep on the track by an oil well man and invited to share the shanty till morning, but he insisted on walking home. He doubtless lay down again and fell asleep, for some hours later his mangled remains were found on the track.

A WELL MAN AT 80 YEARS.

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

Mr. R. J. McBain, Niagara Falls, Ont., a man of eight years, and well known throughout the Niagara district, writes;—"I believe that if it had not been for Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills, I would be in my grave before this. I was very bad with kidney disease, and suffered with dreadful pains in my kidneys. Being disappointed in the use of many medicines, I had almost given up hopes of ever getting better.

"One morning, after a night of especially severe suffering, a friend called to see me, and asked why I did not try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I got a box at once, and took two pills, which was rather a heavy dose; one pill is plenty at a dose. I used them regularly for a month, and at the end of that time was a changed man.

"It is now about five years since I began using this pill, and since that time I have felt as good as I did 40 years ago. I am almost 80 years old, and am free from all disease, except rheumatism, and this is much better than it used to be before I used this medicine. I recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with all my heart to any person, man or woman. This is my opinion of these valuable pills, and you may use it for the benefit of others.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are especially appreciated by people of advanced age. The kidneys are frequently the first organs of the body to break down, and there are few old people but suffer from kidney disorders, and resulting pains and aches. One pill a dose, 25c a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto, Ont. 8

OUT OF THE DEPTHS.

The Punishments of the Past—Conditions That the British People Have Outgrown in Treating Criminals.

Returning to the quaint diary of old Fisherton gaol, Wilts., we (Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper) find a note in 1826 of a pauper eighty-five years old being charged with refusing to work. On being convicted he was sentenced to one month's imprisonment and to be once privately whipped.

Marianne Moore was tried in 1829 for felony in the house of the lady milliners to whom she was servant, and had a narrow escape. The peculiarity in the case was that by an Act of Parliament passed in the previous year (Peel's Act) private stealing in a dwelling house was rendered capital, if to the amount of five pounds. When the five sovereigns were weighed one of them proved to be of light weight, and the capital charge was therefore abandoned.

Death penalties were then so common that in 1830 Baron Vaughan pointed out that of fifty-four cases to come before him there were only seven which were not capital.

A man believing that the sale of a wife publicly in the market place with a halter round her neck would have the full force of a divorce legally obtained, took his wife (equally willing to try a change of circumstances) into the public market at Melksham, and there disposed of her for two shillings and sixpence to a man named William Watts. The couple were committed to prison for the offence, but Watts was acquitted.

An extraordinary conspiracy was unearthed in 1836. Two brothers in association with a woman carried on prosecutions of felony in Dorset, Somerset and Gloucester. The whole of the evidence was fabricated, the object being to obtain the expenses allowed for such prosecutions.

A curious point of law arose in 1837. James Curtis and Ann Pontin were indicted for having stolen what was described as being mutton. The counsel objected that if anything was stolen it was a sheep, of which there was abundant evidence to have convicted them. They were both acquitted on this flaw.

An ordinary case of robbery obtained some importance in 1838, by reason of an underlying romance, as will be seen in the following story:—

"George Thorne was indicted for stealing a quantity of bristles, the property of his employer, John Wilkins, of Westbury. It appears that Thorne was engaged by Wilkins as a foreman, and received £100 salary, with an agreement that when the profits of sale amounted to a certain sum he should receive fifty per cent. upon the profits. A great many parcels of bristles having been missed, Mr. Wilkins marked some packages and scented them with lavender water. These, being also very shortly missed, were traced to the possession of Thorne. (It is necessary here to premise that it is the custom in many shops to allow the employed to purchase anything they may want for their own use, without paying for it at the time, and at the cost price, provided that it be properly entered in the day book to the credit of the master.) Thorne had kept company with a Miss Rymer, a young lady possessing considerable property, and to whom he was shortly to have been united, the wedding day being fixed, and a handsomely furnished house prepared. While in prison, Thorne bethought himself of the following ingenious plan (which had great probability of succeeding) to obtain his acquittal. He had received a letter from Miss Rymer; on a vacant corner of this he wrote an account of all the articles found at his lodgings, charging himself with them as a debtor to his master. This he privately contrived to send to Miss Rymer, with instructions how to act; and she soon after found means to have this paper placed among some other papers and things under the desk in Mr Wilkins' shop. This being accomplished, it was then, for the first time, stated that he had charged himself with the various articles and had left a memorandm to that effect upon the desk. Search being accordingly made, the identical slip of paper was found; but suspicion arising, application was made to the governor of the gaol, who caused all Thorne's papers to be seized, and among them was still preserved the letter of Miss Rymer, with the corner torn off, and to which the piece found in the shop exactly corresponded (had this letter been destroyed in all probability the prisoner would have been acquitted). Miss Rymer's regard for the prisoner so far overcame every prudent or upright feeling as to induce her to swear that the paper on which she wrote her letter was given her by the prisoner before he went to prison—that the letter was so mutilated when she wrote it—and that she remarked to her father that such was the case—and that when the letter was folded it could be partly read which induced her consequently to make a parcel of it. The father also swore that he recollected his daughter saying she had written a letter on a sheet of paper much torn, and that she subsequently recalled the circumstance to his memory. The governor of the prison, however, swore that the letter was not so mutilated when he read it, previously to delivering it to the prisoner. The calm and attentive conduct of Miss Rymer throughout created unusual interest, cheering the prisoner with her looks and supplying the counsel with occasional information.

Some Chartist riots in 1840 sent a batch of prisoners for trial at the Lent Assizes, when the accused were ordered to be fined and imprisoned.

Poaching was one of the most heinous offences. Three men were in 1846 transported for twenty years. Baron Rolfe, in sentencing them, remarked "That he saw enough to convince him that they were all idle fellows, spending their time in poaching and drunkenness. He would, however, take care that for the remainder of their days they should not taste a drop of liquor, or have one moment of their own. They should work in chains as slaves in a distant land."

BEAUTIFUL CAPE BRETON.

"To-day It Is the Most Important Spot in Canada."

Nature has been kind to the Province of Cape Breton. It has untold resources. These resources were being slowly but gradually developing until they fell into the right hands, and the circumstances of the times justified a more rapid leap into the tide of the world's trade. Within the last few years the results of this development have burst upon the industrial world with a vigor seldom seen, and an admiring Canada and New England have turned their fondest and most loving gaze in that direction. To-day the Island of Cape Breton is the most important spot in Canada.

Years ago I knew that island well, writes C. H. James of Ottawa. It was then in its primeval state—one of the brightest gems in nature's crown. The Nalads and the Graces seemed to hold full sway. Lately I revisited it, and found it a hive of industry, with just enough of that natural beauty left to make it savory with enchantment and romance. Industry and art make the picturesque beauties of the Bras d'Or Lakes, the Margaree Valley, Strathlorne, Lake Ainslie and other parts of the island stand out more beautifully. And Cape Breton is rapidly becoming the tourist's as well as the capitalist's favorite resort. I well remember my first visit to that island. It was in the early seventies. My business at that time necessitated a visit to the Margaree Valley, and oh! what delightful visions and pleasant remembrances of that visit still linger in my memory! It was a day in the latter part of June that I arrived there. The wide meadow-lands were luxuriantly clothed with their rich natural productions; the hillside farms were neatly tilled; the orchards were in bloom; the high mountains which stand in the background and serve as a sort of bulwark were covered with the most beautiful groves of maple—everything about seemed to strike my ideal fancies. It was the prettiest rural sight that I have ever seen. The Margaree River is the most famous salmon fishing stream in Nova Scotia. The season opens about the 1st of June, and continues until the last of August. In those days of which I speak I repeatedly saw the salmon—averaging 20 lbs. each—taken by one rod in a single morning, and it was a common occurrence, and not noteworthy, for an ordinary angler to take six or seven salmon daily. At that time the officers of the standing army at Halifax, as well as many of the wealthy citizens of that city, and even gentlemen from England, spent a great part of the summer months at Margaree. Since then the hand of industry and enterprise has been shaping and moulding the appearance and future of Inverness. A railroad runs through the county; several coal mines of great importance have been developed; steamers call at all the ports on the coast; an immense trade is carried on with the outside world. Margaree still continues to be the angler's paradise. Lake Ainslie and Strathlorne and Mahon still wear their beautiful natural appearances, and the sturdy, athletic Celt of that region gives one as genial and as hospitable a welcome as he did in the long ago.

JUBILATE DEO.

Thanksgiving at the return of Peace in South Africa.

Praise ye the Lord!
Unto our God lift up your voice!
Sing! For His word
Laden with victory hath been spoken,
Sound ye His praise,
Letting the heart and tongue rejoice!
Every tone of song
Doth holy praise prolong,
Extol His grace!
He hath been merciful and kind
Tell of His love!
We have been ever in His mind;
His gifts excel;
Evil and wrong doth He quell,
Lovingly sing:
God is the King,
He doth all things well.

Refrain:
Loyally then do we adore Him;
He hath impeared our days;
Ours are the strivings done;
His are the victories won;
Greater Britain bends low before Him,
Worshipping, at the ways;
So we bring our wreaths and garlands,
Songs and praise.

Great is the Lord!
Marvelous truths by Him are taught;
Exalt His name!
He hath delight in our devotions;
His plans are wise;
National good His hand hath wrought;
Sundered and far apart,
He maketh one heart.
Sing unto God!
He hath made known His righteous will;
Our God is strong!
He hath been wisdom, might and skill;
Blood is the seal,
Ours hath been pour'd for the weal.
Trustingly sing:
God is the King,
He doth all woundings heal.

Proclaim the joy,
Far over prairie, vale and main;
Raise high the song,
Make it an anthem everlasting;
Wide as the world,
Ruler of men doth Britain reign;
Great nations welded one
Neath Afric's burning sun,
Ring all the bells!
Circle the lands with cheer and chime!
Sweep every tone
Thrilling the harmonies of time;
Keep jubilee
On every shore and sea;
Joyfully sing:
God is the King
Whereso' the flag floats free.

Whalley's Mysterious Death.

Toronto, July 22.— The investigation into the sudden death of George Whalley, and the series of events which occurred at the premises of Evans & Sons, Limited, 28 West Front street, was commenced yesterday. Upon the result of the autopsy will depend what course will be pursued at the inquest. The post-mortem examination of the remains was conducted yesterday afternoon by Drs. Primrose and Harrington, but Coroner Young declared last night that he had not yet received the report of the physicians. It was decided by the coroner and jurors to meet again at McGill's next Monday night. Coroner Young believes that the explanation of Whalley's death may be the explanation of the death of Edward Geen, the attempt to wreck the safe in the building on May 30, and the fire in the basement of the warehouse on the afternoon of June 15.

Kidney Troubles of Children.

There are many mothers blessing Dr. Pitcher and his wonderful Backache Kidney Tablets. This remedy has proved so successful for that serious affliction of children—bed wetting—that mothers rejoice to know of a positive cure. The Tablets have a strengthening and tonic influence on the weak urinary organs of children and enable them to retain their water naturally.

Don't let your child grow up with this weakness blighting his life. Have the trouble cured in time before it does permanent injury to the health.

THE DIFFICULTY REMOVED.

Mrs. W. M. Glover, Pearl Street, Brockville, Ont., says: "One of my children that had been suffering from sluggish kidneys read about Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and procured a bottle from F. R. Curry's drug store. They removed the whole difficulty promptly. That depressing pain over the kidneys stopped, dizziness and headaches ceased, and there was a general invigorating of the system. There is no question regarding the merits of these Tablets for the back and kidneys."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50c. a Box, at all druggists or by mail, THE DR. ZEILA PITCHER CO., Toronto, Ont.

MR. J. A. McCAIG IN TOWN.

Interesting Interview Concerning the North-West.

Progress in Sheep Ranching—Mormon Settlers are a Valuable Acquisition.

When Mr. J. A. McCraig, who was in town Monday, was passing through Toronto, he was interviewed by a Globe reporter to the following effect;—

"Mr. James McCraig, Principal of the high school in Lethbridge, Southern Alberta, is paying a short visit to the city, and to a Globe reporter talked at some length on the progress of the Lethbridge district. The immigration of Americans is proceeding at a very rapid rate. Practically the whole of the inward movement is from the United States, and scarcely any foreigners are to be found in the district. There are a few Slavs working in the mines at Lethbridge, but they do not turn readily to agriculture. The Morman immigration is the largest single element, and the Morman settlers from Utah and other States are most industrious, and of great value in teaching the other settlers the methods of dry farming.

"So far, during the past two seasons, since the completion of the great irrigation ditch, there has been little need for its water. This year, until the first of July, when Mr. McCaig left Lethbridge, there had been no need at all for irrigation, the the rainfall being far above the average. The floods did scarcely any damage to the growing crops, for the reason that the drainage is by rivers, which have cut channels for themselves far below the level of the adjoining country, and these rivers carried off the freshets rapidly indeed. Old-timers do not believe that this period of wet weather will continue. They think the seasons of drouth and excessive moisture come in cycles, and that in another year or two the Pincher Creek, the Macleod and the Lethbridge districts will find it necessary to resort generally to irrigation, as settlers who have come in during the wet seasons will find it impossible to continue farming in dry summer with the ordinary rainfall.

"The crops this year are going to be exceedingly heavy all over the district, and because of the long season of growth, they may be a little late. Vegetables are quite unprecedented in size and volume of yield.

"Mr. McCaig, who has given very great study to sheep ranching, says the progress of this business in the coming year will surprise the people in the east. Up till the present time a local market has been found in British Columbia for all the output of the range, some sixty thousand head per year. The herdsmen believe that very soon it will be necessary to look abroad for a market, and that when this time comes, the range sheep, which are somewhat dry and lean because of their continual movement in search of food, will have to be finished with grain at feed stations. It will be necessary to find a wider market for the wool. At the present time, owing to the high tariff against Canadian wool entering the United States, wool on the range is worth only from seven to nine cents per pound. The ewes are chiefly Merinos, and the lambs are usually a cross between that and Shropshires or Oxfords, making a somewhat coarser and heavier wool. Mr. McCaig believes a large quantity of the wool produced on the ranges can be profitably used by eastern Canadian manufacturers. He anticipates that before many years sheep in the west will be numered by millions. Mr. Caig returns to Lethbridge early in August."

THE CHESTERVILLE TORNADO'S WORK.

It Mowed a Wide Swath of Destruction—Toyed With Solidly Built Houses Like Houses of Cards—Set a Mower in Motion and cut a Swath Across a Meadow—Left Utter Desolation in its Wake.

Cyclones are such a rarity in Canada, that the recent calamity at Chesterville, though a spring zephyr compared to those so frequent in the Western States, attracts unusual attention.

The Montreal Star thus begins its report of an interview respecting the cyclone and its ravages, with a Canadian Pacific Telegraph official;—

"This tornado was the most remarkable phenomena which I have ever witnessed. Houses and barns were smashed into splinters by the mighty force of the wind. The inhabitants were tossed hither and thither like straws, cattle were whirled against fences and adjoining buildings, and are lying dead at present, in heaps in the track of the tornado, trees were twisted into grotesque shapes, and in some instances were broken off short like pipe-stems. The force of the wind must have been tremendous."

Mr. J. F. Richardson, of the Canadian Pacific Telegraph Company, in an interview with a Star representative, to-day, spoke of the tornado which did so much damage at Chesterville, on Thursday evening.

Mr. Richardson has just returned from the scene, where the company's telegraph lines and poles were wiped out by the awful hurricane. Repairs were quickly completed, during the night, and everything was in working order the next morning.

PATH OF THE STORM.

"The sweep of the tornado," said Mr. Richardson, "was between Chesterville and Finch, and is about 85 miles from this city. The tornado passed through the townships of Finch, Winchester and Osnabruck.

The damage by the tornado was confined to a sweep of about 80 rods wide, but the ravages of the wind were apparent in a swath a half a mile wide. Within the scope of 80 yards everything is a mass of ruins. Our whole line was completely smashed up. The tornado seemed to go in a south-easterly direction towards the River St. Lawrence, and it would naturally come out about Wales, but we have received no word of any damage at that point.

LOSS OF LIFE CAUSED.

"Our telegraph posts, and they were new ones at this point, were snapped like pipe-stems. Barns were smashed into splinters, and even brick houses did not escape destruction. One of the finest brick houses in the county, one especially strongly constructed, was wiped out of existance. One man lost his wife and his son. His daughter is not expected to live.

HOUSE BLOWN AWAY.

"He was found after the tornado had passed lying on the ground with a broken hip. His house and his barn were lefted bodily from the ground, whirled about in the air, and dashed against a grove of hardwood timber nearby. And a moment later it was nothing but a mass of splinters. A mowing machine was in the field nearby, where it had been placed to be used cutting hay the next morning. The tornado raised the machine and ran it full speed through the hay-field, cutting a swath over four rods in length as clean as if the machine had been hauled by horses and driven by a man. The machine would have gone much farther if the tongue had not caught in the ground. This happening, the mower was twisted up in an almost unrecognizable mass by the wind.

"I met two men going about the country disconsolately, looking in vain for the roofs of their barns. They had been whirled aloft by the force of the hurricane, and for twenty four hours the owners had sought for them in vain, covering many miles in search. Dead cattle, horses, cows, sheep and pigs, were found lying dead all about in the track of the tornado.

"They had been seized by the wind, and hurled in the air. Many of them were found with their backs and limbs broken.

THE MONETARY LOSS IS HEAVY.

"I should judge that the damage by the tornado in these three townships of Finch, Winchester and Osnabruck, would certainly not be less than $200,000. There was one good feature in connection with the visitation and that is that it just missed several villages. It passed three miles from Chesterville and five miles from Finch. The tornado seemed to take a zig-zag course, shearing off here and there, as if diverted somewhat by the knolls and small hills in the vicinity.

THE DAMAGE TO THE TREES.

"It was marvellous the way the forces of the wind twisted the trees. Great elms were broken off short. I saw ten of these trees broken off and piled together in one heap.

FIVE IN COLLAPSED BARN.

"I had an interview with a man who escaped from a barn, which collapsed while he was in it. His name was Clark, and he was one of the five who happened to be in the structure when the tornado approached. He succeeded in getting out on obtaining an axe, and cut his way to the rescue of the others. They were all badly shaken up, but only one of the party was seriously injured.

Mr. Clark stated that it all happened so quickly that they did not know what was upon them. The party was engaged in milking the cows at the time. Suddenly a roaring noise was heard, and in a second the structure crashed down upon our heads. There were fourteen cattle in the barn at the time. One girl was seriously injured. Mr. Clark escaped with a bad cut on the head.

EYE-WITNESS'S DESCRIPTION.

Mr. Richardson states that the tornado was described to him by one who saw it approach, as being like two huge balloons revolving closely together. There was a terrific noise but the wind swooped down on the locality before there was any possibility of escape. Another witness states that it was like a huge hornet's nest and that the noise caused by its approach was not unlike the buzzing of innumerable bees.

RUSH OF THE WIND.

People three miles on either side of the tornado felt the rush of the wind as it passed and wondered what was the matter. It passed three miles from Chesterville and had its track been in another direction the damage would have been much greater. As it was the tornado did not pass through a thickly populated district. Owing to this there was a much smaller loss of life than there might have been.

UTTER DESOLATION.

The effect of the tornado upon the ground was truly marvellous. The wind caught at little hillocks and dug into them, leaving the impression as if a mighty plough had been at work. The ground was thrown up in all directions, where the hurricane could not seize upon trees or buildings. Its path is marked by utter desolation, there not being hardly anything over which it passed which did not suffer some injury.

Considerable damage was done by flying stones and up-rooted trees, which were hurled through the air, and smashed down everything in their path. People who were caught in the tornado, were too dazed to give an accurate account of what happened the tornado swooping down and hurling the majority of them into unconciousness without any warning.

LAYMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

An Important Meeting That was Held Last Week.

On Friday evening last the Peterborough Laymens' Evangelistic Association held their semi-annual meeting in the Y.M.C.A. for the election of officers and other business connected with the Association. Bros. Richardson and Holland were re-elected as President and Secretary, others receiving votes of thanks for services rendered.

This unsectarian association has been quietly working in our midst for over twenty years, but it may be that many do not know of such an organization. The object of the association is to supply services where the churches can not. In doing so these brethern have been helped and blessed in their own experience, telling out the truth, praying for others, and pointing the way of salvation to those who are anxious.

There have been many changes in their numbers in recent years, as several have removed, some have passed to the better land, others have graduated into the regular ministry, but the remainder still go on in the strength of their Master. Their ranks are always open for earnest workers in spiritual things, and a glad reception will be given to old or young of any Christian church. The qualification needed is to be a member of good standing in a Christian church, living a consistent life, with some ability to work. Their creed is three R's—Repentance of sin, Redemption through Christ, and Renewed by the Spirit.

Christians, pray for them.

STOCK MARKETS.

Appertaining to People's Gas Co.

New York, July 22nd.—We very much doubt if any investor or speculator can, in looking over the Stock Exchange List, find a stock selection that carries the respect of years of dividends at as low a figure as the stock of Peoples' Gas Co., of Chicago. As years of fights with rivals, aided in many instances by a political ring, the Peoples' Gas Co. finds itself in absolute possession of the business of lighting the second largest city in the U.S. During the many years of warring competitors strikes by political malcontents, etc., the Co. went on its way enhancing in value all the time, as is the case with gas stocks in all large cities. The stock rose from 25 to above par and for fifteen years returned steadily to its shareholders six per cent. per annum all the time. How much more rapidly should it progress now, that it is in absolute possession of the field, and compared to consolidated gas of N.Y., it would sell within 25 per cent. of the price of that stock, as it returns within 25 per cent. dividend paid by that concern while the capital stock issues of the latter is about two and one-half times as much compared with the United Gas Improvement Co., of Phila., and the Laclede Co., of St. Louis, when analized as to stock issued, dividends, earnings, etc., it is selling way below them in proportion to price. It is, as we stated in our advertisement of Monday morning last, the greatest and cheapest gas stock in the world. It's long dividend record, through warring and competive times, properly leads to the assumption of not only a continuance, but an ultimate increase. The stock has a wide and a ready market at all times and under all conditions. It is thoroughly fortified against any new competition. It will probably be difficult to secure to gain the right of way through the streets of that city, owing to the congested conditions now existing. Small stock issue exists also, amounting to about 12 million dollars. We most heartily commend the purchase of the stock around present prices, and believe it will sell materially higher. Should it decline from your purchase price it will return again, so hold on to it. Its dividend rate will pay interest charged, therefore these shares pay their own board.

One Common Cause of Headache.

Perhaps the most general cause of headache and pain across the eyes is nasal catarrh. The simplest cure is to inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone which traverses every air cell and air passage of the throat, lungs and nose. It kills myriads of germs at every breath, clears away mucous discharges, preserves and heals the membrane. Catarrhozone is just a splendid remedy for headache, and its action is certain and unfailing in diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma and Catarrh. A trial will convince the most sceptical that Catarrhozone is all right. Large size, $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

DANGER TO THE COMMUNITY.

In Connection With the Death of the Late J. W. McNaughton at Port Hope.

(Port Hope Guide.)

The inquest on the body of the late Joseph William McNaughton was resumed at the home of Mr. Wm. McCallum, last Monday night, July 21st.

Dr. L. B. Powers was again called and said,—I am of the opinion that if the deceased had had proper medical treatment after having the measles last January, there might have been a possibility of his recovery. It is only in the earlier stages of tubercular disease that you may expect any beneficent effects of a curative nature. After softening of the tubercular matter in the lungs, the disease generally proves fatal.

This ended the evidence, and the jury brought in the following verdict;

"That Joseph William McNaughton came to his death from tubercular disease of the lungs, causing syncope of the heart.

"And we, the jurors, are of the opinion that Christian Science, as now practised, is a danger to the community, and further wish to express our opinion that the safe guarding of society some further legislation is necessary in dealing with these people, and we would humbly submit that it is time the Provincial Legislature should give the matter their careful consideration, and would request the County Attorney to transmit a copy of this verdict to the Attorney-General of this Province."

BRAKEMAN GREAVES INJURED.

An Unfortunate Accident on Saturday Evening in Lindsay.

(Lindsay Post.)

Considerable excitement prevailed in the vicinity of the G. T. R. shops Saturday evening, when it was announced that Mr. James Greaves, son of Conductor Greaves, of the Coboconk train, had met with a serious accident. Mr. Greaves is a brakeman on the Whitby mixed, Conductor W. R. Kelley, which is due to arrive here at 7.45. Saturday evening's train brought in a number of cars containing company steam coal, and as this coal was required for immediate use, orders were given that one of the cars be placed on the ramp in rear of the round house.

Yardmaster Lockwood went to the top of the ramp and gave the signal to Engineer Wallace that everything was all right for him to make a fast ascent. Brakeman Greaves stood at the side of the car giving signals, but noticing the car moving rather fast he jumped and caught the ladder on the side, expecting that his services would be required on the top of the ramp. Unfortunately, he failed to notice a switch near by, and he was thrown against it with such force that he fell, alighting beside the track, his body luckily being thrown out of the way of the wheels of the car. Being stunned by the fall his left hand rested on the rail and four fingers were amputated as neatly as though done with a knife. His head was also considerably bruised and cut.

After dressing the wounds the physicians, fearing that other serious complications might follow, advised that he be sent to the Peterborough hospital. A special was made up, and before midnight left for Peterborough with the injured man.

AT THE BISLEY CAMP

The Scores of the Canadians in The Alexandra Match.

DATE FOR MACKINNON MATCH.

The Results of the First Stage in the King's Prize Show That Ten Canadians Are Qualified to Shoot in the Second Stage—Mortimer's Great Shooting—The Martin Cup Scores.

Bisley Camp, July 24.—Yesterday the principal matches, in which the Canadians participated at the ranges, were the Alexandra and the Martin's Challenge Cup.

The Martin Cup is a rapid firing competition. There is only one range, that at two hundred yards, and each contestant, in firing his seven shots, has either to sit or kneel. A time limit of one minute is placed, and magazines must be used.

Bennett, Pte W E, 43rd D C O R..	18
Bayles, Sergt T G, 10th R G.....	17
Carruthers, S-Sergt J C, 4th Hussars...	22

Skedden, Sergt E H, 13th Batt....	20
Spearing, Major R J, 53rd Batt...	26

Private Scott was a prize winner, standing in 75th place and winning £2.

Lance-Corporal Mortimer, who has been shooting splendidly, got his shots within the centre circle of the target every time in the Handsworth competition, which opened on Monday. The distance is 800 yards with ten shots. Mortimer's markmanship yesterday at the several ranges in the Kolapore Cup competition was all the talk in the Canadian hut. His big score, the highest individual tally in the contest, pleased his fellow-countrymen immensely.

There are ten men from Canada, eleven from Australia, six from New Zealand, two from Natal, one from the West Indies, one from India, and three from Rhodesia, left to compete in the second stage of the King's Prize competition, which takes place on Friday.

Sergt. T. G. Bayles, in the Ladies' match, distance 600 yards, with eight shots, made a score of 39 out of a possible 40.

The Mackinnon Cup competition, over which differences occurred last week on account of an overtime allowance to Scotland, will take place on Monday next.

Bennett, Pte W E, 43rd D C O R..	34

NORTH GREY'S MEMBER

Dr. Horsey, M. P., Killed by the Bursting of a Flywheel.

ACCIDENT IN SUN CEMENT WORKS

Deceased Gentleman's Skull Was Fractured and He Passed Away at Owen Sound at Midnight Wednesday Night —A Popular Citizen and a Good Representative—Sketch of His Career.

Owen Sound, July 24. — Beyond question, the most distressing accident that has occurred in Owen Sound transpired at the new works of the Sun Portland Cement Company, Limited, last evening, which resulted in the death of Dr. E. H. Horsey, M.P., the principal stockholder and the promoter of the extensive enterprise, shortly after midnight.

The instalment of the plant for the extension works had only been completed within the past few days, and had been successfully put in operation. Dr. Horsey had given the closest attention to all the details of the plant, and, yesterday, was around in every department, even to the extent of giving assistance.

About 5 o'clock Mr. William P. Telford, of Telford & Co., bankers, and one of the directors of the Cement Company, visited the mill, and Dr. Horsey conducted him through the various departments. At six o'clock, when closing time came, the gentlemen were in the engine room, in which, in addition to the powerful principal engine of 650 horse power, there is an accessory engine, which is run when the big engine is closed down, and, also, to operate various lighter-running sections of the mill.

Dr. Horsey had just given instructions with regard to closing down the smaller engines and starting up the larger, and had turned to speak to Mr. Telford, when the flywheel burst into a hundred pieces, almost wrecking the building, and throwing a large section out through the roof nearly 100 yards distant.

The chief engineer and his assistant were in the room, and, with Dr. Horsey and Mr. Telford, were the sole occupants. When the effects of the bursting had been realized, it was found that Dr. Horsey was stretched on the floor, with his skull shattered back of his ear so badly that the brain was oozing out.

Drs. Lang and Hershey were called and had the injured man removed to the General and Marine Hospital.

A sad feature is that Mrs. Horsey and the family are visiting at the home of Mr. P. McDonald, Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons, at Wingham.

That so prominent a citizen should meet such a fate just as he was about to realize his highest expectations in the big industrial project, has stunned the community and an indescribable sadness is pressing down upon the community.

Dr. Horsey was elected to the House of Commons for North Grey, as a Liberal, in 1900, defeating Charles Gordon by a majority of 28. He was 35 years of age and was a medical practitioner, with the goodwill of a large section of the community, both Liberal and Conservative. Some years ago he represented the Sun Life Insurance Company in China, Japan and the Philippines, and when Li Hung Chang visited the country he was chosen by the Government to escort him across the continent.

He married a daughter of Dr. McDonald of Wingham, Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons. Two small children are the result of the union.

Tenders For Fast Line.

London, July 24. — Some tenders have been submitted for a fast Atlantic steamship line, based on a subsidy of a million and a half. Shipowners say they know Parliament would ratify such a proposition. The interests of the C.P.R. are recognized, and will be consulted, when all the tenders are received. It is hoped that the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Grand Trunk Railway will unite in making the project a success.

Religious Outbreaks in Paris.

Paris, July 24.—The agitation provoked by the order of Prime Minister Combes to close the Congregationist schools has resulted in demonstrations in favor of the nuns and teaching friars. A serious disturbance occurred at half past 10 o'clock last night on the terrace at the Cafe de Musee De Cluny. The police cleared the cafe. Several persons were injured and twenty-five arrests were made.

Death List Complete.

Hamburg, July 24.—It is now announced that 109 persons were drowned by the sinking, on Monday morning, of the steamship Primus of this port, after a collision in the River Elbe with the tug Hansa of the Hamburg-American Line.

SUCCESSION DUES.

When the estate of the late Sir Frank Smith is fully taken stock of it proves to be much larger than expected. This knightly Senator leaves behind him, besides a good name, riches to the extent of $1,300,000. This amount, with the exception of $100,000, is liable to pay toll under the Succession Duties Act, at the rate of five per cent. At this rate the estate will add $60,000 to the Provincial treasury. This Succession Duty levy falls only upon the very rich, estates less than $100,000 going to direct heirs being exempt, and thus those best able are made to contribute to the maintenance of the less fortunate, the revenue from Succession Duties being devoted to charitable purposes of the province. Since this duty was imposed in 1896, there have been contributed by the estates of the rich, to the charity fund of the province, over a million and a half of dollars. If the contention of the Opposition, as expressed by the resolution of Mr. Matheson in 1896, had prevailed, this amount of revenue would have been nearly cut in half—and the immense estate of Sir Frank Smith, instead of yielding $60,000 for charitable purposes, would have contributed only $30,000.

CANADIAN CANALS.

A correspondent of the Montreal Herald writes the following interesting letter to that journal;—

"In a recent issue of the New York Times, an article appeared giving an account of a joint meeting between the canal committee of the Produce Exchange and a sub-executive committee of the Canal Association of Greater New York, to discuss the decadence of the Erie Canal as a grain highway to the Atlantic, and to urge upon congressional representatives the necessity of modernizing that highway. During the session the figures for three weeks, ending July 12th, 1902, were given as follows;—

	Bush.
Via Canadian Routes	2,779,165
Via New York	1,097,355
Canadian excess of exports over New York	1,672,810

To a Canadian who has passed through our beautiful St. Lawrence canal system, and is familiar with the antiquated Erie canal; the wonder is that we did not get more.

On Saturday last I travelled to Prescott on the Richelieu steamer Columbian, and it was a revelation, not only to me, but to a large number of United States tourists, all of whom, I venture to say, have carried home with them impressions that going through the canals was tedious. Why, the very reverse is the case. Every minute there is something to see. As the steamer approaches the eastern entrance of the Soulanges canal one is struck with the apparent solidity of the work. But it is not until you have entered the lock that you are convinced. Then you see that here at least the peoples' money has been well spent. Mighty blocks of hammered stone form the walls and coping, and as you look ahead to the succeeding locks, which look like huge steps in the distance, and see with what ease and rapidity the attendants, whose motive power at hand is electricity, elevate your steamer, you cannot fail to be struck with the perfection of it all. But that is not all. The gravelled walks on either side, the cleanliness, and the fixtures for electric lighting at night, all combine to make a Canadian proud that he has an interest in this stupendous work. The reservoirs, too, off to one side from which each lock is fed, are right up-to-date and almost before you realise that you have entered a lock, you are through it and speeding along to the next one. To Montrealers on the look-out for something worth seeing and something that will increase their faith in this country of ours, I say take a trip to Prescott through the canals, returning via the rapids, and you will return better Canadians and better informed citizens."

Those who have contended that the days of canals are over, will have to revise their logic. The development of the Canadian West has given the Canadian canals a new lease of life, as an essential factor in the solution of the transportation problem. An American grain expert has recently asserted that the Canadian West will, within ten years, produce 250 million bushels of wheat per year. If at the present time the production for export of one-tenth of that amount, say 25 million bushels, taxes our present transportation outlets to their fullest capacity, how vast must be the transportation provisions that will avail for the shipment of 250 million bushels to the seaboard, on its way across the Atlantic where it, or at any rate, the bulk of it, must find a market. Our present splendid system of St. Lawrence canals, including, as practically part of the system, the Welland Canal, can't do one-tenth of the work, while the existing railways would be glutted with moving one-tenth of the remainder. The necessity for additional transportation, gives increased importance to the Trent Valley Canal as an auxiliary to relieving the transportation pressure. Its carrying capacity, if it were completed, would be equal, perhaps, to half a dozen railways. When the sections under contract are completed, there will be only two comparatively short stretches at either end to be constructed, to open up this important route from Midland to Trenton, and when completed throughout it will be capable of carrying millions of bushels of Northwest wheat. We need the Trent Valley Canal, the St. Lawrence Canals, and all the railways we can bring into use, to move the grain crop of the Northwest. It may be argued that Eastern Canada, especially Ontario, will be heavily taxed to supply transportation in the interests of the Northwest and West. But it will also be to the interests of Ontario, and older Canada, to submit to the expenditure necessary. The Northwest will always remain practically an agricultural and grain-growing country. The millions of people its immense areas will give employment to in this capacity, will have to depend upon Ontario and older Canada for their manufactured supplies. Though we may not at present see or feel the force of the fact, yet every settler that can be placed upon our new areas will create a draught upon our manufacturing resources. The completion of the industrial circle is a very simple process.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Whiskey is a good old-fashioned name, but from what we read in the papers nowadays, sea-serpent wouldn't be a bad synonym.

If Sir Wilfred Laurier doesn't hasten to come home, the Mail and Empire will have the general elections over without consulting the leader of the Government. The Conservative representative of yellow journalism is never happy except when it is is building mare's nests. The Mail and Empire is always seeing things, but it is hoped that the general Dominion elections, which is one of its summer seelngs, has not the same cause of origin as the summer sea-serpent.

The Mail and Empire still clings to the fiction that Ontario pulp lands and Ontario pulp wood are given away. This contention is so self-evidently wrong that it is hardly worth while to contradict it. Yet a lie, even a political one, after being repeated enough, may come to gain a sort of credence, and it is perhaps worth while to assert that not a stick of pulpwood or a single acre of pulp wood land, is given away to any company.

Sir Robert Bond, the premier of Newfoundland, who has hinted that his island province is not averse to coming into the Dominion family circle, seems not only anxious to annex Newfoundland to Canada, but to annex the whole country to England by a fast steamship express. By bridging the Strait of Canso, and extending the Intercolonial Railway to Apsey Bay, he would reduce the time from land to land to 70 hours, and if a turbine steamer, making 36 knots an hour were used, the time would be reduced to 44 hours.

Harper's Weekly, in a study of King Edward, and the relation he bears to his subjects, says;

Perhaps the essence of King Edward's great popularity is his democratic spirit, his unpretentiousness. He reserves ceremony for ceremonial occasions; at other times he is approachable, within, of course, the recognized limits no Englishman would dream of overstepping, as the most radical of his subjects could desire. The people think of him as a "good fellow," a man of the world, with tact, experience, kindliness, and an instinct for saying and doing the right thing at the right moment. Perhaps that view is correct. It paints a kingly man.

The day seems to be approaching when the Dominion of Canada must be supreme in the northern and greater half of the North American Continent. According to latest advices from England, Premier Bond of Newfoundland, is of the opinion that Newfoundland is ripe for annexation to Canada. This will mean an addition of some 220,000 to our population, and of about 165,000 miles of territory. When Newfoundland becomes a part of Canada the next move to Canadian supremacy will be to place all the British possessions north of the equator, on this side of the Atlantic, under Canadian control. This will include West India possessions, tropical or sub-tropical, which will give us a variety of resources necessary to round off our condition of a self-sustaining nation.

SOUTH BURLEIGH.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Rev. Mr. Roadhouse, Methodist pastor for the past year on Apsley circuit, has been sent to Bethany, as assistant to Rev. Mr. Robeson. During his term here the several churches have prospered both spiritually and financially. The attendance at Eden church was regular and large, and besides paying the ordinary expenses of the church, there was quite an increase in the subscriptions to the minister's salary. It is expected that in a short time the circuit will be self supporting.

Mrs. Caldor, of Montreal, is visiting her brother, Mr. Charles Lauder.

Mrs. Curtis, of Warkworth, paid a visit to her brother, Mr. William Langford, lately.

28 Gallons of Blood
pass every hour through the heart, liver and kidneys. How vastly important it should be that this blood should be pure so that these important organs are not irritated. And also how important it is that these organs should be strong and healthy, so that their work may be thoroughly accomplished. Merrill's System Tonic is not only a powerful blood purifier but a reconstructive tonic for these important organs. 50 doses, price 50 cents, at Ormond and Walsh's drugstore.

Rain in Essex, Kent, Lambton and parts of Elgin and Middlesex, has done great damage to the crops. The bean crop is spoiled, potatoes will not amount to much, and will likely rot after maturity; corn, at best, will be late, and light, white pease, oats and barley are in a doubtful state, and hay is rotting.

Not Even Crazy People would scour their faces with brickbats, but thousands of persons do things infinitely more foolish.

The skin of the face, though delicate, is rhinoceros hide compared with the mucous membrane of the stomach and bowels.

Yet these sensitive organs are constantly scoured with drastic medicines, to their incalculable injury.

C.M.R. TROOPERS DROWNED.

They Had Just Returned From London and South Africa.

Winnipeg, July 24.—Private Espie and Trumpeter Davey of the C.M.R., were drowned in the Assiniboia yesterday while returning in a rowboat from bathing. They lost control of their boat, which was dashed against a pier, and overturned by the strong current. Another man named Cuiston managed to swim to shore. He said neither of the other two nor the boat came to the surface after being overturned, as far as he could see, and even if they had, there was no one near enough to render them assistance. Davey had just returned from London, being one of the coronation contingent. He was aged 26. Espie was 29, and returned from South Africa a few days ago.

Soldiers on the Way Home.

Montreal, July 24.—Two hundred and fifty men of the Second Canadian Mounted Rifles arrived here yesterday in command of Major Merritt, Col. Evans having arrived previously by the regular train. A large crowd met the heroes, but there was no formal demonstration arranged, in their honor. The Toronto men will leave for home on the regular train this morning. Many of the men are in Halifax. Lieut. Bruce Carruthers, who was met by his young wife, is among those who remained at the port of landing.

A Soldier's Modesty.

Halifax, July 24.—In the course of an interview here, Lieut.-Bruce Carruthers, just arrived on the Winnifredian, said: "What are all the Canadian people making such a fuss about me for? Why, I only did what any other Canadian would do. You know we had a reputation to sustain out there, and no matter who it ran up against it was safe. That's the way we all felt when coming away. Why, that was my luck. I am glad, however, to see our people pleased with our work. We did our best."

At a meeting held in the Dutch Reformed Church later, in thanking those present for the welcome extended them, Gen. War From Trivial Incident.

Berlin, July 24.—Dr. B. O. Kellner, Mayor of Bloemfontein, has arrived here. Mayor Kellner says he attributes the war in South Africa to a trivial incident, namely the impoliteness shown by President Kruger to the late Cecil Rhodes during their last interview which took place on the street in Pretoria where Mr. Rhodes had arrived to carry on negotiations with Mr. Kruger. Before Mr. Rhodes could state fully the object of his visit, according to Mayor Kellner, Mr. Kruger, who had a bible under his arm, growled: "I must go to church," and broke off the interview abruptly, leaving Mr. Rhodes standing in the street. That was the last time Mr. Rhodes saw President Kruger and he left Pretoria convinced that the old man was impracticable.

Children thrive fast on it, and men and women are made stronger and kept in perfect health by its use. Your grocer recommends it.

STONY LAKE DANCE.

A Large Crowd Gathered at the Pavilion Last Night.

The "Down-Enders" gave their annual dance at the Stony Lake pavilion last evening under rather trying circumstances. In the afternoon the worst storm of the season was witnessed, and the elements almost rivalled their efforts on last Regatta Day in making things in general unpleasant. Many tents were upset and two trees were struck by lightning. Little things like these however could not deter the cottagers turning out to the dance and a large number congregated at Juniper Island. Music was furnished by the Misses Doris of town, and a very enjoyable evening was spent until about eleven o'clock, when the storm, which had subsided, broke out with fresh fury, and the guests were forced to take their departure, while the rain was pouring down in torrents.

Although the circumstances caused a great deal of discomfort, still no mishaps of any consequence were reported.

BAD JUDGMENT.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — By your leave I wish to refer to a recent police court case, and to the means employed to procure conviction of a woman charged with keeping a house of ill-repute. I do not blame the police for zeal in such matters, but I respectfully submit that greater discretion and good judgment might be used in seeking evidence. At the recent trial referred to a cloud of witnesses was summoned, some of them quite useless to prove the character of the woman in question. The idea of summoning business men to testify to the character of a house, whose only possible knowledge could be gained by selling goods to the occupant, by the delivery of parcels purchased, and these delivered by a parcel lad, who perhaps never even was inside the house. It would be just as reasonable to summon a respectable milliner, who may have supplied the woman with a bonnet, and no woman should be subjected to such an insult. The mere fact of these men being summoned subjects them to unpleasant prominence, and to the suspicion of the evil minded that they must be frequenters of such houses, or they wouldn't be summoned as witnesses. A case must be weak, and a house not a very pronounced nuisance when such extraordinary means are taken to get evidence.

The police authorities should use better judgment and not put respectable citizens to annoyance and undesirable notoriety, to serve, as far as they are concerned, no useful purpose.

Yours truly,
OBSERVER.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.

Little Daughter of Mr. James Edington, of Alanwick, Lost Her Life.

A very sad drowning accident occured in the west part of the township of Alanwick on Monday evening, by which the six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Edington lost her life. She was playing outside the house while her mother was getting supper, and went to a small freshet, about six or seven rods from the house, which had become greatly swollen from the recent heavy rains, and in some unknown manner fell in and was drowned. Mrs. Edington sent her husband to look for their daughter, and he looked about but could not find her. He then went to Mr. Peter Thackeray's near by, and he and his son searched for her in the creek. They found the little girl hanging to a bush in the creek. When found, life was extinct. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon to Thackeray's burying ground, and was very largely attended. The parents and friends of the little girl have much sympathy in their bereavement.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—The Court of Revision meets on Tuesday night.

—A special meeting of the Town Council is called for to-night. The Board of Works and Finance Committee will also meet this evening.

—Will the person who took a Massey-Harris wheel from the Crown Hotel on Monday night return it at once and oblige the owner—incidentally himself.

—A beautiful rainbow was to be seen in the western sky this morning. The old proverb of "A rainbow in the morning being a sailor's warning," has been verified to-day.

—Mr. Ben McNeelie, of Peterborough, says the Omemee Mirror, has just completed a very fine foundation for Mr. E. Jamieson's new house. Ben is a first-class stone mason.

—The memorial service at All Saints' church in connection with the death of the late Mr. Alfred Y. Hopkins will take place a week from Sunday, and not on next Sunday, as at first reported to the Examiner.

—The heavy thunderstorm of last night, brings the July rainfall up to 8 inches and 3-10ths. This is the greatest rainfall for the month that was ever known, and appearances are that even this great amount will be still further added to. The month of July, 1841—61 years ago—had a trifle over 8 inches, but not equal to the figures of the present month.

—Mr. A. R. Plummer has purchased the grocery and provision stock from Mr. J. B. Cuncannon, corner of Lake and Aylmer streets, and will continue the business on a more extended scale. An addition to the store will be erected so as to give additional stock room. Mr. Plummer intends to continue his present store at the corner of Townsend and Aylmer streets, until about September first, when he will combine the two at Lake and Aylmer streets.

—Rev. Irl R. Hicks, the weather calculator, gives in "Words and Works" a forecast of the weather for the month of August. He has assured us that the first half of the month will be dry and very warm, just the kind of weather that makes one long for a day off on a trip down the river. The Peterborough Typographical Union, No. 248, desirous of meeting the wishes of scores of citizens, has arranged for the second annual Printers' Picnic to be held on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 2nd. Leave t' town behind for one afternoon and go with the Printers and enjoy a pleasant sail to this popular resort. The City of Peterborough will leave the wharf at 2 p.m.

THE CONVENT PUPILS' SUCCESS IN MUSIC.

First or Second Class Honours Carried off by all of the Candidates.

In the report of the Toronto College of Music just published, we are pleased to see among the successful candidates in pianoforte and senior rudiments, the names of the Misses Hazel Dean, Maude Brown, Anneta Lawis, Adeline Dorris and Estella Kelly, who took the intermediate course; Bessie Wyer, Beatrice Flynn and Mararet Sullivan, the junior; Pearl Morgan and Geraldine Rudkins, the primary examinations. Special mention is due to the little primaries, the last named being a tot of eight years, who began music last September. In fact, each merits and certainly has our heartfelt congratulation on the grand success of a heavy year's work. All who tried having passed with first or second class honours.

We also extend our congratulations to the devoted teacher, who has every reason to rejoice in their unqualified success, and we wish her admirable institution, the Congregation de Notre Dame, every prosperity.

The senior rudiments class of six, ranks as follows—Misses A. Dorris, H. Dean, M. Brown, A. Lawis, E. Kelly and M. Sullivan. Their work was very credibly done, the marks taken ranging from 80 to 71 per cent.

COUGHLIN MONUMENTAL CO.

Purchased the Building now Occupied by Them—Introducing Machinery —Expansion of Trade.

The Coughlin Monumental Co., Hunter street, have purchased the three story brick building, which has been occupied for some years as their marble works and warerooms. By this purchase they have secured permanent premises for their growing trade, very convenient and well adapted for their business. The firm are also introducing machinery for the manufacture of the rough granite into the furnished and polished work. They have already installed a new polishing machine to be run by electricity, which will enable them to do much of the work usually done by the larger granite and marble factories. Their warerooms are at present stocked with a splendid variety of handsome monuments of Scotch manufacture, all ready for inscriptions. A large blue granite monument has just been completed, ready to be shipped to British Columbia, another for the North-West Territories, and several designs are being completed for New Ontario.

TWO WEEKS MORE.

Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. have been assured by their contractors that the new premises will be ready for them in two weeks. The firm expected to have moved a week earlier, but the public will be the gainers by this extra week, as it will give them more time to secure some of the rare bargains advertised during our removal sale. Come and select what you want in ordered and in ready-to-wear clothing and general furnishings. Now is the time to buy, and have the full benefit of the reductions during the hot weather. If you have been here before come again. The prices are inducing buyers to lay in stocks for future use. Preparations for fall mean that all summer goods must be hurried out of the way.

For Friday and Saturday very special values will be offered in the following lines;

Men's Fancy Cambric Shirts, only 30 cents; we have all sizes as high as 18, for stout men, and lots of them. White and fancy coloured Summer Vests, at 50c., 75c., $1, and $1.25 — all these must go. 15 dozen Men's Overalls, at 25c. a pair. Thirty dozen flannelette, cotton and moleskin working Shirts, 15c., 20c., and 25c. Many sections of the store contribute double values, which you should profit by during these two closing weeks, before we move.

H. LeBRUN & CO.

WHO DISCOVERED STONY LAKE?

Quite an animated discussion has sprung up in Toronto — for a wonder it is good natured — as to who was the discoverer of Muskoka as a summer resort. A similar question might be raised regarding the discovery of Stony Lake, one of the most delightful summer resorts on the continent. The several claims to the credit of it that are pretty certain to arise, would involve the arousing of a great many interesting reminiscences. If any one wishes to use the columns of the Examiner to announce the discover of Stony Lake as a summer resort, they are freely open to him.

THE CHARLOTTE STREET SUNDAY SCHOOL EXCURSION.

AUGUST WEATHER.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks, the weather calculator, gives in "Words and Works" a weather forecast for August. On or about the 3rd and 4th of the month "the temperature will rise to a climax of warmth, the barometer will fall from west to east, ending in threatening clouds, with thunder, light rains, and heavy bluster in many sections." "We believe," he says, "that light rainfall, or even hurtful drought for most parts of the continent until the latter part of the month especially, will prevail." It is stated that the kind of weather we shall have in August and much of September will be of the same kind as that from the first to the fifteenth of August."

A Cheap Hack.

Just a little exposure to this very changeable weather gives one the "hack," which when neglected, leads to pneumonia, congested lungs, or perhaps consumption, unless Four T's the great guaranteed one day cough and cold remedy, is taken, which does away with the hacking in 24 hours. The address presented to Miss Taylor on the occasion of a presentation to that young lady in the Baptist church on Monday evening, was not available for publication at the same time as the report of the event associated with it. It is as follows :—

Dear Miss Taylor, — As we understand that you are shortly to leave Peterborough the members of the B.Y.P.U. feel that they cannot part with you without once more expressing their personal regard and earnest prayers for your future welfare and happiness.

Having learned too of your approaching marriage with our greatly esteemed friend, Mr. Stanley Matthews, we all rejoice greatly in your present joy, and desire for you both a long life filled with all possible good. You have been as it were, a child of the church, and few have rendered more faithful or longer services in the Sunday school and other kindred organizations.

But for its cause, we would contemplate your removal with the most profound regret. Hence, since we believe, and we are sure that all your future happiness is linked with the step you are shortly to take, we will not allow one single thought of sadness to mingle with our farewell. As a slight and very inadequate token of our loving regard, we ask your acceptance of the accompanying dining room clock. We know that in your future home and under fresh surroundings you will often look at it, and we hope that it will frequently recall to your recollection old friends, old times, old joys; but even more, we trust that it will call you to somewhat of the same loving service for the Master that you have been accustomed for so many years to render at the Murray street Baptist church.

Out of a considerate regard for you, we will not say more, although there are many things that might be added, but you know better than we can express them, our hearts' warm feelings of regard, congratulation, and eternal hope.

We shall look forward to seeing Mr. Matthews and yourself frequently back in our midst, and meantime remain,

Yours very affectionately,
ROWLEY S. MERRILL,
President.

250,000,000 BUSHELS.

Predicted Annual Production of Wheat in Western Canada.

WHEAT INFLUENCES PROSPERITY

What the Learning to Eat Wheat by New Races Means to Canada—A Very Large Problem in Economics Touched Upon by an Apparently Very Wide-Awake Western American Banker.

New York, July 23.—A special to The Evening Post from Washington, says: "Within ten years Western Canada will be producing annually 250,000,000 bushels of wheat."

This is the prediction of Theodore M. Knappn of Minneapolis, made in an address before the State Bankers' Association, and other observers who have been lately quoted in these columns share his views. If this estimate proves correct, it will constitute one of the most far-reaching economic movements of the time, and one destined to have notable political effects on both sides of the line.

The prosperity of the United States always depends in large part upon the foreign market for our great cereal products, of which wheat is king. Its price is regulated in the markets of Liverpool, and as that figure goes up, prosperity smiles on the great Northwest, and when it goes down complaint deepens in the hearts of the people.

The low prices of a decade ago, which gave birth to the Farmers' Alliance and People's party movements, culminating in their capture of the Democratic party in 1896, were in no small degree due to the sudden prominence attained by Russia and the Argentine Republic in the food markets of the world. There had come to be an over supply of cereals which reacted unfavorably upon the United States. Since that time the consuming power of the world has been steadily increasing, and new markets, especially in Asia, have been opened for our cereals.

New races have learned to eat wheat, the most aristocratic of grains, and one which only the richer people have been accustomed to afford. High prosperity in the American home market, the most important of all, has supported this upward movement of prices occasioned by increased demand the world over, until our western farmers are now in a state of unprecedented prosperity. But they, without being alarmists, may properly ask where this new Canadian wheat is going to, and what will be its effect upon the world's market in case present predictions are fulfilled. The United States is to-day exporting about 80,000,000 bushels in the kernal, and as much more in the form of flour. Mr. Knappn's 250,000,000 bushels of western Canadian production within a decade would thus be nearly double the present export of the United States.

The suggestion that the existence of such a food supply on British territory, with the cattle raising possibilities of Australiasia, would make the long-discussed British Imperial federation scheme much more feasible than before, is natural. It could seemingly be accomplished without a perceptible increase in the price of foodstuffs to the English working classes, which has hitherto been the chief objection to differential tariff in favor of the colonies, as to the return to any general protective policy. But to the American wheat raiser of the Northwest the consummation of the Imperial customs union scheme is not necessary in order to make the new opening of Western Canada a serious development. On a basis of only equal opportunity in Liverpool, as to-day, the Canadians would still get as much for their wheat as our own farmers, and their cost of transporting it there would be hardly perceptibly greater. It could be shipped in bond to Duluth and thence take the routes of the American wheat, or it might be exported through Port Arthur, on the northern shore of Lake Superior. The Canadian Pacific Railroad, with its feeders, which are rapidly extending, has a double interest in making the most reasonable rates possible for this wheat movement. Its increase will bring in population and stimulate general business.

Mr. Knappn then relates the dramatic coming in of American settlers to Canada, and, after claiming that they will bring about the Americanization of Canada, proceeds:

Last year Manitoba raised as much wheat as North Dakota, and, with the three Territories of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Assiniboia, produced 62,000,000 bus. The same section will produce this year 75,000,000 bushels or about the yield of Minnesota. One Minneapolis milling company has already made arrangements to receive and grind Assiniboia wheat, in bond, and is planning to build a great mill for the exclusive grinding of Canadian wheat for the export trade. Manitoba alone has 2,500 miles of railway, and other spur tracks are building. The Canadian Pacific is active, and the Canadian Northern, the new transcontinental, whose eastern terminus is Port Arthur, is already pushing out from Erwood, 800 miles northwest to Prince Albert and Edmonton, and through the Yellow Head Pass, the lowest of mountain pathways, and down to the Pacific. It is also estimated that within three years the whistle of the locomotive will be heard on the shores of the Hudson Bay.

Our Northwest wants reciprocity with this adjoining Canadian country. It wants the removal of duty of 25 cents a bushel on wheat, which is senseless, since both countries sell in the same market, and with this, all the vexation of having to go to mill in bond and export in bond, would be avoided.

In return, the Northwest would expect a larger Canadian market for its agricultural machinery and other products. A number of the harvesting machine concerns have already established factories in Canada, but this may be due to the requirements of the patent law quite as much as to the tariff itself. Our Northwestern boundary line is purely an artifical barrier; it does not separate races, or institutions, or civilizations to any noticeable degree. For years Canadians like James J. Hill and S. R. Callaway, have been coming south of the line to grow up with us, while Americans are now going north of it to become subjects of King Edward. Since conditions of labor in this new wheat belt will not differ materially from those in the United States, it is easy to see how a vigorous agitation within the Republican party for Canadian reciprocity is bound to be heard in the near future.

AN AGED WOMAN.

After Passing Three Score and Ten Years Mrs. Plowman is Cured of Dyspepsia —A Very Serious Case.

Nothing can render old age more miserable than Dyspepsia.

Mrs. Emma Plowman, wife of Alfred Plowman, of New Lowell, Ont., is over seventy years of age, and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have completely cured her of a very bad case of Dyspepsia.

For a few years past Mrs. Plowman has been bothered more or less with stomach trouble, which finally culminated in Dyspepsia of a very aggravated form.

She tried many dyspepsia cures, but got no relief till she began to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

From the beginning she found some relief, but the improvement in her case was slow. However, she was not discouraged, but determined to keep on till every trace of her digestive organs were completely restored to a healthy condition.

Now she is enjoying perfect freedom from every symptom of Indigestion or dyspepsia, and is loud in her praise of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

It seems quite a long treatment, but, as Mr. Plowman himself says—

"Who would not spend ten dollars and a half to see his wife cured of such a distressing and painful disease?"

While it took twenty-one boxes to effect a cure in the case of this old lady it must be remembered that many cases are cured by a much shorter treatment.

Everything depends on the severity of the case and the general physical condition of the patient.

Some systems respond more quickly and positively to medical treatment than others do. Age has something to do with this.

Some do not continue the treatment without interruption till cured, but stop the moment relief begins and thus do not give the remedy a fair chance.

But this is true:—There is no case of Stomach Trouble, no matter how acute or of how long standing, that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will not cure if persisted in according to directions.

Had Bleeding, Itching Piles

And now Claims That the Best Thing in the World for Piles is

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

The doctors are wrong. They usually claim that an operation, with all its risk, pain and expense, is the only cure for piles. We can prove by the statements of thousands of good, honest men and women that Dr. Chase's Ointment not only promptly relieves the suffering from piles, but also positively cures this dreadful ailment. It frequently cures after the knife has failed.

Mr. J. F. Miller, who is employed as cooper by the Kennedy & Davis Milling Co., Lindsay, Ont., states,— "I believe that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the best thing in the world for the piles. I say this because it has positively and thoroughly cured me of itching, bleeding piles, and this after all other remedies I could procure had failed. I can recommend this ointment to anyone suffering from piles, knowing that it will certainly cure."

Confederation Practicable.

St. John's, Nfld., July 23.—Widespread interest is developing here over the speech delivered in London last week by Sir Robert Bond, the Premier of Newfoundland, in which he declared that the confederation of Newfoundland with the Dominion of Canada was mainly a question of terms from the latter. Press and public are discussing the matter eagerly, and the feeling is generally expressed that Prime Minister Bond's speech makes the question a practical one and is likely to result in action being taken at the next session of the Legislature.

St. Vincent Still Shaking.

Kingstown, Island of St. Vincent, Monday, July 21.—There was another terrific earthquake here at 1.10 o'clock Sunday morning. It was of long duration, and was accompanied by a repetition of the phenomena of Thursday last. The shock caused intense excitement among the inhabitants. Some people anticipate a tidal wave.

THE LIBERTY BELL.

"IT IS TO YOU WHAT MAGNA CHARTA IS TO ENGLAND."

So Said King Edward VII. When He as Prince of Wales Visited an Old Lumber Room of American Independence Relics at Washington—How He Saved the Bell.

One of the most interesting exhibits at the great Chicago exhibition a few years ago was what was termed the "Liberty Bell." Not many Americans are aware that this relic of the Declaration of Independence owed its recovery to a place of honour to the Prince of Wales. When the Prince was in America, for the first and last time as a young man, he was taken to Independence Hall, Philadelphia, which contains various mementos of the chief historical events in the story of the United States. He was shown portraits of the chief protagonists, the manuscripts of the famous Declaration. But none of these affected him much. At last he was conducted to the garret where the bell was rung when the Declaration was proclaimed. Immediately his curiosity was aroused, and he asked where the bell was. It lay hidden among all sorts of debris in what had become a lumber-room. The Prince gazed at the cracked bell, when it had been rescued from its obscurity, and said to those who stood around him: "This old bell is the greatest relic this Republic has to-day. Instead of being here, covered with this accumulated dirt, it should occupy the chief place in the Hall of Independence. It is to you what Magna Charta is to England. It is cracked, but it is an inspiration. Believe me, it affects me more than anything I have been shown."

The bell was henceforward taken to the Hall, and when it was lent to the World's Fair it was transported to Chicago under the guard of several policemen.

America's Welcome.

As soon as it was intimated that the Prince of Wales was crossing from Canada to the United States the American newspapers began to teem with exciting information of a more or less reliable nature. The Prince had said on leaving the Canadian border: "In a private capacity I am about to visit before I return home that remarkable land which claims with us a common ancestry, and in whose extraordinary progress every Englishman feels a common interest." After calling at Detroit and Chicago, the Prince came to Washington to pay his respects as "Lord Renfrew" to the President. He arrived on October 30th, and was President Buchanan's guest at the White House, the official home of the President. As Mr. Buchanan had no wife to discharge the duties of hospitality, his niece, Miss Harriet Lane, acted as hostess. After the conclusion of the Prince's stay in America, she received a fine portrait with his autograph as a memento of a pleasant visit. Miss Lane married, and in her lovely home there was no more treasured possession than this reminder of the time when she, as a young lady, entertained the future Sovereign of Great Britain. The President wrote to Queen Victoria as follows: "In our domestic circle he has won all hearts. His free and ingenuous intercourse with myself evinced both a kind heart and a good understanding."

At New York.

At Philadelphia, whither the Prince next went, he attended a grand concert at which Adelina Patti, whose star was just then rising in the musical horizon, sang, and was honoured by presentation to him. Then came some exciting days in New York, crowded by visitors from all parts of the United States intent on seeing the Prince. To this day there are many stories of the experiences which the Prince had in New York. It was estimated that at least half a million of people crowded the streets on the day of his arrival, and their eagerness to catch a glimpse of the young Prince led to amusing results. For five days the furore continued, and it is a joke that there are still scores of ladies who boast of having danced with King Edward VII. in New York.

A ball on a gigantic scale was the chief event of the Prince's visit, and was given by the Mayor and Corporation of New York in the Academy of Music. For some time afterwards there were heart-burnings at the necessary restriction of the invitations; and even as it was there were far too many guests present to make the function altogether a success. About three thousand invitations were accepted, and so great was the pressure around the Prince and his entertainers that at last the floor gave way! Fortunately the accident was not very alarming, and amused the party more than it frightened them. The Prince as usual seemed in the highest spirits, and did his best to give pleasure by bestowing favours on as many persons as possible.

While he was at New York he saw a wonderful display of the readiness of the Fire Brigade to meet sudden emergencies. About 6,000 firemen and officers were paraded before him, and, as he was always particularly interested in the work of fire brigades, nothing could have been more to his taste. After New York came brief excursions to Albany, Boston (where he met Emerson, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Longfellow, and other distinguished citizens), the Prince went to Harvard University and to Bunker's Hill.

Realism.

"I took the manuscript of my 'Old Oak Tree' down to that irritable editor."

"What did he say?"

"Advised me to cut it down. I thought he was making jokes at my expense and told him he didn't know his business."

"What happened then?"

"There was a storm, and you could see the leaves of my 'Old Oak Tree' strewn from the sanctum to the street."—Chicago News.

LION STALKING.

Tracking the Monarch of the Jungle Very Dangerous—No Pastime If You May Judge by the Stories Below.

In "A Tale of Several Lions," by Hercules D. Viljoen, in the June Era, the author writes:

"Van Aardt came to me and suggested a little lion hunting. Now, I knew lions as well as he; deliberate hunting for a lion who mourns a murdered mate was a proceeding so temerarious that the most foolhardy of professional hunters would not dare the conflict. But in the near neighborhood of the spot where Madame Lioness had been killed there was one lion with an earthquake voice whose rumblings fascinated the fiery spirit of Van Aardt.

"I am going," he said.

I could not let him go alone, for we had fought too often side by side. We started off, my reckless comrade laying out, in calmest confidence, the artless plan he had of walking up to that tumultuous hell of wrath incarnate and of blowing a few lethal holes in it with his Mauser.

As we came nearer, the roars ceased. The lion, weary with his imprecations of the night, had gone away from the scene of his bereavement for rest and sleep. But we found in the jungle's depths the footway he had trod; in a sentry path of 20 feet he had stalked back and forth for twelve hours, calling aloud for vengeance.

Kristmansen, who had looked upon Van Aardt as a hot-headed madman for a time, decided he would use the morning for a peaceful springbok hunt, and took his Kaffir boy along. He went in the direction opposite to ours. After half an hour's close tracking, the Kaffir, who had been in advance, appeared at his elbow with impish suddenness, and in a whispered word:

"Baas, a lion!"

Kristmansen started ahead of him. There in a tiny clearing not 30 yards away, the monarch stood, his mane quivering with the intensity of his attention, and his brilliant eyeballs gleaming in the effort to penetrate the single veil of cover that hid the hunter from his view. The Kaffir had a faith in his master that was sublime.

"Shoot, Baas, shoot!"

Kristmansen knew that death stood waiting for him in the clearing beyond. The chances were all against a first fatal shot. The wounded lion would tear him into shreds of mangled flesh before he could have time to fly.

Step by step, his very breath pent up, he made the slow retreat. The Kaffir, fancying all his master need to do was to fire a single shot, accompanied him with an expression of disdain. For 10 good minutes, Kristmansen paced backwards, and then came swiftly to the camp again upon the chance of making up a party whose numbers would mean safety in a concerted attack. But the majority of us were away, and that lion, with all the others among the spouses of Faric's lioness, went unmolested from that day forth.

I was in Pretoria a little later and saw a sight that told me how wise Kristmansen had been. The oldest lion hunter of the Transvaal shook me by the hand—and used his left hand for the greeting. The other arm hung, withered and helpless, at his side. Only half his face was there to speak to me. The other half went into a lion's maw a few months earlier.

He was hunting springbok with his son, and carried an ancient muzzle loader. A dead shot, the old man decried a buck not 50 feet away, and kneeling, fired. The crack of the rifle was answered by the snarling roar of a wounded lion. The bullet, passing through the buck, had struck the mighty beast as he was about to spring. And it had no more than wounded him.

He leaped for the smoke, coming on in flying bounds, while my old friend fumbled wildly with his powder horn. He was too slow. The bullet had not dropped into the barrel before the lion was upon him.

One crunch of his tremendous jaws, and an arm was stripped to the bone. Another, and the side of his face had vanished. The cavernous throat above the prostrate man roared once more, before the teeth should clash together, when the son, running up, put his rifle barrel to the lion's side, and drove a half-ounce bullet through his heart.

The chances are in favor of the lion when accident brings him and man together.

Good Health for Capital.

Maintaining good health is to the majority of people the most vital question in the world; and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and Restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Naturally, gradually and certainly it forms new red corpuscles in the blood, creates new, healthy nerve cells, and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defies disease.

ENORMOUS WHEAT YIELD.

Manitoba and Northwest Crop Greatly in Excess of Last Year.

Winnipeg, July 24.—The report of the condition of the crops along lines of the Canadian Northern Railway yesterday, as furnished by agents, shows prospects as very bright for a bumper crop and the general prediction is that the yield will be fully as large per acre as last year in many places, and even larger in others. This fact, with the largely increased acreage of last year, would indicate that the total crop harvested will exceed that of last season by several million bushels, when the entire province is taken into account.

A striking feature is that the bright outlook does not exist merely in any one section, but covers all districts.

The weather was very warm yesterday, 90 in the shade.

The Imperial Conference.

London, July 24.—Absolutely nothing definite has resulted from the Imperial Conference. There has merely been a general discussion. No resolutions have been formulated. Britain is reticent in regard to preferential duties and steamship subsidies.

Sir John Bourinot Sinking.

Ottawa, July 24.—Sir John Bourinot's condition last night was reported to be unchanged. He shows no signs of improvement, and when he does rally for a time, he sinks back as weak as ever. There is very slight hopes for his recovery.

The First in the World.

Merrill's System Tonic is the first medicine to combine the tonic with the reconstructive treatment in the cure of disease. The blood is purified, new blood is made, the nerves, muscles and tissues of the heart, kidneys, liver and stomach, are toned and strengthened, and then nature is enabled to throw off the disease, which has been ravishing the body. For Constipation, Catarrh and Chronic Rheumatism, System Tonic is a positive cure. Sold at 50 cents a bottle by Ormond and Walsh.

Cross-Petition Against J. P. Shaw.

Kingston, July 24.—A cross-petition has been issued against J. M. Shaw, late Conservative candidate in the Ontario election, asking for his disqualification.

J. S. Gallagher, M.P.P.-elect for Frontenac, has given notice of a writ to be issued against Sheriff Dawson for committing illegal acts during the election campaign.

One Common Cause of Headache.

Perhaps the most general cause of headache and pain across the eyes is nasal catarrh. The simplest cure is to inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone which traverses every air cell and air passage of the throat, lungs and nose. It kills myriads of germs at every breath, clears away mucous discharges, preserves and heals the membrane. Catarrhozone is just a splendid remedy for headache, and its action is certain and unfailing in diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma and Catarrh. A trial will convince the most sceptical that Catarrhozone is all right. Large size, $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

DELIGHTS OF THE KAWARTHA LAKES.

Appreciative Pen Picture of the Summer Pleasures of These Island-Studded Water Stretches.

The following is taken from the Christian Guardian, Toronto:—

Perhaps it is not too much to say that no spot on this continent is as highly favoured in the matter of restful retreats from the heat and turmoil of the city life as is the Province of Ontario, for the distance from the city centres is so short that the time and expense are reduced to an inconsiderable item.

Muskoka has, for long years, been a name to conjure with when the thought of summer outing has been to the fore, and, no doubt, for long ages, this spot shall continue to attract its thousands from all parts of the United States, as well as from the cities of our own land. But the Kawartha Lake region has of late come to the notice of the people, and in some respects it is likely to stand the rival of the older and more widely known resorts. The name Kawartha is apt and most appropriate, inasmuch as it gathers into the mind the long ages of Indian occupancy of this beautiful chain of lakes, which rest like a string of blue diamonds upon the bosom of our lovely highlands.

Nothing can surpass the delight of a sail on a summer's day through this bewilderment of beauty. Each point is within easy reach of the centres of life in the border cities, as the doors of this sylvan water world, at Coboconk, Lindsay, and Lakefield, are reached by well equipped excursion trains, and the staunch, well-manned lake steamboats are ever in waiting for the eager tourist.

The Government has, at great expense, put these waterways in such conditions as to overcome the natural difficulties in the way of navigation, so that the trip of about one hundred miles is both safe and luxurious.

Considering what man has done in the way of first-class transportation both by wheel and keel, and the up-to-dateness of the summer hotels of these points, together with what nature has done in this labyrinth of river, lake and forest land, nothing is wanting to entice the tired toiler from the store and counting house, and from the up-town residence, to those sylvan haunts, where nature in all her glory and peaceful quietude weaves the magic spell of health and rejuvenation.

Kawartha may not vie in point of sublimity with the serrated peaks of the rockies, nor may we here enjoy the luxury of the surf bath of the ocean, but these cannot compare with the inexpressible ecstasy of a canoe trip upon these sweet waters, amid the shade and shine of a Canadian summer's day, to some sequestered cove, with its Indian associations throughout the long ages in which the red man trod the adjacent forest paths and clove the yielding waters with his birch-bark canoe.

The night scene amongst the camps and cottages, which are ever on the increase, is an experience never to be forgotten, and once witnessed is ever after suggestive of fairyland. On bowlying promonitory, and more lofty headland, the campers' lights are seen in the darkness of the night, and at times they are suggestive of the war fires of the painted savage of bygone days; but those now present are merrymaekrs, in picturesque costume, who with laughter, song, and story, fill up a picture which will eclipse the most realistic drama to be seen on any stage.

A moonlight trip on Stony Lake in a flotilla of small boats, under the control of a pretty steam yacht, threading her way amid a network of islands, and through narrow channels, overhung with whispering pine and ghostly birch, while the songs of th eparty are echoed back from the forest by the plaintive notes of the whip-poor-will, punctuated by the laughter of the loon, far out upon the water, all go to make up a concert of experiences to be realized seldom in the life of this busy toilsome world. Yet this is the daily and normal experience of the camper on these lakes in the summer days.

Time was when most people in this country looked upon such experiences as luxuries for the wealthy, and for them alone, but of late years we are learning a better lesson, for already we have come to see that each annare pent up in the hot storage of city life for the space of eleven months of the year, and compelled to gaze only upon the artificialities of the human hand, that to such, nature is a great physician, healing not only the body, but the mind and the soul as well. It is a sign of the times that many of the largest employers of labour, for prudential reasons, are considering the human atom, who toils ten hours each day, and now the vacation is deemed essential to the highest effciency in any sphere of activity.

This fact will apply equally to those who toil in the higher or lower grades of human labour, and we in Ontario are most happily situated that at our own doors nature has made such provision for the sweltering months of our summer time.

A trip of seventy miles from Lakefield to Coboconk, on a well appointed boat, passing through Lakes Katchewanooka, Clear, Stony and through the far-famed Burleigh Falls by well constructed looks, up Lovesick to Buckhorn Falls and locks, and into Chemong and Pigeon aLkes, to beautiful Bobcaygeon. Then onward still to Fenelon Falls, and over Cameron Lake to Rosedale, and across Balsam Lake to Coboconk, is a panorama of beauty far eclipsing the art of European galleries.

Here the angler is in his paradise, and he yields himself to the toil of the oar with never a regret when he beholds the denizens of the deep rise to the patient allurement of his glittering bait.

Perhaps it is not too much to say that the bright waters of Kawartha give the keen fisherman the fullest opportunity for satisfaction of any spot on the continent. Here is the home of the bass, pike, maskinonge and salmon, and few who have come to these waters and have been guided by the "knowing ones" have left without a well-filled bag.

Store, post office, supply boat, and restful Sunday services, all add to the luxury of this not too widely known region.

Why then do so many rush across the continent for rest, or spend time and much money to cross the ocean, when earth's best delights are at our doors?

LACROSSE.

The City League Game between the Y.M.C.A. and the T.A,SS, teams billed for last night on the oval, did not take place on account of the heavy downpour of rain. The different officials of the League were on the oval and the T.A.S. team arrived on the green in a bus about seven o'clock, but only half the "Y" team braved the storm and put in an appearance. However the players present indulged in a practice until dark.

BASEBALL.

The Excelsior Baseball Team succeeded in defeating the Bobcaygeon nine by a score of 7 to 3 in a match at the latter place last Saturday. The boys drove to Chemong, where they had Captain Lewis' yacht Pearl chartered to take them up, and after a most enjoyable sail of two and a half hours arrived in Bobcaygeon in good time for dinner. Rain in the afternoon prevented a large number from witnessing the game, nevertheless 150 spectators were present. The match was fast and exciting all through the nine innings, the village boys playing remarkably good ball. The batteries for Bobcaygeon were Lecomb and McIntyre; for the Excelsiors, Flaherty and Bellaghem. Mr. Robert Reid umpired the game to the entire satisfaction of every one. On account of an accident to the Pearl the boys did not return home that evening but remained over until Sunday afternoon. Everyone speaks in glowing terms of the treatment received at the hands of their friends in the northern village, and some do not hesitate to say that Captain Lewis is the best man in the town.

FOOTBALL.

The Football Match between Bethany and Mount Pleasant in Omemee on Thursday, resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 2 to 0. Both teams put up some good playing, but the Bethany eleven seemed to be the stronger, and their playing showed they had wasted but little time in practicising since their previous match.

HOCKEY.

Anyone interested in hockey will remember "Colt" Metcalfe, who used to play point for the Kingston Frontenacs. The following news has been received of him;—"While in London, Kingston members of the Coronation Contingent had the pleasure of meeting Veterinary-Captain "Colt" Metcalfe, a member of the South African war contingent to the Coronation. Capt. Metcalfe looked the picture of health and was, to use his own phrase, "in clover." He was glad to meet the Kingston boys and sent home kind regards to friends. He informed the Kingstonians that he intended returning to South Africa, having been appointed a veterinary-captain in the Imperial service, which rank will net him about $7.50 a day. He held the local rank of captain, which he was given upon landing in South Africa a second time; this was only a colonial rank, which now has been made permanent by the Imperial war office. As a colonial captain his pay was only about $5.00 per day. He sent home with the Kingston boys a sketch of himself, which some English war artist had made of him."

AN ASPHODEL FAREWELL PARTY

On Thursday, July 17th, the ratepayers of S. S. No. 6, Asphodel, assembled at the beautiful residence of Mr. A. A. Fife, to spend an evening of social amusements with their teacher, Miss Marguerite E. O'Connell. At the conclusion of the programme Mr. Patrick Fallon stepped forward, and on behalf of the ratepayers read the following address to Miss O'Connel;—

Dear Friend,—Having learned with a great deal of regret that you are about to leave us (for a short time only) we desire to express to you in some way the esteem in which we have always held you, and although we deeply regret your departure from our midst, we cannot but rejoice that your unassuming, kindly manner, earnestness and zeal in fulfilling the duties of a teacher has won the admiration of all, both old and young, as well as the approbation of all the leading educationalists in this vicinity. During your teaching term here you have given us many proofs of your unflagging zeal and disinterested energy in furthering the noble and beneficial aims of our children's education.

More over, we desire to express our recognition of your pleasing manner and unfailing good humor amid the perplexing occurences of country life.

And merely as a token of our sincerity, we ask you to accept this gold watch, so that when you have occasion to look at it, it will refresh your memory with pleasing incidents of the past days you have spent among us, while teaching in S.S. No. 6, Asphodel

Signed on behalf of the ratepayers of No. 6—

PATRICK FALLON,
ALFRED A. FIFE,
GEORGE POWEL.

Mr. A. A. Fife then came forward and presented Miss O'Connell with a beautiful gold watch.

Miss O'Connell was much overcome by the kindness of her friends, but replied in feeling terms, thanking them for their expression of esteem and assuring them that she always felt at home in S. S. No. 6., and particularly so at the residence of the persons whose names appeared on the address. She had remained in the vicinity for a few weeks after the school term in order that she might visit the families of her section, and if she had not got around them all she hoped that she would have the pleasure some time again.

STOCK MARKETS.

Twenty Billions in Farms—Their Import Upon Current Market.

New York, July 23.—On July 21st the Census Bureau issued a report on the farms of the United States, which numbered about five and three-quarter millions. They are valued at about twenty billions. The total value of farm products in 1899 was $4,739,000,000, of which 36 per cent. represented the value of animal products and the balance represented the value of produced crops. In 1900 there were nearly four times as many farms as in 1850, and over 25 per cent. more than in 1890. Since 1880 the total acreage has increased in greater ratio than has the number of farms, consequently their average size has increased. The western division shows the highest average values per farm of farm land, live stock and products. The rapidly producing numbers of farms is one of the safeguards of the country and the underlying principles upon which our present national prosperity is based. They are the original producers of wealth, supply th eoriginal freights for the great railway systems, produce much raw material, which in turn is handled by the manufacturer and again freighted to the consumer. They are also a great market for manufactured products. If any country at periods when the farmer is prosperous and an era of rising prices prevail. It is, therefore, with much satisfaction that the owners of American securities should receive this government statistical report. We see no sign of any exhaustion of the current market movement. The market stiffs most naturally from time to time under profit-taking and moderate hammering by the bears. Dullness sets in each time at the concessions, and a raft of purchasing orders are placed by people willing to take advantage of the re-action.

The public are coming in gradually, but are not by any means in sufficient body to jeopardize the market situation. All the news to hand favours the bull operators, and there are no symptoms at present which would warrant any extreme caution in purchasing securities. Underlying conditions are most excellent. The most powerful capitalists of Wall street are arrayed upon the bull side and every reason exists for anticipating still further improvements in prices.

CANNOT LEAVE COUCH

His Majesty's Strength, However Is Returning Rapidly.

KING'S DOCTORS ARE SATISFIED

Steady Progress Towards Convalescence—Wound Is Granulating Well and His Majesty Is Doing Well in All Other Respects—King Will Hold Council Aboard Victoria and Albert Saturday.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, July 25.—An official bulletin yesterday on board the royal yacht Victoria and Albert says:

"The King continues to make uninterrupted progress; although His Majesty is not yet able to leave his couch, his strength is returning satisfactorily. (Signed) Treves, Laking, Bankhart."

Wound Granulating Well.

London, July 25.—The British Medical Journal says: "We are glad to be able to state that the King is doing well in all respects. The wound is granulating well, but the King still keeps a strictly recumbent position and has not yet left his couch. He is moved from the bed to the couch daily and is wheeled on deck when the weather permits. There is no truth in the statement that he has walked, nor is there any foundation for the assertion that he is worse. His Majesty's health is excellent."

King Will Hold a Council.

London, July 25. — King Edward will hold a council aboard the Victoria and Albert next Saturday, when, it is expected, the new cabinet will be settled. These appointments are likely to be announced next week.

The Daily Telegraph this morning says the King sat up for a time yesterday, and for the first time since the operation upon him was permitted to stand and take a couple of steps.

OKA MONASTERY BURNED,

Ninety-Seven Priests and Monks Temporarily Rendered Homeless

Montreal, July 25.—One of the familiar landmarks on the shores of the Lake of the Mountains on the River Ottawa, has almost disappeared. The wonderful trappist Monastery of Oka, which took years to build, and where 97 priests and monks from all over the world were carrying out vows of perpetual labor, perpetual prayer and perpetual silence, is now a heap of crumbling ruins. A fire started, no one knows how, and though the priests and monks and laymen, employed about the building, headed by Father Columbian, the prior, worked with all their might to save the buildings, and though they were assisted by the 30 odd pupils of the Agricultural School, belonging to the monastery, and situated a mile distant therefrom, their efforts could not prevent the magnificent edifice from burning entirely to the ground. Wonderful to relate, there was no loss of life, and the monks and priests got out safely, although two monks, Brother Seraphin, who was blind and another brother, who was in the hospital, suffering from consumption, are expected to die. They were rescued from the top storey at the risk of the rescuers lives. The loss is placed at $300,000, and there was $107,000 insurance on the building.

HART'S RIVER HEROES.

Toronto, July 25.—Several hundred people were waiting on the station platform last night to welcome the returning members of the 2nd C.M.R. Thousands thronged the streets outside the station, and the boys got a great and spontaneous welcome home. Mayor Howland welcomed them, and speeches were made by Col. Buchan, Major Merritt, and others. The speeches were delivered from the gallery of the Armories, which were decorated with flags.

Warm Welcome at Hamilton.

Hamilton, July 25.— The citizens were ready in thousands last night to give the heartiest sort of a welcome to the Hamilton boys of the newly-arrived South African contingent, but in the absence of any definite arrangements for their reception the welcome was not a widely enthusiastic one. The train due to arrive at 8.30 did not come in till 9.25. Mayor Hendrie, a number of officers belonging to the Fourth Field Battery and 13th Regiment and several thousands of citizens gathered in and about James street station, and when the train arrived, loud cheers went up and the 13th band played "See the Conquering Hero Comes."

NO MEDALS OR WAR GRATUITY

For 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles.

Ottawa, July 25. — Ottawa was ready with a fitting reception for its heroes of the second C.M.R, but only five out of 23 arrived: Lieut.-Col. Evans, Lieut. Dug Graham, Reg.-Sergt.-Major Bliss, Vet.-Surgeon James and Dr. Whitton—and the occasion proved a disappointment to most of those who attended.

There will be no South African medals or war gratuity for the homecoming 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles, as they were not disembarked until after peace had been proclaimed. The Imperial army order 160 makes this perfectly plain.

Boy Probably Fatally Injured.

Shallow Lake, July 25.—Milton, the three-year-old son of John Sinclair, blacksmith, had, unnoticed by Mr. Farley, got under his waggon, and when the load started was knocked down and run over by the front wheel of the waggon, and badly injured about the neck and abdomen. He cannot recover.

300 Persons Drowned.

Hong Kong, July 23.—A native steamer was capsized in the West River, and two hundred persons have been drowned.

TENDER FROM C.P.R

Make Offer for Fast Atlantic Steamship Service.

OTHER INTERESTS CONCERNED.

C.P.R.'s Tender Forms Part of the Business Engaging the Considerations of the Imperial and Canadian Governments in Conference—Will Provide Good Service if Successful—Others' Positions.

Montreal, July 25.—It was announced yesterday on official authority that the Canadian Pacific Railway have tendered for fast Atlantic steamship service.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, who made this announcement, remarked that if successful the company were in a position to provide a service which they felt satisfied would prove satisfactory to the people of Canada both as regards passengers and freight. The president of the Canadian Pacific did not feel at liberty to enter into details with respect to the offer that had been made, but in the course of the next few days further particulars will be forthcoming.

It is understood that the Canadian Pacific offer is not the only one that is engaging the attention of the conference, and that all the tenders received stipulate for a substantial subsidy from the Imperial and Canadian Governments. The amount of the subsidy mentioned is a million and a half dollars, the proportion of two-thirds being borne by Canada and one-third by Great Britain.

The feeling in railway circles here is that the present is an exceptionally favorable time for the settlement once for all of the fast line problem.

Canadian railway men have realized that the establishment of the North Atlantic Steamship organization, which has absorbed so many of the principal existing Atlantic lines, is conducting the business with no regard whatever to the interests of the railways of Canada. The line which the Canadian Pacific Co. has in view, will, it is said, consist of new steamers, which, as regards equipment and speed, would be in advance of any now afloat. It is realized that in this would lie the top of successful competition for the Atlantic passenger service, which would be a very important element in the production of revenue.

Elder-Dempster Company's Position.

Mr. D. W. Campbell, Manager of the Elder-Dempster Company, who has just returned from England, said to-day: "I went over for a conference with Sir Alfred Jones, the head of the Elder-Dempster Company. There is, as the cables have stated, large negotiations on, but at present it would be premature to make a statement of the proposals on either side. The British public view with a good deal of alarm the formation of the North Atlantic pool by Mr. Morgan, and applaud the determination of the Elder-Dempster Company, the Allans, the Cunard and other companies that have refused to go into it. We, for the present at least, have decided to stay out of the combine. We believe the people of Canada are with us in this. In England I found the Canadian Ministers anxious that a proposal for services should be submitted to them by the Elder-Dempster Company and the Allan Line. The consequence was a proposal on the part of the two lines for several services, one in England, to the Cape and to Australia. I cannot state exactly what these proposals were, but the questions of service and subsidies are now being considered. We believe that the subsidized service in England should be for 18-knot boats. I do not believe that 23 or 25 knot steamers should be put on yet. I do not think it would pay the Government to offer sufficient subsidy for such a service. The country is not ready for it. I think, too, the service should be given to the Allan and the Elder-Dempster Companies to insure success. Any other company coming in, the C.P.R. or any other, would have to meet us. We are established here now and are not going to leave the St. Lawrence without a struggle. Any other company would have the two lines to compete with. To insure the success of the fast line project, I believe the two lines I have mentioned will have to be dealt with."

Arbitrator's Award.

Hamilton, July 25.—Judge Snider's award in the toll roads arbitration was as follows: Hamilton and Stony Creek consolidation road, $24,000; Barton and Glanford road, county pays $15,000 for the Mount Hope division, and $3,000 for the Mount Albion division; the city pays $1,800 as its share; Hamilton and Nelson road, County of Wentworth pays $3,895.66; Ancaster road (not arbitrated on), county pays $10,000; Hamilton and Port Flamboro road, county pays $1,000. The total price to be paid for the roads amounts to $63,104.30.

CANNOT LEAVE COUCH

His Majesty's Strength, However Is Returning Rapidly.

KING'S DOCTORS ARE SATISFIED

Steady Progress Towards Convalescence—Wound Is Granulating Well and His Majesty Is Doing Well in All Other Respects—King Will Hold Council Aboard Victoria and Albert Saturday.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, July 25.—An official bulletin yesterday on board the royal yacht Victoria and Albert says:

"The King continues to make uninterrupted progress; although His Majesty is not yet able to leave his couch, his strength is returning satisfactorily. (Signed) Treves, Laking, Bankhart."

Wound Granulating Well.

London, July 25.—The British Medical Journal says: "We are glad to be able to state that the King is doing well in all respects. The wound is granulating well, but the King still keeps a strictly recumbent position and has not yet left his couch. He is moved from the bed to the couch daily and is wheeled on deck when the weather permits. There is no truth in the statement that he has walked, nor is there any foundation for the assertion that he is worse. His Majesty's health is excellent."

King Will Hold a Council.

London, July 25. — King Edward will hold a council aboard the Victoria and Albert next Saturday, when, it is expected, the new cabinet will be settled. These appointments are likely to be announced next week.

The Daily Telegraph this morning says the King sat up for a time yesterday, and for the first time since the operation upon him was permitted to stand and take a couple of steps.

OKA MONASTERY BURNED,

Ninety-Seven Priests and Monks Temporarily Rendered Homeless.

Montreal, July 25.— One of the familiar landmarks on the shores of the Lake of the Mountains on the River Ottawa, has almost disappeared. The wonderful trappist Monastery of Oka, which took years to build, and where 97 priests and monks from all over the world were carrying out vows of perpetual labor, perpetual prayer and perpetual silence, is now a heap of crumbling ruins. A fire started, no one knows how, and though the priests and monks and laymen, employed about the building, headed by Father Columbian, the prior, worked with all their might to save the buildings, and though they were assisted by the 30 odd pupils of the Agricultural School, belonging to the monastery, and situated a mile distant therefrom, their efforts could not prevent the magnificent edifice from burning entirely to the ground. Wonderful to relate, there was no loss of life, and the monks and priests got out safely, although two monks, Brother Serapin, who was blind and another brother, who was in the hospital, suffering from consumption, are expected to die. They were rescued from the top storey at the risk of the rescuers lives. The loss is placed at $300,000, and there was $107,000 insurance on the building.

HART'S RIVER HEROES.

Toronto, July 25.—Several hundred people were waiting on the station platform last night to welcome the returning members of the 2nd C.M.R. Thousands thronged the streets outside the station, and the boys got a great and spontaneous welcome home. Mayor Howland welcomed them, and speeches were made by Col. Buchan, Major Merritt, and others. The speeches were delivered from the gallery of the Armories, which were decorated with flags.

Warm Welcome at Hamilton.

Hamilton, July 25.— The citizens were ready in thousands last night to give the heartiest sort of a welcome to the Hamilton boys of the newly-arrived South African contingent, but in the absence of any definite arrangements for their reception the welcome was not a widely enthusiastic one. The train due to arrive at 8.30 did not come in till 9.25. Mayor Hendrie, a number of officers belonging to the Fourth Field Battery and 13th Regiment and several thousands of citizens gathered in and about James street station, and when the train arrived, loud cheers went up and the 13th band played "See the Conquering Hero Comes."

NO MEDALS OR WAR GRATUITY

For 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles.

Ottawa, July 25. — Ottawa was ready with a fitting reception for its heroes of the second C.M.R, but only five out of 23 arrived: Lieut.-Col. Evans, Lieut. Dug. Graham, Reg.-Sergt.-Major Bliss, Vet.-Surgeon James and Dr. Whitton—and the occasion proved a disappointment to most of those who attended.

There will be no South African medals or war gratuity for the homecoming 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles, as they were not disembarked until after peace had been proclaimed. The Imperial army order 169 makes this perfectly plain.

Boy Probably Fatally Injured.

Shallow Lake, July 25.—Milton, the three-year-old son of John Sinclair, blacksmith, had, unnoticed by Mr. Farley, got under his waggon, and when the load started was knocked down and run over by the front wheel of the waggon, and badly injured about the neck and abdomen. He cannot recover.

200 Persons Drowned.

Hong Kong, July 23.—A native steamer was capsized in the West River, and two hundred persons have been drowned.

TENDER FROM C.P.R

Make Offer for Fast Atlantic Steamship Service.

OTHER INTERESTS CONCERNED.

C.P.R.'s Tender Forms Part of the Business Engaging the Consideration of the Imperial and Canadian Governments in Conference—Will Provide Good Service If Successful—Others' Positions.

Montreal, July 25.—It was announced yesterday on official authority that the Canadian Pacific Railway have tendered for fast Atlantic steamship service.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, who made this announcement, remarked that if successful the company were in a position to provide a service which they felt satisfied would prove satisfactory to the people of Canada both as regards passengers and freight. The president of the Canadian Pacific did not feel at liberty to enter into details with respect to the offer that had been made, but in the course of the next few days further particulars will be forthcoming.

It is understood that the Canadian Pacific offer is not the only one that is engaging the attention of the conference, and that all the tenders received stipulate for a substantial subsidy from the Imperial and Canadian Governments. The amount of the subsidy mentioned is a million and a half dollars, the proportion of two-thirds being borne by Canada and one-third by Great Britain.

The feeling in railway circles here is that the present is an exceptionally favorable time for the settlement once for all of the fast line problem.

Canadian railway men have realized that the establishment of the North Atlantic Steamship organization, which has absorbed so many of the principal existing Atlantic lines, is conducting the business with no regard whatever to the interests of the railways of Canada. The line which the Canadian Pacific Co. has in view, will, it is said, consist of new steamers, which, as regards equipment and speed, would be in advance of any now afloat. It is realized that in this would lie the top of successful competition for the Atlantic passenger service, which would be a very important element in the production of revenue.

Elder-Dempster Company's Position.

Mr. D. W. Campbell, Manager of the Elder-Dempster Company, who has just returned from England, said to-day: "I went over for a conference with Sir Alfred Jones, the head of the Elder-Dempster Company. There is, as the cables have stated, large negotiations on, but at present it would be premature to make a statement of the proposals on either side. The British public view with a good deal of alarm the formation of the North Atlantic pool by Mr. Morgan, and applaud the determination of the Elder-Dempster Company, the Allans, the Cunard and other companies that have refused to go into it. We, for the present at least, have decided to stay out of the combine. We believe the people of Canada are with us in this. In England I found the Canadian Ministers anxious that a proposal for services should be submitted to them by the Elder-Dempster Company and the Allan Line. The consequence was a proposal on the part of the two lines for several services, one in England, to the Cape and to Australia. I cannot state exactly what these proposals were, but the questions of service and subsidies are now being considered. We believe that the subsidized service in England should be for 18-knot boats. I do not believe that 23 or 25 knot steamers should be put on yet. I do not think it would pay the Government to offer sufficient subsidy for such a service. The country is not ready for it. I think, too, the service should be given to the Allan and the Elder-Dempster Companies to insure success. Any other company coming in, the C.P.R. or any other, would have to meet us. We are established here now and are not going to leave the St. Lawrence without a struggle. Any other company would have the two lines to compete with. To insure the success of the fast line project, I believe the two lines I have mentioned will have to be dealt with."

Arbitrator's Award.

Hamilton, July 25.—Judge Snider's award in the toll roads arbitration was as follows: Hamilton and Stony Creek consolidation road, $24,000; Barton and Glanford road, county pays $15,000 for the Mount Hope division, and $3,000 for the Mount Albion division; the city pays $1,800 as its share; Hamilton and Nelson road, County of Wentworth pays $3,895.66; Ancaster road (not arbitrated on), county pays $10,000; Hamilton and Port Flamboro road, county pays $1,000. The total price to be paid for the roads amounts to $63,104.30.

OUR FERTILE NORTHWEST.

The American capitalists who recently visited the Northwest, published the following appreciation of the country in the Minneapolis Journal;

"To the most of us it has been a revelation. Anticipating a barren waste, we found vast fields of growing grain, promising an abundant harvest, comfortable and substantial homes, vigorous and thrifty towns, from cosmopolitan Winnipeg to promising Saskatoon and Rosthern, and picturesque Prince Albert, the commercial centres of your fertile domain. Without reserve we commend these rich, undulating, well-watered prairies and wooded lands, possessing as they do all the necessary qualifications for ideal homes and profitable agriculture, alike to homeseeker and investor."

A NOBLE REPRESENTATIVE OF LABOUR.

President Mitchell, of the hard-coal miners' union, is earning the respect if not admiration of most onlookers, in connection with the gigantic struggle in the anthracite regions. He was averse to the strike, and pushed every possible endeavour to stop or delay it. Since the strike was determined upon by a majority of the representatives of the miners, Mr. Mitchell has done his utmost to direct it effectively, yet in a law-abiding way. His statements to the public of the men's case have been impressive equally for their strength, clearness and moderation. He capped this record by opposing a proposition last week that the soft-coal miners should join the strike, which would have been breaking faith, as they have an agreement for a fixed term with their employers, but he submitted a proposition whereby the hard coal men will receive powerful and steady aid from their co-workers. President Mitchell, in a position of terrible responsibility and difficulty, is doing honour to the name of labour.—Ottawa Journal.

We still read belated newspaper comments upon the absurdly rumoured coalition in connection with the Government of Ontario. The matter is not worth seriously discussing. No coalition is possible with the present political elements in this province, any more than the physical coalescence of oil and water is possible. The Liberal party is progressive; the Conservative party, as at present led, is stand still, if not retrogressive.

Family Quarrels.

"How many serious family quarrels, marriages out of spite and alterations of wills might have been prevented by a gentle dose of pills." With the liver and kidneys sluggish and torpid digestion is impaired and temper ruined. But Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, by invigorating the action of these organs ensure good digestion and sound health. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

BUSINESS MEN IN BRITISH CABINET.

Business Success Probable Passport to Portfolios—Efficiency the Modern Requisite in Cabinet Ministers.

London, July 21.—The Times says the feeling is gaining ground in Unionist circles that the present reconstruction of the Cabinet provides excellent opportunity for strengthening the Government by introducing a greater business element. Messrs. Chamberlain, Ritchie and Arnold-Foster, says the Times, have been great successes, and they are almost the only commercially trained men in the Government. It is submitted that the 'efficiency' cry ought to induce Mr. Balfour to weigh the expediency of obtaining the assistance of more members with past commercial experience.

It is a wonder that so obviously sound a principle has not before this demanded attention. Administration of public affairs to be successful demands the application of the same principles as lead to success in business enterprises. This is true in regard to local government, as well as to the wider sphere of administrative action. The Government of any kind which is conducted on sound business principles is sure to be successful. The greater questions generally regarded as above mere administrative routine are in the last analysis resolved into simple questions of business relations and business bearings. These greater questions in their effect must be practically regarded from a business point of view.

At present the city of Toronto is a striking example of the absence of business methods in civic administration. The city has on its hands now half a dozen, if not more, bungles due to unbusiness inaction or delay. Positive financial loss, as well as the good name of the city, is involved. The City Hall, the Cattle Market matter, the Exhibition Buildings, inter alia, are examples. Toronto is the first city of the province, and her prominence as well as her disastrous experience in the matter of civic government serve well as a telling example to the electors in all spheres of administration, small or great, of the wisdom of carefully considering the qualifications of the representatives they elect. A man may have literary ability, polished manners, distinguished bearing, may be a jolly good fellow in every way, but unless he knows how to do things, unless he has the business instinct and experience attested by success, according to his opportunities, he lacks the most essential qualifications of an efficient and satisfactory representative.

OUR SUB-POLAR POSSIBILITIES

A Great Fertile Northern Belt of Varied Resources, the Chief of Which is Wheat.

An interesting article on the district of Saskatchewan appears in a recent issue of the Winnipeg Tribune. Saskatchewan has an area of 106,700 square miles. Most of this is open prairie, but there are also extensive tracts of spruce timber. This means not only cheap building material for the settler, but the basis of an important pulp and paper industry. Coal has been found near Prince Albert. The lakes are well stocked with fish. Ducks, partridge and other game are plentiful. Vegetables thrive remarkably, and there is an abundance of wild strawberries, cranberries and "saskatoons." Of course, the wheat-growing capacity of the country is the most important question at present. On this point the writer says;—

"South of Prince Albert, between the forks of the Saskatchewan river, is one of the finest districts in the entire west. The writer has been over all parts of our prairie regions, as well as the adjoining States of the American Union, and has seen no more beautiful country than this. It is rapidly filling up with a desirable class of settlers, many being Mennonites, who have a record for getting their land under cultivation more quickly than any other people.

"North or north-west of Prince Albert, after passing through a few miles of timber, lie several townships of first-class prairie land, as yet pratically untouched. A little farther, almost due west, is the well known Shell River settlement, but the largest and finest tract of all is said to rest in the bend of the North Saskatchewan, north of the river, and extending from near Prince Albert in the east to Fort Pitt or Union Lake in the west. This is one of the largest unoccupied agricultural areas in the west, and is where the next great tide of immigration is likely to flow.

"Latitude does not appear to be the governing factor in determining the northern limit of cultivation. Within reasonable parallels, where soil and other conditions are favourable, farming can be profitably carried on. For several hundred miles from south to north little appreciable difference can be observed in temperature, while Saskatchewan is quite free from the high winds that afflict the wide, open prairie farther south. Years of successful cultivation have proven that for the production of wheat and other grains the Saskatchewan Valley is equal to any part of the west, while for stock-raising, dairying and mixed farming its advantages are unquestionable."

The question of transportation is discussed at length. The Canadian Northern and the Canadian Pacific are both heading for Prince Albert. The country also enjoys a splendid system of navigation in the Saskatchewan River, which traverses the district from west to east. The writer thinks that this system has not received the attention it deserves, and that the construction of some canals and the deepening of the channel at some points would make a vast difference in the country. He looks for the growth of a great city at the point where the Saskatchewan flows into Lake Winnipeg, located on high ground, with unlimited water power for all purposes, "convenient to one of the most extensive spruce forests in the world, with uninterrupted water communication twelve hundred miles westward to Edmonton, traversing the extensive wheat lands between Fort LaCorne and the former point, and reaching into the coal fields of Alberta, right up to the foothills of the rockies, and about as far along the South Saskatchewan to Medicine Hat, Grand Rapids is as sure to become a city some day as Duluth was."

Another transportation question is the proposed railway from the Saskatchewan Valley to Fort Churchill on Hudson Bay. The writer believes thoroughly in the Hudson Bay system of navigation, and says that the unfavourable reports which have been made have been due to corporations having adverse interests. On that matter we can only reserve judgement, having seen the accomplishment of a number of plans that were pronounced impossible. The Saskatchewan River and the rivers flowing into Hudson Bay certainly look promising on the map, but some day their commercial importance may be demonstrated.—Globe.

A CHAPTER ON LYING.

(Upholsterers' Gazette.)

Shakespeare wrote "Lord, Lord, how this world is given to lying!" and if he lived to-day he would find his words as applicable now as when he penned them. There are all kinds of lies, and as many kinds of liars. There are lies in words and in action. Employers lie to employees, men lie to their children, teachers lie to their pupils, children lie about their lessons and misconduct to parents and teachers, politicians lie about their actions, merchants lie about their goods, editors lie about their publications, and even ministers lie knowingly, directly and indirectly. People lie to each other and about each other, and yet wonder why liars lie to them. The merchant finds he is out of a certain line of goods that a customer asks for. He tells his clerk to say "they are on the way," "expected at any moment," etc., and perhaps he will write in ordering the goods the next day, if he thinks about it. The clerk learns to lie for himself, and soon becomes too depraved a liar for even his lying employer, and is discharged. The lying habit spreads ten times faster than smallpox, and is twenty times more destructive. It grows upon the young lady with unintentional exaggeration to habitual and malicious falsehood. It grows on the young man until he does not know that he lies, and it grows on the merchant until he lies when selling goods, even when the sale is assured, without even an argument. A parent wishes to get away from his children and says he will bring them home some toys if they will be good. He never intended to bring the toys, and the little ones soon learn by how much to discount the word of their parent, and they are quick to adopt his deceptive devices. The bill collector calls and is told a "check will be mailed to-morrow." It was never intended to send a check, but the lie staves the collector off for another while. One lie leads to another, and the shrewdness and skill some people put into their lying must make even the "prince of liars" envious. The readers of this are not liars, but they may know some one that is. If a liar happens to read it he will say "Yes, yes, that's so," and he'll lie just the same as ever.

TREES AND LIGHTNING.

Prof. Reynolds, of the Ontario Agricultural College, assigns as a reason for the greater destruction of barns by lightning in recent years, the disappearance of forests. Trees, he says, are conductors of lightning. Where there are many of them they carry the electrical energy in small currents to the earth, and thus prevent damage. That is why it is that you so often find single trees destroyed, while there is no appearance of damage in a forest. Where there are many trees together, currents pass through a number of them, in small volume, to the ground, while where one stands alone it may receive a current sufficient to cause its destruction. Trees, according to this theory, are the best protection against lightning, but they should not be too close to the house.

A Remarkable Dinner.

London, July 25. — J. Pierpont Morgan was last night the guest of honor in a remarkable dinner given in the House of Commons by Archibald White Maconochie, member for the east division of Aberdeenshire. On the one side of the host sat Mr. Morgan and on the other Premier Balfour.

Not to Britain's Interest.

Ottawa, July 25.—Mr. John Charlton, M.P., who was in the city, said that as far as he can judge there is nothing of importance likely to develop along the lines of preferential tariff from the conference in London. He does not think Britain is in a position to grant a preference to her colonies, and could only do so to the detrimental of her own interests. As regards foreign trade, some good, however, may, in his opinion, come out of the establishment of a fast steamship line, which will render Canada independent of the Morgan merger.

HAIL TWO INCHES DEEP.

Crops Around Smithville Threshed Out by Wind and Ice—Number of Serious Fires From Lightning.

Smithville, July 25.—A very heavy storm of wind and hail passed over a section of the country a short distance south of this village, resulting in much damage. Crops of grain at the expiration of storm were threshed out and covered with two inches of ice. Grain crops seem to be totally destroyed. Fruit trees and fruit were greatly damaged, apples being severed from the trees.

Some of the hailstones measured three inches in circumference. In some places hailstones collected to a depth of six inches, presenting the appearance of a moderate fall of snow of December on the landscape.

Storm King at Forest.

Forest, July 25.—A very severe thunderstorm passed over this section of country Wednesday night. The rainfall was very heavy, flooding the country and doing great damage to the crops. James Stewart, living on the 12th con. of Plympton, had his barn struck by lightning and burned. Total loss. Insured for $250.

Struck by Lightning.

Mattawa, Ont., July 25.—Last night Mattawa was visited by one of the worst thunderstorms known in this part for a number of years. Lightning struck Messrs. Leblanc Bros.' sawmill and sash and door factory and they were destroyed by fire.

House and Barn Burned.

London, July 25.—During Wednesday night's storm, the house and barn on Arthur Baker's fruit farm, on Con. 1 of Westminster, just south of the city limites, were destroyed. Lightning struck the one, and the flames communicated to the other. Neither building had been occupied. The house was a two-storey frame. Nothing could be done to save the burning structures. The loss is $1,500, with an insurance of $450.

Another Church Hit.

Ottawa, July 25.—Lightning struck the Presbyterian Church at Fort Coulonge Wednesday, and did about $200 damage. The fire was noticed in time to be conquered before the building was destroyed.

Killed a Horse.

Alvinston, July 25.—During the heavy electrical storm, which passed over this vicinity yesterday, a valuable horse was killed, which belonged to Mr. B. Hurst, a farmer, living one mile east of this place. The flagpole on the Agricultural Fair Buildings was also struck by lightning, but no other damage was done.

St. Thomas in Storm Region.

St. Thomas, July 25.—The worst storm of the season struck St. Thomas about 5 o'clock yesterday morning, and considering the severity, little damages was done. Though rain fell in torrents, and the brightness of the lightning and the loudness of the thunder woke the whole city. The flagstaff on The Journal office was struck by the lightning and shattered to pieces.

ANNUAL GARDEN PARTY SUCCESS

First Stage of St. George Challenge Vase Shot on Thursday—Capt. Rennie of Toronto Stood Highest Among Canadians in Grand Aggregate and Won Canada Company's Gold Watch.

Bisley Camp, July 25.—The annual garden party given by the Canadian team was a success. Among those present were Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, Canadian High Commissioner, Lord Aberdeen, Sir Frederick Borden, Canadian Minister of Militia, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Canadian Minister of Finance, and Hon. J. M. Gibson, Attorney General of Ontario, and a former commandant of the Bisley team.

In the St. George's at 600 yards the best scores amongst the Canadians were made by Lance-Corporal Mortimer, 33, and Pte. Scott, 32.

Capt. Rennie, of Toronto, stood highest amongst the Canadians in the Grand Aggregate and won a gold watch, presented by the Canada company. Pte. Scott, who came second, was given a silver tea set by Lord Strathcona.

Shooting in the first stage of the St. George's Challenge Vase competition took place yesterday, the distances being 500 and 600 yards with seven shots at each distance. The first one hundred in the first stage will be entitled to compete in the second stage to-day, the distance of the range being 800 yards.

Bennett, Pte. W. E., 43rd D.C.O.R.	29
Bayles, Sergt. T. G., 10th R.G.	34
Carruthers, S-Sergt. J. C., 4th Hussars	33
Davidson, Capt. L. G., 8th R.R.	34
Jones, Corp. J. M., 82nd Batt.	32
King, Capt. W. C., 46th Batt.	33
Mortimer, L.-Corp. S. C., 6th D.C.O.R.	30
Moscrop, Col.-Sergt. J., 6th D.C.O.R.	30
Mortimore, Sergt. Geo., 10th R.G.	28
Margetts, Capt. T. G., 25th Batt.	32
Mitchell, Capt. C. N., R.O.	34
Macdougall, Sergt.-Major E., 5th R.C.A.	33
Peddie, Pte. T. J., 5th R.S.	33
Perry, Sergt. S. J., 6th D.C.O.R.	31
Richardson, Sergt.-Maj. T., 5th R.C.A.	30
Rennie, Capt. R., 2nd Q.O.R.	34
Smith, Sergt. W. A., 43rd D.C.O.R.	32
Scott, Pte. S. C., 43rd DC.OR.	35
Skedden, Sergt E. H., 13th Batt.	28
Spearing, Major R. J., 53rd Batt.	32

It is considered a great mistake here that the rule of the Dominion Rifle Association prohibiting competitors coming to Bisley more than twice in five years, should be kept in force. The unanimous opinion here is that the man who wins a place on the team at the annual matches in Ottawa should be allowed to go to Bisley, no matter how frequently he has been there before.

For the first time in years not one of the Canadian team figures in the "All Comers" aggregate, in which prizes are awarded to the competitors whose scores in the Alexandra, Daily Graphic, Daily Telegraph and Graphic matches, make up the highest aggregates.

Sergt. Geo. Mortimer was a contestant in the Steward Challenge Cup match, and secured twenty-second place and prize of one pound. The distance was 200 yards with seven shots in a sitting or kneeling position.

In the Alexandra match, shot Wednesday, Pte. Scott, twenty-fourth; Capt. Margetts, twenty-eight, and Capt. King, thirty-fourth, each won five pounds. Two pounds went to Lance-Corp. Mortimer, one hundred and sixty-third; Col.-Sergt. Moscrop, one hundred and sixty-fifth; Sergt. Perry, one hundred and sixty-sixth, and Capt. Mitchell, two hundred and twenty-third.

Capt. Mitchell in seventy-second place, and Pte. Scott in seventy-fifth place, each won two pounds in the Martin Challenge Cup match.

In the match Rifle Association Cup competition, Major Gibbs, a gunmaker of Bristol, performed the marvelous feat of making 30 consecutive bulls-eyes at 900 yards.

Killed by a Derrick.

Kingston, July 25. — Yesterday morning a derrick used at the physics building on Queen's College campus broke at the top, and a leg of it fell towards the building. Men shouted to George Richards, about 60 years, to run, but as he turned, the timber struck him on the breast, knocking him into the air. He fell 30 feet, and was picked up dead. Richards belonged to Napanee, and had been working at the college building for some time.

AT PORT ARTHUR.

Hon. J. Israel Tarte, Minister of Public Works, Inspects Enterprises.

Port Arthur, July 25.—Mr. Tarte and party were taken in charge by the Mayor, Council and Board of Trade yesterday morning, and on the steamer Superior were taken to inspect the new Current River waterpower recently developed by Port Arthur at a cost of $100,000. They next inspected King's cleaning and drying elevator, the most perfect thing of the kind in America. The Pigeon River Lumber Company's immense mills were next visited. They are just completed and are the most modern in Western Canada. Next the breakwater, which wants a new superstructure, was visited. It looks now as if when the repairs are made, concrete would be the material used. The final visit was to the Canadian Northern's recently completed elevator and to the 2,000,000-bushel annex under construction.

Mr. Tarte was highly pleased with all he saw and promises to deepen the Port Arthur harbor to 21 feet, commencing the work forthwith.

At noon at the Northern Hotel, an address was presented from the Town Council and Board of Trade, welcoming him to the silver gateway to the golden west.

Mr. Tarte's reply was full of vigor, and he promised to keep pace with the national necessities in every way as far as the Government could help with transportation facilities. He left at 2 p.m. on the Stanley for Fort William.

Probably Fatal Accident.

Dundas, July 25.—An accident occurred yesterday in the John Bertram & Company tool works here that will most likely lose a man's life. A new grinding machine was sent up for trial, and Louis Johnson and John Ross started to put a belt on a 52-inch split pulley on the driving shaft, which is about 20 or 25 feet from the floor, and were using long belt sticks with which to put on the belt while the pulley on the shaft was running at good speed. Johnson's stick slipped inside the pulley, and in an instant the lower end of the stick was driven into his abdomen, making a severe wound. He was removed to Hamilton hospital. On his arrival there he was operated upon, and came out from under the chloroform all right, but little hopes are entertained of his recovery.

ARRIVED THIS MORNING.

The 57th Regimental Band met Them at the Station This Morning—An Early Morning Welcome.

The returning South African soldiers arrived in Peterborough a little too soon to suit most of the townspeople. They were not supposed to arrive in Peterborough until five o'clock this afternoon, when they were to have been given a suitable reception by the citizens. The 57th Regiment was to have turned out, and a genuine old-time celebration take place. However, late last night word was received that the boys would arrive here by the early C.P.R. express. Accordingly the arrangements for a large demonstration were immediately called off, and as it was too late to spread the news around the town that the boys would arrive at 5 a.m., not many were aware of their coming at that hour. Nevertheless, Mr. Gliddon had a band of eighteen pieces at the station, and a number of the officers of the 57th Regiment were present when the express rolled in this morning.

When the train came to a standstill the following veterans of Harts River stepped on the platform; Messrs. F. Craig, Geo. Might, W. T. Bradburn, — Macdonald, Reg. Turner, Fred. Hubbs, Percy Price and Corp. Daniels.

It will be observed from the above list of names that there are a number who did not arrive who went with the 2nd C.M.R., and there is one at least, who will never return, that is the late Capt. W. P. K. Milligan. Sergt. Murphy is still confined to the hospital, and Messrs. Blanchard, Trotter, Dundas, Boyle, Cranfield, Hayward and Sergt. Trussler will arrive here in the course of a few days.

The boys were escorted up George street, headed by the band of the 57th Regt., and were warmly greeted by their friends. They looked decidedly stylish in their new uniforms of a pretty shade of khaki. To-day the boys are around town shaking hands with old acquaintances and relating many thrilling incidents, the most notable of which was, of course, the Harts River engagement. Everyone of the second C.M.R. who arrived in town this morning is the picture of health, and all report a pleasant sea voyage home.

George Daniels, who has returned, has been identified with the Canadian Scouts.

It was a sad home coming to Pte. Craig, his brother, Louis Craig, having died of lock-jaw on Wednesday night.

The boys will attend the funeral of respect to his brother, Mr. Frank of the late Louis Craig in a body, but Craig, [illegible] with the 2nd C.M.R.

CITY WATER SHUT OFF ON SUNDAY.

Consumers Will Require to Take Precautions Accordingly.

The water will be turned off from the city mains on Sunday next from 6 a.m., until evening. This is done in order to make connections with the pumping main at the corner of Smith and Water streets. A connection will be placed to permit of the extension of an eight-inch main east on Smith street, for a possible future water supply to Ashburnham. Connection will also be made for the laying of a five-inch main on Water street south from Smith to Antrim street. This main cannot be carried farther south at present, owing to the unfilled condition of Water street at the Goose Pond. If the main were put in now at this point at a depth below frost it would be at a depth of eleven or twelve feet when the depressed portion of Water street is filled to uniform grade with the other portions of the street.

Consumers of water will be put to as little inconvenience as possible. The larger consumers will be personally notified and the general public is notified through advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue.

The work in hand will take a hustling day's work to complete. The water would have been shut off a less length of time if, when the pumping main had been laid a connection for extension had been put in at Smith street, as has been done in respect of other street intersections, on all work laid down since Mr. Henderson became superintendent. At street intersections a connection has been put in to facilitate operations when an extension of main may be found necessary. This adds a little to the present expense, but it is well repaid in the end, as the connection can be placed at much less cost when the main is being laid, and with little, or no, disturbance of water supply. It always pays best to do a thing properly when it is being done, and is a mark of wisdom to provide for the future.

At Home.

W. J. Green, tax collector, will be at home every day next week from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., at his office, No. 129 Simcoe street, to receive callers desirous of paying taxes. Up to Friday, August 1st, 2 per cent. discount will be granted for the delectation of those of his guests who pay one-half or the whole of the taxes on their property.

"ONE WAS TAKEN AND THE OTHER LEFT."

The irony of fate was never, locally, at least, perhaps more strikingly illustrated than in the case of the two brothers, Craig, of Ashburnham. One, Frank Craig, who was a member of the Canadian Contingent,, the Mounted Rifles, which covered itself with glory, and showed such splendid pluck at Harts River, South Africa. He passed safely through the perils of over 15,000 miles of sea voyage, of a thousand miles of railway journey, all the perils of camp, disease and exposure, was in the thick of battle, with a hail of bullets whistling all about him, two piercing his saddle. Yet he comes home safe and sound, to learn that his brother, who had passed the time in the quietude and generally regarded safety of peace, in the precincts of his own quiet home on the peaceful Sabbath Day, received from a blank cartridge the wound that ended his life, amid all the attention and devotion of loving ministration and medical skill that any man could receive. These contrasting incidents are, alike in furnishing evidence that the issues of life and death are over-ruled, to the upsetting of all human calculations, by an inscrutable Providence. The most perilous surroundings and death inviting conditions are not always the most fatal to human life. This day is the Scripture fulfilled in our sight, "One was taken and the other left."

Peterborough Water Commission.

NOTICE TO Water Consumers

Public notice is hereby given that on Sunday next, 27th inst., pumping will be stopped from 6 a.m. until evening, to admit of street connections being made with force main from pumping station.

HUNTER STREET BRIDGE.

It Will be Relicored—The Day-work System to be Adopted.

The Committee of the Whole met Warden Fitzgerald of the County, and Mr. J. E. Belcher, County Engineer, last evening.

The following tenders were received for the re-flooring and re-joisting of the Hunter street bridge;

David Conroy — For work and supplying all material, $352; for labour alone, $279.

H. Carveth — For labour, $300.

L. Dobbin — For work and material, $980.

C. Westlake — For labour and nails, and tightening the joists, $371.50; for labour and materisl, $1171.50.

The members present considered the tenders too high, and on motion of Ald. Best and Fitzgerald, it was decided that the town and county should jointly supply the material and employ the men and an overseer to do the work.

TOWN COUNCIL'S SPECIAL MEETING.

The Fyle Cleared of a Batch of Communications.

$100 FOR THE SANITARIUM.

Other Business Transacted During the Evening—Reports Adopted and Accounts Passed.

The town council met in special session last evening, with the following members present; Mayor Denne, and Aldermen Best, Corkery, Batten, Morrison, McGregor, Rush, Roger, Shortly and Edgcumbe.

A telegram was read from P. R. Price, advising the Mayor that the Peterborough members of the South African contingent would arrive home on Friday evening. On motion of Ald. Shortly the council decided to go to the C.P.R. station this evening at 5.10 p.m. to receive the returning volunteers.

COMMUNICATIONS

were read and referred as follows;

From R. H. Nesbitt, W. Thompson, E. McGrath, N. Lush, P. Mahar, Aaron McCall, Jas. Lewis, D. C. King, John Jeffries and W. J. Doughty, asking for remission of dog taxes.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

From R. M. Dennistoun, saying that during his absence from town a petition for a sewer on Water street was fyled with the Council through error before the petitioners had completed the same. He therefore asked that the petition be returned to be completed. The request was granted.

From Bridget Coursey asking that her taxes for the year be remitted, she being unable to pay them.—Court of Revision.

From Geo. A. Cox, enclosing bill for taxes for the Barnardo Home, and as that institution is exempt from taxation by statute he asked that the collector be instructed to have the same written off.—Court of Revision.

From Geo. H. Howson, asking that the sidewalks on Edinburgh street be removed outside the line of trees, which would add greatly to the appearance of the street.—Board of Works.

From Emma Hudson, asking to be exempted from past and present taxes. —Court of Revision.

From Mrs. M. J. Fitzgerald, complaining of an error in her assessment. —Court of Revision.

From W. G. Howden, asking to be relieved from taxes on the store occupied by him on George street, which was destroyed by fire last January. —Court of Revision.

From Chas. Stanley, of the Stanley Piano Co., complaining that for the past two weeks their cellar has been in a deplorable condition, owing to the water backing up from the sewer, forcing the tops of the closets, and flooding the basement to the extent of several inches of water and filth. "There has been no improvement that we can see," he adds, "in the condition that we complained of three years ago, and they are as much of a menace to the health of the men in the factory as they were at the time we first informed you of the trouble." Mr. Stanley thought it high time some action was taken regarding the George street sewer, and asked that some settlement be made with his company for the losses sustained during the several periods referred to.—Ald. Best explained that the trouble arose closets being situated in the basement, and below the level of the sewer. Were they situated on the floor above, the company would experience no trouble, as the sewer is not in fault in any way. Ald. Roger said that this fact had been pointed out to Mr. Stanley in the first place. The communication was received.

From J. Rickerly, J. McWilliams, and Z. Blodgett, complaining that when repairing Edinburgh street the corporation men had carelessly dumped clay into the ditch which runs across Edinburgh street, between Union and Aylmer streets. This ditch is the only means by which their premises are drained, and during the spring and in wet seasons it is scarcely able to carry off the overflow. The action of the corporation men above referred to has, the complainants claim, caused a backing up of the water, which will no doubt stagnate and prove a considerable nuisance. They asked that the Council give this matter their immediate attention.—Referred to the Town Engineer, with instructions to have the matter attended to at once.

From Mr. E. A. Peck, Secretary of the Little Lake Cemetery Company, asking that the collector strike from off his roll the amount of taxes against Lot 47, Crescent street, which has been purchased from Mr. Augustus Sawers by the Cemetery Company.—Court of Revision.

From O'Connell & Kerr, re Mrs. King, complaining of over assessment. —Court of Revision.

From Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson, on behalf of the firm of Ormond & Walsh, asking the corporation to pay $200 for damages sustained by their clients through their cellar being flooded on July 14th last. —Court of Revision.

From Ozias de Laplante, complaining of an error in his assessment.—Court of Revision.

From Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson, in behalf of the Central Milling Company, complaining that by reason of the position of the water tables at the corner of George and Dalhousie streets, the company's property has been seriously damaged by the recent heavy rains, and suggesting that a very little labour expended in diverting the channel toward the creek, would relieve the property from this danger, which will be repeated from time to time.—Board of Works.

THE DAY AT STONY LAKE.

A Merry Time at the Pavilion Last Night.

SEASON WELL ADVANCED.

Next Thursday's Meeting of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association—Plenty of Rain at the Lakes.

Stony Lake presents a very gay appearance, and the season is now well advanced. The cottages are well filled up, and many canvas covered homes are to be seen on the various islands and on the mainland. In the evenings the lakes are dotted with steam yachts, skiffs and smaller crafts, and the merry song or shout of the pleasure seekers can be heard for long distances. The weather has been disagreeable at times, the cottagers receiving their fair share of rain, but when the sun comes out, or on a clear evening, the young people of the lake more than even up matters with the weather man. An informal hop takes place at the pavillion mostly every evening, as it, being centrally located, is easily accessable. The young ladies are very generous with their music, and the nightly hops are anxiously awaited. The affair last night was one of the most enjoyable that has been given this season. Among those noticed in the gathering of one hundred or more were Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Mrs. John Crane, Mrs. C. B. McAllister, Mrs. A. H. Stratton, Mrs. R. H. Bradburn, Mrs. J.J. McBain, Mrs. Gor. Smith, Mrs. (Col.) Acton, Mrs. Graham, (New York) Misses Annie, Helen and Gwen. Hall, Miss Agnes Hall, Misses Mabel, Flora and Annette Collins, the Misses White, Miss Bertha Symonds, Miss Helen Stethem, Miss Meldrum, Miss Georgie Dennistoun, Miss Olive Bradburn, Miss Flora Burnham, Miss McBeth, Miss Ruby Eakins, Miss Gilbert, Messrs. C. B. McAllister, John Crane, Dr. Neil, Alex. Collins, R. D. Collins, Roger Strickland, Charles Bradburn, Frank Bradburn, Hamilton Hall, Dickson Hall, Francis Bates, (Philadelphia), H. Ackerly, (Rochester) Mr. Harold Armstrong, C. M. Paterson, — Graham, T. W. Robinson, George MacDonald, (Toronto), Herbert Eakins, — Booth, (Rochester,) Llewellyn Hall, E. S. Clarry, and a score or more of cottagers and their friends. Miss Georgie Dennistoun, Miss Helen Hall, Miss Annie Hall, Mrs. Smith and Mr. Crane very kindly provided music. The hop was kept up until midnight, and the young people glided to their respective cottages across the calm lake and beneath a silvery moon.

An important meeting of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association will be held at the pavilion on Thursday afternoon next, commencing at three o'clock. It is most important that there should be a representative meeting, and the cottagers from every point on the lake are asked to be present. Many matters of interest are to be brought up for discussion, and arrangements for the annual regatta will be made. The cottagers are also reminded of the fact that there is an annual membership fee to the association of $1.00, and this should be paid at once to the treasurer, Mr. H. Brock or to Mr. T.W. Robinson, at the store, Juniper Island.

It is quite likely that a hop of more than ordinary proportions will take place on the evening of Thursday, as there will be a large attendance of cottagers on that day from various points on the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Hughes-Charles and daughter, Miss Esther, came down this morning after spending a day or two with Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McAllister.

"Forest Nook" is a very popular resort, and many a pleasant evening is spent there by the young people of that neighborhood. The following Pittsburg party left town for that popular cottage this morning—Mr. J. W. McKinney, Mr. W. W. Miller, wife and son, E. S. Stevenson, J. J. Koch and family, Miss McKinney, J. W. McKinney and wife and Mr. C. A. Detwater. Amongst those now there are Miss Agnes Hall, Miss Gwendoline Meade and Mr. Llewllyn Hall.

Miss Flora Collins, of the Sick Childrens' Hospital, Ottawa, is spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Collins.

Mr. Roger Strickland, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Blenheim, is a guest of Mrs. F. J. Tate

Messrs. C. H. Bradburn, Joseph Yelland, H. P. Lindsay, John Crane, and C. B. McAllister came down to Peterborough this morning.

Mr. D. V. Dook, D.D.S., and wife, of Cleveland, O., and Mr. W. Silcox, of Woodstock, who have been spending a while at Mr. D. Breezes, returned to their respective homes this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Greenwood, of Toronto, have rented Mrs. George Strickland's cottage, "Fairy Lake Villa."

Miss Helen Hall gave a very enjoyable party to White Lake on Wednesday. They were caught in the rainstorm, but found shelter in a root house.

A camp fire party at Mr. J. D. Collins on Tuesday night was largely attended by the neighbouring cottagers, and a decidedly merry evening was spent.

Mr. J. L. Madill is occupying the Sheldrake Island.

Mr. Beck is a guest at Mrs. Dennistoun's.

Mr. and Mrs. Dela Fosse have as their guest Miss Atwood, of Lakefield.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Graham and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith, of Toronto, are occupying "Shota."

There may be some people dissatisfied when a drive of logs enters Stony Lake, and causes a blockade of traffic, but there are many who welcome with joy the sight of the river drivers' camp. Any one who spends a while at Stony Lake and knows a drive to go by without paying a visit to the cook's quarters, and having a dish of pork and beans, misses a great treat indeed. A Rathbun drive is just now entering Stony Lake by way of Burleigh. It is accompanied by the steamer Stranger, of Port Perry. The drive consists of 85,000 pieces, and is in charge of foreman George Jackson, while the genial and good-natured cook, is Mr. J. Edwards. Jim is a popular man with the campers and cottagers, and when he sees anyone making for the drive he knows pretty well what they are after.

Messrs. J. W. Renwick of the Traders' Bank, Windsor, Dr. F. J. Brown, and Mr. Morris of the teaching staff of T.C.S., Port Hope, passed down Stony Lake on Thursday on their way home, after having spent a pleasant time at Buckhorn.

There were no fewer than three private yachts at Lakefield on Thursday morning. Mr. Buck's handsome new craft, his old one, the Ruby, now owned by Dr. Ford, of Norwood, and the Mollie, underwent an inspection.

Messrs. Douglas Hammond, Basil Hall and Gerald Hall, are camping on Juniper Island. They are having a very pleasant time.

Miss F. Collins, of the Sick Children's Hospital, Ottawa, is spending a week at Catermoran, the cottage of her father, Mrr. J. D. Collins.

Miss C. Clementi is staying with Miss Olive Bradburn.

Mr. R. H. Grubbe is now situated in his neat little cottage, Haselwood Lodge, at the mouth of Eel's Creek. Mr. Grubbe has been making some extensive improvements to his summer home.

Mr. Harley Goldey came up to the Lakes on Thursday and is assisting Mr. T. W. Robinson at the store, Juniper Island.

SAW TWO CORONATIONS.

Mrs. W. G. Smith, of Toronto, 92 Years Old, Was Present When William IV. and Victoria Were Crowned.

To have witnessed the coronation celebrations of William IV. and Queen Victoria, and to be a hale old person of keen memory and active body at the time fixed for the crowning of Edward VII. is the privilege of a very few. Yet such is the lot of Mrs. W. G. Smith of 18 Morris street, Toronto, who on Saturday, June 28, 1902, completed her 92nd year.

An interesting and eventful career has been that of Mrs. Smith, and her friends tell her she should embody her personal recollections in some permanent form. The suggestion might seem unreasonable for one so advanced in years, but the impression created upon a casual visitor was that Mrs. Smith has mental and physical capacity for a good deal of work yet. She was just taking a mid-afternoon cup of tea, the solace of young and old alike, when a reporter called upon her. The idea of telling for publication something about her life appeared somewhat novel. "You know," she said in explanation, "I am an English woman, not a Canadian." Her daughter, however, urged her to speak for her friends' sake, and she consented. The most active person of the three apparently, Mrs. Smith talked for a few minutes, then with the quickness of a girl in her teens she would turn to another part of the room to bring some memento of her life in England in connection with the royal personages she had seen.

"Yes, I was at the coronation of William IV. and Victoria," she said. "Of course I was too young to remember much of what happened when George IV. came to the throne. I was only ten years old. I remember when George III. died in 1820. I heard the Bow Bells ringing at midnight. We lived in the suburbs of London, and I remember my father kept the house closed for two or three days. When William IV. was crowned I sat in front of the door of Westminster Abbey and watched the great procession enter. I went into the Abbey immediately after, and sat in the King's chair and had a glass of wine from his glass," Mrs. Smith added with a hearty laugh, expressing the view of a nonogenarian of the act of a young girl. "The illuminations at night were grand," she continued, "though there was neither gas nor electric light then. They were of oil lamps with fancy globes."

"When Queen Victoria was crowned seven years later I again sat in front of the Abbey, where I was the other time. I remember the Queen as she walked up, surrounded by the tall guards and yeomanry, the Ambassadors and foreign Princes. She looked so little, just like a child, as she passed through the aisle made by the officers and guards.

"This is just what she looked like," and Mrs. Smith, her eyes lighted with enthusiasm, bounced from her chair and pointed to a picture on the wall, showing the then young Queen, of plump, girlish figure, her curls hanging over her bare shoulders.

"The crowds looked like a fairy tale. You can't describe the scene; you could walk on the people's heads," declared Mrs. Smith. "The illuminations at night were grand, and gas was used instead of oil. Thousands of people were out all night."

But the incidents in her life to which Mrs. Smith refers with the greatest pleasure are her visits to Windsor Castle. Her aunt, Mrs. William Randall, was for forty years in the royal household, attached to the service of George III., George IV. and William IV., and was wardrobe woman to Queen Adelaide.

The late Queen Victoria, Mrs. Smith says, never lost an opportunity of graciously noticing this old and faithful servant of her royal predecessors. Mrs. Randall nursed George IV. in his last illness, and was present when he died.

"My cousin, Mrs. Randall's son, was one of the pages to Queen Victoria. My older sister used to visit Princess Sophia of Gloucester. Once when she was a little girl she lost her way in the castle, and came down the wrong stairs. On the way she met a man who didn't know her, but on learning she was a niece of Mrs. Randall he patted her cheek and kissed her. She afterwards found it was George IV."

Among the mementos which Mrs. Smith shows is a china water bottle which belonged to Charles I.; a copper teapot and a china plate, formerly owned by George IV.; a pin-cushion made by Princess Elizabeth, and a book presented to Mrs. Randall by Queen Adelaide, containing the Queen's autograph, the title being "Some recollections of the last days of his late Majesty King William the Fourth," the Queen herself being the author.

Mrs. Smith says she was not at Windsor much after Queen Victoria came to the throne, but she remembers having seen the present King and the late Empress Frederick playing about when they were children.

"My people wanted me to go to see this coronation, but I did not care to. I have seen enough of the world," said Mrs. Smith, relapsing into a contemplative mood. "I look all right, but I suffer a good deal. The Almighty has been good enough to allow me to live so long. People are not as they used to be. The rising generation need more control from their parents than they are getting. I never knew what it was to go out without an invitation when I was a child."

Mrs. Smith said she was born at Woolwich, Kent, near the arsenal, in 1810. She came to Canada 48 years ago, and has lived most of that time and all of the last 25 years in Toronto. Her husband, who died five years ago, was for years chief bookkeeper for the Queen's Printer at Ottawa.

Mrs. Smith's eyesight is yet good, and her daughter showed some white goods in which she had been busily engaged working button-holes.

AN AGED WOMAN.

After Passing Three Score and Ten Years Mrs. Plowman is Cured of Dyspepsia —A Very Serious Case.

Nothing can render old age more miserable than Dyspepsia.

Mrs. Emma Plowman, wife of Alfred Plowman, of New Lowell, Ont., is over seventy years of age, and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have completely cured her of a very bad case of Dyspepsia.

For a few years past Mrs. Plowman has been obthered more or less with stomach trouble, which finally culminated in Dyspepsia of a very aggravated form.

She tried many dyspepsia cures, but got no relief till she began to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

From the beginning she found some relief, but the improvement in her case was slow. However, she was not discouraged, but determined to keep on till every trace of her digestive organs were completely restored to a healthy condition.

Now she is enjoying perfect freedom from every symptom of Indigestion or dyspepsia, and is loud in her praise of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

It seems quite a long treatment, but, as Mr. Plowman himself says—

"Who would not spend ten dollars and a half to see his wife cured of such a distressing and painful disease?"

While it took twenty-one boxes to effect a cure in the case of this old lady it must be remembered that many cases are cured by a much shorter treatment.

Everything depends on the severity of the case and the general physical condition of the patient.

Some systems respond more quickly and positively to medical treatment than others do. Age has something to do with this.

Some do not continue the treatment without interruption till cured, but stop the moment relief begins and thus do not give the remedy a fair chance.

But this is true;—There is no case of Stomach Trouble, no matter how acute or of how long standing, that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will not cure if permisted in according to directions.

Had Bleeding, Itching Piles

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

The doctors are wrong. They usually claim that an operation, with all its risk, pain and expense, is the only cure for piles. We can prove by the statements of thousands of good, honest men and women that Dr. Chase's Ointment not only promptly relieves the suffering from piles, but also positively cures this dreadful ailment. It frequently cures after the knife has failed.

Mr. J. F. Miller, who is employed as cooper by the Kennedy & Davis Milling Co., Lindsay, Ont., states,— "I believe that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the best thing in the world for the piles. I say this because it has positively and thoroughly cured me of itching, bleeding piles, and this after all other remedies I could procure had failed. I can recommend this ointment to anyone suffering from piles, knowing that it will certainly cure."

CANADA-AUSTRALIA.

MR. BURRIS GAHAN DESCRIBES JOURNEY FROM FIRST TO LAST.

Magnificent Month of Continuous Traveling—Through Four Seasons of the Year in Thirty Days—A Vivid Contrast Between These Two Lands Born of the Same Imperial Mother.

The Canadian who starts from Toronto for Sydney has before him a magnificent month of continuous traveling. After6 all, the most pleasant and profitable week of the four will probably be the first one spent in crossing the great west of his own country. To pass through that land of beauty and resource is a supreme lesson in patriotism that should form part of the education of every Canadian. For the rest of the journey he sees nothing to remind him, save by contrast, of his national scenery. He crosses the equator and sights tropical islands, where the pine-apple, banana and cocoanut-palm flourish. At last he comes to Australia—a land that has the kangaroo instead of the beaver, and the Southern Cross instead of the North Star—a land that has the moon when Canada has the sun.

and swelters under a temperature of 100 degrees in the shade, when young Johnny Canuck is playing hockey. Indeed, I left Toronto in the depths of winter, picked spring violets in the gardens of Vancouver, spent an ideal summer's day at Honolulu, and arrived at Sydney to find everyone thankful that autumn had come at last. Thus, in a single month, the traveler passed through the four seasons of the year.

The first stop on the ocean voyage is Honolulu, seven days out from Vancouver. Men who have traveled pretty well over the world agree in pronouncing this one of its most charming corners. The town stretches itself along the sunny beach and struggles half-way up the mountain-side beyond. Winding roads and white roofs, half-hidden among the trees, make it a splendid sight from the sea. And the interest does not vanish when the harbor is entered and the people are seen. Honolulu, indeed, is a fascinating medley of Yankee progressiveness, native backwardness and Oriental picturesqueness. The streets and shops are crowded with stolid pig-tailed Chinamen in their characteristic garb; dirty, loafing niggers, with no clothes beyond the two essential garments, and hustling American business men, dressed in immaculate ducks. Big, fat, native women in the market place, jostle the slight American girls, whose stylish frocks indicate that they are probably visitors from New York or Chicago. But of all the persons to be met in the town, by far the most engaging are the dainty little Japanese ladies, arrayed in their native costume, and looking for all the world as if they had just stepped out of some pagoda or Oriental tea-house. But, unfortunately, the traveler is allowed only a few hours ashore, and as he watches the island fade in the distance, he has a faint feeling of home-sickness, as if he had lived in Honolulu all his life.

From Honolulu to Suva, the capital of the Fijian Islands, is a sail of nearly ten days. The Pacific in the tropics is usually as calm as a Canadian back-lake in August. Indeed, I never saw Lake Ontario or Erie or Huron as calm as the ocean was during these ten days. Often the water looked as if it were covered with oil, for not even a ripple disturbed its surface. At times the heat was oppressive, and there was no breeze to bring relief. Fom 10 in the morning till 3 in the afternoon exertion was practically impossible. Life was confined to sitting in a deck-chair, reading, dozing, chatting, or lazily watching the flying fish that played around the boat. Four o'clock, however, brought cricket, and evening had its own charm in the form of a gorgeous tropical sunset, and, perhaps, a cooling breath of air.

The colony of Fiji consists of 255 islands, of which nearly 100 are inhabited. Between 20 and 30 of these can be seen on the way to the capital. The harbor of Suva itself is entered through a narrow opening in the coral reef. It was evening when I saw it, and the quarantine officer refused to allow anyone to land, as plague was reported in Honolulu. It was necessary, therefore, to view the town from afar off. The natives however, kindly came alongside for closer inspection, and a magnificent lot of fellows they appeared to be. They wear no covering except a white cloth wrapped round their waist and extended half way down to their knees. This costume gives full opportunity for admiring their powerful shoulders, broad chests, straight backs, strong arms and muscular legs. But more conspicuous than his well-knit body is the mop of red hair that crowns each grinning face. Every Fijian with any personal pride or social pretension has red hair. He gets it much as his civilized sisters do—by bleaching it with lime. I had always thought that the chemical blonde was a peculiar feature of our latter-day civilization, but apparently there is nothing new under the sun. The bleaching of the hair is probably as old as the tatooing of the skin. In the case of the South Sea Islanders, however, the copper skin, white teeth, black eyes, and red hair constitute a human color scheme that surely must be unique.

From Suva it is a five days' sail past New Caledonia to the Australian coast, at the mouth of the Brisbane River. Brisbane itself, the State capital of Queensland, a city of more than 100,000 inhabitants, is situated about 25 miles from the sea. Passengers are allowed a few hours here, and mails leave the steamer to go by rail to Sydney, Melbourne and Adelaide. The trip to Sydney by boat takes the greater part of two days, skirting for 500 miles down the eastern coast of New South Wales. At last, a solid month after he left Toronto, the traveler enters the grandest harbor in the world, and lands in perhaps the finest city of the southern hemisphere. To sketch Sydney in a paragraph would be an impertinence—to attempt a description of the harbor would be nothing short of insolence. The one requires at the very least, a letter to itself; the other deserves a volume.

When I reached Sydney the city was in a mild state of alarm over a fresh outbreakof the bubonic plague. One theatre and several hotels and shops were closed on its account. The plague is still here, and two fresh cases were reported to-day, but the alarm has subsided a good deal. Many citizens, indeed, seem disposed to accept the plague as a permanent institution. The health authorities, however, are fighting it with great vigor and intelligence. Their measures are directed principally against rats, for they are deemed to be the chief source of infection. A dead rat is sure to cause quite a sensation where it is found. It is supposed that the disease is communicated to man by the bite of a flea, which has been poisoned previously by biting a plague-rat. There have been just 125 cases during the present outbreak, and the mortality has been slightly less than the usual one-third. A week or two ago the disease made its appearance at the Zoological Gardens, and several valuable animals died. If energetic measures are of any avail, however, the epidemic will be stamped out before long. The whole city has declared war against rats, and cleanliness has been made the battle-cry. Every citizen has been urged to set his house in order, and if he will not do it himself the Board of Health does it for him. All classes in Sydney have joined in the sanitary crusade, and formalin has become the fashionable perfume of the hour.—Burris Gahan, in The Toronto Globe.

FINEST BRIDGE IN THE WORLD.

To Span the Strait of Canso From Cape Breton to Nova Scotia.

The bridging of the Strait of Canso between Cape Breton and the mainland of Nova Scotia is to be undertaken at once. The task is an immense one, involving great engineering difficulties and an outlay of about $5,000,000.

J. A. L. Waddell of Kansas City has been engaged to oversee the work. He is a Canadian and a graduate of McGill, and has been knighted by the Emperor of Japan, where he was at one time professor of civil engineering in the University of Japan.

Mr. Waddell stated in a recent interview that the bridge would be a cantilever, with a span of 1,800 feet, the longest in the world, and have a height of 58 feet clear above high water The bridge will span the strait between Port Hastings on the Cape Breton side, and Cape Porcupine on the Nova Scotian shore, a distance of 2,800 feet. Two immense piers will be sunk near either shore, in about 90 feet of water. The bridge is designed for double-tracking.

Mr. Waddell stated also that it would be the finest bridge in the world. A tunnel, he said would be practically impossible. An agreement has been reached between Mr Waddell and the incorporators, authorizing Mr. Waddell to proceed with the work. The construction of this bridge will remove all delays and inconveniences now experienced in crossing this strait.

It is said that the Canadian Pacific Railway is behind the project, which is preliminary to the establishment of a fast steamship line on the Atlantic.

Good Health for Capital.

Maintaining good health is to the majority of people the most vital question in the world, and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and Restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Naturally, gradually and certainly it forms new red corpuscles in the blood, creates new, healthy nerve cells, and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defies disease.

An Amusing Error.

Readers of Barrie's story of newspaper life, "When a Man's Single," will remember the telegraph editor, who headed the dispatch beginning "The Zulus have taken umbrage," with a line announcing that the Zulus had captured a post, and made the opening sentence read: "The Zulus have taken Umbrage." The incident is recalled by a dispatch in The Ottawa Evening Journal, dated "Dauphin, Man., June 18," and announcing the results of the voting in the Kinistino district in the territorial elections. The dispatch states: "As a result of the vote, Meyers and Nott Shad, a negro, have been elected for the constituency." It should be, of course, "Meyers, and not Shadd." In this case the wideawake telegraph editor in The Ottawa Journal added: "Shadd is the first full-blooded negro to be elected to a legislative body in Canada." And he headed it up: "First Negro to Sit in a Canadian Assembly." "Not Shadd Has Been Elected in the Territories." On the contrary, not only has Nott not been elected, but there is no Nott.

One Common Cause of Headache.

Perhaps the most general cause of headache and pain across the eyes is nasal catarrh. The simplest cure is to inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone which traverses every air cell and air passage of the throat, lungs and nose. It kills myriads of germs at every breath, clears away mucous discharges, preserves and heals the membrane. Catarrhozone is just a splendid remedy for headache, and its action is certain and unfailing in diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma and Catarrh. A trial will convince the most sceptical that Catarrhozone is all right. Large size, $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

SULTRY DAWSON CITY.

Dawson Weather Two Warm for Californians—They go South to get Cooler Comfort.

Mr. J. T. Stenson to-day received a letter from his son, George, who is in Dawson City engaged in a drug store at the modest salary of $13,000 a year. He incloses a clipping from a Dawson daily paper, which goes to show that even in the far north, under the shadow of the North Pole and in mountains of eternal ice and unrelenting frost, the thermometer is doing warm wok. The extract is as follows:

"On Thursday of last week there arrived in Dawson a nice-looking, rather elderly couple by the name of Stephens. Teh old gentlemen had made a fortune ranching and raising oranges near Los Angeles, California, and his wife had for many years guided the destiny of a home for orphan children. Two years ago they retired from active business life and have since have devoted nearly all their time to travel and sight-seeing.

Three weeks ago the June sun began to make itself felt in Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephens decided to travel northward in quest of a cooler climate, and, after laying in a heavy stock of fur and woollen clothing, started for Dawson. Leaving their light clothing at Seattle, they donned their heavy apparel and came on. The further north they came the hotter they found the weather, and on their arrival at Dawson, instead of turning up their fur collars and shivering at the sight of mountains of ice, they found mercury sporting around in the nineties, and going higher with each succeeding day. Mrs. Andie McKenzie, herself a Californian, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Stephens, but her efforts at endeavouring to persuade them that Dawson is a cooler place at present than Los Angeles were futile, and the result was that the elderly couple left last night on the Casca, en route to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Stephens expressed serious doubts of Dawson ever experiencing weather below zero."

MRS. CROSSLEY'S SENTENCE.

She Will Spend Three Months in Jail —Also Fined.

A case that has occupied the attention of the police court for some time is that of Mrs. Crossley, who was charged with keeping a house of ill-fame, and of selling liquor without a license. The prisoner was defended by Mr. Daniel O'Connell, and Mr. L. M. Hayes appeared on behalf of the prosecution.

The defendant was found guilty this morning of keeping a house of ill-fame, and was sentenced to three months in jail and a fine of $75, which if not paid another three months will be added to her sentence.

On the second charge, that of selling liquor without a license, the prisoner was discharged.

TWO WEEKS MORE.

Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. have been assured by their contractors that the new premises will be ready for them in two weeks. The firm expected to have moved a week earlier, but the public will be the gainers by this extra week, as it will give them more time to secure some of the rare bargains advertised during our removal sale. Come and select what you want in ordered and in ready-to-wear clothing and general furnishings. Now is the time to buy, and have the full benefit of the reductions during the hot weather. If you have been here before come again. The prices are inducing buyers to lay in stocks for future use. Preparations for fall mean that all summer goods must be hurried out of the way.

For Friday and Saturday very special values will be offered in the following lines;

THE HEROES OF HARTS' RIVER.

Their Happy Home Coming and Glorious Achievements.

They Made the Name of Canadian Soldier a Synonym of Cool Courage and Unyielding Devotion to Duty—The Peterborough Boys Were 'There' Also.

If they had done nothing else in South Africa, the men who participated in the engagement on Doornbalt's farm, near Kleinhardt's River, on the 31st of March last, won sufficient glory to give them lasting fame. No wonder Canada greets them with more than ordinary pride and enthusiasm on their home-coming. The incident was as fine a display of hardy bravery as the war has seen, and it occured at a time which gave it an important bearing on the outcome of the war. Gen. Delarey had shortly before defeated and captured Lord Methuen. The Boers, who were beginning to recover from the many crushing blows they had received, were becoming more and more daring. The first steps towards the negotiations of peace had been taken, and another Boer success would, for the time, have thwarted them.

HONOUR THE STAND THEY MADE.

Gen W. Kitchener, who had been sent in pursuit of Delarey, had made some important captures on the 24th. of March, and on the 31st got into touch with the enemy. The main body of the British force ranged in the shape of a semi-circle, with the Canadians across the front. The latter were charged with the defence of the baggage laager. It appears that the Boer attack was concentrated on the Canadians, and right well was it met and repulsed. Two thousand Boers advanced upon the Canadians, expecting them to recognise that they were outnumbered and to surrender. Our men had no protection save the long grass, into which they prostrated themselves. Lying prone, they returned such a steady and deadly fire that the Boers were glad to avail themselves of the shelter of the trees, under of which they had advanced. They had evidently which they preferred to handle with caution. Two incidents of the day are remembered with special pride by Canadians. One is the death of Private Evans, of London, who, though mortally wounded, continued to fire upon the advancing Boers. His action in discharging all his ammunition, and deliberately breaking his rifle, a few seconds before he breathed his last, was a splendid display of patriotism while the grave was closing over him. Canada will long cherish the story of Private Evans' achievement. Another remarkable incident was the conduct of Lieut. Bruce Carruthers, who, when his company was surrounded, charged at the Boers with his revolver, declaring that he would never surrender. All save fifteen of the company were either killed or wounded. The Canadian casualties, eleven killed and forty-six wounded, showed what a gallant defence had been made. When finally Delarey had been repulsed with heavy loss, the last important action of the war, and not the least decisive, had taken place.

CANADIANS SAVED THE DAY.

In England the authorities were not slow to recognize the splendid effort that the Canadians had made. They had clearly saved the day. And it was a most critical one, for it disposed the Boers to conclude terms of peace. In his despatch to Lord Minto Mr. Chamberlain congratulated the Dominion "on the heroic conduct of the "Canadians in action with Delarey." Lord Roberts sent his congratulations to the troops, and the English press was loud in its praise of the Canadians. They return, therefore, laden with honours. At Paardeberg our men showed they were unexcelled in a dash upon the enemy. At Hart's River they showed how firmly they could hold their ground and resist a wild charge. Canadians were foremost in the first great victory of the war, and they bore the brunt of the last attack upon the British. The heroes of Hart's river maintained the traditions of Canadian valour to the last. While we grieve for those who fill South African graves, we extend the nation's welcome to those who return, bringing their laurels with them.—Mail and Empire.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—The regular weekly band concert of the band of the 57th Regt., will take place this evening.

—Objections are sometimes raised concerning the abbreviated costumes in which society women sometimes appear at balls, but the average Stony Lake paddling sweaters has the ball dress beaten to death for scantness.

—Typographical Union, No. 248, has sent out invitations to members of sister unions to their picnic on Saturday afternoon, August 2nd. Mr. Gordon Logan, formerly of Peterborough, but now on the Galt Reporter, has been invited to the doin's.

—A couple of well-known local sportsmen had quite an argument with a bull near Youngs' Point the other day. They had to abandon their canoe on account of the storm, and in walking back to the Point they were given such a close chase by a bull that either one of them will shy nervously if even a cow appears in sight.

STOCK MARKETS.

Industrials Should Boom Shortly.

July 24th.—The time is rapidly coming around when it will pay to have some of the industrial stocks on hand. They have not enjoyed a boom while the railroad shares have been advancing. They are, in our opinion, upon the eve of having an upward swing. In markets, like these, everything must have its run. They are in splendid shape for it also. A bearish feeling has been engendered on sugar, copper and steel stocks and a large short interest has been thus encouraged, which will prove to be a fine lever in the effort to lift prices. The public are not holders of sugar and copper at present. They also have but little People's Gas, so, as we said before, the position for a rise is of the very best. We advise trading upon the long side of sugar, copper, gas and all the steel stocks. Get in now and in your trading always keep some of them on hand. You will then be in the swim when the lightning comes in these issues. It is almost a certainty that it will do so and that very shortly. Timely advice and warning of coming events is always judicious, hence we now issue the above advice. We believe it will be as certain as the advices we persistently issued to buy and keep long of the railway shares, specially enumerated those issues that have made such prodigous advances. In some instances our advices were possible earlier than necessary, but they were better than no advices at all, or as were issued by many houses, discouraging and so pessimistic that their customers were not only kept out of the opportunity for making money, but in many instances usually suffered losses through short selling. As for the railway issues they are not through yet, especially whenever concession in prices appear, buy the substantial issues. If they should sell off they will not only return to your purchase prices but to a figure that will enable you to secure a profit. We have as we have stated many times recently, never seen a better or safer market in which to conduct bullish speculative committments. Don't be afraid to purchase liberally in this market. The most courageous will be the ones to secure best returns.

The day leaders were R.I., St. Paul, U.P., St.P., T.C.I., Atch. and Sug. The first sold up to 200, St. P. to 88 1-2, T.C.I. 57 7-8, At. above 93, while Sug. struck 134. The long expected reaction materialized to-day, stocks falling from their best recorded prices 1 to 2 per cent. The market is all the better for the reaction. Good buying orders absorbed the stocks sold on the recessions to secure profits.

TENDER OF THE C.P.R.

For Fast Service Causes Considerable Stir in England.

MUCH SATISFACTION EXPRESSED

Press Comments—The Times Says It Would Prove of Great Value—Views of the Officials—C. P. R. Officers Think the British Subsidy Will Equal That Offered by Canada—A First Class Service.

London, July 26.— The announcement from Montreal that at the request of the Canadian Ministers now in London, the Canadian Pacific Railroad has offered to establish and work a weekly fast service between Quebec and Liverpool in the summer, and between Halifax and Liverpool in the winter, with a good freight service, is causing considerable stir in England, where it is hailed with delight as being an offset to J. Pierpont Morgan's shipping combine. The evening papers had placards reading, "English combination to fight the American Trust," etc.

The officials of the Canadian Pacific officials here deny that they have any such intention, but they as well as others believe that the long discussed Canadian fast service is finally approaching realization. The chief indication of this is the fact that the offer was made by the Canadian Pacific Railroad at the instance of the Canadian Ministers now here, and that they were fully aware of the conditions the Imperial Government is prepared to accede to.

A Good Augury.

Discussing the question, The Times of this morning editorially says: We may assume that, if the offer has been made, as is stated, at the instance of the Canadian Ministers now in London, it has not been made without a fairly accurate knowledge of the conditions to which the Imperial Government would be prepared to accede. It would be premature to attempt to discuss this scheme until fuller details are disclosed, but it is of good augury that such a proposal should have emanated from a company which has already given proofs of its ability to conduct a great ocean service on sound business lines. There is at present no better service on the Pacific than the service of fast steamers which the Canadian Pacific Railway Company runs between Vancouver and the Far East. The Empress steamers, as they are familiarly known, compare favorably, for comfort, punctuality and equipment, in regard both to freight and passenger accommodation, with any other line which, at present plies across the Nortgern Pacific, and the same company possesses another useful line of steamers running between British Columbia and our Australian colonies. From the point of view of Imperial interests, the services rendered by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, not only in the construction of the great trunk line across the Dominion, but in developing a new ocean highway across the Pacific to our dependencies and great trading communities in the other hemispheres, have already proved of the highest value the establishment of better and more rapid means of communication between the Mother Country and Canada on suitable conditions would constitute an even greater service to the interests of the Empire, whilst the fresh element of healthy competition it would import into the North Atlantic could hardly fail to benefit, directly and indirectly, all those who are interested in the promotion of trade and intercourse across the great ocean, which, nowadays, serves more and more, not to divide, but to bring together, the people of Europe and America.

Lord Strathcona Interviewed.

Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, the Canadian High Commissioner, said in an inteview yesterday: "While I am unable to add to the information already published, the terms mentioned seem reasonable and probable. The members of the Dominion Government some years ago were authorized by the Canadian Parliament to offer a subsidy of £150,000 ($750,000) for this purpose. So far as I know, the offer has not been increased. The reported subsidy of £260,000 ($1,300,000) shows an advance over the original offer, but it has always been understood that Great Britain would supplement Canada's offer, though I am not saying to what extent."

Lord Strathcona was unable to say what British port would be the terminus of the proposed line, but he said Liverpool, Swansea, Bristol, Southampton, Newport and Cardiff were all competing for selection.

Officials Confirm the Report.

One of the Canadian Pacific Railroad directors confirmed every particular of the Canadian Pacific's offer to build and operate subsidized line, and both he and others interested were confident that the project would be accomplished They have no doubt the British Government will provide a subsidy equaling the Canadian Government subsidy. Mr. Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary, is known to favor this plan, and Parliament will undoubtedly gratify the Government's recommendations along such lines. The chief requirement of the Imperial Government will be that steamers shall become auxiliary cruisers, just as the Canadian Pacific Railroad's Empress (Pacific) liners are. The principal points on which the Canadian Government will insist relate to refrigerating plants, speed and cargo capacity. It is admitted on all sides that the present movement was hastened by, if it was not the immediate outcome of, the formation of the American shipping combine.

Joseph Lawrence, member of Parliament for the Monmouth district, has informed the Newport Chamber of Commerce that Liverpool is practically certain to be the terminal port of the new Canadian service, and that no British channel port will be chosen.

A First Class Service.

Montreal, July 26.—Last night Sir Thomas Shaughnessy gave out the following statement: If the C. P. R. secure the fast line contract they will have built four steam passenger steamers of 23 knots, and 10 or 11 freight boats 10,000 tons of 15 knots. The President adds that it can be started in two years; and he declares that the interests of all railways will be protected.

Three Passengers Killed.

Xenia, Ohio, July 26.—A railroad wreck occurred at 10.30 o'clock Thursday night at Trebein Station, three miles from here, when the Pennsylvania Limited, from St. Louis to New York, was met by a wild coal car at the foot of the heavy grade. Three passengers were killed and many were badly injured.

WELCOME TO LORD DUNDONALD.

The New G.O.C. in Ottawa—Announces His Intention of Assuming Duties of His Office Immediately.

Ottawa, July, 26.—The new officer commanding the Canadian militia, Major-Gen. Lord Dundonald, had no occasion to doubt the genuineness of his welcome to Ottawa last night. He arrived on the 10 o'clock Canada Atlantic Express, and was greeted at the Central Depot by fully 2,000 people.

The guard of honor was furnished by the 43rd Regiment, in command of Capt. Cameron, accompanied by the full band. At the station were Major Maude, representing the Governor-General, Col. Pineault, Deputy Minister of Militia; Col. Cotton, Col. Vidal, Col. Rutherford and Col. Cartwright of the headquarters staff, and Col. Hodgins, D.O.C., and all the officers of the Ottawa garrison. The local officers were presented to the new G.O.C. by Lord Aylmer, who accompanied Lord Dundonald from Montreal.

Major Cook extended a gracious welcome in behalf of the city, after which Lord Dundonald carefully inspected the guard of honor, questioning several men who wore medals as to the place and occasion on which they were won. One man who wore something inappropriate to the occasion was criticized, plainly demonstrating that the new G.O.C. has an eagle eye and a sharp business turn. As Lord Dundonald reached the end of the line some one proposed three cheers, which were given with much gust by the crowd. Lord Dundonald afterwards drove to his new home, Rideau Cottage, near Government House. He was accompanied by Major Maude.

The new G.O.C. announced his intention of assuming the duties of his office immediately.

INDEPENDENCE OF COREA.

Guaranteed by Great Britain and Japan by Agreement.

St. Petersburg, July 26.—A special despatch received here from Seoul, Corea, announces the conclusion of an important agreement between the British and Japanese Ministers to Corea on one hand and the Japanese Councillor Kato, special adviser of the Corean Emperor, on the other, by which Great Britain and Japan mutually guarantee Corea's independence, and pledge her their support and assistance in all important questions affecting her international and foreign policy.

Corea, in return, agrees to raise her naval and military establishments to a footing sufficient for her own defence, and also, in case of raising a foreign loan, she agrees to restrict herself to the markets of Great Britain, Japan, and the United States.

FATALITIES IN WIND STORM.

2 Dead and 12 Missing From the Vancouver Fishing Fleet.

Vancouver B. C., July 26.—Three men were drowned and a dozen are missing, as the result of a furious windstorm here yesterday. The havoc was wrought among the fishing fleet. The full extent of the disaster cannot be learned until the occupants of all vessels are heard from. Many houses were destroyed by the high wind. It assumed the proportions of a tornado in some sections.

Crashed Into a Caboose.

London, July 26.—Engineer John McFadden and Fireman Charles Lowry of this city, Thursday night were taking a light train out to where the washouts east of Woodstock, were, with a bridge inspector on board, who intended to examine the bridges in that neighborhood. They were running about 25 miles an hour, and crashed into the caboose which had been left there. Both men jumped. Mr. McFadden escaped with lighter injuries than his fireman, only one foot being hurt. Lowry was less fortunate. His left thigh was badly bruised, his arm hurt and his head injured.

Trooper Died on the Train.

Montreal, July 26.—Trooper Gregson of Brandon, Man., died of heart failure about 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon between Quebec and Montreal. He was on his way home from the front and arrived on the Winnifredian.

Premier Roblin Home.

Winnipeg, July 26.—Premier Roblin returned yesterday morning from his trip to England, where he went to see the coronation ceremonies.

"Edward," she sighed, "when I read your notes my hopes are raised toward happiness."

"Yes," he answered moodily, "I never was able to raise anything on my notes except hope."

IN THE THIRD STAGE.

Major McRobie, Capt. Rennie and Thos. Mitchell for King's Prize.

CANADA LEADS OTHER COLONIES

Two of the Successful Competitors Are Not Members of the Canadian Team at Bisley—Canadians in the Grand Aggregate—Capt. Rennie Changes His Mind and Takes Silver Tea Set.

Bisley Camp, July 26.—Three Canadians, Capt. Rennie, Major McRobie and Thos. Mitchell, made high enough scores in the second stage of the King's Prize to qualify for the third and final stage which will be shot to-day.

The range yesterday was at 600 yards, and Capt. Davidson nearly reached the final stage also. He was tied with twenty-four others for the last place, his score being 179. The twenty-five shot off, but Davidson failed to qualify.

McRobie and Tom Mitchell are not members of the Canadian team, but came over to Bisley on their own account.

The colonies are represented in the final stage as follows:

Canada	3
Australia	2
New Zealand	2
Rhodesia	1
Natal	1

Of the three Canadians, Capt. Rennie is the only member of the Canadian team.

In the preliminary stage for the King's Prize, Corporal Jones, Private Scott and Sergt. Smith each won three pounds; Capt. Davidson, Lance-Corp. Mortimer, Capt. Mitchell, Private Peddie and Sergt Perry four pounds each. The score of one hundred and ninety-two won the silver medal.

In the Golden Penny match which has been in progress since the opening day and only ended Thursday Staff-Sergt. J. Carruthers in fourth place and Capt. King in eighth place, each got two pounds. Sergt. Bayles, twenty-second; Capt. Rennie, nineteenth, and Sergt. W. A. Smith, twenty-sixth, each won a pound.

Pte. Peddie made a score of 46 in the Wingrove match, 900 yards with ten shots.

Capt King's score in the Kynoch, 1,000 yards, ten shots, was 42.

Capt. Rennie, Pte. Scott, Lance-Corp. Mortimer and Capt. Mitchell get prizes in the Grand Aggregate; and Capt. Davidson, Lance-Corp Mortimer, Capt. Mitchell and Pte. Scott in the Volunteer Aggregate.

Thos. Mitchell, not a member of the team, and Lance-Corp. Mortimer, stood in one hundred and thirty-third and one hundred and forty-fourth places respectively in the first stage of the St. George's, and won two pounds each.

Sergt. Bayles, Capt. C. N. Mitchell and Pte. Scott qualified to shoot in the second stage.

Capt. Rennie, who leads the Canadians in the Grand Aggregate, changed his mind in regard to the prizes, taking the silver tea set donated by Lord Strathcona instead of the gold watch, which goes to Pte. Scott, who was in second place.

Corp. Jones, eighth; Sergt. Bayles, fifteenth, and Capt. King, twenty-fourth, won two pounds each in the Duke of Cambridge, 900 yards with ten shots.

Capt. Rennie scored 47 points in the Singor match at 600 yards range.

Capt. King scored 38 at the 200 yard range in the Association Cup and 39 at 600 yards.

FUNERAL OF DR. HORSEY.

Business in Owen Sound Suspended During Obsequies Friday.

Owen Sound, July 26.—The funeral of the late Dr. E. H. Horsey, M.P., yesterday afternoon was most imposing. Religious service was held at the house by Rev. R. J. McAlpin, pastor of Knox Church, assisted by Rev. Dr. Fraser of Annan, after which the cortege started for Greenwood Cemetery at 4.30 o'clock, headed by the 31st Regiment Band. Nearly one hundred and fifty carriages were in line, and over three hundred members of societies and employes of the company which deceased was connected with. The sidewalks were crowded with spectators, and business was suspended. The floral tributes were numerous and costly, many coming from distant friends. Among the many messages of sympathy received by Mrs. Horsey was one from Sir Wilfrid Laurier in England, and another from Hon. R. W. Scott, Ottawa.

Girl Disguised as a Man.

Hamilton, July 26.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Amy Wilson, the young Copetown girl, supposed to have been kidnapped, continues. A rumor is in circulation that she left her home disguised as a man, and that she has secured employment somewhere in this disguise. The authorities are investigating the case.

An Appropriate Name.

"It is a pretty name," the impressionable traveler murmured, "but tell me why do they call you Manita?"

There was an arch smile on the savage maiden's face.

"Evidently," she said as she signaled to her brothers, who were concealed in the brush with clubs, "you do not know our favorite food."

Suspected It.

Cashier—I can't honor that check, madam. Your husband's account is overdrawn.

Woman—Huh! Overdrawn, is it? I suspected something was wrong when he signed this check without waiting for me to get the hysterics.

THE FAST LINE.

Senator Drummond puts life into the trans-atlantic fast line idea. He thinks that the only way of escape from the injurious effects of the Morgan steamer combination, lies through Canada. He thinks that a fast line subsidized to the extent of a million and a half a year, half to be paid by Canada and half by Great Britain, would be successful, and that in ten years it would be self-sustaining. It is apparent that a necessary factor in the success of a fast line, is the nationalization of the chief Canadian railways, so that they may not fall under the influence of the Morgan merger. The matter, however, would be much simplified if the Canadian Pacific Railway, as it seems to be, would be willing to run such a line for the subsidy mentioned. This railway has been so successful in its other undertakings, of a similar character that there is little doubt that it could under the conditions suggested make a success of it.

A cable yesterday announces that the C.P.R. has made a specific offer to operate a fast line, and the London Times remarks in reference to the proposal that "it is a good augury that such a proposal emanates from a company which has already given proofs of its ability to conduct a great ocean service on sound business lines. No better service is given than the service of fast steamers which the Canadian Pacific runs between Vancouver and the Far East and Australia. The establishment of better and more rapid communication between Britain and Canada constitutes even greater service in the interests of the Empire." The British are beginning to appreciate Canada.

A FIGHT IS COMING.

One of the objections urged against the referendum in respect of the Prohibition Bill passed provisionally at the last session of the Ontario Legislature, was that it was loaded and that the temperance section of the electorate was handicapped — that they had to do all the work, and that the friends of the liquor traffic need make no exertions. At the time that objections were urged the Examiner pointed out that if temperance workers were depending upon the quiescence of the liquor party, they were likely to be deceived. And events show that the liquor party are not to allow the contest to go by default. They are actively preparing for the referendum fight and Mr. Edward Dickie, the secretary of the Licensed Victuallers' Association, is arranging meetings of the trade with a view of preparing for the referendum vote, and before a week is over those interested in the traffic will have entered upon the campaign. The prohibitionists are also preparing to mobilize their forces, and soon the thick of the fight will be on.

EDITORIAL NOTES

If the rain continues to fall so liberally it may prove a Water-loo to the farmers.

A Kyle cartoon in the Toronto Star pictures Alderman Lamb, in view of the heavy rains, inviting tenders for the construction of an ark. This would be quite in keeping with the ark-aic methods of the City Council.

Mr. Fred W. Nicholls, of Toronto, well known in Peterborough, has presented two camels to the Riverdale Zoo, Toronto, one of which has two humps. One of these should be secured by the City Council, which will have, in the language of the street, to "hump" considerably in order to round out its record to popular approval before next January's elections.

With a billion dollar steel trust clearing up $140,000,000 a year, and the American consumer paying one-third more for his steel goods than than Europeans pay for the identical articles—made by the same trust and sent abroad—it is easy to see, says the St. Paul Globe, why the trusts keep control of the Republican party. "The tariff is the mother of trusts," said Mr. Havemeyer, of the sugar trust. And the Republican party is the agent of trusts, in that it is responsible for the tariff laws.

If all the lumbermen were like those in the Ottawa Valley, the lumber camps would soon be free from small-px. According to the Ottawa Journal the lumber firms of the Ottawa Valley have taken a further and probably more conclusive step against small-pox among the lumber workers. No men will be employed this fall unless vaccinated or immune —the latter word meaning having already had small-pox. Since the appearance of the small-pox epidemic in northern Michigan, northern Ontario and north-western Quebec over a year ago, the lumber firms have done their best against it. They have cooperated heartily with all official or local preventive or remedial measures which the Ontario Government, through the Provincial Secretary's department, has so industriously put into motion.

Hamilton may not make much of a blow-out over the return of the soldiers from South Africa, but the Times sensibly remarks, there is something better for the boys than cheers and fireworks. If good situations can be found for them without delay, they will have no occasion to regret their trip to South Africa. There is generally a good deal of trouble about the transition to peace. The disposal of the soldiers at the peace of Amiens helped to settle Glengarry. After Waterloo ex-soldiers were provided with homes in Lanark. A regiment disbanded at Detroit one hundred and fifty years ago took up land in what is now Essex County. After the close of the United States war of the Rebellion, a great impetus was given to the settlement of the States west of the Mississippi. No very large problem confronts Canada as the result of sending her boys to South Africa, but the sooner they get down to steady remunerative work the better it will be for themselves, and for the country.

GLOOMY FEELING IN NICKEL TOWNS.

Two Thousand Men Idle in the Sudbury District — Over-Stocked Merchants Stand to Suffer—A Change in Government Would Have Made Things Worse.

According to a Sudbury gentleman who is in the city to-day, 2,000 men in and about Sudbury and Copper Cliff have been released and not taken on again by the Canadian Copper Co. and allied concerns. A good many of these have left the country to get work elsewhere, and "the result," said the Sudburyite, "is that the financial situation in the two nickel towns is not in any too good shape. Merchants ordered big stocks in the early part of the season, expecting a good summer's trade, and they have been disappointed."

The gentleman said that it was expected that the works would resume full operations before long, but if they do not it will become a very serious matter for the tradespeople. Those who have gone away are mine workers, and they have betaken themselves to Calumet and the other copper mines of the Western States.

There is some mystery about the partial closing down of the huge nickel works, which took place about three months ago, about the time of the formal organization of the Nickel combine. Officials of the company say that they are renovating the plant, and many changes are undoubtedly being made. Besides, there is a pretty big supply of matte in stock. The close down is pretty general, and only a few hundred men are at work.

"I tell you what I think about it," said the Star's informant to-day. "If Mr. Whitney had been returned to power, you would have seen the works closed up tight. I think they were afraid of Carscallen, who, you know, wants to prohibit the export of nickel matte, while Mr. Whitney would not commit himself. And I know that for the past eighteen months the Orford people have been preparing to bring their whole supply of matte for their New Jersey refineries from New Caledonia and Norway, and in case Ontario had said that they must refine in Ontario, they would have closed up altogether, and told Ontario to mine her own nickel.

"There is no use," he added, "in Ontario trying to place an export duty on nickel matte. The United States would just turn around and put an export duty on refined nickel and then where would we be?"—Toronto Star.

NASAL CATARRH — SYMPTOMS AND TREATMENT.

Catarrh of the nose is usually the result of a neglected cold, or of a succession of colds, in fact, many people who have this disease believe that they are only suffering from an obstinate cold in the head. With a chronic catarrh the symptoms of an ordinary cold are constantly present, the accumulation of mucus in nose and the throat and the difficulty in breathing through the nostrils usually constituting the most annoying symptoms. But the catarrhal disease does not stop here; it is always aggressive, always ready to extend from the head to the throat, to the ears, to the lungs, to the stomach, and finally to affect the whole system by absorption of the poisonous discharges into the blood. With these dangers always threatening catarrhal sufferers, it is unfortunate that the disease is believed to be incurable except by operation. The proof that this view is quite wrong is found in the reports of cured cases published by the Drouet Institute, which include many instances where a cure was effected by a simple method after operations had been performed without success.

Those who desire to know the treatment prescribed at the Institute can obtain full particulars from "The Journal for the Deaf," an "Analytical Review of the Diseases of the Ear, Nose and Throat, which is sent free by post to anyone addressing the Secretary, Drouet Institute, 72 Regent's Park-road, N.W., London, England. With the Journal is always enclosed a supplement, containing details of the cases cured during each month, and also a Patient's Report Form, which enables anyone to receive free advice as to the application of the treatment at home. Any advice by correspondence is absolutely free.

"BILLY" PONTON'S NEW ROLE.

British Residents in Colombia Highly Honour Him.

W. H. Ponton has enjoyed a number of remarkable experiences since he went to Bocas del Toro, in the republic of Colombia, South America, but especially noteworthy was a mark of distinction as well as appreciation recently bestowed upon him by the British residents of Bocas del Toro and the surrounding settlements, to the number of 3,000.

Mr. Ponton has been acting British consul at that place, and during the recent troublous times, when the Government and insurgents were fighting for the possession of the town, his position has been a very responsible one. That he has performed his duties well and filled his responsible office as a worthy representative of His Majesty the King is shown by a loyal and grateful address presented to him on what was to have been Coronation Day, by the residents. Through him they express their warm loyalty and love towards the King, and at the same time they acknowledge the great services on their behalf performed by Mr. Ponton as the protector in the King's name of British lives and property.

FITZSIMMONS IS OUT.

Jeffries Remains Heavyweight Champion of the Ring.

THE BIG BATTLE BY ROUNDS.

The Ex-Champion Fought a Cool, Wary Fight, Only to Be Caught Napping by the "Best Man" as He Admits, in the Eight Round — Champion Punished But He Can Stand a Lot of That.

San Francisco, July 26.—After fighting a battle of eight rounds, that was fraught with brilliant and courageous work, Robert Fitzsimmons last night forfeited his last claim upon the heavyweight championship. He was knocked to the floor by Jas. J. Jeffries and counted out after he had so badly punished the champion that it was a foregone conclusion among the spectators that the Cornishman must win. Bleeding from a number of gashes in the face, apparently weakening and clearly unable to cope with Fitzsimmons' superior skill, Jeffries delivered two lucky punches as Fitzsimmons paused in his fighting to speak to him and turned the tide. The battle was brief, but noteworthy and will live in pugilistic history. Fitzsimmons tried once to rise, but fell down again helpless and heard himself counted out, where but a moment before he had apparently all the better of it.

"I will never fight again," said the battle-scarred veteran of the ring when he had sufficiently recovered to talk. "The fight was won fairly, and to the best man belongs the laurels."

"You are the most dangerous man alive," said Jeffries in return, "and I consider myself lucky to have won when I did."

THE FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

10.23—The fight started.

While Jeffries fixed his belt Bob tested the ring by jumping around the floor.

Round 1—They came quickly to the centre, Jeffries in a half crouching attitude and both feinting rapidly. Jeffries followed Bob around, feinting with left and looking for an opening. Fitz was the first to lead. He sent a short right jab to the jaw and another a moment later.

Jeffries crouched and rushed, but Fitz sidestepped out of the way. Jeffries rushed again and Fitzsimmons smothered his left for the body. Both of them did a lot of feinting, Jeffries finally trying left for the face, but it fell short. He forced his man into the corner, but missed a hard left swing. Then Fitz tried for the face, landing lightly. Jeffries sent in a hard left on the body and Bob countered on the head without damage. Jeffries continued to force his man and when the gong sounded he was on the aggressive.

When the champion took his corner his nose was bleeding slightly from one of Fitz's left jabs. He looked confident, however, and sat watching Fitz during the minute's respite.

Round 2—Jeffries went after Fitz, trying left for the head and falling short. Fitz jabbed a left to the neck, and Jeffries smiled and forced him to the corner. The lanky fellow quickly sidestepped out of the way. Fitzsimmons tried right for the head, but was quickly and neatly blocked.

Fitz broke ground before Jeffries' left, but finally tried a left for the head. It was light, however, and the champion caught it on the shoulder. They exchanged lefts, Bob putting a stiff left on the face. Jeffries crouched lower, and sent Fitz back against the ropes with a left on the body. Fitz put two left hooks on the face and got out of the way of the champion's left. Jeffries went at him with a stiff left on the head. He got a left jab on the nose that brought blood in a stream from Jeff's nose.

At the close of the round Jeff was somewhat worried, but took matters coolly during the minute's rest. His nose was bleeding freely. Fitz, on the other hand, was as cool as a cucumber, and was not in the least blowed.

Round 3—Jeffries came up forcing matters. His bloody nose annoyed him a little. He changed his tactics for a moment and stood up straight.

Jeffries' cheek was opened with a left hook, and more blood flowed. The champion rushed, swinging left and right. They were blocked, but a left caught Bob hard in the stomach. Bob jabbed left to face twice. Jeffries looked worried. The lanky fellow was cool and got out of the way. Jeff's face was covered with blood at the end of the round from his nose and a gash over the right eye. Delaney bused himself over him between rounds.

Round 4—Jeffries looked enraged as he crouched and clinched his lips. He was very careful and stayed clear of Fitz's left jabs. Bob blocked two swings for the head and got out of reach of another. A moment later they came together and exchanged lefts on the face. Fitz put a short right hook on the head and Jeff landed on the chest.

Fitz put Jeff's head back with a left jab and started the blood. Jeffries got another right on head, but came in with two left hooks, one for the head and another for the body. Fitz was going away, however, and the force was broken. Bob led a stiff left to the body, but got a right on the head. Fitz then took a turn at forcing, putting left on face twice, and compelling Jeffries to duck away.

Jeff looked worried as he listened to Delaney's instructions.

Round 6—Jeffries came up and crouched low. He missed his attempt with a left for the head. He rushed, but the wily redhead blocked every blow and got out of the way. Fitz put a right on Jeff's head, one on the body and another on the nose.

Jeffries broke ground and ducked out of the way. They exchanged lefts on the head, Fitz being the most damaging. Jeff rushed again and again, but he was smothered and took three lefts and rights on the face, which started the blood afresh.

Fitz showed remarkable cleverness in getting away from rushes. His left jabs were cutting and just as the gong sounded he put another on Jeff's sore mouth and nose.

Jeff wore a determined look. As he stepped to spit Fitz jabbed him three times in the mouth and forced him to the ropes. Jeff came right back like an enraged bull, and, bleeding from his nose, mouth and cheek, he rushed the smaller man to the ropes, putting left on body and right over the heart.

Fitz stood him off, however, with left jabs, occasionally sending left to the head. Jeff sent left to the head and in the clinch they carried on a conversation, Fitz smiling good-naturedly, while Jeffries was bleeding and presented a terrible appearance. He was not tired, however, and took it easy in the wait.

Round 8—Bob stood up straight, feinting with his left and drawing Jeffries on. Jeffries smiled thru his bloody features, ducking a left swing and landing a hard left on the ribs. They went at it, Fitz putting left on face and took one on the head.

Fitzsimmons missed a right and took a stiff punch on the body. Jeff forced the fighting at this stage, crouching low and carrying his right high and left far back. They came together and clinched.

As Fitzsimmons stepped back he smiled and spoke to Jeffries, and before he could get out of reach Jeffries quickly hooked his left on the jaw and Fitz went down on his back. He came up slowly, but before he could get upon both feet the referee counted ten, and the fight was over.

ARRIVAL OF LORD DUNDONALD.

New G.O.C. Pleased to Have Opportunity to Command Canadians.

Quebec, July 25.—The steamship Lake Champlain arrived in port yesterday, having on board Lord Dundonald, the new Commander-in-Chief of the Canadian forces.

Interviewed by a correspondent Lord Dundonald stated that he would go to Montreal on board the ship, probably arriving between 10 and 11 to-day. He will proceed the same day to Ottawa, and at once enter upon his official duties.

Asked for his views upon Canadian subjects in general, and this country's militia in particular, he expressed his great pleasure at the prospect of assuming command of the Canadian forces, and at having had under him in South Africa some of its representatives in the shape of Strathcona Horse. Of that fine body of men he could not speak in sufficiently high terms. It had rendered the most signal service on the veldt and he was quite confident that his relations with the militia as a whole would be most cordial.

The Liver at the Bottom.

The liver is usually at the bottom of a great many diseases. It is the liver which abstracts the bile. It is the bile which enters chemically into the composition of the digestive ferments, and also acts as a cathartic. The Lightninglike Loon.

The loon is the quickest living creature. A loon that has had experience can dodge the flash of a gun. You see a loon on a lake, but long before you see him he sees you and has taken a mental inventory of you and your belongings. If you have no gun, you may perhaps approach within 100 yards before he laughs at you with that horrid shriek which gives him his name and disappears under the water, but show a gun and he does not stop to laugh—he goes instanter. When in a sportive mood, he sometimes waits until he sees you about ready to fire, when, at the flash, he dives, and you see the shot spatter the water where he has just gone down.

Diamond Fields of India.

Diamond fields in India were known from the very earliest times. In the sacred books of India eight localities are mentioned as yielding diamonds, and of these three have been identified at the present day—Matanga (Kistna and Godavery), Paunda (Chota Nagpur) and Vena Gunga (Wairaghar). The diamondiferous area of India, so far as is known, is perhaps more extensive than that of the rest of the world, and nine-tenths of the famous jewels are Indian stones.

Cooking Ham.

Ham is frequently too salt to fry without previous preparation. Put the slices in tepid water and let them stand on the back of the range to soak out the salt, not to boil, for about half an hour. Drain dry between towels, then fry in a hot spider.

When a whole ham is to be baked or boiled, let it stand overnight covered with cold water.

The Cheerful Face.

Next to the sunlight of heaven is the cheerful face. Who has not felt its electrifying influence? One glance at this face lifts us out of the mists and shadows into the beautiful, bright and warm within. A host of evil passions may lurk around the door, but they never enter and abide there. The cheerful face will put them to shame and flight.

KING ENJOYED THE SUNSHINE.

Sat on the Deck of Royal Yacht During Cruise Friday.

London, July 26.—This was the first brilliant day since King Edward's arrival at Cowes, Isle of Wight, and His Majesty enjoyed the sunshine on deck. At 12.50 o'clock the royal yacht left her moorings and cruised westward.

All reports from the yacht agree that the King is steadily improving.

There was another rehearsal yesterday afternoon of the royal procession from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey. It was witnessed by a large crowd.

The very strict fire precautions at the Abbey and its vicinity have been accentuated since the recent fatal blundering at the Queen Victoria street conflagration. A special detail of firemen have been added to the regular Westminster force, and a private telphone, solely for emergency use connects Westminster Abbey with the Francis street fire brigade station. Equal precautions are taken at the great stands surrounding the Abbey. Hose has been laid and attached to all neighboring hydrants, and is ready for instant use.

Around Isle of Wight.

London, July 26.—The King had a smooth cruise around the Isle of Wight, returning to Cowes last evening.

PASSENGERS WERE SHAKEN UP.

THE COLONIAL CONFERENCE.

Friday's Session Devoted to Discussion of Imperial Defence.

London, July 26.—The whole session of the colonial conference yesterday was devoted to the discussion of imperial defence. An interesting proposal was submitted by Richard J. Seddon, Premier of New Zealand, looking to the establishment in each colony of a militia reserve selected from the local forces of the colony. The matter was thoroughly canvassed, but no action was taken.

The War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, it is understood, submitted certain plans of his own which will be separately considered by the various delegates, who will thereafter acquaint the Imperial authorities with the military resources and requirements of their respective colonies.

Albany, N.Y., July 26.—One fireman dead, one in the hospital believed to be dying, and a number seriously injured, in addition to a monetary loss, variously estimated at from $500,000 to $750,000, are the results of a fire which broke out in the heart of the business district shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The entire fire department of the city was called into service.

Will Not Arrest Wilson.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 26.—W. B. Wilson, secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers, received a communication yesterday from his attorney at Parkersburg, W.Va., saying that the warrant for his arrest on a charge of having violated an injunction, issued by Judge Jackson, had been rescinded. AUSTRALIAN QUACKS.

Novel Ways of Doing a Medical Business—One of Them Pays Income Tax on £30,000 a Year.

As there is no proper medical law in Australia, nor, indeed, any legislative enactment in force by means whereof the practice of medicine may be confined within the hands of its duly qualified exponents, quackery flourishes exceedingly, says The London Mail, and in the most impudent and barefaced fashion conceivable.

Statistics prove that each legitimately qualified practitioner living in Australia strives for his bread in competition with three quacks. But if the law does not protect the qualified man, and despises the health of the community thus impiously exposed to the ravages of imposters, the charlatan himself it takes to its heart and nourishes as though he were a precious jewel.

Thus! If a man suffers from the negligence or malpractice of a qualified surgeon or physician and can prope his case, the law gives heavy damages to the injured one. But if a like injury be suffered at the hands of a quack, the law non-suits the plaintiff, remarking, with a wag of its asinine head, "My dear sir, you have no case! If you employ a quack to attend you, you do so at your own risk. You have no legal redress!" Strange, but true! What wonder then that Australia is the happy hunting ground for quacks!

One of the methods now most widely in use, is worthy of note. It was invented by the late notorious and infamous Dr. Gresham, who, starting life as a book-maker, on being posted as a defaulter, turned quack and made a large fortune in a few years. The quack hires three large rooms, in a prominent city thoroughfare. The outer is a waiting-room, the second a dispensary, the third and inmost a private consulting-room, with a second door for egress. Here the quack lurks and interviews his patients. The dispensary is occupied by his confederates. The patient enters, and his attention is immediately absorbed by the extraordinary arrangement of the walls. Skeletons, skulls, stuffed birds and snakes, and colored anatomical plates and pictures of horrible cancers, tumors, etc., cover the walls—also a thousand framed testimonials given by grateful patients.

The confederate presently calls the patient into the dispensary and engages him in talk. He lauds the quack's marvellous genius to the skies, and deftly pumps the patient as to his particular ailment. The patient, an ignorant person, whose mind dwells morbidly on his disease, is usually anxious to talk about himself. He falls an easy victim, and describes his symptoms at length. Pretty soon a bell rings in the consulting-room, whereupon the confederate, in a hushed, awe-stricken voice, informs the patient that the great doctor is now disengaged, and will see him. The patient enters the consulting-room, and finds himself in a dimly-lighted den, littered from floor to ceiling with most mysterious objects—great heaps of dried herbs, enormous glass retorts, cases of formidable looking instruments, and papier-mache dummy figures of half-dissected human beings. Seated before a table is an old man clad in a symbol-covered silk gown.

The quack bids the patient to be seated—and sternly enjoins silence. He then turns a curious bull's-eye electric light full on the dumb-stricken patient, and, pressing one end of a telescope made of crystal against the man's side, pretends to look through the telescope and examine the organs of his interior, one by one. Presently he leans back in his chair, nodding his head. "Hum!" he remarks. "You have had a gnawing pain in your back just under your fifth rib—for the past four years!"

"My God!" gasps the astonished patient, entirely forgetting that a few minutes ago, he has detailed his sufferings to the dispenser in the next room. The quack, with unmoved composure, proceeds as he has commenced — until the patient is absolutely convinced that he is in the hands of a magician and finally departs his pockets lighter, but bearing away a nostrum made of chalk, paste and bitter aloes, which frequently works a faith cure of his disease. Naturally the patient spreads the quack's fame abroad, and so the game goes on.

Riding along a country road, a few years ago in New South Wales, I was overtaken by an equestrian, who introduced himself to me. I knew him by repute as a notorious itinerant quack and was glad of the chance to converse with him. He, presently perceiving that I was not a likely patient, confided to me the facts that all his knowledge of medicine was abstracted from Dr. Beard's "Encyclopaedia of Household Medicine"; that he had been brought up to the shoemaking trade, and that his real name was Key. He declared he was making £2,000 a year at his new profession, and would continue to do so, because the supply of fools was inexhaustible. He was an interesting creature, and quite the most cynical person I have ever encountered.

As a herbalist, however, the quack particularly thrives. There resides a herbalist in every village in Australia, while hundreds infest the larger towns. These rascals pretend to cure every ill to which humanity is subject. They charge nothing for consultation, but live by selling their nostrums, and live well.

One man, a herbalist, and prince of Australian quacks, pays income tax on an annual revenue of £30,000. He can write his own name, but no more and can read large print fairly well. But he is a keen student of human nature, and he knows the ways of fools.

There is no legally qualified surgeon or practitioner in Australia who earns more than £6,000 a year. What more need be said?—London Mail.

MOTHER AND BABY.

When it is found impossible for the mother to nurse her baby in the hot summer weather, it is well to know that Lactated Food is a perfect substitute for the mother's milk. This life saving food is relished by the babies when milk and other dangerous foods cannot be tolerated by the weak stomach. Lactated Food should be used by every mother who would have her baby strong and happy.

pass every hour through the heart, liver and kidneys. How vastly important it should be that this blood should be pure so that these important organs are not irritated. And also how important it is that these organs should be strong and healthy, so that their work may be thoroughly accomplished. Merrill's System Tonic is not only a powerful blood purifier but a reconstructive tonic for these important organs. 50 doses, price 50 cents, at Ormond and Walsh's drugstore.

Elastic Stockings.

Dirt is always unhealthy, so it should not be tolerated even in an elastic stocking, though that is not an article that can be sent to the wash. Clean it by rubbing it with a piece of flannel dipped in flour, heated as much as possible in the oven without browning it. Shake out the flour and repeat the process if necessary.

Then She Kissed Him.

"You have not kissed me," she pouted, "for fifteen minutes."

"I know it," he said. "I have a very sensitive tooth, which is liable to ache if I do."

"What do you mean, sir?"

"Why, you are so sweet, you know!"

Family Quarrels.

"How many serious family quarrels, marriages out of spite and alterations of wills might have been prevented by a gentle dose of pills." With the liver and kidneys sluggish and torpid digestion is impaired and temper ruined. But Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, by invigorating the action of these organs ensure good digestion and sound health. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

Bricklayer's Backache.

It requires a good strong sturdy man to stand the strain of the hard work that falls to the lot of a mason. Exposure to the hot sun and the cutting winds, bending over, inhaling the fine dust of the lime, brick or stone, all these things are bound sooner or later to tell on the kidneys and put them out of working order.

The poor old back begins to ache and pain, the urine is scant and scalds when passing.

Any mason who finds his back aching and his kidneys bothering him can have these troubles removed and be put in fit shape for his work by a bottle or two of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.

ACTED LIKE A CHARM.

Mr. Geo. Grass, South Street, Aylmer, Ont., a stone and brickmason, well known in that town and vicinity, says: "For some fifteen years I have had trouble with my back and kidneys. It arose from my attempting to lift a very heavy stone and straining myself. I have tried all sorts of remedies in the hope of being cured, but obtained very little relief. My back would be so bad at times that it was with great pain and difficulty I could straighten up when I arose from my bed in the morning, and I suffered so much that I had to give up my mason work altogether. I read a good deal about Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets and bought a supply from my druggist. They acted like a charm—took the soreness and stiffness out of my back so that I can now straighten up with ease. The pain is all gone and I feel strong and well."

Price 50c. a box, at all druggists or by mail, THE DR. ZILA PITCHER CO., Toronto.

LAID AT REST.

Funeral of the Late Mr. Louis Craig To-day.

The funeral of the late Louis Craig took place at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon, from the family residence, on Chambers street. Interment took place at Little Lake cemetery.

The funeral service at the house and the grave were conducted by Rev. J. A. Wilson, assistant pastor of St. Paul's church. There was a large number of the friends and acquaintances of the deceased who turned out to pay their last tribute of respect.

The pall bearers were the deceased's three brothers, Frank and Roland, of town, and Thomas, of Toronto; and Messrs. J. Brownlee, Wm. Savigny, and D. Harper. The chief mourners were Messrs. Samuel Craig, of Harpeler, and Frank Reice, uncles. Miss Nellie of Colborne, a sister, was here attending the funeral.

The Peterborough members of the 2nd C.M.R. attended the funeral in a body out of respect to the deceased's brother, Pte. Frank Craig, who has just returned from South Africa.

The deceased was an employee of the Peter Hamilton Mfg. Co'a, and his fellow employees attended the funeral in a body.

RAIN WATER REIGNS.

The Pluvious Period an After-taste of the Deluge.

A reader of the Examiner, of an inquiring turn of mind, has made some calculations based on the enormous rainfall of the present month, he says:—

A gallon of water weighs 10 pounds, and if spread out in a layer one inch thick, will only cover an area of two square feet. An inch of rain gives 22,662 gallons or 100 tons of water per acre, or 60,000 tons per square mile. A farmer who has a 160 acre farm will receive on his farm 16,000 tons of water for each inch of rain. I see that the rainfall of the present month is unprecedented, being already 8 1-3 inches, so the farmer mentioned above will have to his credit 133,333 tons, or 30,216,000 gallons.

Eight inches of rainfall upon a square mile means 123,250,000 gallons or 616,000 tons. It would be interesting to know whether the phenomenal rainfall of this season has any connection with the prohibition agitation. Whether the referendum is carried or not, the country will get its full share of cold water, anyway.

SPECIAL SERVICES

In the George Street Methodist Church To-morrow.

The service in George street Methodist church to-morrow night will be one of more than ordinary interest. It will be a song sermon conducted on rather unique lines. The subject will be "The Seven Hills of the Bible," including Mount Moria, Piaga, Mount of Olives, etc., closing with the Hill of Zion and the New Jerusalem. The music will be suitable to the occasion and the choir will sing several anthems. Mr. Mulligan has been asked to sing Adams' Holy City. This will be the last song sermon this season, as Mrs. Mowat will leave on vacation the first week in August and the choir will have a holiday during the last two Sundays in August. The musical service will be conducted by Mr. Mulligan. The choir will resume its duties the first Sunday in September.

May you ever wax,
And never wane;
Be always fresh,
And never dull,

You may be full.

WON A SCHOLARSHIP.

Harold Muncaster, Formerly of Peterborough and now of Charleston, S. C.

The many friends in Peterborough of Mr. R. W. Muncaster, formerly of town, but now of Charleston, S. C., will be pleased to hear of the success of his son Harold in his recent examinations. Harold, who will be remembered by many Peterborough boys, has succeeded in winning a scholarship given by the City of Charleston to the South Carolina Military Academy, by a competitive examination.

The scholarship given gives a four year course with tuition, board, clothing and a university course of study, the cash value of which is one thousand dollars. Peterborough may well be proud of the honours her old boys are bringing her in educational circles.

RE HEALEY FALLS POWER.

A Letter From Mr. J. Alex. Culverwell.

From the Campbellford Despatch.

It has been circulated throughout this section that Mr. Patrick Burns had given an option some time ago on his property at Healey's Falls to Mr. Rogers, a Government engineer, who resides in Peterborough. This week we learned that Mr. Rogers had secured the property and had paid Mr. Burns $1500 as part payment of the same.

A few weeks ago we published a lengthy article in the Despatch in which we stated that Mr. J. Alex. Culverwell, managing director of the Central Ontario Power Company, was spending a great deal of time and money surveying and purchasing property at Healey's Falls and Crow Bay, and that we believed that the vast power which is going to waste would soon be harnessed. We still believe that Mr. Culverwell means business and will make things interesting. We received the following letter from Mr. Culverwell this morning.

Toronto, July 23, 1902.

To the Editor of the Campbellford Despatch;

Dear Sir, — Please publish the following statement;

I have not joined forces with Government engineer in Healey Falls power purchases, or proposed Government leases. His friends falsify when they circulate that report. I will stop him if there be justice. Besides his personal trafficing in water power on the Trent Canal is scandalous, and an outrage upon the public as well as myself. I have made purchases of parts of Healey Falls power.

J. ALEX. CULVERWELL.

DOWN THE RIVER.

The Bartenders of the Town had a Pleasant Outing.

The bar-tenders' excursion down the Otonabee River per Steamer City of Peterborough, under the auspices of local union No. 293, was a most enjoyable affair. The excursionists numbered about one hundred, which would have been much larger if it had not been for the rain storm in the morning. However, the day turned out a very pleasant one, and every person was well satisfied with the day's outing. The Point was reached at 11 o'clock, and dinner was served at 12. Mine Host Foley made everything as pleasant as he could for the excursionists. The sports, which took place after dinner, resulted as follows;

Bartenders' race, 100 yards — C. Dusty, Ed. Donoghue.
Standing broad jump—D. Foley, J. O'Brien.
Putting the shot — Ed. Flaherty, J. O'Brien.
Hop, step and jump — W. Parnell, J. O'Brien.
Boys' race, under 12 — C. Hall, P. Lynch.
Girls' race, under 12 — F. Creamer, Ada Mann.
Three Legged race for boys — Dusty and Woods, Holland and Lynch.
Baseball match for keg of Calcutt's beer between outsiders and bartenders —Won by outsiders, score 2—1.

The sports were under the supervision of Bro. Jayes, president, and Bros. Creamer and Foley.

The union has every reason to feel proud of the success of their annual outing.

SUMMER RESORT NOTES.

VIAMEDE.

One of the severest electrical storms of the season struck Viamede on Wednesday about noon, and the display of lightning on the steel flag-staff was a memorable sight. No damage was done beyond the discomfort so general this summer, of scurrying to a place of shelter, with as much haste as possible. After the storm the afternoon brightened up again, but as evening approached rain came on again so indoor amusements were planned, Mrs. Neel, of Buffalo, entertaining most of the guests in the "Shamrock" sitting room, while the jolly young men of the "Graham Gem" arranged a programme of fun for themselves.

Fishing has been very good of late, and competition is rather strong among the anglers.

The following guests have arrived since last week—Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, of Ashburnham; Mr. M. F. Crafts, Peterborough; Mr. W. A. Babson, South Orange, N. J.; Mr. F. B. Sayre, and Mr. J. Nevin Sayre, South Bethlehem, Pa.; Mr. H. A. Ackerly, Mr. J. J. Fincane, Mr. J. C. Barry, Mr. Raymond Brownell and Mr. A. B. Booth, Rochester; Dr. L. R. Metzgar and wife, Pittsburg; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wickens, Brantford; Mrs. J. H. Pearson, Allentown, Pa.; Miss F. E. Breman and Miss Helen C. McNall, Rochester; Mr. Allan M. Dymond and Mr. J. Ahern, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Pierrepont, Rochester; Miss Irene Noble and Mlle. Decrey, Peteborough; Mrs. F. H. Gerhard and Miss C. M. McGuire, of Rochester.

CAMP CRUMBS.

The enrolment of the boys for the Y.M.C.A. camp grows from day to day. Many of the old-time crowd are on the list. Others who are going should hand in their names before 1st Aug. Sixteen years is the age limit.

Mr. Ayers will return to town on the 4th, in good time to get ready for the camp. He has a number of good schemes on tap. Will Howson of Norwood, has been heard from and he will be on deck no doubt. He wants to know how many No. 2 men are going.

Everyone who knows anything of the arrangements says that all former camps will take second place to this one as far as a genuine good time is concerned.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MISS MARGUERITE E. O'CONNELL.

The Norwood Register says; Nine pupils from S. S. No. 6, Asphodel, wrote on the recent examinations for entrance to the High school, and all passed, some with honours. Considering the attendance at this school this is an excellent showing, in fact, beyond record for a rural public school, and reflects great credit upon the teacher, Miss M. E. O'Connell. This makes a total of sixteen candidates in three years passed into the High School by Miss O'Connell. We are glad to see that this clever young teacher is keeping up the highly creditable reputation already won by this family of teachers.

IRON MOULDERS' OFFICERS.

Martin Fox Again Elected President.

Philadelphia was Selected as the Place of Meeting in 1903.

The Iron Moulders' Convention yesterday morning, at Toronto, selected Philadelphia as the place of meeting in 1905. The second choice was Milwaukee, and the vote was 256 to 196. Philadelphia won largely by the energetic campaign put up by Delegate Thomas J. McGurn, of the Quaker City. He had to help him the fact that the local Union of Philadelphia is the oldest in America, and three years hence will celebrate its jubilee, having been organized in the year 1855.

The election of officers occupied the rest of the day, and was not completed when the convention adjourned. The results as far as they go were as follows; President, Martin Fox, Covington, Ky.; First Vice-President, Jos. E. Valentine, San Francisco, Cal.; Second Vice-President, J. P. Frey, Worcester, Mass.; Fourth Vice-President, John Campbell, Quincy, Ill.; Secretary, E. J. Denney, Cincinnati, Ohio; Assistant Secretary, John C. Weaver, Covington, Ky., Financier, R. H. Metcalf, Cincinnati, Ohio; Treasurer, Alex. Faulkner, Cleveland, O.; Editor Iron Moulders' Journal, David Black, Cincinnati, Ohio.

All of the forgoing officers were re-elected, but there were other candidates for every position, and in some cases the contest was keen.

It is expected that the convention will finally adjourn to-day at noon. Many of the delegates will leave this morning, and the Secretary will probably pay out $50,000 by noon. This convention has lasted longer than any other in the history of the order. It is now twenty days since it opened. Each delegate receives $3 a day and travelling expenses. The mileage and per diem allowance while travelling amounted in the aggregate to $20,000.

TWO WEEKS MORE.

Messrs. H. LeBrun & Co. have been assured by their contractors that the new premises will be ready for them in two weeks. The firm expected to have moved a week earlier, but the public will be the gainers by this extra week, as it will give them more time to secure some of the rare bargains advertised during our removal sale. Come and select what you want in ordered, and in ready-to-wear clothing and general furnishings. Now is the time to buy, and have the full benefit of the reductions during the hot weather. If you have been here before come again. The prices are inducing buyers to lay in stocks for future use. Preparations for fall mean that all summer goods must be hurried out of the way.

For Friday and Saturday very special values will be offered in the following lines;

Men's Fancy Cambric Shirts, only 30 cents; we have all sizes as high as 18, for stout men, and lots of them. White and fancy coloured. Summer Vests, at 50c., 75c., $1, and $1.25 — all these must go. 15 dozen Men's Overalls, at 25c. a pair. Thirty dozen flannelette, cotton and moleskin working Shirts, 15c., 20c., and 25c. Many sections of the store contribute double values, which you should profit by during these two closing weeks, before we move.

THE LESSON OF A TRAGEDY.

Deplorable Results of Disregard of Parental Control.

(New York Tribune.)

The moral of the escapade which resulted in the death of a young woman at Good Ground a few days ago seems almost too obvious to draw. Yet nobody who contemplates the growing carelessness in manners and morals of young men and young women in decent society can fail to realize that the lesson is greatly needed. A recent murder brought to light a most appalling account of the social condition among the sons and daughters of well-to-do and respectable families in the Bedford region of Brooklyn, and must have awakened thousands of fathers and mothers too late to a sense of duty. This latest tragedy is another indictment of the lack of training in the elements of good sense and good breeding by parents, from whom such training might reasonably be expected.

The victim in this instance was a young woman of respectable parentage and good social position. She was apparently a fun-loving, wilful, but not vicious girl. Yet she accepted for her close companions at a summer resort two young married men, one of whom was separated but not divorced from his wife. Her mother disliked such companionship, and the evening before the tragedy told the man living apart from his wife that she did not approve of his relations with her daughter, only to have the daughter saucily remark in the mother's presence that he could go with her as much as he pleased. Then she went riding with this man, and was about with the two, at hotels, in carriages, or boats till the middle of the night, while her mother was abed. During that night something mysterious happened. The girl and one man were accidently drowned or were murdered, and the other man has disappeared. There is, in the newspaper accounts, no hint or suspicions against this girl's good character, but her indiscretion, her reckless readiness to compromise herself, and the apparent inability of her parents to exercise wholesome influence upon her are as sadly conspicious as we fear they are typical.

Fathers and mothers who permit their girls to grow up so beyond their control, so ignorant, or so indifferent to the requirements of womanly behaviour, have no reason for wonder if the result is death or moral ruin. The traditional freedom and naturalness of American social relations have a charm and a value when under proper training they are made to promote in both boys and girls mutual respect and unaffected modesty. Doubtless, too, that unchaperoned companionship of young people which so shocks foreigners results for the most part in virtuous affections and happy marriages. But this is something far different from the license and disregard of decorum which is becoming alarmingly prevalent, not among the lower orders in the social scale, but in families which are considered intelligent and well bred. The manners of young men have degenerated. They will act and speak in the presence of women in a way that would not have been tolerated a generation ago, and young women who are unquestionably without evil intent will conduct themselves as no woman could have done a few years ago without serious damage to her reputation. There is evidently need of a revival of the unfashionable art of bringing up children. Boys and girls are growing up to be lawless. Lacking respect for authority and conventions they easily lose respect for the virtues which authority and conventions seek to guard. Laxity in homes and schools contact under unfavourable conditions of young men and women in business life, the rush, selfishness and bad manners of our crowded streets, shops and public conveyances, all tend to the destruction of that good breeding which commands respect and nurtures modesty.

HIS HOT-WEATHER SERMON

Michigan Pastor was Asked to Make it Brief, and He did—Just 27 Words.

Houghton, Mich., July 21. — Twice requested to make his sermon brief, Rev. Henry Gillingham, pastor of the Atlantic Methodist church, of Atlantic, a village near Houghton, preached one of the shortest sermons, if not the shortest, on record, last Sunday evening. No one in the copper country has heard a discourse so brief or so pithy as this was.

At the close of Sunday school one of the church officers said to the minister, "It is very warm and I hope you will make the sermon short to-night."

The pastor accepted the wish in good humour. He went to the evening meeting prepared to make a thirty minute discourse. As he entered the vestibule of the church, however, he met another prominent member of the congregation who accosted him with;

"Very warm to-night! Hope you will make it short!"

The Rev. Mr. Gillingham changed his mind about the thirty-minute sermon. During the opening exercises he prepared another which he thought would be suitably brief. When he arose to announce his text he remarked that he had twice been asked to make his sermon short and he would try to do so. If this should seem too long he would stop next time with the text. Then he delivered this sermon;

Text, Luke 16, 24. "And he cried and said, 'Father Abraham, have mercy on me and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame.'

Three persons — Abraham, Dives, Lazarus. It was hot where Dives was. He did not like it. He wanted to get out. So do we. Let us pray!

MATTERS MILITARY

BY SENTRY.

It seems too bad that the Peterborough boys of the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles arrived home at such an hour that it was found impossible to tender them a celebration such as they deserved. However had it been known in time that they were going to arrive at as early an hour as they did, there would certainly have been a large gathering of townspeople at the station. As it was, a great many of those who had been aware of their coming late the night before, were at the station. There are still several Peterborough boys to follow, but they will likely come straggling along one by one, so that no formal reception will be tendered to them. It is rumoured, however, that after the holiday season is past and the boys have all returned, a public demonstration will be gotten up. It may take the form of a supper.

Two South African veterans that made the Examiner a pleasant call this week were Lieut. W. D. Leach, of the third Dragoons, and Mr. Herbert Burnham, of the same place. Mr. Burnham is a man of great experience in soldiering, having served as Sergeant Drill Instructor of "A" Battery, Kingston, for some 7 or 8 years. He went to South Africa with "D" Battery, of the Canadian Artillery. Lieut. Leach has just been transferred from the 45th Durham Regiment of Infantry.

Returning to the subject of rifle shooting, it may be said that the "jump" of the rifle in the case of the Lee-Enfield, varies more or less with each competitor. The rifles have a vertical as well as a horizontal jump, and in the case of the horizontal or side jump it is about one foot eight inches at 200 yards, to 8 feet at 1000 yards. The horizontal side jump to the left when shooting from the right shoulder, is allowed for—in the case of all Government rifles—by placing the fore-sight out of centre, the "barley corn" being .022 from the centre of the block to the left. The Lee-Enfield rifle when shot from the left shoulder has no horizontal side jump and therefore a person who shoots from the left shoulder should use a rifle with the foresight in the dead centre, or otherwise make the necessary allowance on the target, or better still, having the V and vertical wind line set also to the left. However, the jump is a condition that varies with each man and has to be overcome by practise only. The drift of the bullet is due to the twist of the rifling in the barrel, and is approximately 1 foot to the left in 1000 yards and in the long ranges a side wind will increase this. Wind is the greatest obstacle that has to be overcome. For all calculations at the butts in regard to wind the ranges are always spoken of as an imaginary clock face, 12 o'clock being the targets and 6 o'clock being down the ranges. All winds blowing from the right are spoken of as 1 to 5 o'clock, and from the left as 7 to 11 o'clock. A front wind, or blowing from 10 to 2 o'clock, requires a higher elevation and a rear wind blowing from 4 to 8 o'clock, requires a lower elevation, more or less, in proportion first as to its strength, and secondly as to its direction, as compared with the line of fire. On account of the spin of a .303 bullet being from right to left, a right wind requires a trifle more allowance than an equal force of wind from the left. As soon as the young shot has learned to hit the target, he should study the wind in all its phases, as it is impossible to ever become a first class shot without learning all the tricks that the wind will play on the bullet from the time it leaves the muzzle until it reaches the target. In a future article we will take up the means to defeat the wind.

It has been definitely decided that the Cobourg Company Garrison Artillery, the three companies of the 2nd Montreal Regiment, and the four companies of the 6th Quebec Regiment, shall have their annual competition at Deseronto. They will fire with five inch howitzers. The 3rd St. John Regiment and the 4th Prince Edward Island, will compete at St. John, N.B., with quick-firing guns.

The Montreal Star says that the big review which was to have been held in that city on the proposed Coronation Day, will be held on the day of the King's Coronation, likely between the 5th and 12th of August, and all the regiments which accepted the invitation to be present at that review, will be there, including the Cobourg Company Garrison Artillery.

STOCK MARKETS.

Among the Industrials.

New York, July 25. — Preferable for speculative purposes is this class of stocks. Of course we find sugar, copper and People's Gas. These issues are due for quite a rise. Trading in industrials differs in one respect from trading in railway shares. Their movements are more erratic and more highly manipulated when the stocks are advanced. A larger margin is undoubtedly advisable and when an operator engages in speculation in them, he must not expect to always get in at the bottom. If you can buy sugar within three or four points of the bottom price for the time being, then have it ten to fifteen points in your favour, you have made a successful trade and your judgment has proven good. With a liberal margin behind the operator, trading in sugar, it is not essential that he should ever take a loss. If it goes against you, it will always return to your purchase price. This has been the history of the stock for the past fifteen years and a study of the records of sugar fluctuations will clearly demonstrate the fact. A cool head operating can make an excellent return upon his capital. Copper is another stock that has been in the dumps for some time. The next great change in conditions applying to this stock will be for the better. The time is coming when it will again sell above par and be to speculative favour. The public hold but little of it. The clique are loaded with it. Consequently to tie up to some of stock should in a short time prove remunerative. It was a dangerous stock when the public were loaded with it from 130 down. It is a safe stock to have below 70, with the public and the cliques in. Steels are good.. B. O. will sell much higher in our opinion. The stock pays its own board in dividends. Pressed steel car issues, Amn. Car and F. Rep. Iron and S. The leathers and A.L.D. are also cheap and good to buy, either the pfd or com.

New York, July 25.—As outlined in last night's letter, quick recovery took place after the afternoon recession. Reactions will probably be more plentiful from now on, but the market will work higher. St. Paul rose to 189 5-8, a new high point. Ill. Cen. did equally well, advancing 1@ 5-8. Atch. sold up 93 7-8. N.Y.C. rose nearly three points, touching 167 1-3. T.C.I. cleared over two points. Copper and sugar were in lively demand, and rose under good buying. The buying of P.O. was classified as better than the selling. R.B.C. rose one point. Industrials will sell higher. Tomorrow we will announce some important news relative to S.R. Money closed at three.

THE IRISH QUESTION.

Beginning of a Series of Debates in the House of Commons—Mr. Wyndham and Mr. John Redmond speak.

London, July 24.—The House of Commons last night entered on a series of Irish debates. When the estimates for Ireland came up for discussion, John Redmond, chairman of the Irish Parliamentary party, moved the reduction of the salary of the Chief Secretary, George Wyndham. Mr. Redmond maintained that Mr. Wyndham had done nothing for the country and that the Irish problem was more dangerous to the Empire to-day than it had been for a quarter of a century.

Mr. Wyndham, in refuting this assertion, declared that he could at present offer no constructive policy, and maintained that there could be no staunching of the flow of emigration and the union must become intolerable to the Unionists, and the idea of Home Rule impossible, even to those who cherished it, unless and until the desolating process of social proscription and the miasma of fear which penetrated and paralyzed every nerve of national life were repudiated by the good sense of the people, and repressed by the power of the Government.

Mr. Wyndham's accusation that T. W. Russell (Liberal-Unionist) member for South Tyrone, palliated disorder during the De Freyne evictions, brought out a heated denial from Mr. Russell, and lengthy exchanges between himself and Mr. Wyndham.

Mr. Russell declared that only a man who had sold himself body and soul to the landlords and evictory would dare make such an accusation.

Dealing with the formation of the Irish Land Trust, Mr. Russell said it would provoke a war, the end of which no man could foresee.

Great Britain's Attitude.

London, July 24.—Replying to a question in the House of Commons, yesterday, the Premier, A. J. Balfour, said that the Imperial Government was still considering its reply to Russia's suggestion regarding an international trust conference, but it was impossible as yet to announce Great Britain's attitude on the subject.

EXPECTED TO BE KIDNAPPED.

Amy Wilson, 18 Years, of Copetown, Left a Mysterious Epistle.

Hamilton, July 24.—A strange story comes here from Copetown, via Dundas, regarding the disappearance of Miss Amy Wilson, a 18-year-old daughter of John H. Wilson, George street, who has a farm near Copetown. The girl disappeared Tuesday afternoon and has not been seen since. Yesterday morning the matter was reported to the police, and yesterday afternoon the whole countryside turned out to look for her.

While searching the girl's room for a clue last evening, a notice in her handwriting was found, and in it the girl stated that she expected to be kidnapped. She said about 3 o'clock Tuesday a well-dressed man called at the house and asked for work. He also asked if any of the men were around. Being told there were not, he went away and returned in a short time with another man. Both had revolvers, and told her to put on her best clothes, that she would have to go on a long trip with them. She said she retired to her room, and, instead of changing her clothing, wrote the note.

KING'S HARD REGIME.

His Bill of Fare Is Prepared For Him by a Physician.

London, July 24. — King Edward yesterday enjoyed the improved weather at Cowes, Isle of Wight. His Majesty spent the forenoon in an invalid chair on the open deck.

He is still under the most struct supervision. His diet menu is signed daily by one or other of the royal physicians before it is submitted to him. He submits good-naturedly to the somewhat severe regime. There is every indication of His Majesty's continued progress towards complete convalescence. Weather permitting, the royal yacht will probably go on a short cruise to-day.

The Kaiser's Visit.

Truth says that Emperor William's visit to King Edward will be brief and strictly private, the German Emperor sailing from Kiel on the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, August 2, and remaining at Cowes through the regatta week, when his schooner yacht Meteor III. will complete for the King's cup.

To Reduce Military Sentences.

London, July 24—Lord Alverstone, the Lord Chief Justice of England Sir John Bingham, judge of the King's Bench division of the High Court of Justice, and Major-General Sir John Ardagh, recently agent of the Government on the South African Claims Commission, have been appointed a royal commission to proceed to South Africa Aug. 9, and enquire into the sentences imposed by the military courts, with the view of ascertaining whether it is expedient that such sentence be reduced

A CANADIAN PICTURE.

Aberdeen Journal on British Colonial Art Exhibition.

Among the pictures in the "British Colonial Art Exhibition," just opened in the galleries of the Royal Institute in Piccadilly, says The Aberdeen Journal of June 17, is a portrait of Lord Strathcona, by Mr. G. Horne Russell, Montreal, son of Mr. George Russell, 50 Watson street, Aberdeen. The other portraits include one of Lord Milner, and one of Mr. Rhodes, by Mr. Tennyson Cole, and another of the late General Sir Andrew Clarke, by Mr. Percy Spencer. The exhibition ought to be interesting at the present time, and it should also be successful, seeing that it has the support of royalty and other distinguished personages, among the patrons being H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, a number of past and present colonial Governors and Governors-General, all the Agents-General, Lord Strathcona, and Lord Mount Stephen.

Mr. Russell's portrait of Lord Strathcona, is said by the critics to be a capital one, and this favorable criticism is all the more gratifying to the artist, when it is stated that his lordship does not care much for giving sittings. Mr. Russell, however, was fortunate to meet Lord Strathcona on the occasion of the Prince and Princess of Wales' visit to Canada, and his request for an opportunity to try his hand in reproducing a likeness on canvas of his lordship was granted, the sittings having been given in London. Born in Banff, Mr. George Horne Russell came to Aberdeen with his parents about a quarter of a century ago. He then went to Canada, and, giving himself entirely up to the profession of art, he has made for himself a high position in the art world, his landscapes and protraits having for several years past been hung in the place of honor in the Canadian Royal Art Academy. Mr. Russell, who is married to an Aberdeen lady —Miss Morrison—has been on a visit to his friends in Aberdeen during the past month, but left last night on his return to Canada.

AN AGED WOMAN.

After Passing Three Score and Ten Years Mrs. Plowman is Cured of Dyspepsia —A Very Serious Case.

Nothing can render old age more miserable than Dyspepsia.

Mrs. Emma Plowman, wife of Alfred Plowman, of New Lowell, Ont., is over seventy years of age, and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have completely cured her of a very bad case of Dyspepsia.

For a few years past Mrs. Plowman has been obthered more or less with stomach trouble, which finally culminated in Dyspepsia of a very aggravated form.

She tried many dyspepsia cures, but got no relief till she began to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

From the beginning she found some relief, but the improvement in her case was slow. However, she was not discouraged, but determined to keep on till every trace of her digestive organs were completely restored to a healthy condition.

Now she is enjoying perfect freedom from every symptom of Indigestion or dyspepsia, and is loud in her praise of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

It seems quite a long treatment, but, as Mr. Plowman himself says—

"Who would not spend ten dollars and a half to see his wife cured of such a distressing and painful disease?"

While it took twenty-one boxes to effect a cure in the case of this old lady it must be remembered that many cases are cured by a much shorter treatment.

Everything depends on the severity of the case and the general physical condition of the patient.

Some systems respond more quickly and positively to medical treatment than others do. Age has something to do with this.

Some do not continue the treatment without interruption till cured, but stop the moment relief begins and thus do not give the remedy a fair chance.

But this is true;—There is no case of Stomach Trouble, no matter how acute or of how long standing, that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will not cure if persisted in according to directions.

A New Gas Gusher.

Windsor, July 25.—Well drillers, acting for the United Gas and Oil Company of Windsor, have struck a gas and oil gusher on a farm in Romney Township, two miles east of the village of Wheatley. It is said to be a rich find, and is expected to give the company a new lease of life. It is the belief of the company that there is a gas belt in the vicinity of the new well, and its agents have leased all the farms in the neighborhood, comprising upwards of 2,000 acres. The company has agreed to give each farmer 25 cents an acre per year if no drilling is done, and $100 per acre if gas is struck. If oil is also found the farmer is to receive one out of every 10 barrels that are taken from the well.

Sleepers Took Nine Children.

Hamilton, July 24.—The detectives have been asked to find Jacob Miller, Simcoe street, who it is alleged, eloped with the wife of C. M. Young, taking his own and Young's children —9 in all. Mrs. Miller was notified of the occurrence and when she was discharged from the General Hospital she found there was no home for herself and babe to go to. However, some friends of her husband have given her a home temporarily.

Orillia Old Boys.

Orillia, July 24.—Despite frequent showers, the second annual re-union of the Simcoe County Old Boys', held here yesterday was a decided success. Shortly before noon the visitors to the number of 500, mostly from Toronto, arrived on a special train. A program of land and water sports was carried out in the afternoon.

Found Dead in a Ditch.

London, July 25.— Mr. John Wilson, a farmer living on the town line of Wyton, a few miles west of Thorndale, was found dead in a ditch on a roadway near Wyton Wednesday afternoon about 6 o'clock by two of his grandchildren. Mr. Wilson, who was over 70 years of age, was probably killed by the horse running away.

HOT WEATHER AILMENTS.

Careful Mothers Should Keep at Hand the Means to Check Ailments That Otherwise may Prove Fatal.

When the weather is hot the sands of the little life are apt to glide away before you know it. You can not watch the little one too carefully at this period. Dysentery, diarrhoea, cholera infantum and disorders of the stomach are alarmingly frequent during the hot, moist weather of the summer months. At the first sign of any of these, or any of the other ailments that afflict little ones, give Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets will speedily relieve and promptly cure all hot weather ailments. Keep them in the house—their prompt use may save a precious little life. Mrs. Herbert Burnham, Smith's Falls, Ont., says;—When my eldest child was six weeks old he had an attack of cholera infantum and was at death's door. My doctor advised me to use Baby's Own Tablets, and in twenty-four hours baby was better; the vomiting and purging ceased, and he regained strength rapidly. I have used the tablets for other ailments of children since, and always with the happiest results. I can sincerely recommend them to mothers as a medicine that should always be kept in the house."

Little ones thrive, are good natured and grow plump and rosy in homes where Baby's Own Tablets are used. Children take them as readily as candy, and crushed to a powder they can be given to the youngest infant with the best results. Sold at drug stores or you can get them post paid at 25 cents a box by writing direct to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y.

The Story of the Ticket.

"Every ticket has its story," said a man acquainted with the pawnshops, and one of the sad little tales which he told is repeated by the Philadelphia Telegraph. It was a bitter cold day, and a mite of a boy, not over nine years old, had come in, wrapped in his overcoat. This he peeled off and deposited it upon the pawnbroker's counter.

"Give a dollar 'n' quarter?" he asked in pleading tones.

"Dollar," said the money lender.

"Oh, please give me a dollar 'n' a quarter!"

"Can't do it. Dollar."

The boy was almost crying, and he begged earnestly for the sum he asked. "I want to get my sister's coat out," he said as he laid down 8 cents as interest money. This proposition the pawnbroker accepted, and the boy went shivering into the cold with his sister's coat.

"Is your sister going to a dance tonight?" a bystander asked him.

"No, sir; mom's been sick, an' Maggie had to hock her coat for feed. She's got a job now, an' she's got to have a coat to go to work in. I don't mind the cold; I'm used to it."

The Scotch Halfpenny.

Englishmen are familiar with the name "bawbee," applied to the Scotch halfpenny, but to few does it bring the association of a baby queen and a loyal people. Those who meet with the word in their reading do not often stop to ask how it came to be applied. It appears that the first attempt at the portraiture of the unfortunate Mary, queen of Scots, was made in her infancy, and her small face was engraved upon the Scottish halfpennies at the time of her coronation in 1543, when she was but nine months old. A number of these small coins are still preserved, and it will be easily understood how the name "bawbee," or baby, came to be given to the coin bearing the effigy of the baby. The halfpenny of Scotland is still commonly called the bawbee, although the baby face no longer appears on it.

A Churchman's Wit.

Wayne MacVeagh, Archbishop Ryan and George B. Roberts, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, were fellow guests at a banquet given in the Union league several years before the death of Mr. Roberts. Mr. MacVeagh at the time was the legal adviser of the "Pennsy." Some chaff in the vernacular of railroading marked a passage in the conversation of the evening, and the lawyer, following up a compliment paid the prelate by the president, said:

"Your grace, in return you might give the worthy Mr. Roberts a free pass to heaven."

"I should willingly do so," responded his grace, "but for one reason—I should not care to be the means of separating him from his counsel in the world beyond."

"Rule Britannia" Variations.

One of the English papers gives the answers of certain board school boys who were asked to write down the whole or part of the chorus of "Rule Britannia." One of them gave the first line as "Royl Brick Tanner, Brick Tanner rules the way," a second began it with "Rore Britanier," while a third attempted a whole verse. This was his version: "The nations not so blest has he but still in stern but still stern to God most all this was the Chelter the Chelter of the stail and God in Angles sang the Strang Bulbiatanya biatanya woves the waves for Britains never wil be slain."

Easy Enough.

Mr. Harry de Windt in his book, "Finland as It Is," tells of a mot of Andree, the arctic explorer. Just before his last voyage he was driven to distraction at a dinner party by a talkative neighbor.

"But how will you know, professor, when you have really crossed the north pole?" was one of the many silly questions.

"Oh, that will be simple enough, madame," replied Andree with his well known dry humor. "A north wind will become a south one!"

The First in the World.

Merrill's System Tonic is the first medicine to combine the tonic with the reconstructive treatment in the cure of disease. The blood is purified, new blood is made, the nerves, muscles and tissues of the heart, kidneys, liver and stomach, are toned and strengthened, and then nature is enabled to throw off the disease, which has been ravishing the body. For Constipation, Catarrh and Chronic Rheumatism, System Tonic is a positive cure. Sold at 50 cents a bottle by Ormond and Walsh.

A UNIQUE DORMITORY.

One That Is Owned by the University of the South.

Dean Hoffman was noted for charitable impulses, which his large income allowed him to indulge in. Some years ago the dean invested heavily in land in a small southern town which was then enjoying a "boom" period. Among the dean's other investments was a beautiful little hotel, exquisitely appointed and perfect in every detail. After awhile the "boom" fell through, and the little hotel became a losing investment.

At this time the chancellor of the University of the South, an old friend of Dean Hoffman, was on a hunting trip with him in the mountains of North Carolina.

"We are badly in need of a dormitory down at Suwanee," said the chancellor.

"Yes," said Hoffman and sat thinking for a moment. "Well, you can have the hotel building down at B——," naming the town. "You can take it to pieces and move it to Suwanee. It ought to make a pretty little dormitory."

The chancellor was greatly pleased and made all the arrangements to move the hotel, when, to his astonishment, the citizens of the town obtained an injunction against its removal on the grounds that the hotel in a way was public property and that to remove it would leave the town without any hotel accommodations. A legal fight followed, but the university won out in the end. So the University of the South revels in the luxury of the most unique dormitory in the world.

The Home of the Kindergarten.

The Japanese have the most perfect kindergarten system in the world. In fact, they originated this method of instructing by entertainment instead of by punishment inflicted. Their play apparatus for such purpose is elaborate, but all of it is adapted to the infant mind, which it is designed at once to amuse and to inform. The little ones of Japan even become somewhat interested in mathematics by seeing and feeling what a pretty thing a cone, a sphere or a cylinder is when cut out of wood with a lathe. They make outlines of solid figures out of straw, with green peas to hold the joints together, and for the instruction of the blind flat blocks are provided with the Japanese characters raised upon them.

Good Health for Capital.

Maintaining good health is to the majority of people the most vital question in the world, and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and Restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Naturally, gradually and certainly it forms new red corpuscles in the blood, creates new, healthy nerve cells, and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defies disease.

Insomnia Remedies.

However hopeless you may consider your case, be slow to fly to drugs for relief from insomnia. A rubber bag full of broken ice applied to the back of the neck and a hot water bag at the feet are highly recommended as a remedy for insomnia even in obstinate cases. The circulation is equalized by this treatment.

The secret of hot milk cure also recommended for sufferers from insomnia lies in sipping the beverage. The act of slowly swallowing the liquid is soothing in its effect and generally produces the much desired drowsy feeling which leads to the coveted sleep.

Had Bleeding, Itching Piles

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

The doctors are wrong. They usually claim that an operation, with all its risk, pain and expense, is the only cure for piles. We can prove by the statements of thousands of good, honest men and women that Dr. Chase's Ointment not only promptly relieves the suffering from piles, but also positively cures this dreadful ailment. It frequently cures after the knife has failed.

Mr. J. F. Miller, who is employed as cooper by the Kennedy & Davis Milling Co., Lindsay, Ont., states,— "I believe that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the best thing in the world for the piles. I say this because it has positively and thoroughly cured me of itching, bleeding piles, and this after all other remedies I could procure had failed. I can recommend this ointment to anyone suffering from piles, knowing that it will certainly cure."

CANADIAN ART AND ARTISTS.

Tribute From Duke of Argyll at Opening of Colonial Exhibition.

The British Colonial Art Exhibition was recently opened in London by the Duke of Argyll. Among the large company present were Lord Strathcona, Sir J. Cockburn, Admiral Sir E. H. Freemantle.

The Duke of Argyll, in declaring the exhibition opened, congratulated the promoters on having got together a collection which seemed to him very much superior, larger, and better in quality than any hitherto got together to represent colonial art. Some years ago there was a Colonial Art Exhibition at the Albert Hall, and although that gave promise of better things he confessed to being delighted to find the promises so well fulfilled, and to see so good a representation of the talents of artists in Canada, Australia and New Zealand, collected in the Royal Institute in Piccadilly. It was an excellent thing that they should make familiar to the British public the great scenes of natural beauty in the colonies, and show how the artists there had made the best of their time by training themselves both in the colonies and in Paris and London.

The Prince of Wales had lately expressed a hope that more of the colonial artists would come and prosecute their studies in London, and that was certain to be the case, as they would find here a larger market than elsewhere. But already a large number of them had made an excellent reputation by studying first in Paris. He might mention among them Paul Peel, whose studies of children were so excellent, and Lucius O'Brien, whom he had the pleasure of nominating as the first president of the Canadian Academy. That institution was started in 1879, and they were rather laughed at for their pains. Some of their friends said that the country was too young for such a central institution, but under the able auspices of Mr. O'Brien, it was started, and had maintained a most superior and useful exhibition ever since. He would express the hope that the art classes in Sydney, Melbourne and New Zealand might before long unite and form an Australasian Royal Academy. They would see from the pictures how magnificent was the scenery in many parts of the colonies—indeed, on the Pacific coast of Canada and among the mountains of New Zealand the scenery was unsurpassed by any in the world. He had much pleasure in formally opening the exhibition, trusting that it would bring closer to the knowledge of the people of England the marvellous beauties and resources of the greatest Empire of the world. Lord Strathcona, in moving a vote of thanks to the Duke of Agryll, said he had seen a good deal of Canadian as well as Australian art, and it spoke well for the talent and perseverance of the artists in these countries. They had not heretofore in Canada given that support to their own artists that they ought to have given. They were sure the talent and perseverance of the artists from the colonies would be appreciated in England, and he had little doubt as time went on they would have still better examples from them.

What Mr. Pell Saw.

Mr. J. E. Pell, the aged ex-secretary of the St. George's Society of Toronto, is probably the only person now alive in that city who witnessed the coronation procession of King George IV. of England. Mr. Pell, who is now 92 years of age, was a boy of 10 when in 1821 George IV. came to the throne. Mr. Pell remembers quite clearly seeing Queen Caroline drive up to the door of Westminster Abbey when she was refused admission to the coronation proceedings. Mr. Pell says he also sawGeorge IV. the last time that King drove down Long Windsor Walk. He was seated in a low pony carriage with the Marquis of Cunningham. Mr. Pell witnessed the coronation water procession on the Thames at the time of the crowning of William IV. He also remembers seeing Queen Victoria when as a girl of 12 years of age she walked in Kensington Gardens. He was, however, resident in Canada when the late Queen came to the throne.

An Old Scheme Revived.

The scheme announced from Boston to make Port Hamilton, on the Labrador coast, the terminus of a new transcontinental railway, is not new. Ten or twelve years ago, Mr. E. P. Bender, who achieved considerable celebrity in connection with a deadmeat project in Three Rivers, Que., had a similar scheme before Parliament. After Mr. Bender had explained to the Railway Committee, claiming the Port Hamilton never froze in winter, but was open all the year round, Lord Strathcona, who was then Sir Donald Smith, M.P. for Montreal West, rose and said:—"That is very strange; I remember distinctly that in the year 1840, I walked across the inlet upon snowshoes." The Chairman said "Next," and little more attention was paid to the bill. The fact that Mr. J. J. Hill is up in that direction on one of his annual fishing excursions is probably the warrant for connecting his name with the scheme.

Success of Lady Medical Students.

The Ontario Medical College for Women has just completed one of the most successful years in its history. The classes in attendance have been large, and all of the students going up from the college for their final examinations at Trinity and Toronto Universities have, without exception, been successful, while at the examinations of College of Physicians and Surgeons, although about thirty-five per cent. of all the candidates presenting themselves for examination failed to pass, yet all of the students from the Women's Medical College who tried the examination were successful.

Reduced by $750,000,000.

The national debt of Great Britain was reduced during the reign of Queen Victoria by about £750,000,000.

THE CAPITAL.

How Ottawa Was Selected as the Seat of Government in Canada—Lady Head's Sketch.

It is about 45 years since Canadian cities and towns were engaged in competing for the honor of being chosen as the national capital. Toronto, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec were in the running, and each place was urging the unexcelled scenic and other natural advantages which it enjoyed.

In the fall of 1857 Sir Edmund and Lady Head visited Ottawa, and were entertained to luncheon by the citizens under a marque at the north end of Major's Hill, now Major's Hill Park. Hon. R. W. Scott presided over the feast, and he took the opportunity to impress upon the Governor and his lady the many natural charms which the town possessed.

But, in truth, they were quite evident for themselves. It was a glorious day, and from the plateau where the company were assembled a magnificent panorama lay outspread. In the foreground the steep banks of Barrack Hill, now the site of the Parliament buildings, descended to the river. They were clothed with foliage, upon which the autumn tints were just beginning to appear. To the west the Ottawa hurled itself over the Chaudiere Falls, and, emerging from masses of foam and spray, went sweeping grandly past. The City of Hull was still in embryo, and on the north side of the river green slopes extended to the water's edge. They were unoccupied, save by a little edifice called "the Chapel of the Voyageurs," where every fall the shantymen would perform their religious duties before going to spend the winter in the woods.

Lady Head was charmed with the beauty of the scene, and, being a skillful artist, made a clever sketch of the surroundings. Later in the year Lady Head went to England, and there is little doubt used her influence in favor of Ottawa as the national capital. Doubtless, too, the sketch was of use in emphasizing the picturesque features of the locality.

But the beauty of the place was not the only argument used. Hon. R. W. Scott, in a carefully prepared memorial, advanced many cogent reasons, which were considered stronger than those urged by the Mayors of the other places interested. Moreover, according to report, the fact that Ottawa was capable of being easily fortified was pressed upon the Duke of Wellington, and so the great soldier's aid was given in its favor.

No wonder that early in the following year a despatch came to the effect that the Queen had decided upon Ottawa because it combined more advantages than any other place in Canada. The despatch containing her late Majesty's decision was dated December 31, 1857, a day which it is likely will ever be borne in affectionate remembrance by the people of the capital.

Died of Neglect.

Louis XVII., titular king of France, the unfortunate dauphin, died in the Temple of Paris of abuse and neglect. His body was identified and certified to by four members of the committee of public safety and by more than twenty officials of the temple. The remains were privately buried in the cemetery of St. Marguerite, and every trace of the grave was carefully obliterated.

The Women of Carthage.

There is a grand old story told about the supreme devotion displayed by the women of Carthage. When their city was besieged by the Romans, ropes were needed; but, as there was no flax to make them in the city, the women, headed by their heroic queen, came to the rescue. They one and all cut off their glorious tresses and made ropes out of their hair.

THE CLUMSY MAN.

You Can Never Be Sure of What His Next Break Will Be.

The great virtue about the really clumsy man is that he never exhausts his capabilities. When you think that the bedrock is reached, there is still a lower depth. If a detrimental relative should exist, the clumsy man asks after his health with great particularity and will not be satisfied until he receives a full and detailed reply. Should there be any incident in your past which everybody has generously agreed to forget it is the clumsy man who seizes the one, the inevitable opportunity, when the club is at its fullest and says loudly: "Somebody was talking the other day about that unfortunate little affair of yours in '95. Now tell me!"

When on meeting him you say casually and with no desire for information, "How are you?" he insists on giving you complete data, and he is as full of small complaints as a refractory pauper. It is only fair to add that he will ask affectionately after the colds of yesteryear, and his favorite locale for this is at the corner of a drafty street. He might be subsidized by influenza or he might get a commission on sore throats from his eagerness to pin you into the most dangerous position that can be discovered.

One desires an adequate amount of sympathy in distress, but our man always goes a little beyond this point. You are growing thin, and he says that you are wasting away to a shadow. You are growing stout, and he tells an unamusing anecdote about apoplexy. He can be more critical than a hairdresser if occasion gives the least excuse.

One Common Cause of Headache.

Perhaps the most general cause of headache and pain across the eyes is nasal catarrh. The simplest cure is to inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone which traverses every air cell and air passage of the throat, lungs and nose. It kills myriads of germs at every breath, clears away mucous discharges, preserves and heals the membrane. Catarrhozone is just a splendid remedy for headache, and its action is certain and unfailing in diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma and Catarrh. A trial will convince the most sceptical that Catarrhozone is all right. Large size, $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Midsummer Sufferings.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Quickly Dissipates Tired Feelings and Gives New Life to the Weak, Nervous and Debilitated.

Tired, languid and despondent feelings prevail to an alarming extent during the heated term of summer. Such feelings indicate depleted blood and a feeble condition of the nervous system.

This is just the time when Paine's Celery Compound is needed to build up flesh and muscle, brace the nerves and clear and strengthen the brain. Sick headaches, nervous prostration, sleeplessness and a general feeling of mental and physical depression by which life is made almost intolerable in the hot weather, can all be speedily banished by the use of a bottle or two of Paine's Celery Compound, nature's summer renovator and strength-giver.

Paine's Celery Compound never fails to repair the wasted and worn-out tissues. It calms and perfectly regulates nervous action, and brings that sweet and restful sleep that makes life happy.

The medicine that in the past has done such marvellous things for others, is the kind you should use at this time.

Putting It Gently.

"But is she pretty?"

"Well, I don't believe in talking about a girl's looks behind her back. Her father's worth about $20,000,000, and they've taken her to Europe twice without bringing back any titles, so you can form your own opinion."—Chicago Record-Herald.

An Old Friend in Town.

MAMMOTH PRIZE COMPETITION

TO BE HELD IN CONNECTION WITH

GOLD SOAP $2,500.00

IN PRIZES.

In order to get thousands of people in all parts of the country to see how pure and economical GOLD SOAP is for all manner of washing and cleaning, the manufacturers have decided to hold a Mammoth Prize Competition, to start May 15th, 1902, and end September 15th, 1902. The prizes will be awarded to the persons sending in the greatest number of Gold Soap Wrappers before November 15th, 1902. A full list of prizes will be found below, and all those who do not win a prize will receive a regular Gold Soap premium in return for their wrappers—varying in value according to the number of wrappers sent in. The manufacturers of Gold Soap could not afford to offer such an astounding inducement to the public, were it not for the fact that they feel sure that once Gold Soap is tried it will be used constantly, as no good housekeeper would think of going back to one of the common, impure soaps, after using the soap that is "worth its weight in gold." GOLD Soap is the purest, handiest, and most economical soap that it is possible to make, and if used constantly will keep down expense, make the washing more quickly and easily done, and will bring the clothes out beautifully white. In the following list

THERE ARE 5,213 PRIZES.

If you start now to save your Gold Soap wrappers, you will have quite a lot by November, and you will then share in the big Gold Soap competition. Do not be afraid to send in your wrappers, no matter how many you may have, because you are certain to receive a prize or a regular Gold Soap premium.

Please note that you are not asked to send any money or do any work of any kind—simply use the best Soap in the world, save the wrappers, and we send you a prize or a premium. This is the greatest offer ever made to the public, and will make GOLD SOAP known from ocean to ocean—and wherever it is known it is liked and recommended.

Of course, if you prefer to have one of the regular Gold Soap premiums that are described on the backs of the wrappers, you may send in your Gold Soap wrappers at any time, with a note telling which premium you wish. All Gold Soap premiums are guaranteed, so you don't take the slightest risk.

DIRECTIONS—Save your Gold Soap Wrappers and send them into Gold Soap, Toronto, marked, "Competition," before November 15th, 1902, with your own name and address enclosed. The prizes will be sent out on November 24th, with a full list of the winners. You may send your wrappers in at any time, so long as your name and address come along with each lot. Do not send in the whole wrapper, but just the centre part, with the words "Gold Soap, Good as Gold."

LIST OF PRIZES IN THE MAMMOTH PRIZE COMPETITION.

1st PRIZE—(For the largest number of Gold Soap Centres received) $100.00 in Cash.
2nd PRIZE—For the second greatest number $50.00 in Cash.
3rd PRIZE—$30.00 in Cash.
Each of the Next 50—A 14k Gold Filled Watch For Lady or Gentlemen, guaranteed.

Each of the Next 2000—A Copy of the Famous Picture—entitled "King of the Forest," Designed Especially for Gold Soap. This picture cannot be produced elsewhere.

CONDITIONS.

All wrappers sent in must have contained soap; we have a secret process for docting bogus wrappers. Consumers should be careful never to buy Gold Soap unless it is wrapped in the regular black and orange wrappers. All wrappers (or centres) must be plainly marked "competition," and must contain the name and address of the sender, and be mailed to Gold Soap, Toronto, on or before November 15th, 1902. Those who receive prizes will not receive any premium as well, but all those not winning prizes will receive a regular Gold Soap premium in return for their wrappers. Persons giving information leading to the conviction of any one trying to defraud Gold Soap will be liberally rewarded. Address all communications simply GOLD SOAP, TORONTO.

Corticelli

For dressmaking and family sewing Corticelli Silk is the best silk made. For hand or machine use it has no equal. Corticelli Silk runs smoothly in the needle; it is always even in size and always full length and full strength.

Ask your dealer for "Corticelli" and politely but firmly refuse all substitutes, which some clerk may say are "just as good." You may be sure they all lack the many qualities of the genuine Corticelli Silk. If your dealer does not keep Corticelli Silk, it is probably because he makes a little more money selling you some other brand. As Corticelli costs YOU no more than poor silk, why don't you try it? Ask for Corticelli—the Dressmakers' Favourite Spool Silk.

An Effective Evening Toilette.

Many of the evening frocks are as capable of development in mercerized mull, or cotton grenadine, for warm weather wear, as in the more costly chiffons and crepe de chines which go to make up the original models intended for the ball room. This gown might be charmingly reproduced in pale, green silk mull. This material must not be confused with mousseline de soie, or silk muslin, this being all silk and requiring a silk foundation, while silk mull is silk one way, cotton another, and does very well over a lawn slip exactly matching in colour. This frock shows quite a new effect on the skirt by means of the unusual arrangement of the tucks, stitched with green Corticelli sewing silk. The flounce heading rises to a point in front and slopes downward at the back. Edging the flounce and the groups of tucks is also used to define a bolero of plain material on the tucked blouse. The pretty sleeve and shoulder-knots are of velvet ribbon.

The Doctor's Story

When the matter of Foods for Infants and Invalids came up for consideration,

Sir Chas. A. Cameron, C.B., M.D.

Ex-President of the Royal College of Surgeons, Ireland, pronounced

NEAVE'S FOOD

"An excellent Food, admirably adapted to the wants of infants and young persons."

Mrs. A. EVANS, of The Hollies, Wilmington, near Manchester, writes: "Gentlemen,—I am sending photo of my little girl age two years, brought up entirely on Neave's Food, and a more healthy child could not be found. There is no doubt it is excellent Food, and so easily prepared. Many of my friends have asked me what I give them, and when told Neave's Food, have tried it, and in every instance found it satisfactory."

A NIGERIA EXPEDITON.

Brilliant British Capture of King and His Army.

Events in West Africa have so quickly succeeded each other in the last two years that it may be necessary to recall to memory the expeditions against the King of Kontagora which took place during the months of January and February, 1901. The result of that expedition was the capture of the large town of Kontagora and the complete defeat of the King's army. The King himself, however, and the great proportion of his men escaped in the direction of Kano, and he collected his forces, numbering about 10,000 men, in a fortified camp at Kaya, near the large city of Maska. During the year he made himself a terror to the towns in the neighborhood and practically put a stop to the trade of the once prosperous town of Zaria. As this state of affairs could not continue, an expedition known as the "Zaria Relief Expedition" left Jebba, the headquarters of the Northern Nigeria Regiment, on Feb. 5 last, with the object of capturing the king and dispersing his followers. This expeditionary force left Jebba with 77 infantry, a seven-pounder gun, and a Maxim gun, under the command of Major N. H. C. Dickinson (Leinster Regiment), 1st Battalion Northern Nigeria Regiment, and Lieut. Wright (2nd Queen's), as staff officer. Lieutenant Farquhar, R.F.A., was in command of the artillery detachment. At Wushishi, which was reached on Feb. 11, a detachment of 37 Mounted Infantry under Captain Porter (19th Hussars) was picked up, and here also the expedition was joined by Capt. Abadie (1st Royal Scots), who acted as Political Officer. On Feb. 20 Capt. Porter was despatched with the Mounted Infantry towards Maska to cut off all retreat in that direction. The remainder of the force moved with all speed towards Kaya, but they found it deserted, and it was entered and burnt to the ground.

Capt. Porter on nearing Maska had in the meantime found that the King had fled with all his followers, and was on his way towards Kano. In the distance Porter could see the retreating army of the Kontagoras, and all hope of forcing them to stand seemed gone. However, the Mounted Infantry, although tired out, gave chase in the most plucky manner, and skirting the Northern wall of Maska, Porter, who was opportunely joined by Abadie, came up with the retreating army some miles along the road, all hurrying towards Kano. Some resistance was made, but the King, on being surrounded by the Mounted Infantry, surrendered to Capt. Abadie, the Political Officer. Meanwhile the Infantry, under Major Dickinson, were hurrying up behind, and completely cornered the whole army of Kontagora. The captive chief, Ibrahim Sudan, is a nephew of the Sultan of Socoto, the second most powerful man in the Mohammedan religion. His capture, with the enormous number of 10,000 men, is the greatest blow yet struck at the Mohammedan power in West Africa. The King himself was personally escorted by Major Dickinson to Lokoja, gaol, and his men were sent back under escort to their native towns.

Neatly Rebuked.

Dr. Thomas Hume, an Irish wit and friend of Thomas Moore, went into a newspaper office and silently placed on the counter the announcement of a friend's death, together with 5 shillings, the usual charge for the insertion of such advertisements.

The clerk looked at the paper, tossed it to one side and said in a surly manner:

"Seven and six."

"I have frequently had occasion," replied Hume, "to publish these simple notices, and I have never before been charged more than 5 shillings."

"Simple!" replied the clerk grumpily, without looking up. "You say he is 'universally beloved and deeply regretted!' Seven and six!"

Hume laid the additional money on the counter, saying quietly:

"Congratulate yourself, sir, that this is an extra expense to which your executors will never be put."

How Scissors Are Made.

Though no complexities are involved in the making of scissors or much skill required, yet the process of manufacture is very interesting. They are forged from good bar steel heated to redness, each blade being cut off with sufficient metal to form the shank, or that destined to become the cutting part, and bow, or that which later on is fashioned into the holding portion. For the bow a small hole is punched, and this is afterward expanded to the required size by hammering it on a conical ahvil, after which both shank and bow are filed into a more perfect shape and the hole bored in the middle for the rivet. The blades are next ground and the handles filed smooth and burnished with oil and emery, after which the pairs are fitted together and tested as to their easy working.

They are not yet finished, however; they have to undergo hardening and tempering and be again adjusted, after which they are finally put together again and polished for the third time. In comparing the edges of knives and scissors it will be noticed, of course, that the latter are not in any way so sharply ground as the former, and that in cutting scissors crush and bruise more than knives.

A Professional Pleasure.

Prof. Sharp of Queen's University, Kingston, is one of the recent settlers in Temiskaming. Up to the end of last winter's session he occupied a chair in the college, and delivered lectures regularly, and now he announces that he has bidden farewell to the role of the lecturer and to Queen's classic halls, and henceforth the life of a farmer is the life for him. He has 320 acres of land and two sons. One of the sons is taking a course at the Agricultural College in Guelph and the other is helping his father, the professor, to grub out stumps and plant potatoes, and their efforts so far have produced about 40 acres of arable land.

ONE DAY AT A TIME.

We carry too often the burden that ne'er
Was meant for this day, nor the next day, to bear.
How often we borrow the ills we deplore,
And shrink from the woes that ne'er darken our door.
Such worry's a sin; let's be quit of the crime
By living one day, just one day, at a time.

A day at a time—that's enough, if we knew,
To spend all our strength on, and anxious thought, too;
Its tasks and its trials, its varied demands
Are all we can handle with one pair of hands.
Each day fitly lived makes the record sublime;
God perfects us slowly—one day at a time.

Then let to-morrow stand waiting, I say,
And deal with each one when its name is to-day.
The best preparation the future can ask
Is doing one's best with to-day and its task
Life's highest and best, that's the peak we must climb
By faithfullest footsteps—one day at a time.

—James Buckham.

O'Connell's Grandson.

Daniel O'Connell, a grandson of the "Liberator," died recently while serving on the British side in South Africa. He was drowned while trying to cross a stream near Bloemfontein.

Rather Airy.

"There is an acquaintance of mine," remarked the doctor, "who gives himself airs because he was given up to die thirty years ago and has kept himself alive till now by taking oxygen."

"How old is he now?" asked the professor.

"Over eighty."

"He's what you would call an oxygenarian, is he?" said the professor, looking at him with half shut eyes.

PARIS DISTURBANCES.

Closing of Religious Schools Causes Demonstrations.

ONE HUNDRED ARRESTS MADE.

In Paris the Police Handled the Crowds Well and Frustrated the Plans of the Unruly Section—Many Women Took Part—Some of Them Were Anti-Clerical—Some Accidents.

Paris, July 28.—The demonstration made yesterday in connection with the decree of Premier Combes, ordering the closing of the Congregationist schools, proved to be quite as much of a manifestation in support of the Government as of opposition to its anti-clerical measures. The crowd which gathered in the Place de la Concorde numbered 15,000 persons, while as many more thronged the Champs Elysees. The clerical and anti-clerical forces about equally divided the gatherings. The former were distinguishable by the red, white and blue flowers which they wore, while the latter sported red eglantines.

Though many fights occurred, they never became general nor was any person seriously injured. An imposing force of police and mounted municipal guards had much trouble in keeping the manifests constantly moving, and this they were forced to charge to prevent the crowd becoming too dense. On the whole, the crowds were good-natured and mainly confined themselves to shouting, "Liberty, Liberty, Long Live the Sisters," and "We Want the Sisters," to which the anti-clericals replied, "Vive Republique," and "Down With the Priests." The occasional appearance of a priest was the signal for much hooting and several fights were due to their presence.

A striking feature of the manifestations was the large number of women who actively participated. Nor were these all clerical in their sympathies, for the anti-clerical women were also out in strong force, and they occasionally made things lively for their clerical sisters, whom the police had some difficulty in protecting. In one instance a detachment of mounted guards had to rescue three well dressed ladies from the hands of a group of Socialist women who were bent on mobbing them.

The demonstrations culminated when a group of thirty ladies, some in carriages and some on foot, headed by Mesdames Reille, De Mun, Gibiel, and De Pommerol, attempted to reach the Ministry of the Interior in order to present to Premier Combes a petition on behalf of the Sisters. The police, however, refused to allow them to pass.

Subsequently the clericals made an angry rush on the cordon guarding the Avenue Gabrielle, and the soldiers had to use the butts of their guns to keep back the crowd.

Another nasty incident occurred on the Champs Elysees, where the crowd began throwing the small iron chairs bordering the sidewalks, among the feet of the horses of the mounted guards. One horse fell, injuring the rider.

A slight shower hastened the dispersal of the manifestants. About 100 arrests were made.

MARCONI NOT INVENTOR.

Wireless System Communicated to Him by the Marquis Solari.

London, July 28.—In a document just filed in the British Patent Office, Guglielmo Marconi, the credited inventor of wireless telegraphy, describes that invention as one "communicated to him from abroad by the Marquis Luigi Solari of Italy."

Great surprise has been caused here by this action of the Italian inventor. The story is printed in The Saturday Review, which treats is as a "startling denouement" following Prof. Thompson's attacks on the validity of the Marconi patents. In those attacks Prof. Thompson declared that an Italian naval officer named Solari was the real inventor of the wireless telegraph.

In its article on the latest development in the controversy, The Saturday Review says:

"The Official Journal of the Patent Office, July 16, contains a brief notice of a very unusual character. It announces that Guglielmo Marconi, who, Sept. 10, 1901, had filed a patent in his own name for this invention, now seeks leave to amend the application by converting it into an application for a patent communicated to him from abroad by the Marquis Luigi Solari of Italy."

KING ATTENDS A COUNCIL.

Privy Councillors Had Luncheon With Him on Board Royal Yacht.

London, July 28.—The Duke of Devonshire, President of the Council, and other members of the Privy Council, left here on a special train for Southampton Saturday to attend a meeting of the Council on the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, off Cowes, Isle of Wight. This will be the first meeting of the Council ever held in a similar place or under such circumstances. The weather at Cowes yesterday was favorable. The King passed an excellent night, and experienced no ill effects from Friday's cruise around the island.

The meeting was brief. King Edward signed proclamations, fixing the coronation for Aug. 9, and making a bank holiday of the same date. The Privy Councillors who had luncheon with the King, spent two hours on board the royal yacht.

Orders for the naval review, which is to take place off Spithead, August 16, were issued Saturday. They provide for the assembling of a fleet Aug. 11, at Portsmouth, to consist of 28 battleships, 24 cruisers and 20 torpedo gunboats, training ships and smaller craft.

The King's Condition.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, July 28. — King Edward is well, but is not yet able to walk or stand. Saturday for the first time His Majesty used his new invalid chair, which enables him to move himself about.

Ames, Toronto, President of the Board of Trade; Edward Gurney, Toronto; B. J. Folger, Kingston, and M. J. O'Brien, contractor, Renfrew. The commission will meet to-day for purposes of organization, and will no doubt proceed with their work with all possible despatch.

CHASED THE MAD MULLAH.

British Force Had a Brush With Tribesmen in East Africa.

Aden Arabia, July 27.—The British expeditionary force, operating against the Mad Mullah, in East Africa, after scouting northeast of Damot, over an absolutely waterless country, learned the general direction of the Mullah's forces, with his prisoners, and sent off a mounted column, under Col. Cobbe, which, after an 80-mile chase across the desert, came in contact with the tribesmen, killed 150 of them and captured 4,000 camels and 12,000 sheep. The British had eight men killed and four wounded.

FREEDOM OF EDINBURGH.

The Colonial Premiers Honored—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Speech.

Edinburgh, Scotland, July 28.—The freedom of the City of Edinburgh was coremoniously conferred on the colonial Premiers Saturday.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Fitzsimmons goes down in good company. He owes his downfall to talking too much, and General Buller is keeping himself down by talking too much also.

There isn't much poetry in slugging, but there was poetic justice in Fitzsimmons' knock out. He was using his jaw when he should have been using his fists, and his jaw got the worst of it. This is another lesson to those who do irrelevant talking when they should be "sawing wodo."

The Canadian grain arch in London is the only one of the original Coronation decorations which has not been pulled down and dismantled. This arch is what Lally Bernard of the Globe, calls a "gigantic tribute to Canadian enterprise," and its being allowed to stand an obstruction, though an ornament, to one of the busiest throughfares of the busiest metropolis of the world, is a "gigantic tribute" to the favour which Canada finds in the eyes of the Motherland.

CANADA'S PROSPERITY AND PROGRESS.

The Increasing Popular Wealth—Mr. Clouston, of the Bank of Montreal, Gives His Views.

In a recent interview with the "Morning Post," of London, England, Mr. Clouston said that while there were few millionnaires in Canada, there were no beggars, and that the wealth of the country was spread over such a wide area that nearly every man had a competency. In a broad sense this is true, there are derelicts here, of course, as there are everywhere, but every man, physically and mentally fit, has a chance to succeed, and poverty is the exception and not the rule, while the reverse is the case in older countries. Mr. Clouston told the interviewer that Canada was one of the wealthiest countries in the world, and proved it by figures, while the soundness of our banking system he proved by the fact that we have been absolutely unaffected by crises in the European and United States money markets; excepting in so far as we have come to the assistance of other people. Taking our population at 5,400,000, it is found that our foreign trade has grown from $45 a head in 1871 to $71.50 in 1901. The deposits of the people in the banks and investments in joint stock concerns was $19 a head in 1871, compared with $27 in 1881, $40 in 1891, and $74 last year. The amount of

MONEY NOW EMPLOYED

in daily business is $11 a head, compared with $7.70 twenty years ago. Not only that, but very largely indeed the business of Canada is now in the hands of Canadians, whereas, only a short time ago, some of the biggest enterprises were in the hands of United States people,—notably, the coal mines and steel works of Sydney. The increase of Canadian business continues in all directions. For the fiscal year ending June 30th, the customs show an increase of revenue of $3,807,652, compared with 1901, the excise $822,145, the post office $379,929, and the public works and railways of $678,264, a total increase of between five and six million dollars. Our foreign trade increased very appreciably during the same period, and if the figures were obtainable it would be found that our domestic internal trade, the trade we do with one another, had made even more rapid progress. In the report of the chartered banks for June, just issued by the Finance Department at Ottawa, the story told there is one of continued and notable expansion. The circulation was nearly fifty-four millions, compared with fifty and three-quarter millions for May, forty-nine millions for June, 1901, and only slightly more than thirty millions for June, 1896. A

in circulation in only six years is the best proof perhaps of any that the increase of business has been continental in extent, and has been very universal in character. The more hands through which the business passes the greater will be the use of the notes of the banks.

The public deposits in Canada, with and without interest, amounted to $465,103,425 last month, compared with $450,089,961 for May, $325,775,429 for June, 1901, and only $183,789,992 for June, 1896. These figures, in round numbers, deserve to be borne in mind, as they denote a growth in the wealth of the people in general that is probably without a parallel. For June, 1896, the call loans of Canada alone amounted to $13,024,806, for June 1901, they had increased to $33,573,539, for May of this year the amount was $41,308,894, and for last month $45,828,253. This shows how rapidly business has increased on our stock markets during the past few years, not an unmixed blessing, perhaps, when it exceeds certain well-defined limits, but largely necessary as an aid to growth and always accompanying it. The Canadian current loans and discounts, or money lent very largely on commercial paper, were only some $208,000,000 in 1896 and last month they were $300,714,347, which was a decline of three millions compared with May. For the six years, however, it marks an increase exceeding forty-four per cent. on general business, which is "good enough." The amounted to $581,876,985 last month, compared with $566,361,675 for May, $528,304,110 for June, 1901, and $316,122,700 for June, 1896. The total liabilities were $465,103,425 for June this year, $450,089,961 for May, $417,320,761 for June, last year, and $228,338,219 for June, 1896. The returns for the Sovereign Bank of Canada are given in the report this month and show that the capital paid up is $844,222, the reserve $141,629, the notes in circulation $135,180, the deposits of the public without interest $606,010, and with interest, $186,900, the call loans $1,027,777 and the current loans $389,268. It is interesting to note that the vast increase of business and prosperity during the past six years has been accomplished by fewer banks than were chartered in 1896, that the total paid-up capital of the thirty-five banks now in operation is $69,584,308, compared with $62,189,413 for the thirty-eight chartered banks of 1896. If the weather is propitious for the next few months and the harvest comes up to present expectations, the next half of the year will doubtless show as much growth in proportion as the first half, and the complete returns for the year will be "greater than has been."

COOLING ROOMS ARE A SUCCESS.

Excellent Cheese Being Turned Out—Under New System, June Goods Have Every Quality of the Finest Manufactured September.

From an examination of the cheese at the Government illustration stations for the curing of cheese at Brockville, Ont., and Cowansville, Que., it is evident that the cheese made in the month of July and cured at a low temperature, have all the characteristics of fine September cheese. Comparing the cheese cured at a low temperature with cheese from the same factories and of the same lots, cured in the fluctuating temperature of the ordinary atmosphere, the cool-cured cheese were found to have finer and richer texture, as well as a milder and more agreeable flavour. The loss from shrinkage in weight in three weeks has been one pound per cheese less in the cool temperature than in the ordinary curing room.

In the case of cheese which experts counted faulty, from being almost acidy in texture and flavour, or weak in body and slightly open in texture, as were some of the cheese cured in the ordinary curing room, the cool-cured cheese of the same lots were found to be free from the defects. Flavours objected to by buyers and which lessen the value of cheese in the markets of the United Kingdom, are seldom present, unless the cheese have been heated to a temperature above sixty degrees.

Since about three-quarters of the whole quantity of cheese manufactured in Canada is turned out during the months of June, July and August, an improvement in the method of curing during the hot weather will lead to great improvement in the trade. Taking everything into account, it is expected that from 15 to 20 per cent. more value will be realised from the milk during these three months than would be the case by the continued use of the curing methods which at present are general.

The selection of a proper food for the baby is of vital importance It must be nourishing, easily assimilated, readily digested, and must never vary in quality.

Nestlé's Food has all these requisites. It is made from cow's milk—the most nourishing of all substances—and requires only the addition of water to be ready for use.

THE KING'S PRIZE.

Lieut. Johnson, of Rifle Brigade, London, Won It With Score of 307—The Three Canadians Shot Poorly.

Bisley Camp, July 28.—Saturday the final stage of the King's Prize was shot, the ranges being 800, 900, and 1,000 yards.

The scores of the three Canadians competing were as follows:

	800 yds.	900 yds.	1,000 yds.	Total
Capt. Rennie, Q.O. R.	33	38	15	86
Major McRobbie, St. John, N.B.	41	35	14	90
Thos. Mitchell	41	39	19	99

At the final range in the King's Prize competition the weather conditions could not have been worse. During the shooting a hurricane of wind prevailed and several targets were blown down during the firing. Capt. Rennie made three, two and three in his first three shots, then he missed three, scored two and three on the seventh and eighth shots, missed the ninth and scored two on the last.

Major McRobbie made a miss with his first shot, scored three each on the second and third, missed the fourth, made four and two on the fifth and sixth, missed the seventh, got two on the eighth and failed to score on the last two.

Tom Mitchell did better. His scores with his first four shots, were five, five, two, two. He missed every other shot except the seventh and eighth, were he made two and three.

Lieut. Johnson of the Rifle Brigade with a total score of three hundred and seven, was the winner of the coveted King's Prize.

The hurricane here this afternoon was so strong that it blew down the umbrella tent, where the distribution of prizes takes place.

Lord Roberts was present in camp yesterday, and the Canadian team were drawn up in front of their hut to receive the distinguished visitor. The other colonial teams were lined on each side of the avenue of mauls leading to the Canadian headquarters.

Lord Roberts explained that the Prince of Wales had been unable to come and at His Highness' request he had taken his place.

The Commander-in-chief presented Capt. Rennie, the leading Canadian in the Grand Aggregate, with the silver tea set, Lord Strathcona's prize, and Pte. Scott with the gold watch given by the Canadian company.

One Common Cause of Headache.

Perhaps the most general cause of headache and pain across the eyes is nasal catarrh. The simplest cure is to inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone which traverses every air cell and air passage of the throat, lungs and nose. It kills myriads of germs at every breath, clears away mucous discharges, preserves and heals the membrane. Catarrhozone is just a splendid remedy for headache, and its action is certain and unfailing in diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma and Catarrh. A trial will convince the most sceptical that Catarrhozone is all right. Large size, $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Duel That Was Fatal.

Portland, Ore., July 28.—Frank Carlson and George Baldwin, each aged 19 years, quarreled over two girls to whom they were paying attentions. Carlson challenged Baldwin to fight. The fight took place with bare knuckles in the presence of relatives and friends of both boys, in an unfrequented part of the city. The fight lasted about twenty minutes. At the end of that time Carlson received a blow in the stomach and fell to the ground. When picked up he was dead. Baldwin is in jail.

Medals For Paris Heroes.

Hamilton, July 28.—The chairman and Board of Investigating Governors of the Royal Canadian Humane Association have unanimously awarded medals to John Carnie, David Mott, Robert Hamilton, George Wentworth and George Blanchard for conspicuous persevering bravery in risking their lives to rescue Joshua Sanford, who was entombed for over four days in a cave-in well, near Paris.

Torn by Hungry Great Danes.

Paris, July 28. — Mme. Edmond Sempis, who before her marriage a year ago was Miss Louise Rutherford of Brooklyn, was set upon Saturday by two hunger-maddened Great Dane dogs, which had been secured to guard her husband's country house at Annecy Lake, and so terribly injured that she died two hours after the attack.

A Cheap Hack.

COST OF TWO WARS.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach Gives Figures About China and South Africa.

London, July 28.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach was the guest this evening of the Lord Mayor and city bankers and merchants at a farewell dinner at the Mansion House.

The outgoing Chancellor of the Exchequer said that the Chinese and South African wars had cost Great Britain $1,140,000,000 of which amount the taxpayers have already willingly contributed $375,000,000. The expenditure had been borne without serious injury to commerce, and $750,000,000 had been borrowed on easy terms, which Great Britain's continental neighbors envied but could not imitate.

Next year, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach said, he looked for a remission of taxation, and he warned his hearers against the constant growth of national expenditure, urging that preparations ought to be made for a day of adversity, and that the revenue, though increasing, should not be impaired in times of peace.

Boers Not Yet Vanquished.

Cape Town, July 27.—In a recent speech at Paarl, Cape Colony, General Botha said that all of South Africa was under one flag, but that the Boers had not been vanquished. Darkness was in front of them, he said, but faith and hope would guide them through it. Africa was their Fatherland, their birthright and their inheritage.

Methuen Under the Knife.

London, July 28.—General Lord Methuen who was wounded and captured by the Boers, but subsequently released, and who arrived in England early this month, has undergone a successful operation for the extraction of the bullets from his leg.

TWO LADS DROWNED

They Lose Their Lives in the Welland River While Bathing.

WOMAN KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Mrs. John Creilly of Toronto Fatally Struck—Husband Seriously Injured—Wm. Griffith Lost His Life in Yacht Accident—Norman Reid Drowns in the Mimico Creek—Accidents.

Welland, July 28—Two young men, Gordon Beckett, son of William Beckett, and Fred Riddell, a young English lad, aged 16 and 20 respectively, were drowned in the Welland River, at Beckett's Bridge, about seven miles west of Welland, Friday evening. They were in bathing, and were heard playing and laughing for some time, but after a while, everything became quiet and when parties went to investigate what was the matter, there was nothing but an overturned boat to be seen. The bodies were found shortly afterwards, but life was extinct.

Where a Woman Was Killed.

Toronto, July 28.—High Park, where thousands of picnickers were making merry on Saturday afternoon, was the scene of a distressing fatality. Mrs. Creilly, wife of John Creilly, a foreman at the park was killed by lightning, her husband and a young lad were injured, and considerable damage was done to the house. The electric storm accompanied the rain and drove all the merry makers to shelter. Mr. and Mrs. Creilly, their family and a few friends had been out in the park, and when the rain came down they hurried into the house, which is situated at the head of Boustead avenue, just across the ravine. The house is a one-storey frame structure. About 5 o'clock the lightning struck the chimney, shattering it and wrecking the roof. The current passed down the chimney, near the bottom of which Mrs. Creilly and a friend, Mrs. Forrester, were seated on a sofa. In front of the women, lying on the floor was a dog, while Mr. Creilly and a young lad were standing near the doorway. The lightning struck Mrs. Creilly, then killed the dog and knocked down Mr. Creilly and the young lad. The current then struck the opposite wall, tearing the wallpaper and wrecking the woodwork. Strange to say, Mrs. Forrester escaped.

Hamilton Man Drowned.

Hamilton, July 28. — W. Griffith was drowned yesterday afternoon by the upsetting of the yacht Hully Gee, off Newcastle, in a storm. His companion paddled ashore before assistance could reach them. The unfortunate young man was a son of William Griffith, and had been a traveler for Fisher & Co., wholesale saddlers, Toronto.

Norman Reid Meets Death.

Toronto, July 28.—Norman Reid, a young man 17 years of age, was drowned Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock in Mimico Creek. He and Burt Kenney, 97 Shaw street, were in bathing. Neither of them were good swimmers, and Reid, endeavored to swim across the river,. He succeeded and was returning, but when about half way across gave up suddenly and sank. The body was soon recovered and taken to Nurse's Hotel, Humber Bay, where Dr. Orr, coroner for the district, viewed the remains and decided that an inquest was not necessary.

Drowned While Boating.

Montreal, July 28.—Florence McLean, aged 18, was drowned while boating in the Montreal Aqueduct yesterday afternoon.

Upset in a Squall.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 28.—Anna and Rosa Glaw, aged 6 and 16 years respectively, were drowned in Lake Erie yesterday afternoon. The girls, with two other children, were out sailing with their father, when a squall quickly came and overturned the boat, throwing the entire party into the water. The girls went down before help could be given them. The others were rescued.

Looks Like Suicide.

Montreal, July 28.—Udrice Demers, manager of the Star Shoe Company, was found dead to-day in Mount Royal Park with a bullet in his head. It appears like a clear case of suicide.

Alienist Commits Suicide.

Washington, July 28.—Eugene Grissom, once well known as an alienist and neurologist, committed suicide here yesterday at his son's home, by sending a bullet through his brain. Dr. Grissom had become physically and mentally weakened from the use of strong narcotics.

One Man Killed.

New Haven, Conn., July 28. — A bad collision occurred here last evening not far from Short Beach on the trolley line of the New Haven and Westville Street Railroad Company between this city and Brantford. Two of the largest closed cars on the line came together with terrific force. Three people were badly hurt, one of whom died later. It is reported that 15 are more or less severely hurt.

Several Rochester People Hurt

Rochester, N.Y., July 28.—An attempt by five men to wreck an incoming trolley car at the Rifle Range, a short distance north of this city on the Rochester & Irondequoit Railway late last night, resulted in a rear-end collision, in which seven passengers were seriously and several others slightly injured

GALE IN ENGLAND.

Great Destruction to Crops Throughout the Kingdom—A Cyclone at Liege, Belgium—In Canada and the U.S.

London, July 28.—The gale which prevailed in England Saturday caused great destruction to crops throughout the United Kingdom. Incoming steamers report terrific weather on the Atlantic. The rough weather continued round the British coasts Saturday evenifg and has been general throughout Europe.

A cyclone occurred in the Liege district at Belgium, Saturday. Navigation on the Liege and Maestricht Canal was stopped by fallen trees, and the greater portion of the crops were destroyed or hopelessly damaged. Enormous damage was done in the town of Liege.

Crops Entirely Destroyed.

Woodstock, July 28.—Several families of the 7th line, East Oxford, have suffered severely from the storm which passed over that section Friday. Steps are being taken to procure seed grain from the Agricultural College for them. On several of the farms there is scarcely a thing left to feed stock with next winter.

James Haylow, whose farm is near Oriel, was one of the greatest sufferers. He says there was still hail stones on the ground on his farm Saturday morning. After the storm they lay around his house to a depth of eight to ten inches and he had to shovel away a path to get to his door.

Some Woodstock people were out there and carried hailstones they picked up back to the city in their handkerchiefs.

Mr. Haylow says that about one thousand acres of crops were destroyed.

Narrowly Escaped Death.

Dundas, July 28.—The children of George Manning, sr., had a very narrow escape from death during the storm yesterday afternoon. A large tree, about 3 feet in diameter, northwest of the house, was blown down and fell across the corner of the house, tearing away part of the roof and upper part of the house. Mr. Manning's son, George, at the time was lying on his bed in his room, which was in the corner of the house, where the tree fell, but was not injured, except slightly by falling plaster. Five children, four of Mr. Manning's and one of Mrs. McGinty's were sitting under the tree, but escaped unhurt.

Disaster in Detroit.

Detroit, July 28.—As a result of a terrific windstorm early yesterday, the large brown hoist, used to lift and carry heavy plates used in shipbuilding lies on the deck of the Michigan Central car ferry Transport, at the Wyandotte shipyard, a total wreck, while the upper works of the car ferry are for the most part smashed to kindling wood. The damage is estimated at $50,000.

Many Houses Unroofed.

Oxford, Mich., July 28.—The worst storm ever known in the history of Oxford swept over a strip of country reaching from Thomas to Rochester, a distance of 13 miles yesterday afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock and lasting 25 minutes. In this village several houses were unroofed. The corn crop is leveled, while wheat and oats are lying in a tangled mass. Orchards are stripped of their fruit, and the losses to farmers will amount to thousands of dollars.

Cloudburst at Hornellsville.

Elmira, N.Y., July 28.—At seven o'clock Saturday night Hornellsville and Canesteo, N.Y., were visited by a cloudburst, which flooded the country for miles, washed out the Erie Railroad tracks for miles and wrought untold damage. The fall of rain made a roar like the cataract at Niagara. The Erie Railroad expects to have its tracks restored today.

Floods in Texas.

Dallas, Texas, July 28.—The flood situation in Texas had not improved any yesterday, and in some districts has become more serious. In the western part of the State, particularly, the rain continues to fall, and there is little prospect of an early resumption of the railroad traffic.
